CITY'S SALVAGE COMMITTEE TO START TWO-DAY DRIVE FOR COLLECTION OF OLD CLOTHING—COLLECTION AIMS TO AID IN RELIEF OF SUFFERING IN CHINA, RUSSIA, ITALY AND GREAT BRITAIN—CHAIRMAN GEORGE G. HYLAND, PUBLIC WORKS COMMISSIONER, APPEALS TO CITIZENS OF BOSTON TO AID IN DRIVE TO BE CARRIED OUT ON WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY OF NEXT WEEK—RAGS COLLECTED TO BE TURNED OVER TO WAR INDUSTRIES—TRUCKS WILL MAKE HOUSE TO HOUSE VISITS ON DAYS SPECIFIED.

Director George G. Hyland of the Boston Salvage Committee announced on December 29 that a two-day drive for the collection of old clothing of all kinds, part of which will be used to relieve suffering in China, Russia, Italy and Great Britain, will be held in Boston on Wednesday and Thursday, January 5 and 6.

He said that collections will be made on January 5 in Wards 1 to 14 and on January 6 in Wards 15 to 22. Director Hyland requested Boston residents to place the old clothing on the sidewalk by 10 a. m. of the day their ward is to be canvassed.

The salvage head appealed to all Boston householders to search their closets and attics during the next few days and sort out all clothing and garments which are no longer of any use to them.

Director Hyland explained that part of the clothing which can still be utilized as wearing apparel will be sorted out, mended, cleaned and distributed to the hard-pressed and suffering people in China, Italy, Russia and Great Britain, as well as in such other nations as Norway, Greece and France, when those lands are liberated by our forces.

He emphasized, however, that all clothing is desired, irrespective of whether it is in such condition that it could be mended and worn, declaring that rags will be turned over to war industries for use in the manufacture of wiping cloths and as packing for the shipping of munitions.

"The collection to be made on Wednesday and Thursday has been scheduled both to salvage rags which are needed to make wiping cloths and to obtain wearable clothing which could be used by men, women and children in nations to which this war has brought almost unbelievable distress and suffering," he said.

House to House Visits.

Director Hyland declared that the salvage trucks will go from house to house in all parts of the city during the collection and will pick up whatever garments, clothing or rags are left on the sidewalk by householders. He suggested that they be placed in cardboard or wooden boxes to prevent them from getting dusty or wet in the event that snow is on the ground.

In outlining the plan to be followed, Director Hyland explained that after the old clothes have been collected they will be taken to sorting depots operated by the Morgan Memorial, the Salvation Army and the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

There the old clothes will be sorted out, and 10 per cent of the usable clothes will be retained for local use and distributed by those three agencies to families in needy circumstances.

The remainder of the old clothes will be sent to designated dry cleansers, who will clean them and ship them to the Defense Supplies Corporation in Worcester. From there they will be shipped for distribution to people in Great Britain, China, Italy and Russia, and later to such nations as Greece, France and Norway, when those countries are invaded by our forces and great quantities of supplies are needed to relieve their pitiable plight.

"There must be a great deal of old clothing in the attics and closets of Boston homes which has been discarded and forgotten," Mr. Hyland said. "I am sure that every person would like such clothing to be utilized to relieve suffering and distress in countries that are our allies in this fight for peace and freedom.

"I don't believe it is necessary for me to tell the warmhearted people of Boston how badly the residents of these war-torn countries need warm clothing of almost all kinds. The suffering and hardship endured by the people in some of these nations is almost unbelievable to those of us fortunate enough to live in these United States.

Only Discarded Goods Asked.

"We don't want you to give away any clothing which you are still using or will use in the future. Don't give away anything you will have to replace. That would only create a shortage on the home front. What we want are articles of clothing that you have tossed away and discarded, that you aren't wearing and won't wear again and that you have stored away until you find time to throw them away.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT

This inspection has revealed immediate repairs to the rudder and rudder port, which must be undertaken in compliance with orders received from the United States Coast Guard Inspectors. This inspection was carried out at the Bethlehem Steel Company plant at East Boston. Due to the wartime activity at the above plant we were obliged to wait two weeks before space could be provided for the above inspection. The Bethlehem Steel Company has offered to make these repairs without delay. In view of the fact that the steamer "O'Meara" will go out of service January 3, 1944, and in order that both boats may not be out of service at the same time, thereby leaving Long Island without boat facilities, I therefore respectfully request permission from your Honor to award the repair work to the Bethlehem Steel Company in the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000).

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH P. DONAHOE,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 15, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without advertising to the J. M. McCusker Company of Boston for disconnecting all equipment to be moved from the Milk and Dairy Laboratory, City Hall Annex, and reinstalling same in the new laboratory at the Haymarket Relief Station.

After examining this equipment in the laboratory we find that it was in use for a great many years. It had been moved several times before, before being placed in its present location, which was nearly thirty years ago. Consequently we feel that when we disconnect these fittings it will be impossible to save many of them.

In view of these conditions it is practically impossible to prepare specifications to fit this job for bidding purposes. Therefore we feel that the proper method of procedure would be on a time and material basis.

The work entails disconnecting all equipment and reconnecting and supplying all new material required for gas, water, waste, vents, etc. Some of these parts will have to be acid-resisting to prevent corrosion. So that there will be no interruption of the laboratory services, it will be necessary that most of the work be done after regular hours. This will entail Saturday and Sunday work and a large amount of overtime.

We feel that the McCusker Company is reliable and efficient in this particular type of work and that the best interests of the city will be served by giving them an order to proceed in a sum in excess of $1,000 and not in excess of $1,600.

Respectfully yours,

LEO F. POWER,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 10, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of October 19, service order No. 18769 was issued to the contracting firm of Baker & Co., 1335 Hyde Park avenue, in the amount of $950, for assisting department forces in the removal of a defective 36-inch water gate that was located in the 48-inch steel water line on Tremont street at the intersection of Massachusetts avenue.

At the time we did not feel that it was advisable to solicit bids for this work because the removal of a gate from a steel water main was new work, not only for the department, but also for waterworks contractors, and we were not definitely certain as to the extent of the work necessary, nor were we certain as to what method we would use in cutting a section out of the 48-inch line in order to provide working space for the removal of the valve. We felt, however, that we could keep the cost of the work performed by the contractor to less than $1,000, which, in our opinion, did not warrant soliciting bids, either on an invitation basis or as a result of publicly advertising for them.

We decided, therefore, to have the work done on a cost plus 15 per cent basis, with the understanding that the city would furnish a crane and compressor and any other equipment or materials needed; with the further understanding that Baker & Co. would be paid the prevailing rate of $1.00 per hour for labor used on the work and at a proportionate rate for skilled labor and supervision. While this work was in progress, it was found that another 36-inch valve in Massachusetts avenue, at the corner of Tremont street, was also defective and that it should be removed and replaced. Consequently, another service order was issued to the same contractor, in the amount of $850, on the same basis—in so far as payment was concerned—as the previous service order.

Because the total of both of these service orders exceeded $1,000, the City Auditor—through his representative—has requested that we obtain your approval to the performing of this work by the above-referenced contractor on the basis as outlined hereinbefore. While the total cost of the work as contemplated and as provided in the above-referenced two service orders amounts to $1,800, I have been informed by Division Engineer Sullivan that the work will cost in the vicinity of $2,500, and, in view of this, I respectfully request your approval to the awarding of a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, for reasons as outlined hereinbefore, to the contracting firm of Baker & Co., 1335 Hyde Park avenue, for assisting department forces in removing and replacing two 36-inch gates located at Massachusetts avenue and Tremont street, and doing other related work; the total cost of the contract not to be in excess of $2,500.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, December 16, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Edison electric power is supplied to the Calf Pasture pumping station at 13,000 volts and two transformers, each having a capacity of 1,200 k.v.a., cut the voltage down to 440, at which voltage the pump motors operate. The maximum demand with all electric pumps operating is about 1,900 k.v.a.

The transformers owned and maintained by the city are about twenty years old. Each transformer contains about 1,445 gallons of oil. Recently, a seepage of oil has been observed at the base of one of the transformer tanks, and an examination shows a thin spot in the metal of the tank at this point.

The makers of the transformers, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, were asked to quote on repairing the tank. They advised against attempting to repair the tank, as they anticipate that leaks will show up at other points in the near future, and they advised the purchase of a new tank.

As an emergency measure, the Edison Company was employed to pump the oil out of the leaky transformer and store it in barrels, also to furnish a 1,000 k.v.a. transformer on a rental basis. The leaky transformer was moved to the shop of the manufacturer, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, Old Colony avenue, Boston, where the coils were removed and the condition of the coils and the metal in the tank examined.

We have examined the condition of the tank at the Westinghouse shop and find one actual leak, but several places where the metal is deeply pitted, all defects being located where the corrugated steel body of the tank is cast into the heavy cast-iron tank bottom. The steel body has a thickness of about 3-16 of an inch and is in perfect condition, except at the base.

While we believe that the leak now showing can be repaired, the pitted condition of the metal at other places at base of tank indicates a reduction in the structural strength and that other leaks may develop in the near future. It is also questionable how effectively the present leak can be repaired, as it will require the welding or brazing of cast iron to steel, also because of the narrow working space between steel corrugations which are about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch wide and 3 inches deep.

I respectfully request, therefore, your approval to the awarding of a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, to the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, 10 High street, Boston, for the purchase of a new transformer tank and the cleaning and installing of the present coils and engineering supervision when the transformer is reinstalled, for the lump sum of $2,326, the city to pay transportation charges from the Westinghouse plant in South Boston to Calf Pasture when they have completed their work.

There would be no advantage in publicly advertising for bids for the above-referenced purchase and servicing, because, in our opinion, the Westinghouse Electric is the only firm qualified to do this work, as they are the makers of the original transformers and are, undoubtedly, far better equipped to furnish the new tank and to do the other servicing work than any other contractor.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 7, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—This department has received a requisition from the Fire Department calling for four spars to be used in the construction of aerial ladders.

The Fire Department has asked for preliminary bids on these spars and reports that the Pigeon Hollow Spar Company is the only company which submitted a bid to make up and furnish the spars in accordance with specifications. Informal quotations solicited by this office have verified the fact that no lower price than that quoted by this company can be obtained and that no advantage would be gained through public advertisement.

Your permission is respectfully requested, therefore, to award a contract without publicly advertising for bids to the Pigeon Hollow Spar Company, 131 Coleridge street, East Boston, for furnishing to the Fire Department four spars, in accordance with specifications, at a price of $275 each. The approximate amount of the contract will be $1,100.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES E. THORNTON,
Acting Superintendent of Supplies.

REPAIRS TO COAL POCKET.

The Mayor has approved the following request of the Institutions Department Commissioner:

BOSTON, December 14, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request your approval to pay to Charles L. Hazleton & Son, 170 Border street, East Boston, the sum of $450 on Service Order 221, dated December 9, 1943, and the sum of $595 on Service Order 222, dated December 9, 1943.

Each of these orders is under $1,000, but as they are for repair work on two different locations on the Back Wharf at Long Island, the total of the two is more than $1,000 and the City Auditor's office feels that it is advisable to have your approval.

The first order calls for the removal of a broken upright support timber on the discharging stage of the coal pocket and the replacing of same with satisfactory timber—this to include all labor and equipment necessary for the work.

The second service order calls for the removal of present runways from the shore to the coal pockets at the Back Wharf at the island and the replacing of same with new lumber to be furnished by the city—this also to include all labor and equipment necessary.

Since the Hazleton concern appears to be well qualified for this particular type of work, which is of an emergency nature, and in view of the fact that the city would not receive any benefit by advertising because the prices appear reasonable, I respectfully request your approval.

HUGH J. CAMPBELL,
Commissioner.

TRAFFIC COMMISSION RULING.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 32.

Patrolmen William J. Kenney and Charles W. Hewitt, both attached to Division 6, are commended for efficient police duty performed on November 13, 1943, in connection with the arrest of four young men who had committed a series of armed holdups of taxi drivers, some of whom were severely beaten and robbed.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend these officers for their keen observation and devotion to duty as well as their willingness to sacrifice their own time to accomplish the arrest of these dangerous felons.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 33.

The commissioner extends to all members of the department his best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

The commissioner desires that all officers be permitted to enjoy the Christmas holiday at home in so far as it can be done without impairing the efficiency of the department.

Division commanders will divide their day personnel in halves so that day officers will be able to take their morning or afternoon off on Christmas Day, Saturday, December 25, 1943.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 34.

Whereas, It appears that Patrolman Daniel F. Curran of Division 3 has performed faithful service in the Police Department for twenty-four and one-twelfth years and that the Medical Board, provided for by chapter 521 of the Acts of 1922, has certified that the said Patrolman Curran is physically incapacitated, it is the judgment of the Police Commissioner that the said Patrolman Curran is permanently physically incapacitated for useful service in the Police Department on account of injuries received in the actual performance of duty as a police officer; therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That, with the approval of his Honor the Mayor, the said Patrolman Curran be retired from active service in the Police Department under the provisions of chapter 353, Acts of the year 1892, as amended by chapter 6, Acts of the year 1920, and chapter 387, Acts of the year 1930, and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate of eleven hundred and fifty (1,150) dollars per annum, said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired.

The retirement of Patrolman Curran, as herein provided, will take effect at 7.45 o'clock a. m., Wednesday, December 29, 1943.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 35.

The resignation of Patrolman Elmer H. Beckwith of Division 10 having been presented, it is hereby accepted, to take effect on Friday, December 31, 1943, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., seven days' notice waived.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 36.

A trial board, consisting of Captains Duggan, McNabb and DiSessa, having heard by reference a complaint made against Patrolman George R. Hobbs, Jr., of Division 18, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty as charged.

The commissioner accepts the finding of guilty, but is not in accord with the recommendation as to punishment duty to be imposed and hereby orders that Patrolman Hobbs be suspended from duty for a period of ten days instead of fifteen days, effective as of Tuesday, November 30, 1943, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., at the expiration of which he perform 315 hours' punishment duty.

In taking action in this specific case, the commissioner has in mind that this is the first instance of disciplinary action that has been presented to him for consideration, and is by no means to be considered as a precedent. The commissioner has indicated to the rank and file of the department his policy in matters of this kind arising hereafter.

General Laws, chapter 31, section 46C, as amended, requires approval of the Director of Civil Service before reinstatement.

Chapter 31.

"Section 46C (as amended). An officer or employee of the commonwealth or of a city or town who has become separated from the classified civil service through fault or delinquency of his own shall, within thirty days after the filing of a written request by the appointing officer, be entitled to a hearing before the director. Upon good cause shown, the director may, subject to section 46C, authorize his reinstatement in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade as that formerly held by him."

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

BUILDING RAZED.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Building Commissioner to raze the following structure as a fire menace or nuisance:

Due to the structurally unsafe condition of the building at 107 Park street, Ward 16, to order the building to be vacated forthwith.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

REMOVAL OF SHIELDS ON STREET LIGHTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 20, 1943.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Commissioner of Public Works, regarding your order of November 15, 1943, concerning a conference with the officials of the First Service Command relative to removing the shields on all street lights in the city.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
December 14, 1943.

Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Carey,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council under date of November 15:

"Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to confer with the officials of the First Service Command relative to removing the shields on all street lights in the city in view of the fact that there is relaxation of the dimout regulations."

The work of removing the black paint from the globes of the gas lights is now in progress and I estimate that it will be completed within one week.

We are precluded from removing all shields from the electric street lights, due to the provisions of the Federal order that was issued at the time that the dimout requirements were lifted. This order specified, in substance, that no dimout shields could be removed unless they could be replaced within twenty-four hours after the restoration of dimout requirements, in the event that at any time in the future the Army ordered the dimout to be restored.

There are in excess of 14,000 electric lights in the city and it would be impossible to comply with the provisions of such a regulation if all of the shields were removed. The Edison Company is, however, making arrangements to remove all of the inside shields and substitute outside hoods for them. These outside hoods comply with the dimout requirements, so that there will be no necessity of changing them in the event that the dimout is ordered restored.

Aside from this point, they produce far more light on the street surface than did the inside shields, and approach normal street lighting conditions to as great an extent as is possible under the existing Federal regulations.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Placed on file.

ON CHRISTMAS EVE.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:
Resolved, That, whereas, Christianity, the greatest moral force in the world for good, is going through the most trying period in its entire existence; and

Whereas, Only through a return to the principles of Christianity can a just and lasting peace among nations be achieved; and

Whereas, There are some elements that have striven to stifle even an outward display of any symbol of Christianity; and

Whereas, Our enemy, the Axis Powers, is fighting as much for the annihilation of Christian beliefs and principles as for the acquisition of political and military ascendancy; therefore be it

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston be, and hereby is, recorded in favor of a display, in at least one window of each home, of some appropriate symbol of Christianity on Christmas Eve, December 24, between the hours of 6 p. m. and 12 midnight.

The resolution was declared referred to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. KINSELLA—I rise on that resolve just referred to the Committee on Rules. Because of the appropriateness of the resolution, I was going to ask suspension of the rule.

The resolve was passed under suspension of the rule.

SCHOOL PROGRAM TO ELIMINATE RACIAL DISCRIMINATION.

Coun. TAYLOR and MUCHNICK offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council request the members of the Boston School Committee to register their approval to a plan already submitted to them for the purpose of arranging an educational program in the schools of Boston to eliminate racial discrimination; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to them at once.

Coun. TAYLOR—The Boston School Committee is holding a public hearing today at five o'clock in its chambers for the purpose of receiving information pertinent to a plan, or a plan submitted to them, for the purpose of arranging an educational program in the schools of Boston to eliminate racial discrimination in our fair city. There is no question but that something of this type must be done, not only in the City of Boston, but throughout the entire country. The clergy, the men of all faiths are doing their utmost for the purpose of eliminating this discrimination. They are preaching it from their pulpits. They are forming organizations to beat down any racial discrimination and they are in the main doing nobly. But the most important thing is to teach the children, while at an early age, that racial discrimination is wrong. There lies the crux of the whole situation. If a child is taught during his early life that discrimination brings nothing but distress and chaos to the land in which we live, I am sure that whatever the child learns in his early boyhood will remain with him until the day he passes on. There has been submitted a plan to the members of the Boston School Committee for this purpose. It is a noble plan, and it should be carried out by the Boston School Committee. I ask that the Council pass this order under suspension of the rule, and I also wish to state that at five o'clock today there is a hearing taking place at the School Committee, and those that would like to register their approval of such a plan, I have requested to appear there, because there is a crying need for this, and unless some sort of educational program is submitted to the children of our city I am afraid we will encounter the same thing we have encountered throughout the world during the past decade. I ask for suspension of the rule and passage of the resolution.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. Chairman, I believe that Councilor Taylor is motivated by American ideals and principles in asking suspension of the rule and passage of the order, but I am not familiar with the policy or the plan, and I would be only too happy if the councilor from Ward 12 could enlighten us in Executive Committee relative to the policy or the plan as it is at the present time before the Boston School Committee for their consideration. We are all in favor of American principles and policies, and that is what education is built upon. I don't believe any of us, and I am speaking for myself, are familiar with the policy that is at the present time pending before the Boston School Committee and, further, Mr. Chairman, I would ask the councilor from Ward 12 to please enlighten us in this chamber, or in executive session, for those who cannot attend.

Coun. TAYLOR—In answer to my colleague from Ward 11, I might say that there is no definite plan that is being set up for this purpose. That is merely a request, as I am informed, that some plan be set up by the Boston School Committee to educate the children against racial discrimination. That is something that every citizen is fighting for. Monsignor Haberlin recently made the statement in which he abhorred any racial discrimination. His Holiness the Pope on many occasions has denounced it. The Protestant ministers throughout the land have denounced it, and the Jewish rabbis are certainly against it, and those connected with our colored race are opposed to it. I know that my brother from Ward 11 is certainly not opposed to any such plan, and there can be nothing extreme about it in any way. It is merely an educational program to teach the children that racial discrimination is something that is bad.

Coun. CAREY—May I ask that the resolution be read? I was called to the telephone and was not present.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The clerk will read the order.

(The order was read.)

Coun. CAREY—I am wondering if this is an indictment against the school teachers of the City of Boston, or what gives rise to such a resolution. I went to school when I was a youngster and was always taught to always love thy neighbor. I wonder if this is more far-reaching than we expect. If this is an indictment against the school teachers of Boston, I would like to know a little more about it.

Coun. TAYLOR—I am really shocked and surprised, Mr. Chairman. I really never expected any opposition to a resolution of this type. Certainly there is no indictment against the Boston School Committee or the Boston schools. There are many things that come into the schools from year to year. We are improving, I hope, and when conditions throughout the world are such that so much discrimination is being practiced, so much propaganda is being spread by those forces that would tend to destroy democracy, let alone those of the minority races, and when we can teach youngsters in their very inception that racial discrimination is the cause of all this evil, that racial discrimination has caused most of the wars of our world, how in the world can anybody stand on their feet and object to any program of education for the purpose of teaching our youngsters that discrimination against those in the minority is bad? It is beyond my understanding. I cannot picture for one moment how any decent, good, law-abiding American can tolerate discrimination. How in the world can anybody question or object to any program that would tend toward elimination of discrimination? You can do more in the coming generations by teaching those youngsters who are at an age where they don't know what right is from wrong, and if you tell them and teach them what right from wrong is, then you are doing what the mothers and fathers attempt to do for their children when they try to teach them that stealing is wrong, and committing various crimes is wrong. Why shouldn't we have a program in our schools? The children listen to their teachers more than to their fathers and mothers. Why not? It is being carried out in other cities of the country, and there is no reason why it should not be carried out in the City of Boston. For God's sake, let us not put a stigma on the fair name of our city.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. Chairman, it seems to me that for some months past this question of discrimination has been a sore. It appears today that the question is brought out into public view more than ever before. I am a member of a minority race, and if I don't know what discrimination is, at least my ancestors did, and I am not ready, as a member of the Boston City Council, to cast a vote that is predicated on the belief that discrimination does exist in Boston. The high-mindedness and the excellent intentions of the members of the School Committee who are willing to listen to any plan that will abate such a nuisance as discrimination cannot be questioned, and I am offering no objection except for the purpose of trying to bring out here a little more publicly this moot question of discrimination. I cannot see that the minorities in this city have not been discriminated against, but have been discriminated for. I put nine years in the parochial Catholic school, and from the day I entered the kindergarten until the day I walked out with my diploma, nine years later, never by word or sign, by implication or by innuendo, was I taught anything but a belief in the highest Christian principles, one of the cornerstones of the Catholic religion, the love of your neighbor, and to love him not as he loves you, but as you love yourself. For over 2,000 years the Catholic Church has progressed by a strict adherence to and cleavage to that principle, and there is no change today in the basic truth that love of fellowman is the only thing that will make for world peace and happiness. If I cast my vote for the passage of this order, then the truth of my position is taken away from me, and I am revealed in the light of day as one who admits that the condition exists; and I am not ready to admit it. I must see more proof; get more proof. I must see proof that discrimination exists, and I might ask a very pointed question at this point, "Who are the instigators of the plan, and what group do they represent?" And, lest I be misunderstood, any plan that that group has that will make our relations with each other more happy will receive the support of my vote and the support of my voice, but I am not going to vote on the existence of a condition that, in my opinion, has been artificially created. When I vote yes I am ready to say to the people of Boston that I voted that way because I feel they are guilty of discrimination, and I don't believe any such thing.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. Chairman, I am very sorry that I was the cause of working up the councilor from Ward 12 to the pitch that he displayed. I should judge from the tone of the resolution, as well as from the tone of his remarks, that he is of the opinion that there is being taught in the schools of the city today ideas that might give to race hatred, and I ask here and now that if that is going on in the schools of the City of Boston, then let us hear about it here and now. But, as the preceding councilor has so well said, I have got to be shown that the minds of the children of the schools of this city are being perverted before I will vote for any such resolution. We have one of the finest school systems here in Boston that can be found in the entire country, with one of the finest set of school teachers, and you have got to prove to me that there is something wrong before I will go down the line.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. Chairman, I was taught in school material and spiritual values. For twelve years I was taught and educated under the parochial school system,—first, by nuns who dedicated their lives to the propagation of their holy faith, and also to teach the value to those under their charge of the material and spiritual value of their body and soul. For four years I studied under the guidance of the Jesuits, and their motto is "for the Honor and Glory of God. For God and Country." Now, education simply means to draw a man up from his humble surroundings so that his brain and soul may be able to enjoy the things that his Creator gave him. The distinguishing mark between a brute animal and a man is his immortal soul, and one of the attributes of the immortal soul is understanding and free will. Now, the philosophy of the Communist is to control the minds of children, and to inculcate into their frame of mind any philosophy of racial and religious discrimination, so that when those children grow up into adults they will then be able to promulgate the doctrines that were inculcated when they were children. And that system has been in vogue in the south, south of the Rio Grande, in Mexico. Now, the United States of America has become great because it never discriminated against the minority, either because of their religion or their racial descendency. Race and nationality is merely an accident of birth, it is not controlled by a parent or by the offspring. Your religion is that which you are born to, or born in, or which you accept by your own free will and volition, by conversion. Now, the policy of the school system in Boston and the United States of America has been for one thing, and one thing only, to learn about your country so that you may be proud of being an American. Americanism does not mean a Catholic or a Protestant or a Jew, or a non-believer. Americanism does not mean an Irishman, a German, a racial Jew, or a Swede, or any other nationality. It simply means this, that you have been born under the Stars and Stripes and that when you salute your flag you salute what it represents, not what it is made out of. Now, in our parochial schools, and in our public schools, I have never heard of any thought injected into the fertile minds of children on racial discrimination or religious discrimination. At the present time we know of it by our newspapers, that discrimination is rampant. Whether it is true or not, I, as a public official do not know. But I know this, and I know it well, that education is the primary function of the family. They merely delegate that authority to the teachers of our schools as a supplementary. It does, in its own way, eradicate the function of the family, and if the children are delegated to the teacher to teach it, then there should be rules and regulations to govern that teacher. Our laws are placed upon our Federal and State statute books to protect all minorities, regardless of their race or religion. The first amendment of the Constitution, commonly known as the Bill of Rights, protects all religion and all races and all creeds and all colors. I believe, with the distinguished councilor from Ward 2 and the distinguished councilor from Ward 10, that this may be a stigma attached to the teachers of our schools, that they have been, intentionally or otherwise, inculcating into the minds of their charges racial or religious discrimination. And I believe, Mr. Chairman, through you, that if the councilor from Ward 12, whom I admire, would merely tell us of an instance or instances where any of those inculcations have been given to the children, then I shall be only too happy to vote for him or for his order, and to defend him.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. Chairman, I, like many other members, would like to know just what this purported plan is going to do, how it is going to act, how it is to be worked out, and what its purpose in its entirety is, and in order that I and the other members here may have time to study this plan I move, Mr. Chairman, that this order be laid on the table.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. Chairman,—

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—No debate is in order.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—State your point. Coun. TAYLOR—I wonder if the councilor will withdraw his motion for one moment until I have a chance to speak.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Does the councilor wish to withdraw his motion?

Coun. HANNON—No. The motion to lay the order on the table was declared carried.

Coun. TAYLOR—I doubt the vote and ask for a roll call.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The vote was "Yes" as to laying it on the table.

Coun. CHASE—I wish to speak on the order. Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Out of order.

Coun. FISH—Not being present when the order was read, I wonder if it could be read again.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The clerk will read the order.

Coun. COFFEY—May I ask, through you, that the gentleman who made the motion withdraw the motion until all debate is ended?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—He was asked if he wished to withdraw the motion, and he said "No."

The roll was called, and the order was laid on the table, yeas 7, nays 6:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Dwyer, Hanley, Hannon, Kelly, Kinsella, D. F. Sullivan—7.

Nays—Coun. Chase, Coffey, Hurley, Russo, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—6.

Coun. TAYLOR—I would like unanimous consent to make a statement.

Coun. COFFEY—I object. I ask for reconsideration. That is the only reason I made the objection, so we all can talk on this matter.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The only motion in order now is to take from the table. The councilor asks that this be taken from the table.

The Chair being in doubt, a roll call was taken, yeas 9, nays 4, and the order was taken from the table:

Yeas—Coun. Chase, Coffey, Hanley, Hurley, Kelly, Russo, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—9.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Dwyer, Hannon, Kinsella—4.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. Chairman, I don't know whether my intelligence is being insulted or whether the intelligence of every person in this country is being insulted, when the councilor from Ward 2 makes the statement he doesn't know anything of racial discrimination. I wonder where he has been living during the last two years? I wonder if he believes that there is any racial discrimination in Germany; he hasn't seen that, either. Oh, I love inconsistencies, Mr. Chairman, and any remark that I may make I want it to stand on the record. I won't go down and surreptitiously have it taken off the record afterwards without the knowledge of the members of the Council, because I happened to make some statement that I didn't like.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The Chair will warn the councilor from Ward 12 we will not stand for any personal reference to any particular councilor.

Coun. TAYLOR—I am talking about myself. It was only recently, a few weeks ago, that the councilor from Ward 2 spoke about discrimination right over in Charlestown, how the people in Charlestown, of a certain race, were discriminated against, and I will pull that page out of the record and show it to him. And there were also statements made about discrimination in the past, about the burning down of nunneries, and those statements can be shown. Does he think the world has changed now? Has it become a Utopia? Is there no discrimination at all? Why, the inconsistency of the whole thing makes me laugh. What did I ask for here? Nothing more than an educational program in the schools asking the teachers to teach the children against racial discrimination. Oh, it wasn't so long ago, I remember on the very floor of this Body here when the members got up almost unanimously, and endorsed a bill that was up in the State House compelling the children of the schools to salute the Flag. There was nothing wrong in it. I am in favor of it. But are we indicting the schools against their patriotism because we endorse such action? Do we indict the teachers? Do we indict the School Committee because we ask them to do something with the children so that perhaps patriotism may be further instilled into their minds? There have been no conditions artificially created, councilor. You are just fortunate that you are living in a city where you are not being discriminated against. If you were living in another part of the country you might be the first one to get up on the floor and shriek for this because, remember, discrimination and destruction of one particular race leads to discrimination and destruction of another race and other races, and that is what has happened across the sea. Why, even his Holiness the Pope is now a prisoner, you would say, of the German people, of Hitler. No discrimination? Don't make me laugh. Maybe you haven't felt it personally, but some of us have. No discrimination when you apply for jobs? They don't ask you what your religion is because they are attempting to find out what church you go to just for the sake of finding out that particular fact unless they had a reason behind it, because there is discrimination, and you know it just as well as I do. How can the councilor from Ward 10 say I am indicting the schools? What has that to do with any indictment of the schools? Who is blaming the School Committee or the school teachers? We are not asking them to change any method or any procedure now in existence. We are only asking them to do something about it. Teach the boys and girls at a time when you can inculcate into their minds something that will stick so that when they grow up they will know it is wrong. It won't abolish it entirely, but it will abolish it to a great extent. I am not asking anybody to change their religion. I am not asking the School Committee to teach them any religion. Under our Constitution we have a right to worship whomever we please, and we have to respect the other fellow's right to worship whomever he pleases. We are not attempting to change that. If education is wrong, then I am wrong. Many years ago Horace Mann, who was the first one to bring public education in the public schools, was a martyr. They fought him tooth and nail. He was an anarchist or a communist they might call him if there had been any such term in those days. I want to commend his Honor the Mayor for the program that he started and in which he has offered prizes to the children in public and parochial schools on essays that they may write regarding discrimination. The Mayor has started along in the right direction. Other cities and towns have done the same thing. What harm can there be? The church teaches—it is not it. It is not the church that teaches that discrimination. The church teaches that discrimination should not be existent. Are they wrong? Unfortunately there are a lot of people that do not go to church or do not go there regularly—even the youngsters. They may not be of one particular faith but of many faiths. Consequently they do not learn what they really should learn. If it is right for the church to teach it, what is wrong in having the schools teach it? I hope this Body doesn't put itself on record as being opposed to something that is good, because wrong inferences may be drawn. If a man opposes an educational program for the purpose of stamping out the curse of the world discrimination, because you don't happen to belong to a race which is being discriminated against, people may draw the wrong inference from it. There is nothing wrong in it. The chances are it is right. Why should we in the City Council say it is wrong?

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. Chairman, I don't care how far the Boston City Council goes on this, but I know what I am going to say. At the outset the gentleman from Ward 12 made some reference to surreptitious removal of records, all bearing on this problem from the City Record. If I were to die the next instant, I tell you, I don't know what the gentleman is talking about. If he made the statement as a deliberate lie, that makes him one thing. If he is misinformed, we will take it as a misstatement. But I do ask that he enlighten me on something that came to my attention only today, some surreptitious removal of something I have said, and I have consistently opposed striking from the record anything that was said, and every member of this Body knows it. With tears in his eyes, and looking directly at me, he said I referred to discrimination in Charlestown a few weeks ago—racial discrimination, counselor. Not at all. I was talking for Bostonians, Jew and Gentile, rich and poor, so long as they were Bostonians, Mr. Counselor, not Jew or Gentile.—Bostonians, as contrasted with people who came in here because we had a war on and took the roofs from the heads of the people who best deserved them. Check your record, and challenge me on the accuracy of my statement, Mr. Counselor. And then, with another tear in his eye, he said, "It is for no minor reason they ask you your religion when you apply for a job," and every Federal agency in Boston is honeycombed, Mr. Counselor, with members of your race, and you can't deny it.

Coun. TAYLOR—Stick to the subject. Who has accused the Federal Government—

Coun. KINSELLA—I am sticking to the subject, to discrimination. I said in my remarks a few minutes ago that instead of being discriminated against, a certain racial minority was discriminated for, I repeat, instead of being discriminated against, the path has been made easy for them. Now, Mr. Chairman, there should be no offence taken at anything I said in the opening remarks when this debate first came into consideration. All I said was that as an integral part of this Body, I would not cast my vote in recognition of a condition that I am not ready to say exists. And, for the benefit of the other fourteen or fifteen members of this Body, including the sponsor, let me say that a vote for this resolve or order is a vote admitting the existence of a condition that, if you ask me, has been very favorable to the class the gentleman represents, and I have the highest regard for them. Otherwise, Mr. Counselor, I would not pay the slightest attention to those residents in my district of your race who have come to me and whose position, Mr. Counselor, has been materially benefited because of that. With all the criticism I heard of the Navy Yard, there is more than one of your race working in the yard, from your part of Boston, because I got him there. Knowing in advance who he was, and because I try my best to like people, and there are times when I have failed miserably. If you have the proof, you might easily come with me, Mr. Counselor, and let them support my statement or your accusation. I don't believe it, but show me that it exists, and I will be on your side, right behind you. But you will never get me to agree, because of a few words written on a paper and an arbitrary opinion, that the condition does exist. It does not.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. Chairman, I make the motion at this time that the wording of that resolution be changed so that the word "eliminate" be stricken out and the word "combat" be inserted.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Is that all that the counselor wishes to strike out?

Coun. HURLEY—That is all.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Counselor Hurley moves the order be amended by striking out the word "eliminate" and inserting the word "combat."

Coun. HANLEY—I believe that the counselor should look up in the dictionary, and he will find that they are practically similar. It does not change the wording of the resolution. The idea is there, that racial discrimination is taught or inculcated. The counselor from Ward 8 may be familiar with the meaning of those two words. We are debating, and until such time as the original resolution is undebatable, I believe it should be left in its original form. Allegations have been made here today by inference and innuendo, and I believe some of the counselors should be given the opportunity of speaking on the original resolution and not the amended form. The word "combat" means to fight against. To "eliminate" means to exterminate. I don't believe there is enough difference in the meanings of the two words to change the original form. No one wants to close debate on this particular resolution. That is why I voted to have it taken off the table, so that the counselor from Ward 12 could at least get up once more and answer as a rebuttal any charges or allegations made by inference or innuendo, or direct accusation, or indirect accusation, and I am in favor of the original form and that any member may speak on it, and, for the time being, am in favor of allowing Counselor Hurley, from Ward 8, to place his amendment aside temporarily.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. Chairman, I was only a lad when I happened to be listening to the radio one summer afternoon in 1928. A Democratic convention was being held, and the name of Alfred B. Smith was being placed before the convention for the office of presidency of the United States. The man that was placing the name for nomination happened to be a man who has received some degree of political and national prominence, by name, Franklin D. Roosevelt. I am a Democrat, but I differ frankly from the President of the United States on many of his policies, but I have long remembered the words poured forth from that mouth on that day, when he presented the nomination of Alfred E. Smith to the delegates to be chief executive of the nation. He concluded his speech with words to this effect: "May God have mercy upon the craven creatures who would vote against a man, or hold anything against a man, because he believes in God and because of the way he does believe in God." I don't concede there is bigotry in Boston at the present time against any race, creed or color. I do concede there have been brawls involving a number of different races. We have had fires from the stirring up of such conflagration, of such activities, but I do believe that this order is totally not out of place in this place, and I believe it because of this, because there is at the present time rampant in certain sections of the nation, whether or not in Boston, bigotry against certain creed or creeds, bigotry against certain race or races, bigotry against certain color or colors. And I feel that this does not alone apply to Boston, in so far as the order here this afternoon is concerned. If such prevails in Boston, then most certainly we need such activity in Boston schools, but I do not concede it does exist in Boston. It is possible it might come into the Hub of the Universe, and so, in order to forestall the possibility, if not already here, I feel such activity should be started in the Boston schools. I don't think it hurts anybody, and it will maintain the repute of Boston for maintaining the things for which they fought here in '76 and down through the generations before us. I believe this order is not out of place, that it is good, that it is American, that it is Christian, and that it is worth while.

Coun. CAREY—I would like to ask that the order be read again as originally submitted. I would ask that the members of the Council pay particular attention to the latter part of the resolution.

(The clerk read the order again.)

Coun. CAREY—Mr. Chairman, as I said earlier, that order in itself directly implies that racial discrimination is being taught in the schools of Boston today. There is absolutely no question about it.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. Chairman, I rise to a point of information. I would like to ask the counselor to yield. I would like to ask him a question.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Do you yield, counselor?

Coun. CAREY—I yield.

Coun. TAYLOR—If there is anything in that order that would make you believe there is anything that would tend to impress upon you that there is racial discrimination in the schools, I would certainly want to change it, and I would ask that you amend the order in any way you see fit that would take that impression away from you.

Coun. CAREY—In answer to the counselor from Ward 12, I would say I do not personally believe there is any way in which that order or resolution might now be amended. It is going to completely confirm the idea left in the minds of every member of this chamber and every guest in the gallery that the counselor, when he introduced the resolution, was convinced in his own mind there was racial discrimination being inculcated into the minds of the children of the City of Boston, and I might say that the inference might well be drawn from the resolution. Once more we are having attracted to Boston, to the fair name of this city, very wrong and dangerous impressions. There always was and there always will be discrimination. I have seen it since I was a youngster. I see it today; and I don't say that that necessarily is Jewish discrimination. There has been Irish discrimination; there has been discrimination against the colored person; there has been discrimination against a man because he was a Catholic or whatever he might be. You are always going to have it. You will never change human nature, and all the resolutions that might be adopted by this or any other Council are never going to change the situation. I want to say that, as a member of the City Council, I am very sorry to sit here and have to see the day come when a resolution of this nature has got to be adopted or indorsed in a Boston City Council. It is definitely a severe indictment against every teacher in the Boston schools and against the School Committee of the City of Boston, and against the City of Boston as a whole.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. Chairman, the reason why I voted for the reconsideration was because I would have liked to have had a chance to speak, the same as I would like to give my fellowman a chance to express himself. I have heard some fine arguments pro and con. I am one of the parties of the minority race, so called. To my mind, it is an older race, and not a newer race, because when I stop to think what I was taught in school, I know that Christopher Columbus was the discoverer of America. Still, I hate the word "discrimination." I fear the word "discrimination." And the word "discrimination" seems to be used very frequently in the last year or two. If you tell me that there has been favoritism, then I agree with you, because I believe, ever since the birth of Christ, that we are going to celebrate again Saturday, there has been favoritism in the world and you will always find favoritism, regardless of your race, your color, or your creed. Never once in my short period of years of education, was I ever taught in school or in my home to discriminate against any individual because of color, race or creed. I have a perfect right perhaps to speak as I do. As I have said many, many times in this Council Chamber, and as my good friend and colleague, Counselor Hanley, has brought forth, we had no control as far as birth is concerned. We had no control as far as our race is concerned. Then, let us all be thankful to be what we are. And, above all, let us all be thankful to be in a land which treats its fellowmen with equal rights. I believe that we are all human, regardless of our race, color or creed. I started on a point, and I set myself next to my fellowman. I don't look to see what color he is. I don't look to see what church or religion he has, but I see that he is a fellowman and a human being, the same as I. And you will always find favoritism. If we haven't been able to change it in 400 years, over 400 years since America has been discovered, I don't believe we will be able to change it in the next 400 years. Why, we have examples—and I believe that I brought the charges right here on this Council floor some time ago—when a boy applied for a certain position that he was qualified for. Before he made the application out, he was not asked what his name was, but he was asked as to his qualifications, and after he had given his qualifications, he was given an application. And he was told that they were looking for a man of that type. But after the application had been filled out and presented he was notified that they could not use him. He was told, "Is that your name?" He said, "Yes." So they wondered a little bit, but they refused the individual. Could I say that would be discrimination. I would call it favoritism. I hate even the meaning of discrimination. So long as there are human beings we will always have favoritism. So I say that in the schools of Boston we should be taught not to favor any color, race or creed, but to look at the individual as he presents himself. But there is more than that. I believe the fault lies right in our homes. It is in our homes where the child is being taught day in and day out by the expression of its parents or by its surroundings, and how are you going to combat that? I am not ready to know at the present time. The only words I can say are, if we live up to whatever religion we have been taught, if we live up to that commandment of God himself, "Love thy neighbor as you love thyself," until such time, regardless of what the City Council of the City of Boston may try to do, I don't believe that we will be able to change.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, a short time ago I filed a motion to lay this matter on the table. It was not for the purpose of closing the debate, because I believe in free and unlimited debate. But I filed it primarily, Mr. Chairman, because I don't think we know what we are talking about. This resolution here asks us to go in favor of recommending the adoption of some program, and nobody here knows what that plan is. And I think the only fair procedure, both as regards the sponsor and the proponents and the opponents of this matter is to hold the matter in abeyance until we can see what the plan is. If discrimination does exist, each and every one of us is opposed to it. But I feel every man here wants to know first that this discrimination does exist, in what form it exists, and if we are going to remedy it. I for one, as an intelligent being, would like to know what this remedy consists of? There is some plan. I don't think anybody here knows what the plan is, and, until I see the plan, I think it would be wise, it would be smart, it would be human even, simply acting like human beings, if we refer this somewhere until somebody brings forth a plan and, as not merely councilors, but as American citizens, we can read it over and know what we are voting for.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. Chairman, our distinguished colleague, Tom Hannon, was out of the room when I made my first introductory remarks before we engaged in this debate, and I asked through the Chair that the councilor from Ward 12 if he knew what the plan was, would divulge the contents of that plan to us in the Executive Chamber. According to the wording of this order, there was a plan submitted to the Boston School Committee for their adoption through their understanding and learning. I know my colleagues are cognizant of the fact that when you debate religion, race or politics, you sometimes digress from the track and you engage in personalities, and you hurt rather than remedy. That is why I asked—and I believe if you look over the record you will find those were my opening remarks—if there is racial discrimination in our schools or in private industry within the corporate limits of Boston, it should be eliminated for all time. But you can never eliminate the effect without first eliminating the cause. The causes may be based on facts and they may be based upon fancy, but a plan, according to the councilor from Ward 12, has been submitted to the Boston School Committee, a plan to eliminate and exterminate racial discrimination. Therefore, it must be built upon allegations. Whether they are true or false, we don't know, and that is why I am not voting for it, and I am sure the councilor from Ward 12 is well qualified to divulge any plan that is before the Boston School Committee at the present time, and eliminate debate.

Coun. TAYLOR—In view of the many remarks made on the floor today, I am convinced that perhaps many members of the Body are taking the wrong impression and, as a result, I would like to make a motion to strike out my original resolution and substitute instead the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council request the members of the Boston School Committee to initiate a program of education in the Boston schools that would teach the children the distressing results of racial discrimination.

We will have the clerk read the first order before we act on it.

(The first order was read by the clerk.)

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The question now comes on the acceptance of the substitute order for the original order. It was voted that the substitute order be accepted instead of the original order. The question then came on the suspension of the rules and passage of the order.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. Chairman, I still wonder if we have got to take it from that, that there is some special necessity for a course like that. I personally feel that this matter might be laid on the table and we be given a chance to confer with members of the School Committee or some members of the school teaching system of the city. How do we know but what they are at the present time instructing children to avoid anything that might cause racial discrimination. I move that we lay that on the table.

The motion was not passed.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The question now is on suspension of the rule.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. Chairman, rather than be silent on this matter, I feel that the true circumstances of conditions in Boston and throughout the United States warrant me in saying a few words, that there is discrimination not only in the city but throughout the United States. Discrimination will probably always exist. It is not only discrimination against the Jews or against the Irish or Chinese or any other nationality, but there is a deep-seated prejudice and discrimination towards the Negro. Of all the minority parties in the United States, I think the Negro is the most discriminated against. And I say that as one who was educated in the public schools of Boston and who has had the opportunity of mingling in quite closely with the various racial members. I have seen scores of young Negro boys just as bright and just as ambitious as the white boys, and I have seen these young Negro boys obtain high marks, in many cases surpassing the white boys' marks, and yet when they get out into commercial life they are discriminated against. Nobody wants them; no bank will hire them. Did you ever see any Negro tellers? How many positions of importance do Negroes hold throughout the United States? And you will find them in the decided minority. It isn't the Jew that is being discriminated against in this country; it is every race that is being discriminated against, particularly the Negro race. Naturally we should do something about it. All of the minorities possess the same likes and dislikes and human desires that we in the majority possess. And, as a Christian, and one who believes in the teachings of Christ, I feel it was his intent that discrimination should be abolished, and it is something in which teaching in our public school systems and in colleges would probably be most effective.

Refusing that is naturally discrimination. I took the floor, Mr. Chairman, after listening to the arguments on both sides, merely to express myself as I honestly feel in this matter. And I am convinced, sir, that there is discrimination. And I say to you, sir, and to the members of your Council through you that we all know that there is discrimination. Maybe it is a natural prejudice. Maybe it is preference for one of a certain race, for one of a certain race to prefer one of his race to be his employee. Maybe it is something it is going to be difficult to eradicate, but, nevertheless, it does exist, and if we believe in the Constitution of the United States, and if we believe in the Christian faith, then, sir, it is up to us to advocate the taking of every possible measure to eliminate discrimination. I don't think, Mr. Chairman, that the discrimination towards the Jew is one-tenth as bad as the discrimination towards the Negro. You will find throughout the United States that the most poverty stricken minority is the Negro race. They are in that condition, sir, simply because of a deep prejudice toward them. Nobody wants to hire them and give them employment with good pay. So, sir, rather than hold my seat and remain in silence, I wish to express to you and to the members of your Council my honest thought in this matter, and I feel we can at least urge the School Committee to adopt some plan whereby discrimination can be taught to be abolished in this country.

Coun. HURLEY—I want to commend the councilor from Ward 4 for changing the angle of this order from religion to race, but I think his remarks were founded on fact. I think there is a certain sporting writer in Boston that brought up racial discrimination,—a fellow by the name of Dave Eaton. He brought out that there wasn't a Negro player in any of the leagues connected with organized baseball. And it wasn't a question of their being excellent baseball players, it was a question of their color. And not alone in baseball and sports, as the councilor well brought out, but in business life men who are probably far superior in qualifications to the white men have been held down because of their color. And this order here, if it is voted upon and passed by the Council, this resolution, and if this resolution is followed out in the schools, I think it would be one of the greatest things for the happiness of all of the people in Boston, that we educate our children at the right time and instill into their minds that we are all born and created by the same God, and that the same God will face them after their life on this earth is over, and He won't judge us because we are white or yellow or black. I certainly hope, Mr. Chairman, that this order is passed.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor Taylor moves for suspension of the rule and passage of the order. Whereas there are two different motions, the Chair will now put the question on suspension of the rules. The clerk will call the roll. The suspension of the rule requires a two thirds vote of those present and voting.

Coun. SCANNELL—What order?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The motion asking for suspension of the rules.

Coun. SCANNELL—What order?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The substitute order.

(The clerk read the order.)

Coun. CAREY—May I ask, does this close the debate on this very order here that there is a motion made to suspend the rule?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—There are two different motions.

Coun. HANLEY—I rise to a point of information.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—State your point.

Coun. HANLEY—In the event that it passes by roll call, does it mean the adopted resolution of Councilor Taylor is also passed unanimously or on suspension of the rules?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The first motion is on the suspension of the rules. Under our rules the order must have two readings, unless the motion is made by an individual councilor asking suspension of the rules and passage of the order at this meeting.

Coun. SCANNELL—I rise to a point of information.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—State your point.

Coun. SCANNELL—Can we vote on this first order and then vote on the second resolution?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The second resolution is the only matter now before the Council.

Coun. SCANNELL—What happened to the first?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—We have a substitute put in by the original sponsor of the original order. What we are acting on is the substitute order.

Coun. SCANNELL—Does that first resolution go down as a matter of record?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—It is already in the record.

Coun. COFFEY—In view of the fact that the roll call has not started, isn't this resolution still open to debate?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—On suspension of the rules only.

Coun. COFFEY—The debate is on suspension of the rules?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—That is right.

Coun. CAREY—Does this automatically mean that this substitute order is passed?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—No, just asking the first motion for suspension of the rules, and then we come to the passage of the substitute order if suspension of the rules prevails.

The question came on suspension of the rules, and the rules were suspended, yeas 13, nays 1:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer, Fish, Hurley, Hanley, Kelly, Kinsella, Russo, Scannell, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—13.

Nays—Coun. D. F. Sullivan—1.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The question now comes on the passage of the substitute order.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. Chairman, I rise to ask that all remarks pertaining to this order be stricken from the record and the passage of the resolution.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. Chairman—

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—For what purpose do you rise?

Coun. KINSELLA—I want to speak on the motion to strike from the record. Mr. Chairman, President Hannon a few moments ago used a phrase that is very applicable right at this precise moment. He advises us, out of the fullness of his years, to act like grown people, intelligent people, holding elective public office. Apparently we have been given an opportunity to act that way now. This question of striking from the record is one that has invaded this Council from time to time in the last twenty-three months that I have been here, and I have never once, to my honest knowledge, voted to take out of the record anything that was said. I don't know why we get up here and make statements and then cry baby to keep them from the public.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—State your point.

Coun. TAYLOR—There is a resolution before the floor, and I don't know why Councilor Scannell's motion takes precedence over the one before it.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—It is only incidental, councilor, pertaining to this order, and of course if Councilor Scannell's motion does prevail, then all remarks, whether before or after, now will be stricken from the record.

Coun. TAYLOR—Shouldn't that come up after the order is passed?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Not necessarily; it can be acted on at any time.

Coun. TAYLOR—I would like to be informed of that. I don't know of anything in the rules.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The Chair will state it is a matter of parliamentary procedure which is invested in the Chair.

Coun. KINSELLA—I don't want to become contentious about a motion of any member of the Body, but it appears to me that the councilor from South Boston, who hasn't taken part in the debate, feels it is charity to throw over some of the harsh things said here today. But there wasn't anything presented that I am aware of or that I refuse to remember, and I won't ever ask the privilege of standing up here and engaging the time and attention of the Council in making statements, either harsh or rational, and then asking that they be stricken from the record for fear of dire consequences on another occasion. And I am not motivated in my objection to the motion because of the insinuation concerning the surreptitious removal of any remarks of mine. I never have said anything that won't stand the clear light of day, and anything I said here today is mild by comparison to anything I could have said and that I am still minded to say. But I want to try this subject decently and with understanding and with profit to all. Why do we come in here for $2,200 a year unless the public knows what we have said? We pride ourselves on our courage and intestinal fortitude, but if we are to take refuge in the old parliamentary trick, calling a neighbor every name in the calendar, and asking to have it stricken from the record, we are not men, we are mice. Perhaps we are mice anyway. If a statement or a motion is made, or an opinion is offered, in all justice to the public that we represent, in the ward or in the city, that statement should be made and recorded for all time. If that was our best considered opinion at the time we made it, it should be recorded for all time. And I honestly urge upon this Body the necessity for rejecting the councilor's motion.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The question comes on the motion of Councilor Scannell to strike all remarks from the record.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. Chairman, I asked that some of these remarks be stricken from the record, such as "perhaps we are mice anyway," because talk like this, that you hear right from this Body, stirs a gentleman from New York into calling the people in Boston Boston bums. These are the remarks that start these so-called anti-Semitic arguments.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. Chairman, I am opposed to the amendment of this distinguished councilor from South Boston, Joseph Scannell, because I believe that each and every one of us knows full well the weight of the spoken word. We are distinguished from private citizens by coming before people and asking them to elect us to public office. Our life then becomes not only ours, but our constituents', and our words and deeds should be recorded in the public record and placed in the archives of the city to the end of time. That is a distinguishing mark between a private citizen and a public official. There have been many remarks made here today, some justly and some unjustly. Some have been by inference and innuendo, and taking the political paper of a man from Charlestown, which happened to be based on fancy, and leveled at my friend and the distinguished councilor from Ward 2, and brought upon the floor of the Council and thrown in his face. I know Councilor Kinsella from a personal vein and in public life, and I admire him for his affability and his loquaciousness and his honesty and his decency, and I don't like to see any individual become the target by the pen or the spoken word, by inference or otherwise. And I rise to defend a man that needs no defending. His public record is open for scrutinization. This debate has been very lengthy and we have been throwing our bullets at everything and anything other than the target. We are debating upon a plan that I believe twenty-one of the councilors know nothing about, including myself. The councilor from Ward 14 states twenty. The distinguished councilor from Ward 4, Back Bay, has brought out about the negro. Yesterday I had the honor of representing his Honor the Mayor and the distinguished councilor from Ward 9 in dedicating the U. S. O. on Ruggles street, Roxbury, and I spoke before that gathering in the same manner that I speak here on every Monday. The only race in this country that did not come here of their own volition was the negro. Every other race came here on their own volition because they were denied the right of liberty and the pursuit of happiness. And the negro, the black man, was the only one who was driven here and utilized under the bondage of servitude. Discrimination—that word has been used since the beginning of time, and it will be used until the consummation of time. There was no thought of or idea of anti-Semitism until that filthy mouth of the airways called this town or this city the city of bums. A reporter from F. M. was the beginning, when he barged into a press conference of Governor Saltonstall, and was ejected, both verbally and physically. Anti-Semitism—the word "anti" means to be hateful and to be against, to loathe and to despise. Semitism—it is a repetition on my part—is a shortened form for Shem, one of the sons of Noah. Adolph Hitler, as I have said on many occasions, is merely a man. There are thousands of Adolph Hitlers in this country, private and political, who have adopted his principles and his philosophy, but the way to eliminate Hitler is not to kill him, but rather to eradicate the cause which created Hitlerism, and he came into power through Great Britain. And like Frankenstein of old, he rose from obscurity and tried to destroy his creator. Communism came into the same being. It feeds on misery, sorrow and suffering, and there is only one nation in the world today that protects minorities, and that is the government of the United States. To speak on these things is repetition to many of you distinguished gentlemen. I hate and despise anyone who discriminates against a man because of his race or his religion. I, like the distinguished councilor from Ward 12, am the son of immigrants, but both of us have been given the opportunity of practicing our religion and upholding our race when and if the opportunity presents itself. And both of us have been given the opportunity of representing our people in public life. The distinguished councilor from Ward 12 may go high in politics. He has all the qualifications that are required. Bringing the order in today, the councilor did it unintentionally, but the wording of that order, I believe, throws a dart at the school system of our city, that they have no program of love for your fellow man. I believe they are all qualified to teach, or they are qualified according to the curricula of the schools what to teach, and there has never been, to my knowledge, any discrimination. We are talking on something, we are amplifying something, that may grow like a prairie fire. The way to put out a fire is to stop it at the beginning, and not allow it to envelop a city, state or town. And, in conclusion, the City of Boston elected twenty-two councilors to this Honorable Body each and every one of you educated to the philosophy of Americanism, but New York City elected in the last election six of our Communists to the New York City Council. And yet we are called the city of bums.

Coun. CAREY—Having spoken on the order earlier today, on both the original and substitute orders, I want to say for the record that there is nothing that I have said here today that I need to fear. As I said in the very beginning, the introduction of the original order was a severe indictment against the entire school system of the City of Boston. The substitute order has not clarified the situation at all. It is nice to be a good fellow, as they say, and to go along with some of these orders and resolutions that are introduced here from time to time but, as has been said before on the floor of this Council, we are grown men. We were elected because we were supposed to have had intelligence at the time we were elected. We are here to honestly, conscientiously and intelligently represent the 800,000-odd people of the City of Boston, and I certainly feel when orders or resolutions come on the floor of this Council, that those orders should not be treated from the standpoint as to whether or not you are going to be a good fellow. For God's sake, speak your mind. Don't be afraid. There is nothing wrong with the Boston school system.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The question is on the striking from the record of the remarks pertaining to this order.

The question came on Coun. Scannell's motion, and it was defeated. The question then came on the passage of the substitute order, and the order was declared rejected.

Coun. MUCHNICK doubted the vote and asked for a roll call. The roll was called, and the order was not passed, yeas 7, nays 8:

Yeas—Coun. Chase, Hannon, Hurley, Muchnick, Scannell, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—7.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Fish, Hanley, Kelly, Kinsella, Russo, D. F. Sullivan—8.

Coun. TAYLOR—I would like to make a motion for reconsideration on the resolution to the Boston School Committee.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor Taylor moves reconsideration of the previous vote.

Coun. TAYLOR—I would like to speak on the reconsideration. When I first put in my resolution, Mr. Chairman, most of the members opposing it advanced as a reason for it principally that it would be an indictment of the Boston school system. Because of the fact they did not know what plan was going to be offered, I purposely substituted my resolution which eliminated any inference that could be drawn in that respect, but notwithstanding that fact, notwithstanding the fact there were glowing speeches made in favor of any resolution against discrimination, still it was defeated. I ask reconsideration.

Coun. MUCHNICK—It seems to me that everything that has been stated, and stated so well, by Councilor Taylor, needs no addition to it, but I would like to add for the record particularly that there was no slight intended at the School Committee or at the school system in this city. If any plan can be started that may tend to improve relations among all the people of this city, that should in no way be interpreted as a slur on the School Committee or on anybody else. If anybody has a desire to be helpful and submits a plan that may or may not be helpful, I can see no reason why anybody here should quarrel with it. The suggestion contained in the order, whether the original order or the substitute order, is no more a slap at the School Committee or the City of Boston than the Tobin essay contest can be inferred to be a slap at the School Committee, merely because a man named Tobin thought of it before the School Committee did. It seems reconsideration should prevail here for the benefit of the School Committee and the school system of the city at large.

Coun. CAREY—I ask the gentleman from Ward 14 if in his mind there is anything wrong in the relations now existing between the people of Boston.

Coun. MUCHNICK—The purpose of the resolution is to have the School Committee and the school system do all it can to improve relations.

Coun. CAREY—Is there anything wrong now existing between the relations of the people of the City of Boston?

Coun. MUCHNICK—I think the question can best be answered by putting to the councilor from Ward 10 the question: "Is he kidding?"

Coun. CAREY—I want to inform the councilor that I don't kid.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor Taylor moves reconsideration.

Coun. RUSSO—if reconsideration prevails, are we still in order then to make a motion to lay it on the table?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Yes.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. Chairman, apparently there is some dissension in our ranks based on the thought that some of the councilors feel that the Boston School Committee or the Boston school system is not doing a good job as far as race relationships are concerned. I don't think, Mr. Chairman, that the order in any way reflects on the Boston School Committee or the Boston school system. I for one am of the opinion that school teachers in our public school system are doing a darned good job. But I do think, Mr. Chairman, in view of the fact this issue was raised on the floor and has become a public issue, that we, the elected officials representing the great City of Boston, should recognize facts as they actually exist. I defy anyone here, or anyone else, to say that discrimination does not exist. It has always existed, and it has been one of our fundamental principles, not only in our Constitution, but in our Christian religion, to recognize thy neighbor as you would recognize thyself. Now, Mr. Chairman, in view of the fact that we all realize that discrimination does exist, not any more now than it did ten or fifteen years ago, but in view of the fact that it does exist, isn't it our duty as true Americans when the issue is made public on the floor of the Boston City Council, to go on record as being against discrimination and to go on record as urging the proper authorities to attempt at least to abolish it. And how can you abolish such a thing, sir, in any better way than by teaching the young? I can reiterate, sir, that in my opinion not one member of the Boston City Council has any fault whatever to find with the Boston public school system or its teachers. I for one feel that it is our public school system which is acting as a great melting pot in amalgamating the various races and making them into fine American citizens. But I think that at least we could suggest to the School Committee by order or resolution that in our opinion some system or some plan could be taught to the school children of Boston against racial discrimination. And if it would make the members of the Council who feel the School Committee or the school system is being unduly attacked,—if it would make them feel better, I shall introduce an order or a motion if this present motion to reconsider is passed,—I shall introduce a motion to amend the present order so that it will read that some plan be adopted to eradicate racial or religious discrimination by the teachings in our school system. And, furthermore, I would leave with the order a further amendment with words of praise for the Boston school system and its teachers in the job they are already doing in teaching our young scholars how to be good American citizens.

Coun. KELLY—Not having spoken, I move the previous question.

The question came on the motion for the previous question, and the Chair, being in doubt, asked for a roll call.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order. I would like to know what we are voting on.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The previous question.

Coun. KELLY—I thought the previous question was whether reconsideration prevailed.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor Kelly moves the previous question. All those in favor. It is a vote, and so ordered.

Coun. COFFEY—I doubt the vote and ask for a roll call.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The question now is on what you are going to vote on. The main question will be put before the Body without further debate.

Coun. FISH—I rise to a point of order. How can we vote on the main question when it hasn't been reconsidered?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—It is not reconsideration. That is what Councilor Kelly's motion is coming to, and the clerk will call the roll on the previous question, which is not reconsideration.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, what are we voting for?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor Taylor moved for reconsideration. You moved for the previous question. I took a vote and your motion prevailed. Then it was doubted by Councilor Coffey, and we are now going to have a roll call on your motion. The clerk will call the roll. The question is on whether to close debate. Shall we stop debate by the previous question?

The roll was called, yeas 9, nays 7:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Chase, Hurley, Kelly, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan—9.

Nays—Coun. Coffey, Dwyer, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Kinsella, Taylor—7.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Nine in the affirmative and eight in the negative, and the motion is carried. Now the question is on reconsideration by Councilor Taylor, and the clerk will call the roll.

Coun. COFFEY—Am I in order in asking reconsideration on the previous question?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—There is no such motion.

Coun. COFFEY—I move the order now be tabled.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—This motion is out of order.

Coun. COFFEY—I move that we now adjourn.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor Coffey moves that we now adjourn. That motion is not debatable.

The roll was called, and the motion was defeated, yeas 4, nays 11:

Yeas—Coun. Coffey, Fish, Hanley, Kinsella—4.
Nays—Coun. Carey, Chase, Hannon, Hurley, Kelly, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—11.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Now on the motion for reconsideration.

Coun. COFFEY—I rise to a point of information. What other motion takes precedence over this roll call?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—To lay on the table. We cannot apply that motion until we reach the original order. The clerk will call the roll on reconsideration.

The roll was called, yeas 12, nays 4:

Yeas—Coun. Chase, Coffey, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Kelly, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—12.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Dwyer, Kinsella, D. F. Sullivan—4.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The order is reconsidered. The question is now on the passage of the order.

Coun. RUSSO—I move now that the matter be laid on the table.

The motion was declared not carried. Coun. RUSSO doubted the vote and asked for a roll call. The roll was called, yeas 11, nays 5:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Dwyer, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Kelly, Kinsella, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan—11.

Nays—Coun. Chase, Hurley, Muchnick, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—5.

The order was declared laid on the table.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS

Chairman SULLIVAN called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor December 13, 1943, of Muriel Berenson and Samuel W. Brier to be Weighers of Goods.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Muchnick and Carey. Whole number of ballots 14; yeas 14, and the appointments were confirmed.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. RUSSO, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of December.

Report accepted; said order passed.

TRAFFIC CONDITIONS AT HAYMARKET SQUARE.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:
Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey and report of the traffic conditions at Haymarket square, with the view of formulating plans for the elimination of hazard to pedestrian traffic.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC SIGNAL LIGHTS, WARD 3.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:
Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install traffic signal lights at the intersection at Commercial and Fleet streets, Ward 3.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. Chairman, speaking on my first order, I believe every councilor here has had an opportunity of going into the Haymarket square section of the City of Boston, which has really a very hazardous intersection there. I believe some ways and means should be devised by the Traffic Commission in order to see if we can eliminate the hazards that exist there. There are about six or seven intersections, and I have primarily in mind also that there is a bus terminal at Haymarket square, where thousands of people are unloading and loading into buses. And when they are loading or unloading, the people have to cross that intersection, which is a very dangerous one to pass. I do hope the commissioners do something to try to devise ways and means, and if they believe that traffic lights should be installed, I hope they will do that.

Speaking on my second order, ever since the wrecking of the Elevated structure on Commercial street and Atlantic avenue, right at this particular intersection, I am given to understand by the Police Department there have been many accidents since that time. And if you can visualize that ever since the structure was taken down it has made a thoroughfare, and a very wide one, and there are four rows of automobiles going back and forth, so it is very hard for those individuals that get off at the ferry there to cross that street, and I do hope the Traffic Commissioners will see fit to install traffic lights immediately.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF SOLARIUM BY DISABLED SERVICEMEN.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to allow all disabled servicemen to use the L street solarium in South Boston without charge.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BUILDING CODE.

Coun. MUCHNICK for the Committee on Building Code, submitted the following:

Report on message of Mayor (referred November 22) submitting Parts 26 to 31 of revised building code and further recommendations for Parts 3, 4, 7 and 22, also "War Provision" amendment—that same ought to pass.

Coun. MUCHNICK—Prior to the vote on this particular committee report, it is my feeling both personally and as chairman of the committee, for the committee, that the gratitude of this Council should be extended and expressed publicly to the members of the commission on the Building Code that worked so faithfully and so tirelessly to help get this code together. And in passing this committee report, I move that a vote of thanks be added to and extended to this commission for the work which they have done.

The question came on the acceptance of the report and the passage of the ordinances amending the building code. The report was accepted, and the ordinances were passed.

IMMEDIATE EFFECT OF BUILDING CODE ORDINANCES.

Coun. MUCHNICK offered the following:
Ordered, That the two ordinances this day adopted by the City Council amending chapter 479 of the Acts of 1938, known as the Building Code for the City of Boston, shall take effect upon their passage and shall be published by the action of the City Council in passing them.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS.

Coun. DWYER, for the Committee on Appropriations, submitted the following:

Report on message of Mayor and order (referred November 8) authorizing transfer of $800 from appropriation for Penal Institutions Department, House of Correction, Personal Service, to Penal Institutions Department, Office Expenses, Personal Service—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 15, nays 0.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RULES.

Coun. CAREY, for the Committee on Rules, submitted the following:

Report on resolutions in favor of national lottery (referred November 8)—recommending that same ought to pass.

The question came on the acceptance of the report and the passage of the resolutions. The resolutions were declared passed.

Coun. CAREY doubted the vote.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Does the councilor wish to doubt the vote and ask for a roll call?

Coun. CAREY—First I want to speak on it.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Do you doubt the vote?

Coun. CAREY—I doubt the vote.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Coun. TAYLOR—Do I understand what is before the Body now is the question of doubting the vote?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—That is right.

Coun. TAYLOR—Do I understand that the councilor can speak on doubting the vote?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—I understand so.

Coun. TAYLOR—Ought we to have a roll call?

Coun. CAREY—It is my belief we act on the report of the committee.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor Carey moves for reconsideration. Reconsideration was carried.

Coun. HURLEY—I wish that the Chair would listen to the ayes and nays. No one said aye, and there were two or three nays. I don't think you are fair.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—You have one vote, and you were the only one that said yes. I have a vote, too, here, and you will not interpret the rulings of the Chair.

Coun. KELLY—I rise to a point of order.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—State your point.

Coun. KELLY—I thought we were just voting on doubting the vote.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—I was in error. I admit it when the Chair is in error. Councilor Carey asked reconsideration of the original vote, and it was passed, and I am now allowing Councilor Carey to speak on the motion.

Coun. KELLY—I doubt the vote of reconsideration of the vote and ask for a roll call.

Coun. RUSSO—I rise to a point of information.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor Kelly doubts the vote and asks for a roll call.

Coun. KELLY—I rise to a point of information. Am I right in stating that the Chair made a mistake in regard to the report of the Committee on Rules? Instead of accepting first the report of the Committee on Rules, he combined the committee's report and the adoption of the order.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor, that is the way all reports of committees come out on these particular types of orders on acceptance of the committee's report, which was it ought to pass, and also on the passage of the order. I combined the vote on it, which passed, and Councilor Carey wanted to speak on the order and was not on the floor when I took the vote.

Coun. RUSSO—You are reversing your decision, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Don't be misinformed. The Chair is not reversing its decision. Councilor Carey doubted the vote and asked for reconsideration, and reconsideration prevailed, and now before us is the order. Councilor Kelly now has doubted the vote and asks for a roll call on reconsideration. The clerk will call the roll.

Coun. HURLEY—Am I voting yes if I doubt reconsideration prevailed?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—If you are voting yes, it is reconsideration.

Coun. HURLEY—Or that I doubt reconsideration? Is that what we are voting on now, Councilor Kelly's motion?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Yes.

Coun. HURLEY—Meaning that if I vote yes, I am voting against the motion of Councilor Carey?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—A vote "yes" means to bring the matter before the Body.

The roll was called, and reconsideration prevailed, yeas 11, nays 1.

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Chase, Coffey, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Kelly, Kinsella, Muchnick, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan—11.

Nays—Coun. Taylor—1.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The question now is on the passage of the resolution.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. Chairman, as the hour is getting late, I will be very brief. I simply want to say for the record that I am not in accord with the purposes of this resolution. The purpose, as the members of the Council know, or I believe they know, is to raise funds, that the Secretary of the Treasury be authorized to raise by new taxes an additional $10,500,000,000 for the purpose of prosecution of the war, principally. I think it is a sad day in the life of this nation when we have to act on the matter of permitting a lottery in order to raise funds to pay taxes. One might say that the State of Louisiana in a state lottery paid practically all the taxes of government. One might say that Mexico, through a national lottery, raises funds through which it conducts its government. But I say if the day is coming when this country, with its intelligence, as we know it in this country, and its initiative, has to raise money to pay bills by a national lottery, we had better fold up, regardless of the fact that many churches, many fraternal organizations, many colleges have profited financially or provided money through games of chance. I don't know as I want it put down against my record that I have voted to sanction a Federal lottery, because churches have voted, in whole or in part, for such raising of funds. I therefore feel, if the measure is up for vote, I will be forced to vote against it.

Coun. KELLY—I have listened with great interest to the gentleman from Ward 10. It is a matter of public record that our main street here in Boston, Washington street, was repaved through funds secured through a lottery. It is also a matter of public record that Faneuil Hall was rebuilt after the big fire with funds from a lottery. It is also a matter of record that colleges, such as Harvard, Yale, Williams, and many other large colleges, have all profited by lotteries. And, Mr. Chairman, we read a great deal today about a huge lottery being run and number pools and games of chance. I can recall some years ago, I think back in 1933, when the repeal of prohibition ruined bootleggers and tax dodgers who had been making millions of dollars. A national lottery, to my way of thinking, would do away with all of the large racketeers throughout this City of Boston and throughout the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and also throughout the nation. As late as November, 1940, Mr. Chairman, the people went to the polls, thirty out of the forty senatorial districts of Massachusetts, and instructed their state senators to cast a vote up in the State House in favor of state-wide lotteries. I feel this would be an honorable way of raising money. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau recently went before a Senate Finance Committee and said that another $10,500,000,000 would have to be raised by American taxpayers. I feel that if we do not come to a national lottery, there is no doubt in my mind we are coming to one thing, and that is a sales tax throughout the entire United States. I don't want to speak too long about this matter, as we have heard a lot about the order in the last month. I am going to ask the councilor to go along under suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

Coun. TAYLOR—It seems rather inconsistent that a man like Bob Bottomly can have laws passed so we can have legalized dog and horse racing so that many more millions can be added into his pocket, and others like him, probably, and take a portion of that money and give it to those who are on the old age assistance rolls. The City of Boston has been looking for a long time for revenue to supplement that which it now receives on the property tax. We must obtain some form of revenue. We cannot get it out of a sales tax because that is an unsympathetic tax, as far as the people are concerned. There is no reason why we should legalize one form of gambling and say that another is illegal, when people will gamble anyway. Let us make the state and city rich if there is going to be any gambling, instead of filling the pockets of these racketeers that do nothing to promulgate the welfare of the people.

Coun. KINSELLA—Strangely enough, I find myself in agreement with my recent opponent.

Coun. TAYLOR—You are coming to your senses.

Coun. KINSELLA—Hardly. Mr. Chairman, in 1940, as Councilor Kelly said, the representatives and senators were instructed by an overwhelming vote in some cities, eight or nine to one, to vote for any local machinery that would set up a state lottery. But, after extensive hearings, the committee's report was submitted to the House, and on that day, as I well remember, every clergyman in Boston was present in the lobby of the Legislature, threatening dire consequences to anybody who voted to accept any such gambling system. And, as a result of the committee's report, although I am unaware now at the moment whether it was favorable or unfavorable, if favorable, it was not accepted; if unfavorable, it was supported. In any event, Massachusetts has no state lottery. Now I have never believed that any individual should or ought to profit from any such system as we see going on here. And I am just as insistent today as always. I have said in this Body, in your presence and in the presence of other bodies, if any means were instituted to do away with this legalized gambling, I would be for it, but only by due process of law and only by the manner by which they came into existence, the vote of the people, and no other way. Mr. Chairman, we are squandering money right and left in the prosecution of this war, and I use the word "squandering" bearing in mind Lend-Lease proclivities where we have a lot of other nations, and that is what sky-rocketed and pyramided costs of today. If there is any money available to the city, the state, or the nation, by all means the City of Boston should not take a moral view of it, but only a hard-headed, materialistic view of it. We have to live and function and we have got to pay our bills, the city, state and nation, in exactly the same way we must pay them in our own homes. If there is money around, let us divert it from the private coffers into the public treasury, and let all profit from it. Why set up gambling tycoons under the protection of the law? Why should there be hypocrisy about it? We know it exists and will never be completely eradicated, and while it exists let us recognize the evil, let us recognize what people want to do with their own money, what they feel they should do, and get some revenue for our various governments.

Coun. MUCHNICK—I fail to see the logic in the last two or three speeches which have been made here. Merely because people, or some people, will do some things that are illegal, merely because certain persons profit from illegal or immoral acts, is no reason why we in Boston should throw up our hands and say to the world at large, "In view of the fact that we can't control some of this illegality and immorality, we will go along with it and legalize it." There are plenty of people in this City of Boston who admit to doing robbery. Merely because the police are not always successful in apprehending the criminals does not mean we go along and legalize burglary, robbery, prostitution or any other form of immorality. If there is plenty of money around, and if it is being gotten illegally by certain members of gambling pools or by the horses, or any other form of gambling, rather than legalize such forms, it seems we should spend our time, effort and money to eradicate the sources of those evils. If we must raise money, if the purpose of the raising of money is to prosecute a war which we must win in order to remain free men, it seems to me rather stupid to offer to the people of this city or this country the inducement that they may win a big prize if they put their money up on some roulette wheel or some lottery. It seems to me the people of this city and country are smart enough to realize what their money is going for, whether Lend-Lease or anything else; and that in the front of the picture this country stands to gain everything and to lose nothing by the expenditure of these billions. And we should not offer any lollypops or any candy in an attempt to convince the people to part with funds which are being spent to save their lives and their freedom.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. Chairman, the reason I introduced this resolution on November 8 was that I realize that Congress must raise by new taxes the sum of $10,500,000,000. I realize we are in a gambling stage. We all love gambling, and I realize the ones that profit by gambling throughout Boston and Massachusetts and throughout the entire nation are the racketeers. And I further realize that if a national lottery can be run by the Federal, State and City Departments that there won't be any racketeers sitting in on it, that the Government itself will get the money, and that this money will be used, instead of putting a sales tax on the individual who cannot afford it. It is not compulsory for anybody to buy these lottery tickets, if the Government sees fit to raise this money by this means. Everybody is in a gambling stage, and you and I all know there are more people that attended the horse and dog races in the year 1943 than in any year in the past five or six years gone by. And I really feel deep down in my heart that this is the real solution for it. I will say it from any public platform throughout the entire width and breadth of the Commonwealth. The voting in November, 1940, showed 803,000 to 300,000 people instructed their thirty representatives to go and vote in favor of a state-wide lottery. Nobody can tell me those people didn't know what they were voting upon when they went into the booth. Nobody can tell me when a candidate is up for election that thousands of people who mark a cross don't know what they are voting for. The American people are intelligent and understand, and they understand what a "yes" vote means and what a "no" vote means. How is it, Mr. Chairman, that thirty out of the senatorial representatives—803,000 to 300,000—isn't that the sentiment itself of how the people of the Commonwealth feel in this measure? I think that speaks for itself.

Coun. CHASE—As a member of the Committee on Rules, I voted against this resolution, and I did so because I feel it is not within the province of the Boston City Council to be telling Congress how to raise the necessary billions to carry on this war.

Furthermore, I note with interest the eleventh paragraph of the resolution, which reads as follows:

"Whereas many billions of dollars in new revenue could be raised by a strictly voluntary tax such as a national lottery with War Bonds as prizes."

Having that in mind, I would like to call your attention to the fact that of the 136,000,000 people in the United States, if 50,000,000 people play the national lottery, they would have to make an expenditure of $20 each in order to get a gross of one billion dollars. Now, I submit to you, Mr. Chairman, that you know as well as I do in our districts there are many poor people whose incomes are very, very low, and they would like naturally to take a chance on winning something, to win a big stake. They would like that so much that they would deprive themselves and their families of necessary bread and necessary clothes for their children in order to take that chance. We only have 136,000,000 people in the country. How many could play this game, and who would furnish the millions to feed or play it? You would find the overwhelming majority would come from those very poor people who could not afford to pay, and because of that reason, Mr. Chairman, Cardinal O'Connell, through the former Mayor of Boston, Mayor Mansfield, opposed the state lottery proposition in the State House last year. And because of that very reason a Council of Protestant churches has opposed it, because they realize that the poor would be affected by this. I know, Mr. Chairman, that members of the City Council would not care to go on record as advocating something which is going to injure the poor. And if Congress were to adopt a proposition like this, you and I know that people with incomes of $20 and $25, with large families to support, would be taking a chance. How many billions would they raise if it would take 50,000,000 people at $20 apiece to raise a billion? Who would it come from, Mr. Chairman? I trust that the members of our City Council will recognize the merit of the contention of his Eminence Cardinal O'Connell and other leaders in our state who give ample reason for not conducting a national or state lottery. I trust that we will abide by that good, common sense reason.

Coun. KELLY—I am sorry for one minute, Mr. Chairman, that any member of the Council would get up on the floor of this Council and try to make this resolution a religious issue. That is one thing I have drawn the line at in my six years in the Boston City Council. I have never mentioned religion on the floor of this Council or in any political contest I have ever engaged in. Here is the resolution:

"Resolved, If Congress, after careful investigation and deliberation, decides it is absolutely necessary to raise additional billions of dollars by imposing additional taxes on the American public, it is the opinion of the Boston City Council that said Congress seriously consider the establishment of a national lottery with War Bonds as prizes with lottery tickets being distributed throughout the United States mail and other established and existing Federal, State, County, City and Town agencies as a means of obtaining new revenue and help prevent inflation; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, when adopted, be forwarded to each member of Congress and to the Secretary of the United States Treasury."

And that is what every member of the Council is asked to cast a vote on today.

Coun. KINSELLA—The councilor from Ward 14 was very righteous in condemning a few speeches made before he took the floor and said that because a condition cannot be controlled, we should not legalize it. The councilor is a lawyer and derives a good deal of his living from the pursuit of his profession. He is a familiar figure in the district courts and in Suffolk Superior Court. The gentleman is intelligent enough to know the best people of the community accepted repeal of prohibition because they could not regulate it. They were poisoning each other by the thousands and decided as long as a man intended to drink, he ought to be taxed for it. I wonder if the councilor with his moral scruples has ever appeared before the Licensing Board in defense of a man who holds a license, and if he has, and excuses it on the ground it is on account of the business, I would say his business comes before his moral scruples. If I want to gamble, nobody is going to stop me.

Coun. MUCHNICK—Mr. Chairman, I would like to say I have never appeared before the Licensing Board on a liquor license application or a complaint.

Coun. KINSELLA—Nevertheless, the gentleman still derives his living from evil doers.

Coun. MUCHNICK—I object to the last remark.

Coun. KINSELLA—I will strike it from the record. If I insist upon picking a number, turning a card, or throwing a pair of dice, I am ready to take the consequence upon apprehension, but that does not in any way remove my right to gamble if I so please. Organized gambling has been going on for a good many years, as witness your recent headline of $90,000,000 rings in Boston and New York, where they do the job up brown. There are generally half a billion dollar rings, and who profits? Only a few individuals who have to corrupt everybody along the line to operate. Let us be frank about it. Let us tear the veil of hypocrisy and show people when the condition exists. Let us put a certain degree of respectability on it, and it can be done, and the lawyers can tell you how to do it. All they did with the prohibition law was to remove the word "not." At one time, for thirteen years, the order of the day was "Thou shalt not manufacture, sell or give away spirituous liquors," and then, because enough people didn't like that condition, they struck out the word "not" and you had repeal. That is thoroughly respectable for people. It is not immoral; it is immoral. The immoral condition can be ignored. You are not compelled by law upon acceptance of the act to gamble if you don't wish to. If you don't like the dives, stay out of them.

Coun. COFFEY—I can see that the boys are anxious to go home, and everything is peaceful in my home, and I am in no hurry to get there. I am still a little bit hurt because of the action taken previously. I don't think anybody in here can say honestly that I can't take it, because I think I took more abuse than anybody else in the Council Chamber and went out smiling, and I never carried a fight outside. I didn't like the action taken on the previous question. From now on, should any one of those nine who voted for the previous question want to step out, I will say I will always be one of the fellows who wants to keep a debate open, although I wasn't interested in any way whatsoever on that order that was before us six or seven weeks ago. This order came before the Council about five or six weeks ago. When this order was brought in here, I made the statement I was in favor of this order for three reasons. One of the reasons was that it would bring much needed revenue to the Federal Government; the second reason was, to a certain extent, it would stop graft and corruption; and the third, and most important, was that it would make the bookies go to work. I don't know how in hell the bookies can get a C grade and nine out of ten can be 4-F. They can be seen with police sergeants, lieutenants and captains, not before we had—I mean not only before we had—the new Police Commissioner, but also since we had the new Police Commissioner. Now, one of the gentlemen of the Council here made a statement we ought to try to correct some things that now exist. How are we going to correct them? It can be done, and I don't need any lawyer to tell me how, because since I first entered politics I was successful because I fought both the bookies and the police. That was my main issue, and that is how I became a successful politician. And I am going to continue as long as I hold public office, and as long as I don't. One way to get rid of bookies is to go out and make an honest arrest of a bookie and bring him into court and make him show either his draft board or his social security card. Don't let him take a rap. And I make reference to the Police Department. Bring them in under their right name and then have the captain from each division go before the judge of the court and tell the judge that this man has no other means of livelihood other than his books on the dogs and horses, and is also a writer of numbers, and have the captain recommend that the judge fine that man anywhere from $200 to $500. And they can do it. Now, if they bring in enough of them, you can bet that these so-called chiselers or bookers won't go into court and pay their fine. And once these number pool writers and other saps find out that the booker isn't going to pay their fine and they are going to have to work that fine out in jail, anywhere from six months to two years, they are going to stop writing numbers and booking horses, because you can break the bookers in a week if you want to. I am telling the new Police Commissioner he can break the number pool racket and the newspaper pool. I wonder if the Police Commissioner has the guts to go after the newspaper pool, and I wonder if the newspaper has the guts to print the statement I just made. I want the Police Commissioner to go after the newspaper pool. Those that operate it work for the newspapers in Boston, and if any Police Commissioner ever goes after them, they are crucified in the newspapers, made unpopular, condemned, ridiculed and criticized. And there is only one answer to it. To hell with my political future. I am satisfied I have thrown it away. I have had ten years of politics, and I have said everything I want to say in those ten years. And I say now here for everybody, and the newspapers can carry that—to hell with the newspapers and to hell with my political future. I am satisfied with that, and when this is over I hope there will be another W. F. A., because I am probably one of those who will have to go on it. But I am satisfied. I will put in my eight hours a day and bring up my family the same as I have. But I challenge the new Police Commissioner to go after the newspaper pool, go after the bookies, both horses and dogs, and those who book numbers, and find out why they are operating, who is allowing them to operate, and what connections they have got, whether political or otherwise. Print this stuff in the newspapers if you dare, and I say you don't dare bring it out in the newspapers because you would be condemned. I don't say the editors or the editorial writers or the sports writers, but I do say it is damned funny that that newspaper pool exists, and nearly every newspaper in Boston is tied up in it, and nearly everybody that operates a truck delivering papers sells tickets for $5 a smash. Let the newspapers print that if they have the courage. Another thing that I would like to ask the commissioner is, regarding the patrolmen and sergeants, and I don't condemn them all, because I was one of those that advocated an increase in salary for them. Give them a little more wage, and they won't have to go in the back door for graft.

Bring them a little wage and they can bring their children up the way they want, and they won't have to take anything from these yellow-bellied bookies throughout the city. You know people that get big hits and never get paid and have been threatened if they go and squeal. And if they go to the police, the police try to make them compromise and take a small amount of the hit that they get. They don't get the full amount because the bookie won't pay it to them. I know of several instances, and I think everybody within hearing of my voice knows the same thing. A year ago last April on the floor of this Council I named Sagansky on the $90,000,000 lottery he was operating. A year ago last April—that is in the minutes; you can get it. And he was caught nine months after. I named Paddy Coleman, and I name him again. But I will kick the hell out of every bookie that ever butts into a fight I am in, whether on this floor or outside the door or on top of an automobile, or anywhere else. I will kick their heads off as long as I am here. They have got after me, but never were successful. They hired a fellow from New York when I was going to name one—the brother of a police officer who came to my assistance stopped him. He got such a licking the bookies are kicking in a week's pay to his wife and children so he won't tell who the bookies are that hired him, and the police sergeant who hired him to do away with Coffey because he was bringing things out in the open. And when I went up in the Legislature in 1929 and 1930 I brought out facts there that the fellows there during prohibition would go out and raid a still and get 25 gallons and bring 5 gallons back as evidence and sell the rest to some other bootlegger. That is common knowledge. I dare say now that if Bushnell goes into the courts of Massachusetts, and especially in Boston, and gets the record of every man who has ever been arrested for operating a nigger pool or a horse pool, he will find out that 75 per cent of them are in there taking the rap under assumed names. I know that to be a fact. I know one case in my town, where a man has been arrested fourteen times, and found guilty every time, paid a fine every time under an assumed name, and now has a pretty good government job and no record. That is common knowledge, and I think you fellows know it the same as I do. That is why I am in favor of this lottery. Get rid of these bookies. And warn the new Police Commissioner to get after some of these captains who are going in taverns after hours and going to fine night clubs with bookies. You can go down to lieutenants and sergeants. I saw the most disgraceful thing happen in my town that I ever saw happen in my life. One of the big nigger pool writers over there lost control of his car. He was drunk and crashed into a police motorcycle. And the officer jumped off the motorcycle, and as we stood there we thought he was going to pull the driver out. No, he didn't. Once he got a look at him and saw he was a big bookie of the town, he just walked by, got on his bike and drove down to the police station, and I suppose he made a report that he was hit by some hit-and-run-driver, or something else, but he never brought the man to court. That is the control that bookies have over the police. Not only now—I am not condemning the Police Commissioner as is. I am going to in the event he does not clean up Boston. Boston needs cleaning up now, just as it did when Timilty was Commissioner. I never said a word against Timilty when he was being persecuted or under removal charges, but I did kick his head off previous to that, and I would today. I am one of those fellows that cannot be changed, thank God. I don't know what to continue to talk about to keep you fellows here, but as I said before, I don't like the deal I got. I have nine names of fellows that voted the previous question. I thought it was kind of rotten. I always like to have everybody have their say. I think it is time we had a national lottery. I think it will drive these bookies out of every place where they now operate, and that includes about every place that there is—defense jobs, Navy Yard, South Boston pier, the fish pier, no matter where you mention, the bookies are in. And, as I made a statement previously, you can look it up on the record, in one of my own yards, in East Boston, every employee is scrutinized very carefully before he is allowed in. He has to show his badge number and they look at his picture and at his face and look back at the picture, and the only fellows that can get in and out of that yard without being scrutinized are the bookies that go in and take the pay from the lowest paid laborer. I think this order ought to pass. Bill Cunningham left the Post to go to the Herald. He left the Democrats and is now writing for the Republican party. He had a statement in the Boston Post before he quit that syndicate that the dog track was controlled. That is a matter of record. And any time the top-heavy favorite, was running second or third, and some rank outsider was leading the man that controlled Swiftie, either he had bet on the second or third dog, he might figure it would be better for the track if he favored the dog that would come in, and he would deliberately slow down Swiftie. That, in turn, would slow down the first dog and knock him off stride, and by the time he speeded up, the favorite would come in and win the race. That is Bill Cunningham's story. Of course, you know the other writer that crucified the horse and dog tracks for about three weeks. You would have thought that horse and dog tracks were being run by churches. Nobody else could have run them like this man writes. He murdered them. Of course, they were corrupt. Anybody that asks a fellow to go down there and leave his money—imagine taking money from their children and going down to the horses and dogs. And then all of a sudden he does an about-face and we find that the horse and dog track operators are the most charitable people in the United States, all they have done for humanity, all they have done for old age pensions, all they have done for government. They have turned over millions of dollars. Baseball couldn't compare with them. It was a kick in the head for baseball. I suppose it hasn't kicked in so it will continue to be a kick in the head for baseball. Anyhow, let us get back to the lottery again. I think the lottery ought to go through, and I think that everybody here should be in favor of it. Of course, my colleague here from Ward 4 is opposed to it, and also to beano. Of course, he doesn't understand beano like I do. If he did, he wouldn't have opposed it. And the councilor from Ward 14 is opposed. But, as Councilor Kinsella said, he finds himself on the same side of the fence as Councilor Taylor and I do, too. There is something else. One of the Hyde Park papers—do you recall their putting in several statements about—in fact, they gave him a couple of editorials—about things I had said up here about the Police Commissioner, and remarks about bookies, and so forth. I notice in the last raid they got a couple of bookies in that district. So I was very much pleased to know that some of these bookies I had named here a year ago last April—I notice they got some of those bookies out there that I named. And that also made me very happy. Well, as Councilor Chase seems to do this (indicating) several times, and then something comes to him and he continues his talk, if anybody else wants the floor I will be glad to yield so I can take the floor again. In the event they should want it, I suppose we could go on to say the bookies are still operating even though we have a new Police Commissioner, and I don't suppose he can clean things up in a month. But, as I said before, I would like to see him make a start. He has called in his police captains and given them instructions, and mostly along the line that Police Commissioner Timilty has talked on. Take juvenile delinquency. My argument has always been, take care of the bookies. Make them go to work. Drive them out of business, and don't let anybody tell you you can't, because you can bring them into court. If they get a fine of $200 to $500, let the bookers pay it for them. And if you bring in enough bookies and give them fines of anywhere from $200 to $500, you can bet that the bookers will not pay their fines. Go ahead and move the previous question. That is one thing I have never done since I have been in here, tell another fellow what to do. I was only in here a month when I had one of the wise guys come and tell me about a certain thing. I said, "I will introduce the order." He said, "Fine." I said, "I will include your name with mine." He said, "Oh, no." He wanted me to take a shot at the Mayor, but he wanted to be in the background while I was taking a shot. So there was no order introduced, and I was never bothered by him for the next year. Getting back to this may be a repetition, but it keeps me on my feet. If every bookie is brought in and given a $200 to $500 fine, all you need to get is ten in each ward in the city each week, and once the bookie knows that he has to pay $2,000 to $5,000 in fines he is going to fold up his bank roll and get out of the vicinity. The bookie is going to jail, no doubt, and work it out until his fine is paid. And once you do that to ten or a dozen bookies, you won't get any backers to work for. That is the way bookies could be wiped out in a week if the police wanted to do it.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The question is on the acceptance of the committee's report. The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the resolution, and the resolution was adopted, yeas 9, nays 3.
Yeas—Coun. Coffey, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Kelly, Kinsella, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan—9.
Nays—Coun. Carey, Chase, Muchnick—3.

ADVANCED PAYMENT OF CITY EMPLOYEES.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:
Ordered, That the City Treasurer be directed by his Honor the Mayor to advance the pay day of city employees so that all employees who would ordinarily be paid on Monday and Tuesday of the week following Christmas, be paid on the Friday before Christmas.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SCROLL OF SYMPATHY TO NEXT OF KIN OF WAR DEAD.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:
Ordered, That the City of Boston officially recognize and honor those citizens of Boston who made the supreme sacrifice while in the armed service of our country during the present great conflict, by presenting to their next of kin, a scroll, suitably inscribed and fit for framing, which shall contain resolutions of sympathy adopted by the City Council and approved by the Mayor.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. Chairman, I am going to be very brief because of the hour, and this resolution I feel is self-explanatory. Many of us, in fact all of us, acknowledge with pride the sacrifices being made by those members of the armed service who came from the City of Boston. But always during the period of strife we make promises and tell what we are going to do to honor those who are wounded or killed in the great struggle. We did that in the last war, but many times, as soon as the war is over, we are apt to forget the sacrifices made by those who have joined the armed forces. So this resolution is merely to ask the city as a public service to make official recognition of those members of the armed forces from the City of Boston who made the supreme sacrifice during this war. Various societies throughout this city have occasions when they present scrolls with words or insignia of one kind or another to the next of kin of some one who has been killed in service. The city has officially not taken any public notice of these, save for the memorial on Boston Common on which are inscribed the names of those who have gone to the Great Beyond. Boston should go ahead of other communities and do something for these boys and these women called upon to make the supreme sacrifice, and for a trifling sum we could present a scroll or a memorial of some type which can be framed and which will express forever to the next of kin the sympathy and thought of the Boston City Council and the Mayor in behalf of those who are dying really that we might live. I move suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. COFFEY—I move that the order introduced by Councilor Taylor pertaining to the School Committee be taken from the table.

The Chair being in doubt as to the vote, ordered a roll call, and the motion was defeated, yeas 6, nays 6.

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Kinsella—6.

Nays—Coun. Chase, Hurley, Kelly, Muchnick, Russo, D. F. Sullivan—6.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LICENSES.

Coun. COFFEY, for the Committee on Licenses, submitted the following:

Report on petition of United Farmers Cooperative Creamery Association, Inc., (referred November 8) for driveway opening at Carter street—that same ought to pass. Report accepted; permit granted under usual conditions.

MEETING OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—If there is no objection, the councilor may proceed.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, as chairman of the Committee on Claims, I have called a meeting for Wednesday at 1.30. Only those on the committee have received a notice, but I thought I would like to notify the other members of the Council. It will possibly be the last meeting of that committee this week, and there was one very important claim to come up. The Law Department has allowed a settlement of $1,200 on a death case. I am not going to express now, until I have a full hearing, how I feel, but $1,200 after lawyers' fees seems quite inadequate. The lawyers' fees are to be deducted from that $1,200, leaving a balance, after other expenses, of a very, very small amount, and for that reason I would like to have as many of the members of the Council who can be to present at 1.30 on Wednesday before that committee.

Coun. COFFEY—I wonder if Councilor Fish's order couldn't be brought out on the floor today and heard in executive session while we have a quorum?

Coun. FISH—I would be most happy if it is parliamentary procedure, if in that way we can get it on the floor. If it is brought out on the floor, I want to send for the Assistant Corporation Counsel, Mr. Kalus, who is quoted by the attorney for the family of the child who was killed as saying that the city strikes a hard bargain. That is why I would like to have the members, as many as can be, at that meeting. Personally, I don't want to be a party to Mr. Kalus' striking a hard bargain on a death case.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The Chair declares a short recess for the purpose of going into executive session.

Coun. COFFEY—In regard to a recess, can I object to taking a recess at this time?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—You may.

Coun. COFFEY—I object to taking a recess.

Coun. DWYER—I move that we now adjourn.

The roll was called, and adjournment was refused, yeas 2, nays 10:

Yeas—Coun. Dwyer, Kinsella—2.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Chase, Coffey, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Kelly, Russo, D. F. Sullivan—10.

Coun. HANNON—Following along the thought expressed by Councilor Fish, I would now like to move that all committees hold a meeting during this week and clean up all the matters for the end of the year, so that at the next meeting on Monday, if possible, we might be able to clear the docket of every committee.

Coun. COFFEY—I make the motion now that the orders referred to the Executive Committee be withdrawn and brought back here so we can act on them here. Talking on my motion, I hear that the Law Department has gone. They don't work the hours that we do, nor get the salary we do. So I move that those orders now be returned to the chamber.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor Coffey makes the motion to recall the matters that have been referred to Executive Committee.

Coun. HURLEY—I rise to a point of information. What are those orders?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Seven transfer orders.

Coun. COFFEY—That is all there is, seven transfer orders all in one.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor Coffey moves we recall the several transfers that were referred originally to the Executive Committee.

Coun. MUCHNICK—Is there anything else pending before the Executive Committee other than those seven transfer orders?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Nothing else referred today. The motion comes on recalling from the Executive Committee.

The Chair, being in doubt, ordered the roll to be called.

Coun. DWYER—I rise to a point of information. How many objections does it take to stop recalling it?

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Just a majority vote.

The roll was called, and the transfer orders were recalled from the Executive Committee, yeas 10, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Chase, Coffey, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Kelly, Russo, Taylor—10.

Nays—Coun. Dwyer, Muchnick, D. F. Sullivan—3.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The orders have been recalled from the Executive Committee. What is your pleasure?

Coun. HANNON—I move that the orders be approved as submitted.

Coun. DWYER—I don't believe that the councilor has a knowledge of what those orders are at the present time. I, for one, would like to know what they are.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Would you like to have the clerk read them?

Coun. DWYER—Yes.

(The clerk read the transfer orders as submitted in the message of the Mayor.)

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—The question now comes on the passage of the orders as moved by Councilor Hannon. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, yeas 11, nays 1:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Chase, Coffey, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Muchnick, Russo, D. F. Sullivan, Taylor—11.

Nays—Coun. Dwyer—1.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Twelve votes being required, the orders are not passed.

Coun. TAYLOR—I make a motion to reconsider, and I make a motion to lay over to the next meeting.

Chairman D. F. SULLIVAN—Councilor Taylor moves to reconsider and to lay on the table the several orders, assigning to the next meeting.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 36.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 8, 1944.

No. 2

BOSTON FACES FUTURE WITH OPTIMISM DUE TO JUDICIOUS USE OF DEBT INCURRING POWER IN PAST SIX YEARS, MAYOR TOBIN TELLS NEW CITY COUNCIL AND CITIZENS OF BOSTON IN ANNUAL MESSAGE — FUNDED DEBT REDUCED BY $20,000,000 DESPITE SHRINKING VALUES IN REAL ESTATE AND REPLACING OF WORTHLESS ASSETS CARRIED AT FULL VALUE AT $11,000,000 AT TIME OF START OF HIS ADMINISTRATION — MANY PROJECTS PLANNED FOR POST-WAR PERIOD TO PROVIDE FOR MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE NOW BUT WHO WILL RETURN TO CIVIL LIFE AT END OF CONFLICT — WANTS ALL CITIZENS TO BEND EVERY EFFORT TO ENDING WAR AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

In his annual address to the City Council for 1944, Mayor Tobin spoke as follows:

Gentlemen.

As we enter upon a new municipal year, and the third year of the most terrifying and destructive war in the history of mankind, I think it excusable to omit the customary and lengthy dissertation on the various activities of the city government during the past year, and to also omit the usual presentation of proposed activities for the current year.

In these critical days our attention might be more profitably focused on two important topics affecting our city government, namely, a factual résumé indicating the state of the city government; and a consideration of the problems, which, in all probability, we shall be faced with at the termination of the war, namely, post-war planning.

The State of the City Government.

It is with some pride, therefore, that I present a more or less general outline and a comparison of the debt situation as I found it when I became Mayor, and as it is today. I submit that were it not for the judicious exercise of the debt incurring power, our city, with its constantly shrinking real estate values, could not face the future with the optimism which I believe today is justified.

In the six years I have been Mayor of Boston, the funded debt of the city has been reduced by $20,000,000, despite contracting $11,000,000 of permanent debt to replace an equal amount of worthless assets carried at full value on the books when I first assumed office. On the last day of the year just passed, the net funded debt of the city was slightly more than $110,000,000, the lowest figure since 1929. The reduction of $8,600,000 for 1943 itself is the greatest reduction in the net funded debt in any given year in the history of the city. In 1938 the first year I occupied the office of Mayor, the debt requirements included in the tax levy amounted to approximately $12,750,000. In 1944 the debt requirements will be $10,403,000, or a reduction of $2,350,000.

In 1938 interest payments for debt, met out of the tax levy of that year, amounted to $3,478,000. In 1944, this year, interest payments on debt, to be met out of the tax levy of this year, will amount to $1,731,000, or a reduction over a six-year period of more than fifty per cent in interest debt requirements. A continuation until the end of my term on December 31, 1945, of the debt policy we have followed for the past six years, will result in a net funded debt of $93,000,000 or $94,000,000, which will be the lowest debt obligation of the city since 1926. If this policy should continue beyond my term of office and remain in force until the year 1950, our net debt by that year would be $80,000,000, or back to the level which prevailed in 1913, before the first World War, and this figure can be attained even though during the years 1946 to 1949 a total of $10,000,000 is borrowed. An adherence to a safe and sane policy of this sort until the year 1950, which I strongly recommend and which I hope the members of the City Council will advocate, will immeasurably strengthen the financial structure of the city, and will make it possible for the city government to undertake not only permanent improvements out of current taxes, but will also permit the city to give substantial relief to the taxpayers.

Extravagant Borrowings Stopped.

If this recommendation is adopted by succeeding administrations, and my debt policy continued until 1950, serial bond redemptions and interest payments for that year would total $4,750,000. Compare that figure with the almost $13,000,000 for debt and interest during my first year as Mayor, in 1938. Then we get a graphic picture of the enormously high annual debt charges we must meet out of taxes through extravagant and many times unessential borrowings.

ANNUAL ADDRESS OF MAYOR TOBIN.

The difference between the debt charges of 1938 and the estimated debt charges of 1950, if my debt policy is followed, would be $8,500,000. If that amount of money were available this year we could reduce our tax rate by almost six dollars, or, still more emphatically, that amount of money would provide the entire operating expenses for the Long Island Hospital, the Mattapan Sanatorium, the Health Department and ten health units, the Deer Island House of Correction, the Park Department, the Charles Street Jail, the Suffolk County Court House, the Traffic Department of the City and the Boston City Council, and even after paying all these operating costs we would still have sufficient left over to purchase land for several new playgrounds, and to make much needed improvements and provide much needed equipment for our other playgrounds.

I am hopeful, too, that a mistake of the past will not again be repeated. Between the years 1923 and 1930, years of prosperity, the assessed valuations of our city rose over $200,000,000. Amazingly, during this same period, the net debt of the city was increased by $28,000,000. After 1930, when real estate valuations began to shrink rapidly, the fallacy of mortgaging the future of the city by excessive debt expansion became apparent, and when 1938 rolled around, the year the so-called second depression occurred, we not only had lost the $200,000,000 of increased valuation, but over $200,000,000 in addition, and yet we were forced to meet out of taxes debt charges of almost $13,000,000.

After serving as Mayor of Boston for a period of six years, I am firmly convinced that the most important financial policy to be pursued for the future security of the city is the rapid reduction of its outstanding debt and the incurring of such permanent debt as only unusual conditions might compel, and then, under no circumstances, should the amount of debt contracted in any given year ever exceed the amount retired.

In the pursuance of this policy, and for the good of the future generations of Boston's citizens, I ask the whole-hearted cooperation of the members of the City Council.

The Post-War Period.

Even though we are in the midst of a great war which has disrupted the economic life of the entire world, we must, nevertheless, give thought to that day when the normal, peaceful life of the world is resumed.

I am of the belief that the lessons we learned at such cost following the last World War will prevent a recurrence of those conditions which found returned veterans, who, but a short time before, were offering their lives for the preservation of democracy and all it entails, roaming the streets of our nation, unable to obtain even the most menial kind of work, and dependent on the relief provided by local governments for the barest necessities of life. To permit that to happen again, after a war in which over twice as many men are in the armed services, and over twice as many individuals in defense work, as compared to the last war, would result in a consequence far more frightful to contemplate than the combined hate of all our enemies.

I am confident that the business and industrial leaders of our nation will do their utmost to quickly change their enterprises from wartime to peacetime production and it will be to their advantage to do so, because of the anticipated tremendous consumer demands. It is apparent, however, that these changes cannot be made overnight, nor fast enough to absorb the willing hands released from the armed forces or defense work. In the interim period it should be the duty of the Federal, State and Local Governments to provide at least temporary opportunities for employment. Our city should, most certainly, do its part in this respect.

Projects, the cost of which will be self-liquidating, will be given preference in any post-war activities in order that we may avoid placing unnecessary debt burdens on our citizens. Sometime ago I appointed a post-war committee under the leadership of the chairman of the City Planning Board. That committee is giving consideration to a tentative program involving all urgent projects of a public works nature. I think it advisable to recount some of the projects and undertakings under consideration by the committee, so that your Honorable Body may know that many improvements you have advocated in recent years are matters of concern to the committee.

Projects Being Planned.

The full program has as yet not been decided. Some projects have definitely been approved. Others are in process of engineering studies to determine their practicability. The project standing number one on my list is the construction of a viaduct connecting Long Island with the mainland and the demolition and reconstruction of all second and third class structures at that institution.

Among the structures will be a new hospital for women, a women's dormitory, and a new hospital for men. The total cost of this project will be in the vicinity of $2,300,000. Sufficient progress has been made on the preliminary engineering of the viaduct to be able to proceed shortly after any easing in priorities on materials required for its construction. This portion of the project carries an estimate of $800,000. For many years there has been talk of bringing the Long Island Hospital to the mainland. This will make Long Island a part of the mainland, with all of its accruing benefits to patients, inmates and workers.

The Transit Commission, under the direction of the Post-War Planning Committee and the City Planning Board, has been giving consideration to transportation problems and possible projects of post-war significance which will have far-reaching effects upon the whole metropolitan area. With a view to the extension of rapid transit facilities, the West Roxbury Branch of the New Haven Railroad has been completely engineered to the Dedham line. The studies prove this to be a needed self-supporting project. This work should be started at the earliest possible date following the termination of the war. A further study is in process, extending the West Roxbury line through Dedham to Hyde Park, and returning over the Providence Division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad to Forest Hills. The estimated total cost of the overall project is $10,426,000.

The White Fund Trustees, of which, as Mayor, I am chairman, have voted to erect a fitting memorial to the veterans of all wars. Plans are in process at the present time. This project should be ready for construction immediately following the termination of the war. The cost is estimated at $1,000,000. Plans have been completed for a bath house, recreational center and solarium on the Charlesbank, at a project cost of $250,000. Construction of this project may be started the moment priorities are available. Other projects for the various city departments totalling an estimated cost of $14,000,000 are under consideration by the Post-War Planning Committee. The capital cost of the greater portion of these projects can be justified on the basis of self-liquidation.

In 1940 I appointed a Mayor's Conference on Traffic to study the problem of traffic congestion in Boston. That conference developed a program of traffic arteries which has been the subject of legislation for the past several years. The war has delayed final action. It is now before the State Commission on Post-War Highways. This commission is in agreement that the completion of this program will eliminate the most serious traffic problem in the Commonwealth. Engineering estimates place the cost of these projects in the vicinity of $20,000,000. The contention that this is a proper charge against the Highway Fund is generally accepted. A complete listing of the Transit Department proposed self-liquidating projects, with their costs, is as follows: Rapid transit extension from Forest Hills over Providence Division of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad to Readville and return over Dedham Branch and West Roxbury Branch, $10,426,600. Removing present elevated structure between Bennet street and Forest Hills and constructing subway, $23,000,000. Removing present elevated structure from North Station to Sullivan square and building subway, $11,000,000. Adjusting that portion of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad between Harrison square and Braintree to Boston Elevated Railway operation, at the request of the Governor's Committee on Metropolitan Transportation, $3,835,200. A total of $48,262,800.

Congressional Post-War Planning.

In the Congress of the United States, I am pleased to report, consideration, as a post-war reconstruction activity, is now being given to the replanning and rebuilding of the centers of metropolitan areas in order to eliminate the blight which has followed the trend of decentralization during recent years.

Among the proposals receiving active support in Congress is one to provide loans to cities to purchase large downtown areas to be cleared and leased to private agencies on a long-term basis, the difference between the annual rental of such land and the annual interest and amortization of the loan would be charged off over a long term up to 100 years. This proposal coincides with studies we have made here in Boston for the rehabilitation of depreciated areas, and for the elimination of needless streets, and the erection of new recreational areas. From the standpoint of Boston, it is needless to state that any program of rehabilitation, which can be carried forward by government financing, has attractive possibilities in addition to its other advantages as a post-war project.

Other projects being contemplated are the extension of the East Boston Tunnel from its present terminus under Chelsea street in East Boston to the expanded Boston airport and beyond to Orient Heights. The extension of the Washington Street Tunnel to Forest Hills and removal of present elevated structure along

Washington street. Extension of Washington Street Tunnel from Haymarket square to Sullivan square, Charlestown, and removal of present elevated structure along that route. All of these projects have definite permanent value to the community.

Recreational facilities in our city have not kept pace with our needs. The Post-War Committee has under consideration the broadening of these facilities and the development of present facilities. There is a general need for a review of our recreational facilities. This feature of post-war planning will receive intensive consideration. With these examples of proposed projects which merit consideration in planning for post-war activities, it may be ascertained that the city government recognizes the part it must play in the post-war period, and recognizes, too, the need for large-scale improvements if our city is to maintain its standing as a leading metropolitan center of our nation.

Conclusion.

At the beginning of this annual report, I stated that I did not intend, today, to discuss the ordinary activities of the city government, but, before concluding this message, I believe I should give passing mention to the fact that many of our city departments and divisions are making notable contributions, either directly or indirectly, to the victorious prosecution of the war. We are indeed happy that this is so, and we shall continue to give, through our departments, all possible aid and help in the furtherance of the war effort. Our Public Works Department has achieved a record in the collection of tin cans and waste paper that is the envy of almost every other American municipality. Of course, this marvelous accomplishment would not have been possible without a right-spirited, patriotic citizenry.

During the twelve months ahead I firmly propose that every important activity of our city government should be considered in the light of its relationship to the war effort. We cannot, and we must not, as a municipality, do anything, engage in any activity, or make any obligations that might, even remotely, hinder or obstruct the impelling necessity of quick and decisive defeat to our enemies. In the pursuance of this objective, I shall ask for the cooperation of the membership of the City Council, a cooperation which I know you gentlemen will willingly give.

It must be evident to all that the kind of war in which we are engaged is a war requiring greater sacrifices on the part of every citizen than any other trial in the nation's history. All of us at home are making sacrifices and we may well be called upon to make more and more sacrifices. But whatever our sacrifices, they are trivial in comparison to the sacrifices and hardships that our fighting men are undergoing on the various fronts of this global war. It will be to our eternal shame and dishonor if those of us who remain at home while our fighting men suffer and die in the blazing inferno of war do not accept the minor sacrifices which are our lot, and which must be our lot if we are to defeat enemies, who, if victorious, would degrade and enslave us all to a new order that denies the existence of man's God-given rights.

To the 1943 membership of the City Council I extend my sincere appreciation, and the appreciation of our citizens for your devotion to duty during the past year.

I hope that my relationship with the present City Council will be as harmonious and as productive of good for our city as my relationship with the previous City Council.

I close this message with the most prayerful hope that long before this year reaches maturity, victory over our enemies will be achieved and peace restored to a weary and war-torn world. I pray that the cost of that victory, in human sacrifice, will not be great.

I pray that He, Who is the Light of the World, will give us all the strength and courage to carry whatever burdens and whatever sorrows the future may bring. I pray that He will protect and preserve those in the armed forces of our country, and that His bountiful mercy will be extended to those who shall pay the supreme price on the cross of freedom. I pray for His divine guidance in the year ahead so that I shall, with His help, be a worthy and useful public servant.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with firms, commercial houses and contractors, for supplies, labor, etc. Communications from the heads of the departments interested were as follows:

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 27, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Under date of October 19 of the current year, a contract was awarded to Rufo Construction Company, 1 Allen road, Brighton, for resurfacing part of the roadway of the Sumner Tunnel. The contract was awarded as a result of publicly advertised bids, although the above-referenced contractor was the sole bidder.

The work is proceeding very satisfactorily and the present contract will be completed by the end of the current year. All of the roadway defects, however, will not be remedied and I desire, therefore, to have this contractor continue the resurfacing work in the first few weeks of 1944 in order to provide for the completion of all the repair work that should be done in order to eliminate hazardous motoring conditions that might be caused by roadway defects. The work proposed in 1944 will be an extension of the work that is now being done by this contractor under the provisions of the existing contract, and, in view of this, it would not be practical, in my opinion, to publicly advertise for bids, particularly in view of the fact that the contractor has agreed to do the work in 1944 at the same prices and under the same conditions that are in effect at the present time.

I respectfully recommend, therefore, that a contract without publicly advertising for bids, in the total amount of $1,200, be awarded to the Rufo Construction Company of 1 Allen road, Brighton, for resurfacing those parts of the roadway area of the Sumner Tunnel as designated by this department, the contract work to commence on or after January 1, 1944. It is to be understood that the work is to be done in accordance with the current specifications and at the same prices that prevail under the provisions of the existing contract; said prices have been obtained as a result of publicly advertised bids on September 15, 1943.

Respectfully,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, December 27, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I recommend that contracts, without publicly advertising for bids, be awarded to the following-named contractors for the removal of snow from the districts designated, and at the prices per cubic yard, as shown below:

Area No. 1, Edward M. Matz, Inc., 51 cents; Area No. 2, Walter Reed Corporation, 50 cents; Area No. 3, Baker & Co., 63 cents; Area No. 4, Hugh Nawn, Inc., 51 cents; Area No. 5, Callahan Construction Company, 51 cents; Area No. 6, Baker & Co., 56 cents; Area No. 7, John Deveney Company, 55 cents; Area No. 8, Coleman Brothers Corporation, 57 cents; Area No. 9, Ward General Contracting Company, 57 cents; Area No. 10, Martin J. Kelly Company, Inc., 55 cents; Area No. 11, Earl M. Carriere, 55 cents; Area No. 12, Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., 60 cents.

There is no advantage in publicly advertising for bids for this work because the above-referenced list contains the names of all the qualified contractors in this city who own snow-removal equipment and who are experienced in doing this kind of work. The prices are the same as those that were agreed upon last year as a result of negotiations and, in my opinion, no lower prices could be obtained if bids were publicly advertised for.

These contracts will terminate on December 31 of this year, with the option on the part of the city of extending them to May 1, 1944. The work is to be done in accordance with the same specifications that were in effect last year, except that the department is not going to allow any so-called "overload" for trucks hauling snow if the height of the body of the vehicle, including the sideboards, is 4 feet 6 inches or over.

Respectfully,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, December 28, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—On last Tuesday, December 21, bids that were publicly advertised for were opened in this office for collecting and removing garbage and refuse in the East Boston district. The contracting firm of Edward J. McHugh and Son was the only bidder and the bid price was $6,900 per month as compared with $5,700 per month that this contractor is now receiving under the provisions of the present contract.

I rejected the bid, therefore, and negotiated with Mr. McHugh for the purpose of coming to some agreement regarding the award of a contract in the East Boston district for the year 1944. As a result of these negotiations the contractor has agreed to do the work for $6,300 per month which, in my opinion, is a reasonable amount when one considers the reasons for this increase of $600 per month over the current contract price.

The refuse material is dumped in the city of Revere and the contractor has had a great deal of trouble this year because of damages resulting to structures in the area of the dump from gas created by the dumping operations. The Health Department of the City of Revere, therefore, has informed the contractor that he must take extra precaution to keep the dump in a more sanitary condition in 1944 and that he must comply with certain rules and regulations that the Health Department has established in connection with the operation of the dump.

Under the circumstances, therefore, the contractor will have to spend additional money over and above that spent in 1943 in order to comply with the Health Department regulations and in order to make certain that the dump is kept in such a condition that the nuisance factor will be reduced to a minimum. For instance, the Health Department is requiring the contractor to pay for the services of a dump inspector who will be assigned permanently to the dump, and also is requiring him to furnish additional lime, additional labor and an extra bulldozer to keep the dump in a proper condition. I am satisfied that these additional steps will cost the contractor at least $600 per month and in view of this I feel that the agreed price of $6,300 per month is reasonable and equitable both to the contractor and to the City of Boston.

I respectfully request, therefore, for reasons as stated hereinbefore, your approval to the award of a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, to the contracting firm of Edward J. McHugh and Son, 1095 Saratoga street, East Boston, for collecting and removing garbage and refuse in the East Boston district during the calendar year of 1944, at a price of $6,300 per month.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

The question came on the acceptance of the report. The report was accepted, and the question came on laying the ordinance on the table.

Coun. FISH—It is only for the purpose of putting it before the Council in general that I reported this back. The committee met and I decided to lay it on the table, but since it has been there about two months and this being the last meeting, in my effort to clear up everything before the committee, I thought I would report this in here now and recommend that it go to the Executive Committee. The matter was referred to the Executive Committee.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. CHASE the members voted at 3 p. m. to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President HANNON at 3.40 p. m.

Nays—Coun. Chase—1.

Coun. RUSSO—I move reconsideration.

President HANNON—Councillor Russo moves reconsideration of the order just adopted by which the transfer of funds to be used in the defense of the Building Commissioner and the Building Inspector. The question is on reconsideration.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, as I stated in the executive meeting and in previous meetings, I sympathize very deeply with Commissioner Mooney and with the inspector in the Building Department. But, as the evidence has been brought forth by the Corporation Counsel that the city would not have been under any expense whatsoever if they had been found guilty, I believe that we are setting a precedent by paying funds for legal fees for an indictment of some of our heads of departments or some one that may be working for the City of Boston. It has been brought out by the Corporation Counsel that the city may or may not pay these fees, and the only reason why I sustain my vote is because I haven't a clear mind of what may happen tomorrow, because what will stop the Attorney-General of the Commonwealth from going on further in bringing in indictments against any one of our commissioners or any one employee of the City of Boston, and then they, in turn, going out and hiring their own personal attorneys and being successful. They may be found not guilty, and then in turn the City of Boston, through the approval of the Mayor and the City Council, must go ahead approving these expenses because there has been a precedent established. I say, therefore, why is it not proper for the State Legislature to bring in an enactment of law whereby, where an indictment is being prosecuted by the Attorney-General of the Commonwealth, and the person in question is found not guilty by our courts, why shouldn't this Commonwealth of Massachusetts be the one to reimburse these individuals for an indictment by the Attorney-General which was found by our courts to have no bearing? Therefore, I have the question in my mind that if the Council approves this appropriation, or transfer, or whatever it may be, what will happen if the officials of the Police Department or these police officers that are under indictment now should be successful in getting a "Not guilty" verdict. Then, there is another question, whether or not the City Council and the Mayor ought to approve their legal expenses. It has been brought forth that in so far as the Pickwick Club was concerned, a precedent has been established away back when the Building Commissioner at that time was indicted and then exonerated by a "Not guilty" finding, and the City Council at that time appropriated money for legal fees to reimburse the individual in question. I say I don't know whether or not it can become a racket, that an Attorney-General of this Commonwealth may see fit to indict individuals of the City of Boston, and then, when they are found not guilty, we in turn have to reimburse the individuals, whoever they may be, for their legal fees. That is the only thing I had in my mind which is not clear at the present time, and before we vote, let us consider what may happen in the future.

And we also have to bear in mind that, regardless of these individuals that may be indicted, regardless of the findings, whether guilty or not guilty, the city has not the burden on its shoulders of paying any of the money. I am very happy that the Building Commissioner and the other gentleman in question have been successful, and, believe me, I say that from the bottom of my heart. But I cannot see why the City Council, by use of the taxpayers' money, must commit itself by paying funds belonging to every one of us in the City of Boston to pay for their legal fees. I would be only too happy to reimburse a certain amount of money personally to these individuals, but I don't see, however, that the City of Boston can go on record as paying for their legal fees.

Coun. HURLEY—Speaking on reconsideration, Mr. President, I hope that I got the councillor from Ward 3 wrong when he made the statement that he wishes that the Legislature would reimburse the City of Boston for money expended as a result of indictments by the Attorney-General, and hopes that the Legislature will pass laws that will bring that about. I hope the councillor from Ward 3 doesn't wish every man that Mr. Bushnell named or does indict would spend their time in jail waiting the act of the next Legislature. Mr. Mooney, in my opinion, is one of the finest, cleanest, wholesomest men connected with the present administration. He is a man who is very careful in his decisions, protecting the taxpayers of Boston, and I think it is only just that these men, acting in their official capacities as Building Inspector and Building Commissioner, who see their duty and perform their duty, as decided by one man being found not guilty by a jury and one being found not guilty by a judge directing a jury to find him not guilty.—I think it is only fair and just that they be reimbursed for their legal expenses. I hope that reconsideration does not prevail, and that this order is passed today. We should be very grateful that we live in a city that has an official such as Mr. Mooney.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, I believe I stated at the outset that in so far as the character of Mr. Mooney is concerned, I believe he is the highest type of man. I believe that these men conducted themselves, as far as my knowledge goes, in a fitting manner for the positions that they hold. I did state that the State Legislature ought to enact a law whereby they should reimburse these individuals. Then I say this, why not, then, first see what the State Legislature will do in a case of this kind before we pay out any money? Then if they turn them down we can take other action afterwards.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I am against reconsideration. I will have to agree with Councillor Russo that I don't think it is a problem for the city rather than for the state. Of course, I realize the Legislature will not meet until 1945, so I am wondering in the meantime what these two gentlemen are going to do. I still agree it is not a problem for the city, and that the state should reimburse these two gentlemen. I am going along with it because the Legislature does not meet until 1945, and I believe at that time legislation should be introduced so if we have any more of those cases they should be reimbursed by the state.

Coun. COFFEY—I don't see, in view of the fact that in the past we have paid bills for the Police Commissioner, how we can very well refuse to pay this bill for Mr. Mooney and Mr. Eldracher. They were both found not guilty. It is only natural they would get the best attorneys that they could get. That is principally why Mr. Mooney didn't have to go to trial, while the judge ordered a directed verdict of "Not guilty." As far as the Legislature is concerned, if some member of the Legislature in 1945 wants to introduce some bill asking the state to reimburse the city they can do so. In the meantime I don't see why Mr. Mooney and Mr. Eldracher should pay these sums. I just want to cite one instance of the Great and General Court. When I was a member in 1930 we had a bill before a committee asking that a certain man who just got out of State Prison be reimbursed to the tune of $5,000. It seems he was found guilty of breaking and entering in the nighttime with a gun and was sent to State Prison for five years. He was there two years and a half when he lost his wife through ill health brought about by his being incarcerated, and he also lost his baby. His furniture was taken back by the company to whom he owed a bill. After being in two and a half years he walked into an exact double of himself. They got talking and got friendly. It seems this other man asked him what he was sent up for, and when he was told he said, "Why, I am the man who made that break." The first man asked him if he would be willing to go before the Parole Board and give them a written statement? He said, "Yes, I can't get much more than I have already got." And he did go before the Parole Board and as a result the Governor gave that man a pardon, and all that man asked for was reimbursement of $5,000 that he lost while incarcerated the two and a half years. He didn't ask for any suffering he had gone through, or any suffering in the loss of his wife and child, and I saw that cold-blooded Legislature turn that bill down and kill it, and by an overwhelming margin. And I, a member of the committee,—I was very much interested in the case at the time,—went to the Governor and pleaded with the Governor to do something with regard to this bill, and the Governor would not act. He said that we would be establishing a precedent and in the future other cases would come before us and we would be spending out great sums of money. I think the time to reimburse Mr. Eldracher is here and now, and then let some member of the Legislature introduce a bill in 1945 asking the state in turn to reimburse the City of Boston for the moneys we are now going to pay for Mr. Mooney and Mr. Eldracher.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I hadn't intended to say anything on these orders because I thought in Executive Committee we were all convinced by what the Corporation Counsel stated that it really was our not only legal but moral duty to reimburse these gentlemen. It is a very easy matter to indict, because when a prosecuting officer brings the witnesses before a Grand Jury only one side of the case is introduced to the Grand Jury, and the defendants have no opportunity to express themselves or have anyone express themselves in their behalf in defense of the case. So, as a matter of fact, the percentage of No Bills handed down by the Grand Jury is almost infinitesimal. Consequently, any person can be indicted no matter what his reputation may be, no matter what position he may hold, by just the statement of perhaps some irresponsible individual. In this case, we all know that Commissioner Mooney, in taking the job of Building Commissioner, has assumed a job with a great many responsibilities, because the law is very exacting in so far as his duties are concerned, and he is liable for criminal procedure and criminal charges on any mistake in carrying out these laws. I have always found the commissioner to be a very, very careful man in handing down decisions that in any way relate to or affect the safety of the public, but of course in great disasters of this kind, when the people are clamoring for something to be done so that the responsibility may be placed upon somebody's shoulders, those who are in charge of the prosecution, in answering the appeals of the public, naturally take up those who have the greatest responsibility and present them to the Grand Jury so that the people might be appeased. But this doesn't make them guilty. It was a great disaster where many, many lives were lost. I feel it because I lost my own brother in that fire, but I am the last one in the world to attribute any act of negligence to Jim Mooney, because I know him and know his character and know the zealous way in which he carries on the duties of his position. We can only reimburse those employees of the City of Boston who, as the Corporation Counsel has so ably stated, while carrying out the duties of their employment are charged with a crime and are successful before either a judge or a jury in the answering of that charge. Commissioner Mooney was freed by a judge who ordered a directed verdict, which means, in small words, that the evidence which the government had submitted in its best light was insufficient to constitute a crime, so that the case didn't even get to the jury. Those charges made against Commissioner Mooney didn't even constitute a crime. It is hard for me to believe how any of us can say that a man who, 365 days in the year, is carrying out the duties of his office faithfully, when charged with a crime because of circumstances for which he is not responsible and over which he had no control, must pay money not only to defend himself to keep him from going to jail, but must also answer to charges which may affect his reputation. How we as wise men can say that while that man was carrying out the duties of his office he must pay for legal expenses so he may be freed of a crime or charge that didn't even constitute a crime, I cannot see.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I wasn't prepared to speak on this nor had I any intention of speaking on this matter until the gentleman from the North End gave his reasons for asking for reconsideration, and until the gentleman from Roxbury spoke. I voted against transferring this money simply because I thought, Mr. President, that until this entire case of the Commonwealth is disposed of one way or another I would not be justified in voting appropriations for legal counsel for city employees. I may make myself a little more clear, Mr. President. If I remember correctly, there are a number of public officials who have been indicted, and there are a number of public officials whose cases are now pending. With that in mind, I feel that it is quite possible that future circumstances may reflect on my vote if I were to vote to appropriate this money. The question was asked by the Corporation Counsel whether or not it was possible for the Attorney-General to further indict or reinstate the Building Commissioner and his assistant, and the Corporation Counsel answered in the affirmative. He did, however, say not for the same crime, because that would be placing the person under double jeopardy. Now, Mr. President, you and I both know that the public is clamoring for justice in this matter. Over 400 lives were lost in this terrible disaster, and there has been considerable talk in the press about who was to blame. This matter is not entirely ended as yet. The courts of justice have not passed finally on this matter, and because of that, Mr. President, I feel that I would not be justified in casting my vote in the affirmative. Until the courts have finally disposed of all the pending cases I am not prepared to vote in the affirmative. And even then I doubt very much if I would vote in the affirmative. This was one of the most terrible disasters that has ever occurred in the history of the nation. Obviously, disasters of this kind do not just happen. Frankly, I feel some one was to blame. I don't know who was to blame. I don't say the Building Commissioner was to blame, but some one was to blame and, in view of that feeling, I voted in the negative.

Coun. MUCHNICK—Mr. President, I think we can all agree that the Coconut Grove disaster was a horrible disaster. I think we can all agree that somebody was to blame, but the courts of this Commonwealth have stated very clearly that neither Commissioner Mooney nor Inspector Eldracher, in the carrying out of their official duties, were in any way connected with this disaster. The courts have so ruled. These men are officials of the City of Boston who, in my opinion, particularly because of the public clamor, were brought into the picture in an attempt to satisfy the public that indictments were being obtained against people, and it seems to me no public official of this city, or any city, should be subjected to that treatment and be left, to use the vernacular, holding the bag. It seems to me, based on the precedents cited by the Corporation Counsel and other very valid arguments presented by him in executive session, that these payments should be made and made at once.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, Councilor Chase has stated that some one definitely was to blame for this disaster. We all know some one was to blame, and in justice to the living as well as to the dead, there isn't much doubt that many who died contributed to their own death, just as in Canada where 105 people died under similar conditions. But, Mr. President, in the matter of payment of this bill, it seems to my non-legal mind that Mr. Mooney was on trial as an agent of the city, and when the directed verdict was returned in his favor, the city was absolved in the person of James Mooney. Therefore, the burden of payment for legal counsel should not fall upon Mr. Mooney or Mr. Eldracher, nor in the future upon Lieutenant Linney. The facts of the horror of the disaster a little over a year ago will probably be always fresh in the minds of those who lived locally at the time. After the fact of the horror is once established and the question of the proper placing of guilt then occupies the minds of the authorities, we should take the view that the authorities, without any negative things having been brought to bear upon them, absolved Commissioner Mooney and Inspector Eldracher. Therefore, the burden of the cost of their defense devolves upon the people they represented in their official capacities. That may not be a good legal basis, but I believe it is good common sense. In executive session we had at our disposal for as long as we wanted it the expert legal knowledge of the Corporation Counsel of this great city. He spared us no time at all and answered willingly every question put to him, some needlessly and some probably of great pertinence to the case. And I think, having had the gentleman down here, we might have arrived at the decision that showed fourteen of us for and one against and one not voting. And I believe in this particular matter the ends of real, simple justice will have been served when this Body finally accepts its responsibility for the payment of that bill. Therefore, I hope reconsideration does not prevail.

Coun. HANLEY—The reason that I am voting for reimbursement to Commissioner Mooney and Inspector Eldracher is because I believe that the City of Boston, by the terrible holocaust of the Coconut Grove, was not only indicted, but stigmatized, and the entire personnel of the City of Boston was indicted until such time as those men were properly exonerated by our courts. He did not ask the Corporation Counsel or his assistant to defend him. He sought legal talent that was properly qualified to present his case. And I believe, as the members of the Boston City Council, we should accord our view with the justices of the court and reimburse these two individuals, and at least mitigate the terrible stigma that has been attached to our personnel in the holocaust of the Coconut Grove.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I voted originally that these two men be reimbursed for these legal fees. I still feel they should be reimbursed. I shall, however, vote for reconsideration, and, if reconsideration should prevail, then vote that the matter be laid on the table because, as I said back here, it occurred to me after all these fees seem somewhat excessive. I might be wrong about that, but fees of $3,000 and $3,500, in my mind, do appear excessive, and perhaps something might be done or some suggestion made about those fees. I think the city should be spared all expense possible. I do think the city and the Council is morally obligated to see these fees are reimbursed.

The motion to reconsider was lost.

SYMPATHY TO FAMILY OF GERARD GIFUN.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the members of the Boston City Council in meeting assembled hereby extend their sincere sympathy and condolence to the family of Gerard Gifun, former attaché of the Boston City Council, who passed away last week, and express their commendation for his faithful and efficient service rendered.

The resolution was adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

LEGISLATION PERMITTING REFUND OF LEGAL EXPENSES IN CERTAIN CASES.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to draw up legislation which will be presented to the next session of the Legislature whereby cities and towns in the Commonwealth will be reimbursed for moneys spent as a result of unfounded indictments by the Attorney-General's office of the Commonwealth in Massachusetts, in such cases as Commonwealth vs. James Mooney and Eldracher of the Building Department of the City of Boston.

The orders was passed under suspension of the rule.

PATROLLING OF BODIES OF WATER.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Police Commissioner, the Metropolitan District Commission and the Director of Public Safety be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide men for the purpose of patrolling all bodies of water in the city in order that the lives of children might be safeguarded.

Coun. SCANNELL—Just a word on this order. As the members of this Body and the people of this city know, there have been children drowned in bodies of water surrounding our city and in our city. Now, there is no better time to start something on this. We might as well start now, because the children of this city are going out on what is called "tiddewinks." I happened to be through the Dorchester section of this city and the South Boston section of the city just yesterday, and there must have been thirty children in both where it is. You take a walk in my district and find out the people that are living in such a congested area, find out how many playgrounds we have, and you will say to yourself, "How under God's name do they get along?" It has always been my opinion that money could best be spent for two things. One is for education and the other is for recreation. Those are the two fundamentals that our very lives are based upon, and we have to consider the lives of those individuals who are going to carry on after we are gone. We have to try to make the best of it and give them the best so that they can grow up physically and mentally upright and in good health. We have found in the past, Mr. President, many complaints in so far as our Park Department is concerned, and I make no reflection in so far as the chairman of the Park Department is concerned. As I stated in the committee meeting, that was due to the fact that the department of our parks and playgrounds had too much to do, and therefore they couldn't give the proper attention to just one specified item such as recreation. I heartily agree with the order because it might be for the best interests of the people of the City of Boston, and primarily to the children of our city, to have the adoption of this bureau or this board, where all complaints can be made, instead of going around in circles. If the Commissioner of Parks gives you an argument, then you have to see the Street Commissioner, then the Building Commissioner, and then some one else, and you are going around in circles until you feel disgusted with yourself bringing arguments day in and day out before this Body. I am only wondering if it wouldn't be a good suggestion on our part to put this board in operation and find out what they can do. I believe they may be able to do more than what we have been receiving in the past. I am not interested in who is going to get the job or who isn't going to get the job. But I am very much interested to see that the individual that may be appointed as the so-called superintendent of the board will be an individual that knows recreation, that understands the kiddies of the City of Boston, that knows what they want, that knows what it takes to build them up to be physically and mentally sound. That is what I am interested in, and so far as having the majority of the board, the bill specifically states that four members of the board are going to be appointed by his Honor the Mayor. One is ex officio the chairman of the Park Department, which makes five, and two are going to be appointed by the School Committee. Therefore, I am not worried in so far as there being individuals on the board that may not live in the confines of the City of Boston, because then I shall put the blame squarely upon those individuals if they haven't properly carried out the wish of the City Council or the people of the City of Boston. It is the people of the City of Boston that are going to pay the expenses. Therefore, I have never felt that those individuals should all be residents of the City of Boston.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President, heretofore, as a member of the Parks and Playgrounds Committee, it hasn't seemed very important, but since I have been associated with recreation for about eighteen years, it strikes me now we have an opportunity to do something for recreation. In my many years of experience with recreation it has been very confusing, because if we wanted to use a schoolyard we would have to see the School Committee. If we wanted to use a playground, we had to see the Park Commissioner. There was always confusion as to when we could use the facilities and where. So it seems to me at this present time since we haven't really gotten anywhere with recreation without a board, why not give the board the opportunity to see what it could do for the citizens of Boston, the men and women as well as the children? Now, speaking in behalf of the Park Department, I perhaps haven't had any more experience than you fellows—but I know, however, I have had a great deal. I know they have done a most splendid job. I don't think there is any one unit in any large city of the country that would come up to the Boston Park Department. But, nevertheless, with as much as they can do, they are hindered. They can't always go as far as they would like, because they are always, as it were, interfering with another department. Therefore, since the Park Department has done such a wonderful job, not being like a few of my very fine colleagues here, I couldn't say I would not be interested as to who might get the position. I am keenly interested in who might get that job. As far as I am concerned there is only one in the City of Boston that I know of. I have known him since a child. You all know the work that Bill Mullen has done, and I feel quite confident if we have this Board of Recreation that the board would realize the capabilities and qualities of Bill Mullen, the present director for the Park Department, and would not go astray. We would then, I am sure, have the most successful recreational unit in the country. I hope our very good Chairman of the Park and Recreation Committee will call this meeting of the committee because next Friday will be my last meeting in the Council, and if this is carried over for another year I won't have a voice in it. I would like very, very much to attend that meeting. I hope if the other four members of that committee can find it possible they will call that meeting at approximately five o'clock in the late afternoon so I can attend. Being in the Navy, I will not be able to attend unless they do. I hope that my remarks have had some bearing, and I sincerely hope it will be put to the entire Body to pass on, and if that doesn't take place today I hope to have the pleasure of attending that meeting.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, as a member of the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds, I attended the public hearing held in the chamber here last week, and I hope, Mr. President, that this matter will not be taken away today from the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds; that, rather, the chairman of that committee, if the majority of members wish it, hold another hearing and finally bring in their report at the next meeting. Mr. President, at that meeting held last week here there were a great many fine people in favor of this bill, or in favor of having this bill accepted by the City Council and his Honor the Mayor but, Mr. President, the general public knew absolutely nothing about this bill. I, for one, have yet to have one person in my district ask me to vote in favor of this bill. Like my colleague from East Boston, I, too, received in the last day or two six or seven letters, and when I opened them there would be a clipping from an editorial from some of the Boston papers. There was no name signed to them. There was no name signed to the envelope, and no return address of who sent them. Now, I was deeply impressed with several people who appeared here opposed to this legislation. Mr. Shattuck, who favored it, admitted when I questioned him that the School Committee was four to one against it at the State House. Mr. McKinney, athletic director of schools of Boston, said the schools felt there was no legislation necessary on this matter. There were three members of the Park Department, and they had no comment in favor of this bill when called upon by the committee. So if we are to have another meeting before the year is up, whereby the Council can receive more information during the next few days and have another committee meeting in the meantime, I see no reason why this should be taken away from this committee today, and that the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds have another meeting and report back.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I am ready to vote on the bill when it comes out on the floor of the Boston City Council. Unfortunately I was not able to attend the committee meeting last Tuesday. I have studied the report, and in speaking to two of the members they said they would like a little more time to go over it more thoroughly, but I think it is the duty of everyone in the City of Boston to see that every member of the board is a resident of the City of Boston. And again, I don't think we should go outside of the city to appoint a superintendent. I feel sure there are enough qualified men who have been residents of the City of Boston to serve on this board, and I believe it is every member's business to do everything in his power to see that all the members of the board, including the superintendent, are residents of the City of Boston and know recreation. I trust that nothing will happen in members being appointed to this board such as happened over in the City Hospital, when we were told there wasn't one woman in the City of Boston qualified to be superintendent of nurses of the City Hospital. I am not going to vote to recall the bill from the committee because I spoke to some of the committee members and they said they would like a little more time to go over the details. If the bill came out on the floor today I would be ready to vote on the bill. I hope that the superintendent of the board and all members of the board will be residents of the City of Boston.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, my interest in this thing, the acceptance of it, is concerned with two items. One is the continuance of Mr. Mullen as superintendent of the division of recreation, and the other is the residence in Boston of the directors. I attended the meeting last Tuesday. I have before me Councilor Coffey's copy of the minutes of that meeting. I devoted myself almost exclusively to an effort to extract from Mr. Shattuck some suggestion that possibly non-Bostonians would find a place on the board, and at one point where I asked him: "What is the danger of the directors having a residence remote from Boston?" he said, "I should think the danger would be very slight." That is quite an admission, coming from Mr. Shattuck. If we are going to have home rule in this matter, we will never get it by remote control. It is time we stood up and demanded some gilt-edge guarantee that the members would come from Boston and that the man to do the actual leg work would be a man from Boston. Who is it in Boston that needs supervised public recreation? It is the poor children. They are the ones who need supervised recreation if we ever have supervised recreation. They don't have country day schools and nurseries maintained out of private funds. We ought to think twice before we turn them over to the doubtful mercies of a class of whom they are not a part. I myself would not want to go into a playground as a little boy and find that I was smiling out of turn or enjoying myself in a fashion not prescribed in the rules. I have passed by some of these places where there is supervised recreation, and some of the teachers are incapable of getting along with the children.

Coun. MUCHNICK—I rise to a point of order.

President HANNON—State the point of order.

Coun. MUCHNICK—It seems to me that the councilor is not talking on the motion, whether we take this from the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds.

President HANNON—I hope he is leading up to it.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, I am going to suggest two qualifications. One is that the directorship be guaranteed to us, since we play a prominent part in the acceptance or rejection,—that the directorship come from Boston and not from those of shaky and vague residence. The other is that the man who has served the city so well in his position in the Park Department be continued. Other than that I have no interest. I will vote for any amount of money to permit the new set-up to function properly.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, at the beginning of the year, with your wisdom and your intelligence, you delegated certain committees, and you named certain men to function on those committees and through their learning and intelligence, they called certain meetings during the year for the purpose of finding out certain facts that we, as twenty-two members, cannot obtain, and in due course they return back from the committee room an acceptance or rejection of the plan. The distinguished councilor from Ward 9, accepting the chairmanship of Parks and Playgrounds, due to the fact that Councilor James Goode is in Trinidad, called a public hearing and he interrogated at length the other members, men of high repute and learning, who understand well the functions of this bill. A stenographic report was taken and submitted this afternoon to the members of that committee. We, as individual members of the twenty-two districts of Boston, can accept or reject their recommendation, but we can at least speak and talk on the merits of the bill. I only hope that the councilor from Ward 4 will withdraw his motion and await the decision of that committee on Friday. At that time I shall take the floor either for or against the contents of the bill.

Coun. CHASE—I regret—I would like to comply with the hope of the distinguished gentleman from Roxbury, but inasmuch as this matter has been pending now for several months before the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds, and since Friday is the day before New Year's, I feel there is a possibility that the Council may not have a quorum present. There is no guarantee that a quorum will show up. After all, it is the day before a great national holiday. Mr. President, the gentleman who is in the Navy has expressed a desire to vote on this matter. He will be unable to show up in the Council Chamber on Friday, I believe, until five o'clock.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. Councilor, I can be here approximately at five o'clock if they call the meeting of the Parks and Playgrounds Committee, and I will be here Friday at the meeting.

Coun. CHASE—I feel, in view of all the uncertainties surrounding this, and since we have a quorum present here today, that the committee has enough knowledge now as to the merits of this bill. I have made up my mind. I am prepared to vote in favor of the bill, and I trust and hope that the members of the Council will call on the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds for an order to give action on it today.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, with all due respect to the members of the Parks and Playgrounds Committee, and to the gentleman from Ward 4, this order was referred, roughly, ten weeks ago, councilor. The committee within two weeks after receiving this order held a committee meeting. The vote at that time that was taken was that it ought not to pass. I, as chairman of that committee, held it up and we called another hearing last week, and now several of the members are getting really interested in the bill because of the pressure groups. I believe every member of the Body here has received newspaper clippings. Some may have had time to read them; some may not. I know I for one haven't had time, and I haven't had time to read the stenographic report taken last Tuesday, and I think, out of fairness, when I stated I would submit a report next Friday, that the gentleman from Ward 4 should withdraw his motion. I submitted "Ought not to pass." There is no doubt in my mind that the bill would have been defeated at that time. I held it and survived it up to the present time, and I hope, out of consideration for the committee, that this motion will not prevail.

President HANNON—The Chair will state for the benefit of the members that twelve affirmative votes are necessary in order to recall a matter from the committee.

Coun. HANLEY—Is that rule two-thirds of the members present and voting?

President HANNON—The Chair will read the rule, Rule 13, the last paragraph:

"Any matter referred to a committee may be recalled by a majority vote of all the members of the council, if such matter is not reported upon within one month from the date of reference."

Coun. RUSSO—I have heard so much here today and, as far as receiving clippings from pressure groups, I, in my four years on the City Council, don't believe any clippings or any pressure groups have had any bearing in making up my mind either for or against. It makes no difference to me who opposes or who is in favor. I always try to exercise my own mind to the best of my ability, and I don't care what groups see me or what literature I am receiving because I always depend, as I stated before, on my own mind. I would be very glad to take heed of the request of the chairman of that committee. The only thing in my mind that I am fearful of is that this is the last regular meeting, and I am fearful that Friday we will not have a quorum present to decide the question one way or the other. If it is not decided this week we will be looked upon by the eyes of the people of the City of Boston as not in favor of it, because it was not brought up before, and we could not be given a chance to vote on it one way or another. If I thought that the members present here today would be present Friday absolutely, then I would be very glad to heed that request, but I am very fearful we will not have a quorum.

President HANNON—The question is on recalling from the committee. All those in favor stand and be counted. Less than the required number of twelve having arisen, the motion does not prevail.

ATTENDANCE AT NEXT MEETING.

President HANNON—The Chair is going to ask, out of fairness to the members here and to matters remaining in committees, that each member take it upon himself personally to be present. We want to clean up everything, and I think we owe it to ourselves to be present here next Friday at eleven o'clock.

The Council voted, on motion of Coun. HURLEY, to adjourn at 5:30 p. m., to meet on Friday, December 31, 1943, at 11 a. m.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 38.

Under ordinary circumstance, police listing at the beginning of each year calls for the careful and accurate attention of all police officers detailed to this work.

Due to the great number of persons absent from their homes as members of some branch of the United States military service, it is doubly important that all officers detailed to listing work exercise the greatest care to the end that absolute accuracy be obtained in the listing of all residents twenty years of age and over.

It is imperative that all listing officers visit each and every building to secure the names and required information of occupants. Under no circumstances shall the printed list of the previous year be referred to as a basis of residence, nor shall it be assumed that a resident according to the 1943 printed list is now an occupant of the same dwelling.

White cards are being sent to the various divisions which are to be given to the officers engaged in listing of residents. These cards will act as a reminder that the officers should ask in every home whether the names given to the officer include men and women who are engaged in the armed forces of the United States who are temporarily away.

Men and women who upon inquiry are found to be absent from the city due to their membership in the United States military forces shall be listed from their last legal Boston residence.

The particular branch in which men and women are enrolled in the United States military service shall be indicated in the space on the card that is set aside for "Occupation."

The branch of the military service may be designated by initials such as: U. S. A. for United States Army; U. S. N. for United States Navy; W. A. C., Women's Army Corps, etc.

The attention of the department is again called to Superintendent's Order of December 28, 1943, in reference to police listing which begins on Monday, January 3, 1944.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 39.

1. The police officer hereinafter named having performed faithful service in the Police Department for the years stated; and the Medical Board, provided for by section 18, chapter 521, Acts of 1922, having certified that he is incapacitated for useful service on the Police Force of the City of Boston, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that he be retired from active service in the Police Department, under provisions of chapter 353, Acts of 1892, as amended by chapter 6, Acts of 1920, and chapter 387, Acts of 1930, and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate set out (to be paid monthly), said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired.

Sergt. Edward P. O'Neill, Division 17, 24 2-12 years, $1,350 per annum.

2. The police officer hereinafter listed having arrived at the age of sixty-six years, and having performed faithful service in the Police Department for the number of years stated, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that he be retired from active service and his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay (to be paid monthly) at the rate set out, said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired.

Patrolman William H. Carnes, Division 3, 66 years, 36 5-12 years of service, $1,150 per annum.

3. Whereas, It appears that the police officer hereinafter listed having performed faithful service in the Police Department for the number of years stated, and that the Medical Board, provided for by chapter 521, Acts of 1922, has certified that said patrolman is physically incapacitated, it is the judgment of the Police Commissioner that the said patrolman is permanently physically incapacitated for useful service in the Police Department on account of injuries received in the actual performance of duty as a police officer; therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That, with the approval of his Honor the Mayor, the said patrolman be retired from active service in the Police Department, under the provisions of chapter 353, Acts of the year 1892, as amended by chapter 6, Acts of the year 1920, and chapter 387, Acts of the year 1930, and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate set out (to be paid monthly), said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired.

Patrolman Frederick A. Harnish, Traffic, 23 7-12 years of service, $1,150 per annum.

CHARGE FOR POLICE RADIO SERVICE.

At least five cities and three states operating police radio systems charge for radio messages transmitted to police cars of other cities and suburbs which do not operate their own transmitters, the International City Managers' Association states. The cities are Cleveland, Detroit, Toledo, Akron and Providence; the states are Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Jersey.

Cleveland charges East Cleveland 42 cents for each call transmitted to East Cleveland police cars. East Detroit pays Detroit 35 cents a call; the sheriff's office of Lucas County, Ohio, pays Toledo 50 cents a call, with a minimum of $25 a month; and Akron charges 35 cents per message transmitted to Barberton, Cuyahoga Falls, and the sheriff's office of Summit County. Providence makes charges on calls to police cars of several surrounding communities.

Communities served by the Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Jersey state police radio systems are charged certain percentages of operating costs.—American City Magazine.

NO COST CONTROL FOR REFUSE DISPOSAL.

American cities on the whole may be clean housekeepers, but they don't know how much it is costing them to be clean or whether they are spending too much. Only a few cities are able to report accurately the unit cost of removing garbage and other refuse and of cleaning streets, according to the Public Administration Service of Chicago, Ill., which further reports that at least 90 per cent of the cities in this country have no cost control over this service.

CITY OF BOSTON.

BOSTON'S HOSPITALITY PRAISED IN LETTER TO MAYOR TOBIN.

The following letter was received by Mayor Tobin:

JOHN H. CROUCH, Editor.
THE ALBANY JOURNAL,
ALBANY, GEORGIA,

January 1, 1944.

To The Honorable Mayor,
City of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permit me to express, through you, to the City of Boston sincere and everlasting appreciation for the kindnesses heaped upon my sailor lad. A member of the crew aboard the U. S. S. Ranger, he has docked in Boston several times, and his letters home tell of the warm reception always accorded sailors.

On one occasion he wrote: "Dad, you have been wont to write how hospitable, friendly Southern people are as compared to the people of other sections. Well, I want to tell you that we Southerners don't know what real hospitality is. The people of Boston are matchless in their friendliness and hospitality and, believe me, they hold a warm spot in the heart of every Navy man."

Boston may lay claim to many outstanding accomplishments, but to my way of thinking there is no attainment more to be desired than that of holding the love and good will of people everywhere. It is an achievement that your Chamber of Commerce or other civic bodies may strive for through printed booklets but never attain.

It has been my great pleasure to reproduce in my newspaper portions of letters from my son praising Bostonians for their friendliness to service men, and if ever there were impressions in this section of the "deep South" that Boston was an "arrogant, cold city," I trust that these false representations have been righted.

Again thanking you and the people of Boston for their patriotic hospitality and assuring you of the deep appreciation of parents as well as service men, I am,

Yours very truly,

JOHN H. CROUCH.

LETTER TO HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

January 3, 1944.

To All Department Heads.

The officials in charge of the Red Cross Blood Bank have informed me that the supply of blood plasma now on hand, or pledged, will be inadequate to meet the demands next year. This situation is due to the tremendous military and naval demands expected during 1944.

This is a very serious emergency with thousands of American lives at stake, and I am anxious that every possible blood donor be recruited from the employees of your department, their families and their friends.

It is my request that you see to it that the employees of your department are properly organized so that when the time for your department is set your group with their families and friends can be taken care of without confusion.

I have appointed City Registrar Francis J. Fay, Director of the City and County Employees Blood Donation Campaign for 1944.

It is my desire that you give the director your utmost cooperation. Mr. Fay will call on you in the near future to explain the plan of organization.

Sincerely,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, January 4, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

Subject: 17-37 Hanover Street, Rear, Ward 3.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Without further advertising I request your permission to award a contract to Daniel Marr & Son Company, Inc., 384 Dorchester avenue, South Boston, for razing building located at 17-37 Hanover street, rear, Ward 3. Said building is of Type I construction, five stories in height, and is in such structurally unsafe condition that the razing of same should not be delayed. In reply to telephone requests for bids, the following estimates were received:

American Building Wrecking Company, Inc., $1,850; City Building Wrecking Company $2,400; Central Building Wrecking Company, $5,500.

I was informed that the American Building Wrecking Company, Inc., had given the same estimate ($1,850) to a representative of the owners, the Volunteers of America, who are without funds to raze the building.

Inasmuch as the amounts exceeded one thousand dollars the work was advertised and the following sealed proposals received:

American Building Wrecking Company, Inc., $4,875; City Building Wrecking Company, $2,865; Central Building Wrecking Company, $6,400; Hub Building Wrecking Company, $7,900.

I was dissatisfied with the bids as submitted, and on inquiry found that the low bidder was not interested in accepting a contract for the work at his original price of $2,400. Therefore I called in Mr. Daniel Marr of Daniel Marr & Son Company, Inc., to discuss the problem with him and Mr. Marr agreed to raze the building to the satisfaction of the Building Department in compliance with its requirements for the sum of $2,500.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES H. MOONEY,
Building Commissioner.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 29, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request your permission to purchase, without advertising for bids, three memorial plaques and 570 name panels from the National Ronzite Industries, Ltd., of 564 West Lake street, Chicago, Illinois, for the sum of $4,436. These are the plaques that have been erected on Boston Common and upon which have been entered the names of all the deceased Boston veterans of the present World War.

These plaques and panels were ordered by the special committee appointed by your Honor. I understand, through your committee, that the National Ronzite Industries, Ltd., is a leader in the field of making memorial plaques and that the committee found upon investigation that this concern could furnish the desired plaques to the City of Boston and that, accordingly, nothing would be gained by advertising for them.

Accordingly, it is respectfully requested that we be allowed to award a contract to the above-mentioned concern for the sum of $4,436, same to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 16, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—At the present time the contracting firm of Appel & O'Toole Company of 78 Moreland street, Roxbury, has two contracts with this department; one for earth excavation, refilling, etc., in the City Proper, South Boston, East Boston, Charlestown and Roxbury districts of the Water Division of this department; and the other for the same kind of work in the Dorchester water district.

There are only two items involved in each contract—one for earth excavation and refilling and the other for cold patch resurfacing.

The work of this contractor has been most satisfactory, his prices have been exceptionally reasonable, and I feel that it would be to the best interests of the city to award new contracts to this firm for the year of 1944, although the contractor is not willing to accept new contracts on the basis of his present prices for earth excavation and refilling. On the previously mentioned contract, the contractor is being paid at the rate of $2.00 per cubic yard for this work, and in the Dorchester district at the rate of $2.10 per cubic yard. It is my unqualified opinion that if proposals for this work were publicly advertised for, the bids received would be in the vicinity of $2.75 to $3.00 per cubic yard, at a minimum.

The firm of Appel & O'Toole Company is willing to accept new contracts for 1944 at an increase of 25 cents per cubic yard over their present prices, which, in my opinion, is a reasonable increase in view of the increasing shortage in labor, with the result that the contractor is required to pay increased wages. I feel that it would be to the best interests of the city to award two new contracts to the firm of Appel & O'Toole Company on the basis of the proposed increase of 25 cents per cubic yard for earth excavation and refilling in excess of the prices that prevail under the provisions of the two current contracts.

I respectfully recommend, therefore, that two contracts—without publicly advertising for bids—be awarded to the firm of Appel & O'Toole Company of 78 Moreland street, Roxbury; one for earth excavation, refilling, etc., in the City Proper, South Boston, East Boston, Charlestown and Roxbury districts of the Water Division, on the basis of 3,000 cubic yards of earth excavation and refilling at a price of $2.25 per cubic yard, and 1,800 square yards of cold patch resurfacing at a price of 50 cents per square yard, making a total contract price of $7,650; and the second contract to provide for doing the same kind of work in the Dorchester district on the basis of 3,125 cubic yards of earth excavation and refilling at $2.35 per cubic yard, and 1,875 square yards of cold patch resurfacing at 50 cents per square yard, making a total contract price of $8,281.25, or a grand total for the two contracts of $15,931.25.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, December 30, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Bids were opened in this office on Tuesday, December 21, for collecting and removing garbage and refuse in the South Boston district. The bids were publicly advertised for and only one bid was received, that of the Ward General Contracting Company, in the amount of $6,845 per month.

The above-referenced contractor has the current contract in the South Boston district at a price of $6,045 per month. Under the circumstances, therefore, I asked the representative of that firm, Mr. John Ward, to submit his costs in the current contract in order to enable me to determine whether the $800 increase in price that he submitted with his bid on December 21 was justified. This morning he informed me that he could not give detailed costs for each month of 1943 that he was engaged on the contract because his bookkeeper is ill.

At the conference that I had with him this morning he stated that he would not, under any condition, do the work in 1944 for less money than his bid price of $6,845 per month. Under the circumstances, therefore, I have no alternative but to recommend the award of a contract to him at his bid price because no other bidders submitted proposals and the city cannot undertake this work, due to a shortage in garbage and refuse trucks, coupled with a shortage of manpower.

I respectfully request, therefore, your approval to the award of a contract to the Ward General Contracting Company, of 157 Hampden street, Roxbury, for collecting and removing garbage and refuse in the South Boston district for the first six months of 1944, with the option on the part of the city, if agreeable to the contractor, of extending the contract to December 31 at the bid price of $6,845 per month.

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 29, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Since February 24, 1942, with your Honor's approval this department has dispensed with advertising and public opening and reading of bids in the purchase of automobile tires and tubes.

The conditions which occasioned this departure from customary departmental procedure are still prevalent: rationing regulations and limited quantities of tires and tubes available for non-defense purposes necessarily result in hesitancy on the part of automotive concerns to submit bids for any substantial quantities or covering any length of time.

Since dispensing with public opening of bids, awards have been made on the basis of informal quotations obtained at frequent intervals and this procedure has proved most satisfactory under the circumstances.

It seems to me that the best interests of the city would be served by continuing this method of obtaining bids and your permission is, therefore, respectfully requested to dispense with advertising in the purchase of automobile tires and tubes for the various city departments during the period ending June 30, 1944.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, January 4, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising therefor, to the International Business Machines Corporation for furnishing to the Department of Public Welfare, Tabulating Machine Service, comprising the use of machines, devices and equipment, together with the advice and counsel of its staff in applying said system to the work of the Department of Public Welfare, and, if requested, furnish tabulating cards for use in this service.

These machines and equipment cannot be purchased outright from the International Business Machines Corporation, but are secured by means of a rental charge for a certain period based on the various items listed below, said period being for the year ending December 31, 1944. This particular equipment has been in use at the Department of Public Welfare for the last several years and has proven satisfactory for their use. The equipment to be rented consists of the following:

Printing Punch No. 10382, $50 per month; Horizontal Sorter No. 12910, $40 per month; Horizontal Sorter No. 12913, $40 per month; Vertical Tabulator No. 10092, $30 per month; Electric Accounting Machine No. 11141, $85 per month; Bill Feed No. 10114, $20 per month; Alphabetic Electric Accounting Machine No. 12905, $255 per month; Bill Feed No. 10356, $20 per month; Alphabetic Electric Accounting Machine No. 10262, $280 per month; Bill Feed No. 10065, $20 per month; Automatic Reproducer No. 12062, $75 per month; Check Writing Interpreter No. 10279, $60 per month; Printing Punch No. 10751, $50 per month. Total, $1,025.

Approximate amount of contract, twelve months at $1,025 per month, $12,300.

The city, acting by the superintendent, may make substitutions of equipment of a similar nature in any of the above items and may add any items thereto, provided, however, that the maximum amount to be paid by the city monthly for everything furnished or performed by the contractor hereunder shall in no event exceed $1,100.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 31, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—At a meeting of the Transit Commission held today it was voted to sell four cranes, the property of the department. Justification for this procedure is contained in the inclosed memorandum from the Chief Engineer. Bids were received as follows:

For three cranes located at our stockyard—H. N. Worthington Company, $6,000; Daniel Marr Company, $3,200; Hedge & Mattheis, $3,000; Lee Crane Company, $2,700.

For one crane located at Lawley Shipyard—H. N. Worthington Company, $1,800; Hedge & Mattheis Company, $1,000; Lee Crane Company, $900.

Your permission is respectfully requested to sell the four cranes for $7,800 to H. N. Worthington Company, the highest bidder.

Yours respectfully,

WILLIAM L. BAXTER,
Commissioner.

BOSTON, December 30, 1943.

CITY OF BOSTON

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT.

GENTLEMEN,—The department has at present four small crawler cranes, Byers Model 66, for which it has no immediate use. The cranes were purchased new in 1937 at a cost of $5,945 each. They were used four years during the construction of the Huntington Avenue Subway on three shifts daily, which is equivalent to about twelve years' use each.

For the past year or so they have been rented to the Lawley Ship Building Company, who made minor repairs at their expense. The rental received averages about $4,000 each. They have recently been returned to this department by that company as unfit for further use, even if repaired. My estimate of the cost of repairing each crane is about $2,500.

Competitive offers have been received for the cranes, as is, by the department. It is my opinion that it would be economical for the city to dispose of all four of them at this time, and I so recommend.

Yours truly,

WILBUR W. DAVIS,
Chief Engineer.

MAYOR TOBIN VICE CHAIRMAN OF MASSACHUSETTS WAR FINANCE COMMITTEE.

The following statement was issued on January 10 by Mayor Tobin:

"I have accepted the position of Vice Chairman of the Massachusetts War Finance Committee and will take an active part in the Fourth War Loan which opens on January 18 and runs through February 15. This is indeed the greatest financial job this country has ever tackled.

"In the Fourth War Loan emphasis will be placed on sales to individuals and Massachusetts has a quota of $258,000,000 or $93,000,000 in excess of the amount sold to individuals in the last drive. This means that Boston's part will be prodigious. If the campaign is to succeed and the state is to reach its quota it will call for the cooperation and participation of every person in the state, to a degree far beyond anything we have done before.

"The war is entering its most violent phase. Probably before the Fourth War Loan is over we will have struck at the continent of Europe in the great major operation of the war. I do not think that I need to make a comparison between our efforts in the forthcoming loan and the effort that will be made by our sons and brothers on the battlefields of Europe. Many of our boys will lay down their lives for our country, which indeed makes anything we may do in a financial way small in comparison.

"When the Fourth War Loan opens we will see canvassing and solicitation without parallel. I earnestly ask for the cooperation of every person in Boston, to make easier the work of the thousands of volunteers who will give all of their time to selling bonds for a month or more.

"No one can evade his or her duty when the campaign opens in giving the fullest support to our men abroad, and thus help in bringing the war to an earlier and victorious conclusion."

General Order No. 48.

By authority conferred upon the Police Commissioner by law, Provisional Temporary Patrolman Thomas L. Gordon of Division 11, charged with failing to report for roll call, was dismissed from the Police Department, effective as of Tuesday, January 4, 1944, at 5.45 o'clock p. m.

Written notice of such dismissal, with the reasons therefor, was duly and specifically given in hand on January 4, 1944, to the said Thomas L. Gordon.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 49.

The resignation of Patrolman Albert L. Drown of Division 14 having been presented, it is hereby accepted, to take effect as of Friday, January 7, 1944, at 7.45 o'clock a. m., seven days' notice waived.

Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 50.

Patrolmen Robert L. Hamlet, Joseph L. Young, John E. Norton and William C. Driscoll, all attached to Division 7, are commended for meritorious police duty performed on January 1, 1944, in connection with the rescue of six persons suffering from illuminating gas poisoning.

Patrolmen Hamlet and Young, both suffered from the effects of gas poisoning, which necessitated hospital treatment.

The commissioner is pleased to commend these officers for their prompt response, initiative and splendid judgment shown in entering the building, without regard for their own safety, to accomplish these rescues. The effective action exercised by these officers on this occasion undoubtedly prevented loss of lives.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 51.

Patrolman John L. M. Fournier, attached to Division 7, is commended for meritorious police service performed on January 2, 1944.

In response to a radio message that a man was drowning in the waters of the inner harbor, near the City Fuel Company coal wharf, Patrolman Fournier on arrival sighted a body floating in the water. In spite of the freezing temperature, he removed his overcoat, hat and service revolver and dove into the water of the harbor and brought the body to the side of a lighter which was tied up to the wharf. The body was then drawn to the deck of the lighter by a rope which was thrown to Patrolman Fournier by Sergeants Glawson and Shaw and Patrolman Danforth, who applied the prone pressure method of resuscitation without avail.

Patrolman Fournier was removed to the Boston City Hospital, found to be suffering from immersion and held for treatment.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend Patrolman Fournier for this outstanding and courageous conduct, disregarding his own safety in an attempt to save a life.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 52.

The following transfer is hereby ordered, to take effect as of Tuesday, January 11, 1944, at 7.45 o'clock a. m.:

Special Order No. 8.

January 11, 1944.

From: The Chief of Department.

To: Deputy Chiefs, Divisions 1, 2, 3.

Subject: Civilian Auxiliary Fire Force Enrollment Drive for Candidates.

In conjunction with President Roosevelt's recent request to the people of the country that they continue with Civilian Defense Volunteer work, and his stressing that the "protection forces equipped and trained to handle fires, explosions, and similar disasters from sabotage or other causes must be fully maintained in active status," the Boston Fire Department is hereby conducting a campaign to enroll candidates in the Auxiliary Fire Force.

Enrollment in the Civilian Auxiliary Fire Force is open to residents of Boston, and also to non-residents who are regularly employed in Boston. Training classes for volunteers are being conducted on Friday evenings at various fire stations in the fundamentals of fire fighting and fire prevention. Men up to the age of fifty-five are welcome in the Auxiliary Force. No physical examination is required and older men are not expected to do ladder work or hazardous fire fighting.

There is a fire station in every section of Boston, and several intown stations, devoted to the training of volunteers. When a candidate has completed fifteen lessons the Company Commander is requested to submit his name to Headquarters. SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

TO PROTECT MINORS.

Buffalo is considering an ordinance, similar to the one in effect in New York City, for the protection of minors in theaters. It permits children, unaccompanied by adults, only in theaters licensed as to adequate sanitary and safety provisions, sets aside a certain section for them and requires the presence of a licensed matron.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT, 1938.

Total valuation of the 43 cities and towns in the Metropolitan District in 1938 was $3,499,398,193 and the property tax on the same was $130,474,309. The average tax rate was $33.28. Strictly speaking, tax rates cannot be averaged. A rate of $37.28 would be required to raise $130,474,309 on a valuation of $3,499,398,198. Of the total valuation, 44.37 per cent applied to property in Boston.

The total valuation of the 13 cities in the district was $1,126,838,735 with a total property tax of $42,494,084, requiring a tax rate of $37.71.

Boston's tax rate of $41.30 was exceeded by Chelsea ($46.20), Revere ($47.00), Saugus ($46.00) and Somerville ($43.90).

A NEW POSITIVE WATER-METER TESTER.

The large majority of waterworks, particularly the smaller ones, seldom have accurate or positive means of testing their meters. Often when a meter is repaired, the man making the repairs simply blows through the meter to see if it runs, when it is again put into service with the assumption that it is accurate. Sometimes meters are hooked up in series with a new meter and water is run through to see if the readings check. This is better than the lung-power method, but still is far from accurate or dependable, in that the test meter may be in error by 2 per cent or even more. Several states have regulations governing water utilities, both municipal and private, and require a positive method of testing water meters in every meter shop.—American City Magazine.

BUDGETARY CONTROL.

Prior to installing the present system of budgetary control, effective as of January 1, 1939, the city of Newark had no centralized accounting control over its budget commitments. The city's general ledger contained accounts for the various budget appropriations, and reflected disbursements out of the appropriations. However, commitments for work and material were not recorded in the city's accounts until after bills submitted by the vendors had been approved for payment by the Board of Commissioners. Consequently, financial reports could only show the amount of appropriated moneys that had not been disbursed out of any account. No recognition could be given in these reports to the unpaid purchase commitments, since the amount was not known. The American City.

TAUNTON'S ASPHALT PLANT.

One of the functions of a city public works or street department is to operate as effectively as possible in the construction and maintenance of its streets and sidewalks and to produce the necessary materials for paving at the lowest possible cost. In some cities this is effected by the purchase of all paving materials in either the raw or the mixed stage. Taunton has used a city-owned 100-ton asphalt plant for street paving and maintenance and for sidewalk construction for ten years. Located in the city yard with the equipment repair shop and garage, the plant is housed in a 60 by 90 foot building with a 30 by 100 foot wing, which was formerly used as a foundry. The American City.

INSPECTION OF PRISONS.

Coun. KINSELLA, for the Committee on Inspection of Prisons, submitted the following:

In accordance with the provisions of chapter 126 of the General Laws, the Committee on Inspection of Prisons submits herewith its annual report.

The customary semi-annual inspections of the Suffolk County Jail and the House of Correction at Deer Island were made by your committee and conditions in both institutions were found very satisfactory.

Several minor improvements are necessary in the Jail and House of Correction, but due to the difficulty in obtaining essential materials at this time, it has been decided to postpone this work until after the war.

The report was accepted.

THANKS FROM BROOKLINE.

The following was received:

Town of Brookline,
Selectmen's Office, Town Hall,
Brookline, December 29, 1943.
Boston City Council,
City Hall, Boston.

Gentlemen,—On behalf of the Board of Selectmen of Brookline, may I express to the members of the City Council our sincere appreciation for your cooperation in effecting the construction of the shelter at Cleveland Circle.

It is but an expression of the close cooperation which we believe should exist between all municipalities that are working for the comfort and convenience of the citizens.

It is sincerely hoped that at some future date this Board will be in a position to reciprocate.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM J. HICKEY, JR.,
Chairman.

Placed on file.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC SAFETY.

Coun. KELLY, for the Committee on Public Safety, submitted the following:

Report on message of Mayor and order (referred from Executive Committee December 6) for transfer of $30,000 from appropriation for Police Department, Personal Service, to appropriation for Public Works Department, Sanitary Division, Contractual Services—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. KELLY—I am not the chairman of the committee, Mr. President. I am vice chairman, but I was the gentleman who was acting as chairman of the committee during these hearings. I don't want to hold anything against any other contractor in the City of Boston, but as I see facts, it has been a challenge between Coleman Brothers and the councilor from Ward 15, and I want to inform Coleman Brothers that I am accepting the challenge. We will go to bat next Monday. The collections of ashes and garbage have been putrid. There hasn't been a collection in the Ward 15 section of Dorchester this week. I realize it is all right for the contractor to come in and say that the trouble is with manpower. Manpower be damned! Their contract has risen from some $14,000 a month to some $27,000 a month, and the wages of the men have not gone up 100 per cent. So I am accepting the challenge, and it will be Coleman Brothers against the councilor from Ward 15. I will be in the Council for the next two years, and we will go to bat.

The question came on the passage of the order, and the order was passed, yeas 13, nays 0.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS.

Coun. COFFEY, for the Committee on Appropriations, submitted the following:

Report on message of Mayor and order (referred November 8) for transfer of $40,000 from appropriation for Institutions Department, Long Island Hospital, to appropriation for Public Welfare Department, Central Office, Special Items—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 13, nays 0.

BOARD OF RECREATION.

Coun. WICKES—I move suspension of the rules to bring in the recreation bill from the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds before the entire Body at the present time.

President HANNON—Councilor Wickes moves suspension of Rule 35. Is that correct, councilor?

Coun. WICKES—Yes.

President HANNON—Rule 35 states: "The foregoing rules shall not be altered, amended, suspended or repealed at any time, except by the votes of two-thirds of the members of the city council present and voting thereon."

The question is on the suspension of the rule. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, yeas 8, nays 5:

Yeas—Coun. Chase, Hanley, Kelly, Muchnick, Ruoso, D. F. Sullivan, Taylor, Wickes—8.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Dwyer, Fish, Hurley—5.

President HANNON—There being eight votes in the affirmative and five in the negative, less than the necessary two-thirds, the motion is not carried.

Coun. WICKES—I move reconsideration.

Coun. COFFEY—Talking on reconsideration, I have gone over this bill as thoroughly as is within my power and within my reason, and I cannot see any need for it. It is a pressure group that got together and thought they were going to force something over on the city. To begin with, we didn't need the Recreation Board. We have too many boards operating in the city today, as Councilor Carey well stated on the floor of this Council Monday. What we need is equipment and money to be spent either by the Park Department or the School Department. If we have the equipment and the so-called play areas, the children will find the way there themselves. I stopped the other day to look at a playground out in Medford. It is quite a big playground. In one section there is a baseball field; in another section there is a football field; over in another corner is a handball court. After you get out several hundred yards, there is a wire inclosure, a fence, that runs an entire city block, and that place is set off for children. There are seesaws, swings, sand piles, and so forth, and there is just one girl attending there, and she stands at the one entrance. There is only one entrance in this play area for the smaller children. That is all that is in that big playground, that one girl, and all she is in there for is to see that the children don't cross the street and get injured. I don't like the set-up in this thing. "The board shall have power to adopt rules of procedure and prescribe regulations for the conduct of all business by employees within its jurisdiction." "The board shall appoint a superintendent of recreation who shall devote his whole time to such duties as are imposed upon him by this act. The board may also appoint such assistants and other employees as it may deem necessary to accomplish the purposes of this act." In other words, the board can appoint employees in this department. We don't know who the board members are going to be. We haven't been told that up to today. We haven't been told as yet. As the arguments that were used on the floor Monday by several of the councilors, they may not be registered voters of the City of Boston. That is one of the reasons that some of the members thought they would be against this bill. "The board may acquire and utilize recreational supplies and equipment and other supplies and equipment necessary for the conduct of its work." If this act is passed and accepted by the Council and the board is created, they have to come back to the Council for some funds. The only thing they can do, in my opinion, is to put equipment in these play areas, and naturally the equipment will entice the children to go to these play areas. As one councilor stated, he went into Roxbury Court and asked a child where he was doing in court. The child said he got in a little trouble and found himself there that day. The councilor said, "Why don't you utilize the one playground in the neighborhood?" And the boy, being wise, said, "Are you kidding?" And he was right. There is nothing in the playground for the children to have the feeling they should go there and that they should get any recreation if they did. There are about twenty spots on the hill in my district where I would like to have play areas. There need be nothing fancy. All we need is a bulldozer to make the ground soft, give us a pile of sand, a few seesaws, a couple of slides, and fence it in, and the children will find their way in and won't even need an instructor. If we are going to supply the funds, let us supply them and take care of these things ourselves. It isn't the first time any councilor has taken the floor here in the years I have been here and asked that money be appropriated for equipment for these different play areas, and I think at the last meeting we had the councilors all agreed that we put in an order for an appropriation and see if we could get the Mayor to approve of it, to put equipment in every play area in the entire city, put grass in the different playgrounds, like Fenway Park. I recall when it never had a blade of grass. No grass was growing out there. Every piece of grass out there has been taken from some section and implanted there, embedded there, and now they have grass in Fenway Park. We can do that in every area in this city. All we need is equipment. We are the councilors, and we can get together. We have been hollering long enough asking the Mayor for a decent appropriation. And then let Bill Mullen or Joe McKenney, or whoever may be, let them get together, and there is no need of this board. I, for one, am against it, and I don't think it has a chance of passing. If the thing doesn't work out in 1944, then we can resurrect it and bring it back in before us some time next year and create the board for 1945. But I don't see any necessity for this board at the present time. I don't think they could do any more for the Park Department or the School Department than if the Park Department or the School Department had to supply the funds.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, as chairman of the Parks and Playgrounds Committee, I stated that I would have a report brought back here today. And, of course, the committee's wishes were at the last meeting that the order be laid on the table. Of course, I hope that the suspension of the rules prevails, that reconsideration prevails, and then suspension of the rules, so we may take it from the committee. Ordinarily I would not vote that way, but, due to the importance of the bill and the fact that we have given it consideration, everybody has had an opportunity to speak pro and con for it at the several meetings, I am very much in favor of the bill myself. I am in favor of it first because I think it is a step in the right direction for recreation here in the City of Boston. If it wasn't, there would be no need in the past four years, in my term of office, of all the members including myself, putting in order after order, asking for further recreational facilities for our districts. This board here, if it passes today, will in no way affect any present city employees. It will not affect the School Department, the Recreation Department or the Park Department recreation program. This board is set up for the purpose of making a study and presenting plans to the various departments that recreation comes under. They are to make a study of other cities throughout the country and from time to time, when they see fit and see it is necessary to make a recommendation to the Park Department or the School Committee, they may do so, and there is nothing binding in this law that compels the School Department or the Park Department to accept the board's recommendation. They can either accept it or reject it. This board here would make a survey of our entire city, trying to bring our departments closer together so there will be general cooperation between all the departments. Further, it will also try to create good will amongst the general public, and also amongst the various boys' clubs throughout the city and the settlement houses; and the main purpose is to try to have over the period of the day longer supervised recreation, instead of our present short-time supervised recreation. Today you may have in one corner teachers from the School Department; in another corner you may have employees of the Park Department. There are two different groups there, and there is only a period of, say, five hours' supervision over these children. Whereas this board, finding those things out, may make a recommendation to the Park Department and the School Department to get together and, instead of only five hours of supervised recreation, spread it over a period of ten hours, and, instead of two separate groups, have the children all under one supervision and over a longer period of time during the day. I say we haven't the proper supervision over the playgrounds and play spaces in the City of Boston. And also I am opposed to what was placed in my ward at an expenditure of $40,000 by the White Fund, that white elephant on Roxbury and King streets in my district. $40,000 for what? They could have taken that $40,000 and spread it over five or six lots for play areas for the children, instead of expending $40,000 in one particular spot, and in a spot that isn't used. They didn't even think enough of the councilor of that district to consult him. And that is where they make a lot of mistakes, in not consulting the councilor in the respective areas in which they wish the project or play area to go. As to this project on Roxbury street, I think if it was brought to their attention they could prevail upon the White Fund not to expend such a sum of money and in that particular spot, because in that particular spot there is only an average of forty or fifty a day that use it, because it is so situated that mothers won't allow the children to cross Elliot square or Roxbury Crossing, and it only takes in a small area. The purpose of this is to take in as large an area as possible. The children in that area have only a few minutes walk to go to Vernon street, where there is a play area of similar nature. There is no question in my mind that the recreation of Boston will be up to other large cities and towns throughout the country with this board functioning. If we pass this bill and do not wait until next year, this board can have a year's start. There is no question or doubt that we need play areas throughout the entire city, which will involve large sums of money. If this bill is passed today and this board here goes to work, they can draw up these plans, post-war plans, so there will be jobs for the boys when they come home. We can't have enough of these projects in the city, because there are going to be more boys coming home than we can really take care of. And, I have faith in the city and in the Mayor that he will appoint residents of the City of Boston. The bill also states that all employees will be under civil service regulation and appointed from the civil service list. And I hope, Mr. Chairman, reconsideration will prevail so that we may pass this order today.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, at the last meeting I stood in this hallowed chamber and lifted my voice in defense of the committee. Today I am asking that reconsideration prevail and that the bill be taken out of the committee on Parks and Playgrounds. Sufficient time has been given to the committee for introduction and understanding of this bill, which stipulates that a body of seven men be appointed, the Park Commissioner to serve ex officio, and his Honor the Mayor to appoint four men, and the School Committee to appoint two men. Its purpose is to centralize recreational activities within the corporate limits of Boston for the purpose of mitigating juvenile delinquency and give play areas to the children of Boston, so that some day they may grow up to be strong and robust young men and women. At the present time in Boston I believe there are seventy parks and playgrounds, and the sand dunes of the Sahara could be properly placed in the playgrounds in my ward. The dust nuisance in my ward is so great it is hazardous to the health of my constituents and also to those pieces of real estate surrounding that property. I am speaking in behalf of my ward. I don't know, and I don't care, what the other twenty-one councilors' districts have. I believe by centralizing recreational activities and depositing them within the recreational program we can at least mitigate juvenile delinquency. We can bring in a program wherein the money is expended for the purpose of helping youth. About a year ago I had the opportunity of presenting in this Council an easement for a piece of property on Stony Brook conduit, Jamaica Plain, and you, my distinguished colleagues, passed it unanimously and gave approximately fifty feet for the use of my ward.

It helped tremendously and brought various activities into that section that were not there before. In bringing this from the committee it gives each and every one of us an opportunity to vote on the merits of the bill. By placing it on the table it does not allow each and every member of the Body to speak for or against it and vote accordingly. I don't believe that this should be placed on the table for any one or two years. Let us have the courage and the temerity of our convictions and speak for or against it and vote accordingly. Let us have that courage once and for all, and let us terminate our business for 1943 in a courageous manner. I hope, Mr. President, that consideration does prevail.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President and gentlemen, I have enjoyed with keen interest the remarks of my colleagues this morning regarding this bill. I am very sorry that the committee and our chairman of that committee on Parks and Playgrounds found it was not important to call that meeting Wednesday at five o'clock as I requested. As I am sure that myself and other members would have been there at five o'clock if they perhaps did not have more important business. However, at that time our very good chairman said if I wished to be recorded last Wednesday, that recording would take effect right then and there as though I had attended the meeting on Wednesday. However, I wished at that time to be recorded in favor of the bill, as I do at the present time. Having been interested in recreation for eighteen years, and knowing the councilors here for the past four years as very good friends of mine, I do know and speak on good authority. They have not been associated with recreation for eighteen years. Now, I have been. Every leisure moment of mine has been spent in recreation with boys and girls in numbers up to five hundred and six hundred at a time, as well as providing recreation outdoors and indoors for the adults. And in all my years of experience working in the School Department and working with the Boston Park Department—and I have had a lot of it—with Bill Mullen, who is a superman in doing the job of recreation for the city, I have found it many times very difficult to perform our recreation work harmoniously and with ease, because of the many confusions always taking place. Invariably if I wished to get costumes from the Park Department, Bill Mullen might have four or five, and I would want twelve. The School Department would have six, seven or eight. I would have to wait sometimes two weeks to get in touch with the School Department, and then get a reply, and I, in turn, would have to wait for a reply from the Park Department. That all took time, as I said sometimes weeks. In the meantime, in the month of July, in the hot weather, I would have to wait two weeks sometimes to get six or seven costumes for the people of the district for recreational activity. That is only just one case. Now, you can take all the various agencies throughout the city. If we had this bill passed by the Council and actively working, we would have all these city departments, as well as private agencies outside, working, cooperating, and coordinating all in unison, so no one department would have to wait at any time to get any facilities which would benefit the people of Boston in recreation. I am sure if you fellows here had had my years of experience and disappointments—to the point sometimes of almost having to get something for the boys and girls—in recreation you would never stand up today and lay this bill on the table for a whole year. That means, gentlemen, that the boys and girls of Boston will have to wait a whole year. That, in my opinion, is criminal. I know every councilor here has the interest of his district at heart, but sometimes there is a little misunderstanding and lack of knowledge of the actual recreation itself. Now if you fellows would only please consider this in a practical way and bring this from the committee today and pass it so that we won't have to wait for a whole year, I don't think we will have any worry regarding who will be superintendent, whether they be a Bostonian or otherwise. I am sure they will be Bostonians. I am sure the Board of Recreation would always consult each other and consult the superintendent and be in harmony, and that our boys and girls would benefit 100 per cent. I sincerely hope you fellows today will give this the greatest consideration and bring this bill back, pass it today and have it operating January 1, 1944.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, last week I voted not to take the bill away from the committee because I have always been against taking any orders away from committees. I believe the committee should make a full report to the Council, and we were sure last week we were going to have a report from the committee this week, though, of course, we all know the bill can stand a lot of brushing up. However, I am going to vote in favor of reconsideration because I believe that anything that will help our recreational system in the City of Boston should at least be given a trial. Out in Ward 15, Dorchester, which I have had the pleasure of representing for the past six years and will have the pleasure of representing for the next two years, we have only one playground. We could stand a lot more in Ward 15, especially as the streets are strewn with rubbish and things that Coleman Brothers should be picking up and are not, and our health conditions are terrific. If we had the play areas cleaned up they would be healthful for the children of Ward 15 as well as for the children of the City of Boston. There is another thing. I trust that all members of the board will be residents of the City of Boston, including the director.

Some of the councilors may feel that residents outside of the City of Boston should be eligible to the board. Personally, I do not. We are paying the bills, the taxpayers of the City of Boston, and I feel qualified to say that there are plenty of people in the City of Boston who are qualified to be members of this board, who understand recreation. There is also some one gentleman in Boston who is truly eligible to be director, and that is why I am willing to go along and give this bill an opportunity in the City of Boston. Our playgrounds, naturally, in the City of Boston are in a deplorable condition. I know whereof I speak. You only have to look at any playground, and what is there to entice the children today? We haven't anything. As I said before, I hope every member of the board will be a resident of the City of Boston and will be one that understands recreation, and that is why I am going along in favoring reconsideration of this bill.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, any remarks I make here today that might appear to be personal are certainly not intended by me to be of that nature, but this hullabaloo that is so suddenly being made of the recreational situation here in Boston provokes within me a feeling that justifies a scathing denunciation of certain officials in this city, as well as some of those who are the prime movers behind the comedy that is now being enacted in an attempt to set up a recreation board here in Boston. We need a great deal more recreation for both young and old, but we don't need a recreation board to tell us that. We have in the City Council have had ample opportunity to make our own observations, and we know that more and better recreation has been denied only because sufficient money has never been provided for it. We are asked here today to vote for and thereby approve chapter 451 of the Acts of 1943, otherwise known as an act establishing a Board of Recreation in the City of Boston and setting forth its powers and duties. Mr. Henry L. Shattuck, a former member of this Body and at present a member of the State Legislature, is, I understand, one of those who wrote this act. It was my pleasure to serve in this Body with Mr. Shattuck. I have great respect for him, and when he and I were colleagues here we found ourselves in the minority on more than one occasion on matters that came before the City Council. I have, however, also taken issue with him in the past, as, in fact, I find myself forced to do today. But, after all, I believe Mr. Shattuck will feel I am entitled to my own opinion. I would like to vote for it because I feel he is vitally interested in this legislation. He was a member of the City Council eight years, but the records don't reveal a single instance but one, when he espoused the cause of better recreation facilities or asked an appropriation at any time. That was when the Tobin Playground was developed in the South End in the last year of his regime in the Council. I have here, however, on more than one occasion pleaded the cause of better playground facilities, feeling that in many instances if steps were taken in the right direction that youngsters brought to the bar of justice would never have seen the inside of a court room. I respect Joseph Lee and like him, but I don't recall any instance where he appeared before the City Council to use efforts before the Mayor to obtain an appropriation of funds to develop and equip these playgrounds. We have employed in our Park Department men who are, by their demonstrated ability, well qualified to carry on a creditable program of recreation, but the funds and wherewithal to work with have yearly been denied to them. Let us give them the money and cooperation first, and if they don't continue to impress us, then the time will have arrived when we might discuss the setting up of a recreation board. But let us first be fair and give Mr. William Mullen, who is now the director of recreation in the Park Department, the complete control that he should have. I have studied this recreation board act very thoroughly. I believe that I am capable of making some intelligent observations on it. It will create nothing but conflict, duplication and disunity. The authors of this act must think that we, the members of the present City Council, are dumbbells and ignoramuses, to expect that we should accept it. Don't they have respect for us? Don't they credit us with the development of mind and ability to search these matters out and arrive at an intelligent conclusion? Before the members of this Council vote to set up this board, it is your solemn obligation to study it carefully. That has not been done. There is pressure being brought upon us to act altogether too hastily in this matter. You owe a consideration to the voters who sent you here and to the taxpayers who must pay the bills. This board is authorized to appoint a superintendent of recreation and such assistants and other employees as it may deem necessary. We already have a director of recreation in the Park Department, with assistants and other employees. And they don't need any board to tell them what to do. They already know the recreational needs, but they haven't had the proper tools to work with. Why burden the taxpayers with additional unnecessary personnel? Once this recreation board is authorized and established, it will never be done away with, and every councilor in the Body will rue the day he voted for it. Each and every one of us knows what these administrative boards mean, and knows how they consistently disregard the requests of the City Council. I have sat back here in the past and listened to one member sincerely berate the Overseers of Public Welfare regarding a $20 burial allowance for poor people. The demand has been made on more than one occasion that these Overseers appear before the City Council, but they never came here. Another member has demanded that the City Hospital Trustees appoint a Boston resident as superintendent of nurses, but these trustees turned a deaf ear. Various orders passed by the Council have demanded that the Hospital Trustees appear before this Body, but they never came here. Another councilor has asked at different times, a proper request, a meritorious one, that the Elevated Trustees do this or that relative to returning deficits or reducing Boston's share of the deficit, but the Elevated Trustees have ignored the Council in that request. Other demands have been made from time to time asking these trustees to come down here. Did you ever see them down there? The trustees of the Boston Public Library went to Chicago to hire a library director. Without any doubt a capable director could have been hired in Boston. I point these instances out to you in the hope that you might be given a reminder and a warning now as to the attitude taken by these so-called boards when requests are made. You don't believe that the attitude of a recreation board will be any different, do you? I have the recreation needs of the children and adults of our city at heart, and I know that you have, too, just as much as have those who would have us accept this act. We have qualified talent already available in the employ of the Park Department who, with sufficient funds and better laid-out playgrounds, can provide excellent recreation in these playgrounds. The School Department is already doing an excellent job in the school yards and school buildings. There was a meeting of the Playground Committee here within the past ten days, and several appeared here who were in favor of the setting up of this board. There wasn't a single one that appeared here that didn't have a personal interest in this matter. They don't care whether there is better recreation. They are on the payroll of somebody who is pushing the cause also. The members of this Council through their years of experience here have had a better opportunity to observe recreation conditions in this city, and they have gained experience second to none. We have constantly in this City of Boston, particularly while I have been a member of the City Council, had complaints coming to us of what they call multiplicity of boards, and yet some of those who have been most vehement in their denunciation of this multiplicity, because they want it, ask that we further multiply the number of boards operating in the city. One councilor this morning has mentioned the action of the White Fund Trustees in laying out a play space in his area, and admitted that he, the councilor in the district, was not consulted by the White Fund Trustees. I am inclined to agree with him. I pass that particular play space there every day of the week. I see youngsters hopping across the intersection that faces that play space, and I have seen numerous near accidents there. If the trustees of the White Fund talked with the councilor in the district, I am sure a better place would have been laid out, because if something is not done at that particular play space there is going to be more than one child killed there, coming up on the top of the wall at the close of that play space. Another councilor has admitted that he has been in the recreation movement for eighteen years. Well, I suppose most of us have been also in one form or another. I know I have spent the greater part of my life trying to help the youngsters to do this and that. He admits that many of the ideas he wanted to put forth were not possible, and he admits also that the present director of the Park Department was most cooperative. But he couldn't do all he wanted to do because he didn't have the money to work with. There is no harm in letting this matter lie on the table. It wouldn't be the first time in the City Council that a state legislative matter was left lying on the table by the succeeding body. The pressure put on this Council is most unfair. Members have been sent down here by their respective districts to use courage and intelligence. What is the necessity for acting so hastily on this matter? We haven't been fair with the powers that have been given the right or the responsibility to further a recreational program in this city. They have the ability, but they haven't had the money. Let us be fair with them before we further burden the taxpayers of this city. I certainly hope the matter will stay as it is at the present time, and there is no harm in letting it stay on the table, to be taken up at some later date.

Coun. MUCHNICK—Mr. President, there are a few facts which I believe we must all face. I think we can all agree that we have juvenile delinquency, that that is a fact, and that such delinquency is on the increase rather than on the decrease, that such delinquency can best be stopped, if it can be stopped, at its source, by the proper use of playgrounds and other recreational facilities. I think we can accept as a fact that, regardless of what the reason has been in the past, recreation has not been at its best in this city. I don't know if there is any blame to be attached to anyone for this, and, if there is any such blame, upon whom to place such blame. Recreation and the facilities for it can be improved in this city. By similar experiments with recreation boards in other cities in this country, recreational facilities have been improved, with consequent benefits to the children of those other cities. We in Boston have everything to gain and nothing to lose by the establishment of a board such as is contemplated by this act. We owe it not only to the children of the city, but also to their parents, not to wait for another year, so as to allow juvenile delinquency to gain a possible increase, but to act now so that, beginning January 1, we can take some formative steps to fight juvenile delinquency and possibly eliminate the greater portion of it. And I sincerely hope that reconsideration prevails, and that this bill is accepted by the Council today.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, of course what I may have to say here today might be a repetition of what I stated last Monday. I really got out of a sick bed last week, that is, Monday, in order to be here to exercise my conscience, my mind and my voice in regard to this matter, and I am here again for the same purpose. First of all, I wish to clear up some misunderstanding, or perhaps something not intended for any individual. I believe it is my duty as the representative of the people of my ward that when a particular individual may be in question, and I have some knowledge of his character, the least I can do is to stand up and speak in his behalf. The man in question is ex-committeeman Joseph Lee. To my personal knowledge I have been perhaps many times on the opposite side from this gentleman. Nevertheless, I cannot let go by any attacks that might be made upon him by innuendo that the individual has never appeared before his Honor the Mayor for any improvement or any appropriation of money for recreational purposes. Whether that is true or not I don't care, but I do know this—

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, a point of information. I would like to ask the gentleman a question.

Coun. RUSSO—I yield.

Coun. CAREY—Are you to infer that I have made any attack on Mr. Lee or anybody else here?

Coun. RUSSO—You have mentioned his name, and therefore I think it is my duty to answer.

Coun. CAREY—I simply said that I have no recollection of Mr. Joseph Lee ever having appeared before the City Council promising he would intercede with the Mayor. I hope the councilor will correct his remarks.

Coun. RUSSO—I believe when I get through I will have led up to the purpose in question, and I will try to make it very brief in so far as my opinion is concerned in this matter. Nevertheless, as I started to say, Mr. Lee, to my knowledge, has always been an individual who has always had the young children of our district and of the city at heart, and he has put forth many good ideas so far as recreation is concerned. Now, coming back to the particular order in question. It has been said through inference or innuendo that individuals that may have favored this particular order might have had some pressure groups or pressure brought upon them. I believe that in the four years that I have been one of the councilors of this Body of twenty-two I never had, and I never will, regardless of what pressure may be brought upon me, to make up my mind on account of pressure being brought. I have always taken into consideration the individuals interested in it. I have always taken into consideration the individuals opposing it. And I have never made up my mind just because of who the individuals were. I have always tried to make up my mind according to my own conscience and mind. If I believe myself that I am acting in the right way, I would govern myself accordingly and I would vote accordingly. So it isn't because of any pressure that might be brought upon me that I am voting for this particular bill. It is because I am satisfied within myself that for four years I have been getting up here day in and day out trying to get some improvement in the district, trying to get something for those children, in order to see that they are brought up morally, physically and mentally upright. There is no question in my mind that in every one of the twenty-two sections of the wards of the City of Boston, many improvements in recreation are needed. If the present way of doing business has failed, let us try something new. Let us face the facts. Who appoints these boards? Under whose advice are they there? Let us be men and not hide behind any cloaks. Let us find out, and if things aren't done in the right way then let us have courage enough when an appropriation comes in, to cut it out. That is the only weapon,—deprive them of the money, and then you may get results. If this department of playgrounds hasn't had the money sufficient to carry out its functioning in the past, then I say that perhaps that board may be able to get the money by merely stating what I have said. I have no grievances whatsoever with the Mayor at the present time, or with any Mayor that may be forthcoming, and so far as I am concerned, I speak my own mind and speak it according to the dictates of my own conscience. Let us face the facts. The facts are there. I know for four years it has been very hard, even at the present time, to get some water thrown around in one of our—well, I hate the word—dumps. But that is what we have in some of our sections. We haven't been able to get any money to see that those things are leveled off. Buildings have been razed and they have been left as dumping places. Those things could be utilized. I believe I have been on this floor many times speaking on that matter. Therefore, I say let us try this thing here. After all, his Honor the Mayor has the authority to appoint four individuals, and I have a feeling of confidence in him, although we may differ at times. And the Commissioner of Parks is a member ex officio, making five under his control. And there are two to be appointed by the School Board. What else do you want? If there is any kicking to be done, we will want to know where to do it, and let us do it.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, I can't very well vote for acceptance of this act. I live in a district of 27,000 people. We have four or five Protestant churches and three Catholic churches. I have always held myself within easy access to anybody who wanted to come to my house, or anybody who wanted to swing me for or against anything, and anybody who has any control over activities in my town, and nobody has bothered to come to me. I presume I flatter myself when I make the presumption they are leaving it up to my own good taste and good judgment. I am beholden to the people of Charlestown for whatever I have or will have, and I feel it is my obligation to give utterance to their will as I understand it, and I don't understand that they want the board of recreation. I am available to anyone, and had they wanted it then I would hold myself in readiness to interpret that wish by the manner in which I voted on this order. As for pressure, there has been none brought upon me. I received clippings in the mail, and they have a right to circularize me as well as anybody else on controversial matters that come before this Body. I don't deny the right because if I did I would have to deny myself the right. Now, in the matter of juvenile delinquency, not too long ago, in the worst years this country ever went through, we had a group of boys and girls, too, who were supposed to have presented for us who are older a very knotty problem. And then the war came along, and the same girls and boys who were a problem then for us are a problem today for the country's enemies. They make darned good pilots, those kids,—fresh and brash ten years ago. They make fine nurses. Those are the children that were the problem ten or twelve years ago. If we are going to talk about delinquency, let us put it where it belongs. Let us not blame the juveniles for everything. If they could take a pattern by a decent adult parent, I am sure there would be no injection of the phrase "juvenile delinquency." As to recreation, recreation to me has always been something that you take where you find it and when you find it, so long as you exercise a decent regard for the rights of others. I broke windows when I was a kid, and there is no one here that had better say he did not. Now we have the problem of juvenile delinquency. This thing is supposed to solve it by the simple expedient of putting it into practice, beyond going down to what is the nearest thing we have yet, of regulated, regimented control. Street lights are broken. Ash barrels are tipped over. Common pins are stuck in doorbell buzzers to bring somebody down after insistent ringing. We did those tricks, and the boys accused of being problem children today are the kids who will be the backbone of the nation in a very few years. Some will go wrong no matter what you do for them. And, as I started to say last Monday when I was so rudely interrupted, I question the value of regimented recreation. I have seen it thirty years ago when schoolyards in my district were opened on Saturday mornings for the purpose of letting school children of public schools take part in bean bag and squash ball games, and the like of that. And, as young as I was at that time, it impressed me very unfavorably when I saw a teacher go over and grab a boy or girl and give him or her a vigorous shake and push them out of the yard until they knew how to behave themselves. I didn't see any misbehavior. That is the condition that will be brought out, and I can imagine any member of this Council as it will be constituted after Monday having to go to that board and get some kid reinstated in the good graces and allowed further use of the playground facilities because he was a little too boisterous. Kids want boisterous recreation. They don't want to be shown how to toss a bean bag when they should be tossing a medicine ball. They don't want to hit a squash ball when they could be kicking a rugby. We went through it. We had our black days, and those kids are just as good as we are today, and they, I hope, in the natural course of events will be better when they are our age. The New Deal gave us all the regimentation that I can stomach.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I regret exceedingly that the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds saw fit to lay this matter on the table, because I feel in doing so they have taken a step backward in the recreation facilities of our city. It is a case, Mr. President, of delaying this matter for a full year and preventing the children of Boston from having the proper playground facilities and the proper recreation that they are duly entitled to and which I know every mother and father in our city wants them to have. There has been some talk about the possibility of non-residents of Boston being appointed to this commission. Well, I can't conceive of the Park Commissioner being a non-resident. And I can't conceive of the School Committee, who are elected by the public of Boston, appointing one or two non-residents.

And I don't believe his Honor the Mayor, or any Mayor, would appoint a non-resident. I feel sure that his Honor the Mayor, coming from the Mission Hill area, having come from the streets of Boston, so to speak, a poor boy, who understands the problems that the average city boy or girl has, would endeavor to appoint four men who would understand the recreational problem as we city dwellers know it. This bill would enable all of the playground facilities to be centralized and coordinated, and you would find that if we adopted it there would be a decided improvement in our playground system. I regret very much that there has been talk about the promoters of this bill being selfishly interested in some ulterior motive. I was present at the time this bill was presented to the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds and I heard the various witnesses, and I say to you, in my opinion, each and every witness that appeared in favor of this bill did so because he or she honestly felt it would be for the benefit of the children of Boston for the City Council to adopt it. I am sure Mr. Henry Shattuck had no ulterior motive. Joseph Lee had no ulterior motive. All the other witnesses had no ulterior motive. I believe they are sincerely interested in providing better recreational facilities for our city. I know, Mr. President, that centralized boards of recreation have been created in other cities of the United States, and they have been proven to be a great success. And I see no reason why Boston, the birthplace of Joe Lee, who was the father of the playground movement, the facilities of the playgrounds of America, should not follow in the wake of other cities that are providing better facilities for their children. I don't know what pressure has been brought upon the members of the Council. I have heard that there has been pressure brought, but no pressure has been brought on me because I never allow pressure to be brought on me. I represent the public in Boston, particularly the people in my district, and as a duly elected public official I am ready to talk to anyone who presents a plan to me bettering the interests of the citizens of Boston, and I am willing to heed and read all editorials in the newspapers of Boston when they advocate something to better the interests of the children of Boston. And I don't consider that pressure, Mr. President, when I listen to the advice or counsel of those who are endeavoring to do something for the interests of our city. I think it is my duty to take into consideration the advice and counsel of those citizens who are honestly endeavoring to do something. I sincerely hope that the members of the Council will reconsider this matter in order to prevent the children of Boston from being denied better recreational facilities, in order to prevent the children of Boston from being denied for a whole year better recreation facilities. I have no doubt that the incoming Council will accept this matter, but it will not be put into operation for a full year unless accepted today, and I trust that the members of the Body will see fit to reconsider the matter and adopt the act.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I say to the members of the Body here, put your ego in your back pocket and pass this bill. Some seem to be burned up because this bill came down to us from the Legislature. Why haven't some one of us in this Body in the last four years thought of putting a bill such as this into this Body that a board might be set up? We have the power here. The Mayor could establish another department. Why didn't somebody in this Body here think of it and put it into consideration? Not one bill of this nature has been proposed in this Body in my four years here. It was back in March, 1941, when I asked that the budget of the Park Department be held up so the Mayor could increase a particular item so our parks and playgrounds could be improved, and that was for A-1, Personnel, to put on instructors, and not one came to my defense, and the vote at that time was 21 to 1. You want to be fair and honest to yourselves. We owe it to the children of the city. Don't think because the people of your district did not contact you people that they do not want it. You are sent here to represent the people and think for the people. If you think the people of your district do not want it, all well and good. If you think they do, then vote for it, but don't let any personal issues enter into this matter here, because we are going to hold it back for another year, acting along with one suggestion relative to appropriating $1,000,000 for the Park Department for recreation. Of course I will go along with it. Everyone will. But you save money, no matter how much you give the Park Department. If they can get the School and the Park Departments to cooperate and coordinate their facilities, in the long run the board will save more than what the other expenses will be. Some are under the impression that the employees of the School and Park Departments will come under this board. They will not. Don't be confused. I have called three meetings on this bill and notified every member of this Body so they could go over it and know it intelligently. I had the bill mailed out last week to members so they could know it intelligently, so they would act here upon it today. I believe that if we pass this bill and give the Park Department more money, with the help of this board, as it was brought out, that this board will help us to get this money, and then they can make a survey. When was the last time a survey of our recreational facilities in Boston was made? None, to my knowledge. You have recreation in the Park Department and the School Department and, as I understand, the School Committee has a larger budget for recreation than the Park Department. I was of the opinion that the Park Department has the larger appropriation. We owe it to the children here in the city to pass this bill here today so we can establish a recreation board, so they in turn can go out and make a study of the entire country. There is nothing in this order here that compels any department to accept their recommendation. They can accept or reject, and all employees will come under the civil service rules and regulations, other than those that certain areas be turned over to the School Committee, which will come off the school teachers' list. I hope reconsideration prevails, and that this matter will be taken from the committee.

Coun. CAREY—I would simply like to add a few words to what I have already said. There certainly has been a determined effort by members of this Body to have more money appropriated for recreation, and I, for one, have said it was a disgrace to the city that at least a million dollars wasn't provided years back to provide proper recreation facilities. Now, there is one thing that should be considered, and that is this. We have a chairman of the Park Department and a director of recreation in that department, but that director of recreation has not had cooperation or money to go along with a proper program, and that is why I say we don't need a board of recreation to advise him and tell him what to do. He has demonstrated his ability. Give him responsibility or control, and give him money, and I am sure he will do a good job.

Coun. COFFEY—I just want to add a few things. I am always skeptical of what the Legislature has sent down, especially as to creating jobs in Boston. There is nothing to stop them in the event that they accept this act in the year 1945, when they meet—there is nothing to stop them from saying, "Let us take that act in now and amend it so these members of the board shall receive a salary." Then they can set a salary anywhere they see fit and we would have nothing to say because that would not be permissive legislation. There is nothing we could do, and the members on this board could receive a nice salary that they are not entitled to, because the board is not necessary. Now, like everybody else, I would like to make a statement on something said at one of the hearings that came from the lips of one of the sponsors of the bill. He was asked a question by one member of the committee and he answered, "We finally built a fleet of boats in old cellars and turned out a fleet of twenty boats finally, and I can say, having done that and taken in about seven hundred boys in the summer, boys and girls, and teaching them how to sail, and they having gone through with the Governor and getting a new boathouse there, it was then turned over to a private social agency. I could tell you things that would make your hair stand on end, but I won't go into that." And he goes on to say, "But I know if there had been a department with men like Mr. Mullen, or men I could mention in the Park Department or the School Department, or if the Metropolitan District Commission had a Park and Recreation Department and could have taken over that program, some of the things would not have happened." Now, I have wondered just what he meant. That is a pretty serious statement to make before a committee, very serious. He is the gentleman that formed and organized this group of boys and girls and finally got some authorization, whether legislative or otherwise I don't know, but he got some authorization to build a boathouse along Charles river bank, and after he sponsored it and saw everything was carried out to the satisfaction of himself and the boys and girls in that neighborhood, he makes the statement that the powers were taken from him and turned over to a social agency and says, "I could tell you things that would make your hair stand on end." Well, I don't think anybody working in the Park Department could tell you things that would make your hair stand on end. I know one of the members of the Park Department has even gone to the trouble of making tennis courts himself and having the canvas made to make the tennis nets just for the satisfaction and the enjoyment of the children and the grown-ups in that neighborhood. How do we know we are not getting into the same thing? The same men are sponsoring this thing that sponsored the thing on Charles river bank. How do we know who is to be appointed to that committee? Mr. President, I am asking you now, and I will ask you every Monday, that the press refrain from talking while a member is on his feet, and also that the press refrain from walking around the room and going to other councilors, telling them what and how to do, and anything else. Any time now they are talking, I am going to ask that they be ruled out of order, and if they do it a second or third time, I will ask that they be removed from the Council room. Too often have I stood on my feet here and seen other councilors stand on their feet and have members of the press say that they doubt a quorum, or do this or do that. I think they have a hell of a nerve. I think it would be better if they had one man covering all the newspapers or none at all. We would be better off, I know, for what we get out of it. I told you a week ago, and I still mean it, that I don't care what they say or do. The people in my district know me for what I am, and I am never going to change. Getting back to this matter here, I don't see the necessity for it. I think the purpose of the bill was defeated when the gentleman came in here before the committee and said he could tell you things that would make your hair stand on end. Those things don't take place in my district. Nobody in my district has approached me or told me they wanted it. But I know what they want, as the supervisors and instructors have told me. Give us the equipment. We will get the boys into the recreation places. Give us something to work with. That is all we need, and we can do it, and no committee of seven members can come in my ward and tell me what we need there. I was brought up in that ward. I coached baseball on half a dozen teams for twenty-odd years, and I think I know what the children want, and no committee from the Back Bay or Brookline is going to get into my ward and tell the children how or where they are going to play or may be do things that make their hair stand on end. All we need is equipment. We will get the children in there and take care of them.

Coun. CHASE—He was correct when he said the Legislature could make amendments to this bill. As a matter of fact, the Legislature making the supreme laws of Massachusetts, could abolish the City Council. As a matter of fact, the Legislature, the supreme law-making body, could consolidate all departments in Boston and could amend the City Charter in any manner if they wished. Mr. President, I wish to call your attention to the fact that this bill went through the Massachusetts House of Representatives and the Senate. We had some forty-odd Democratic Boston members of the Legislature. Not to my knowledge, has any Democratic member of the Legislature objected to this bill in going through its final form.

Coun. COFFEY—I would like to ask the councilor a question.

Coun. CHASE—I yield.

Coun. COFFEY—How many members of the Legislature from Boston are on the city pay roll?

Coun. CHASE—I don't think that has any bearing. Having in mind that the state legislators from Boston saw fit to approve this bill in a form putting it up to the acceptance of the City Council, I say to you, sir, that the Legislature has endeavored to be fair with the municipal office holders of Boston, and I don't think, sir, that at any time in the future the Massachusetts Legislature will endeavor to abuse their authority by denying the City Council or the citizens of Boston the rights they are now enjoying, because we have in the Massachusetts Legislature a powerful group of men from Boston, namely, the forty-odd members of the Boston district, and they are Democratic members. And I know, sir, that they form a very powerful block in the Legislature, and that they would voice their objections to any abuse of our municipal authority. I regret very much that it has been necessary to debate so long on this problem. I honestly feel that we members of the Boston City Council should accept this act. We should accept it because it will benefit primarily the people of Boston. Other large cities have commissions that are operating very successfully, and they are away ahead of the City of Boston in their recreation facilities. And I understand the reason they are is because of the fact they have a centralized recreation board. I trust the members of the Body will see fit to reconsider this bill.

Coun. KINSELLA—I have the utmost respect for Mr. Chase, both as a person and a personage in his district, but I want to call attention to the half truths that were uttered about the attitude of the Legislature in passing these orders, these bills. The Chair has been a member of the Legislature, and the Chair knows as well as I do that it is probably the easiest place in the world to get a vote for or against any matter of any importance. The Chair knows that, if the rest of the Body does not. The Chair knows that every one of those hearings up there are backed either by proponents or opponents, and they all have only one technique. They grab you in the corridor. They brush an imaginary speck off your coat. They ask after the state of your health, and then put it on you for some bill the committee is hearing. And the Chair knows that the Chair, as a person in that Legislature, has seldom, if ever, done any more than anyone else in the group. You go to the Document Room and get a copy of the bill and find out what time it is. And then, to be a good fellow, you would say, "Is that what the bill does? Sure, I will vote for it." Everyone does it. I have never bothered to run up to the fourth floor and attempt to get a copy of the bill. I have never questioned the good faith or honest motives of the people, and to say there are forty-odd Democrats in either the House or the Senate, or both, who willingly or wittingly give their support to this bill, rendering that as a result of careful opinion and as a result of careful analysis, is really only telling a half truth. The Chair knows it is done that way. Councilor Coffey knows it is done that way. Councilor Chase knows it. I know it, and the good people in the balcony here today, who are for or against this bill, as they are for or against anything in the Legislature, know it. However, the Legislature does not know what they are fighting for half the time. You vote for me on this, and I will vote for you on that. It is on the trade basis. Now, to come back to the Boston angle, which is more properly ours at this moment, in glancing at this a little more carefully, all through the phraseology they don't guarantee anybody anything in Boston. It could easily have said here that the board could be composed of the names of a number of men and the manner of their assignment, who are bona fide residents of so many years. They could have said that the incumbent of the office of director of recreation on the effective date of this act "shall be . . ." They could have said here that except for certain cases, without attempting to read them to you, the school teachers "shall be"; but they say "may be." If this is going to be another social agency legislation, let us kill it unanimously. Aren't we sick of social agencies? They have kept us in hot water, some for six years and myself for three. And I say on my solemn word, as I hope to see daylight tomorrow, if anybody here can convince me we need this bill in Boston I am voting for it. Still, in the meantime, I hold myself amenable to any suggestions from whatever quarter. I cannot see it. I don't see how anybody else that has any true Boston spirit about him can further put power into hands not guaranteed as the hands of bona fide Bostonians.

Coun. FISH—Very, very briefly, I was going to refer to the Legislature, as to why they should be brought into this discussion, but Councilor Kinsella has covered the subject very thoroughly. He could add one other amendment, that in the event that this legislation should be brought before the Legislature for any further amendment, the amendments should also come before the City Council. That does not appear in the bill. One of the witnesses before the committee mentioned that he thought $35,000 would cover the expenses of this committee. This morning I have heard that we have delinquency in Boston. We have to look at the facts. We have delinquency. I wonder if $35,000 for this board is going to be the cure-all for delinquency. I wonder if the parents are doing anything, the parents, the churches. And I wonder how much this $35,000 would amount to. Personally I don't think it would amount to a damn. As one councilor has stated, the committee or the board as a whole, or certain ones designated, would travel throughout the country to other cities and see what they do in recreation. Well, I wonder if the people of the City of Boston feel right at this time, with heavy taxation, that they want to appropriate $35,000 to send this board around wining and dining. I wonder if they would like that personally. I don't think they would. That is one reason of the many that I am going to oppose the acceptance of this legislative act. In general I oppose it because no Boston residents are assured that they will make up the personnel of the board or any other position on it. Well, I may say this. There has been one thought overlooked, and if the rumor I have heard is true, then one particular man is to be appointed to that board. That will be the first thing that can be done for the children of Boston. And until I know he is not to be appointed, and I know the other members who will be appointed, I certainly will not favor this.

Coun. CAREY—I rise again to try to impress upon the members of the Council we certainly have centralized recreation in the city here now. We have given authority to do a proper job, as Councilor Fish has brought out, and I tried to impress on you. God knows where this gang is going to spend foolish money, and until we give this present set-up appropriate money and proper cooperation, let us kill this for at least another year until we have had ample and proper time to go more thoroughly into it.

Coun. COFFEY—Just a word on the remarks of Councilor Chase regarding the group in the Legislature. I wonder why they have never done anything about lowering the Boston insurance rates. If they are a powerful group, certainly they could get the automobile owners some reduction. Everybody knows we pay four to five times as much as the smaller towns and hamlets throughout the Commonwealth. They sent this down as permissive legislation. I wonder if it is because six men to be placed here are not to receive salaries. If you recall, the employment bureau didn't come down by permissive legislation. Those were salaried positions, and I am wondering why they as salaried positions came down without permissive legislation, which needed the consent of the Mayor and the Boston City Council, and this comes down as permissive legislation. The development of the Boston airport, which I was told would be a fine thing for the City of Boston, and a great thing for the state, but God help the people of East Boston—that didn't come down as permissive legislation. And Mr. McDonald was allowed to go before that very exclusive Committee on Ways and Means, even though he owes the city something like $300,000 in back taxes for years and has never paid a cent, although he received a check for $397,000 for some parcel of land in East Boston,—that very exclusive committee, along with past Corporation Counsel Hopkins, who was very much in favor of that legislation, whether or not for McDonald's sake. And McDonald still has land over there. I could never forgive the Legislature for appropriating jobs for the city that we have to appropriate funds for. They send us jobs that are created in departments here over which we have no control, and we in turn have to appropriate the salaries, and they know we will because we don't want to see anybody go without their salary. As far as the Legislature is concerned, that powerful Boston group, they will never be powerful, in my opinion, unless they do something about the Boston insurance rate.

President HANNON—All those in favor of reconsideration. The Chair is in doubt, and the clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, yeas 10, nays 6:

Yeas—Coun. Chase, Hanley, Hannon, Kelly, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan, Taylor, Wickes—10.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Dwyer, Fish, Hurley, Kinsella—6.

President HANNON—The question now recurs on the suspension of the rules. The Chair wishes to announce because this is a matter pertaining to suspension of rules the Chair has refrained from voting, and will not vote unless his vote is essential.

The roll was called, with the following result:

Yeas—Coun. Chase, Hanley, Kelly, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan, Taylor, Wickes—9.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Dwyer, Fish, Hurley, Kinsella—6.

A two-thirds vote being necessary for passage, the motion was lost.

President HANNON—The Chair is in receipt of a communication from Lieutenant Linehan, U. S. Navy, which the clerk will read.

LETTER FROM COUNCILOR LINEHAN.

December 28, 1943.

Thomas J. Hannon, Esq., President of the City Council, City Hall, Boston, Mass.

Dear Mr. President,—In concluding my four years as a member of the Boston City Council, I cannot let this opportunity pass without expressing my sincere gratitude and appreciation to the people of Ward 7 for their courtesy, kindness and consideration in electing me, first, as their State Representative and, later, as their City Councilor. I can only express the hope that my acts as a public official during the past seven years reflect my appreciation for the opportunity, which they have so graciously given me, to serve.

Although my services as City Councilor were interrupted by my enlistment in the armed forces of our country, I am anxiously looking forward to the time when our successful conclusion of this terrible World War will bring all of us together once again so that we may resume our fight for peacetime progress and at which time it might be possible for me to again aspire to serve the people of the district to whom I owe so much over the years.

To my colleagues, as well as the attachés, I desire to extend my heartfelt thanks for their splendid cooperation and assistance during my membership in the City Council, and particularly during the short time that I served actively as President of the Body. To you, Mr. President, and to all my fellow members, I extend my sincere wishes for a very happy and prosperous New Year, and to those members who are leaving the Council with me go my very best wishes for future success.

I wish to thank each and every one for giving me the encouragement and assistance that one needs so much when he is far away from those he loves.

In conclusion, I wish for my predecessor in office, who is now my successor, good luck and happiness as City Councilor from Ward 7.

Sincerely yours,
THOMAS E. LINEHAN.

Placed on file.

REFERENCE OF UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

President HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That any orders or petitions in the hands of the committees of this Council which the City Clerk shall decide are properly matters of unfinished business be referred to the next City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT OF CADET NURSES CORPS.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately pay the United States Cadet Nurses Corps now engaged at the Boston City Hospital as trainees.

Coun. RUSSO—I have been informed that for the past five or six months we have at the Boston City Hospital approximately one hundred young girls who are under the United States Cadet Nurses group. Naturally we ought to be really proud to have young girls of this type willing to take up the profession of nursing at this time when it is most needed. Here we have a pamphlet that perhaps in some way entices these individuals into becoming United States Cadet Nurses: (Reading) "Full training which meets the requirements for graduation in an accredited nursing school, complete tuition and fees will be paid. Official cadet uniforms optional outdoor wear summer and winter. School uniform, room and board. A regular monthly allowance of $15 during the first nine months. $20 a month for the next fifteen to twenty-one months. At least $30 a month for the remaining months until graduation." Mr. President, there are two things that can happen—either these young girls get so disgusted that they may leave this training after having undertaken it, or there will be a serious situation in so far as the hospital is concerned, and in so far as our war efforts are concerned. I don't see any reason why many young girls that have been taken into the United States Cadet Nurses Corps by various hospitals have received payments thus far, and these girls at the Boston City Hospital have not been given anything,—not even for Christmas. I say there is something radically wrong, and we ought to realize that if there ever was a time that nurses were needed now is the time.

Coun. COFFEY—I rise to a point of order.

President HANNON—State your point of order.

Coun. COFFEY—One of the press is out of his seat and moving around the Council, and I ask that he be seated.

President HANNON—The reporter will kindly take his seat.

Coun. COFFEY—I would like to know what the gentleman from the Boston Post had to say. I don't think he should open his mouth here while we are in session, and I am going to see that he doesn't. I rose to a point of order, which was within my rights. He had no right to open his mouth. I would like to know what the President is going to do about it.

President HANNON—The President has seated the gentleman.

Coun. COFFEY—That wasn't the gentleman I had reference to. I want to know what he said and what right he had to say it before this Body while we are in session.

President HANNON—The Chair will rule that the gentlemen of the press who, of course, are here as mere observers may take notes. Likewise, the Chair is not conversant with the extent of his powers regarding the press.

Coun. COFFEY—I ask a ruling if they have a right to speak while the session is on, and a right to roam from one chair to another while the session is in progress.

President HANNON—The Chair will answer that technically the gentlemen have no right to leave their seats, but the Chair is not able to control their movements, and sometimes the Chair wishes he had the power to not only control the press but the members of this august Body, who interrupt this session. In that I will excuse the member from East Boston, who sits in his seat and does pay attention. But the only power that the President has is the power of the police, and the President does not want to be discourteous enough to invoke that power too often. However, I am certain, with these remarks the press will observe from now on its proper place in the Council.

Coun. RUSSO—The hour is getting late and we are all getting hungry. I just want to leave this thought with you, Mr. President, by asking for suspension of the rule and passage of the order, because I believe if something is not done immediately the City Hospital, we are afraid, is going to suffer. And I know how hard it is to get nurses at the Boston City Hospital. Each and every one of us is aware of that fact. We have there approximately one hundred girls who have given up their time and are doing good work, even though trainees. Even though trainees, they are given work to do. There is something wrong somewhere. If other hospitals have these United States Cadet trainees that have been paid, why aren't the trainees in the Boston City Hospital paid? Therefore, I move for suspension of the rule and adoption of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

THANKS TO POSTAL WORKERS.

Coun. FISH and WICKES offered the following: Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, extend their thanks and appreciation to the postal workers under the competent supervision of Postmaster Patrick Connelly for their efficiency in handling Christmas mail which resulted in all mail being delivered on time.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

APPROPRIATION FOR PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT.

Coun. COFFEY, FISH, HURLEY, DWYER, CAREY and KINSELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to submit to the City Council an appropriation order in the sum of five hundred thousand dollars to be expended under the direction of the Park Commission for playground equipment.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. CHASE—I move that when we adjourn we meet again at four o'clock for a regular session.

The motion was lost.

THANKS TO PRESIDENT HANNON.

Coun. WICKES offered the following:

Resolved, That the thanks and appreciation of the members of this City Council be extended to its President, Thomas J. Hannon, Jr., who has discharged the duties of his office with courtesy, dignity and impartiality.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President, on behalf of the Council for the year 1943, for your honesty, your kindness, your efficiency and diplomacy in handling your difficult task as President of this Body, the Boston City Council, it gives me great pleasure to hand you this token of this Body (handing gavel to President Hannon amid applause).

The resolution was adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILOR WICKES.

Coun. WICKES—I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President HANNON—Is there any objection? The Chair hears none.

Coun. WICKES—Mr. President and distinguished colleagues, it is with no little regret that I relinquish the position of honor which I have shared with you for the past four years as a member of this Honorable Body. If it were not for the fact that I am wearing the uniform of the United States Navy and that for this reason the constituents of Ward 17, as in many other parts of Boston, feel that it is difficult for a man to serve his country as a member of the armed forces and locally in this chamber, I should not, undoubtedly I believe, be addressing these parting remarks to you today. However, the wisdom of such a splendid and intelligent people as are the people of Ward 17, who have so signally honored me by choosing me to represent them, indicates, by the present expiration of my term of office, a matter of judgment on their part to which I readily defer without the slightest trace of rancor. As they and you, I am sure, know, I have served them honestly and to the best of my ability both individually and collectively. Fortunately, I can say this without fear of contradiction owing to the fact that every opinion I have expressed here and every matter upon which I have voted is recorded for public observation. While realizing my obligations to the citizens of Ward 17, I have always kept in mind the fact that we are all members of a larger community and with this thought in mind, I have always considered how my vote would affect the residents of Boston generally. In so doing, I discovered that it was quite possible to represent the interests of everyone concerned. Although, politically, my status will soon be that of the private citizen, I am both happy and proud that I may still be able to continue to serve the people of my community and of our country as a member in the ranks of the United States Navy. As a citizen of the Dorchester community, my active interest in the affairs of its people will continue undiminished. My home shall continue to be open, as it has been for twelve years prior to my induction into public office and for the four years which I have served my district, to all those who feel that my family, my friends, or I, can be of service to them. I wish to take this opportunity to thank his Honor, Mayor Maurice J. Tobin, for the kind courtesy and attention which he has given my requests for the residents of Ward 17. Also, I express my gratitude to the department heads whom I have found to be both cooperative and efficient. Among those to whom I am deeply indebted for having helped me in establishing a record of efficiency in Ward 17 are, one of the best informed men in the history of our city government—Mr. Wilfred Doyle, our City Clerk; also his thoroughly capable assistant—Major John B. Hyne; and his very competent military substitute—Walter Malloy; our competent and cooperative Clerk of Committees—“Roy” Green; our worthy and loyal former City Messenger—“Ned” Leary; our deceased friend, the Assistant City Messenger—“Bill” Walsh, whose duties were performed with sincerity and skill; our recently appointed City Messenger—“Bill” O’Donnell; our brilliant, patient, and apparently tireless stenographer—“Ned” Harnden, and all of the Council attachés. The telephone operators, especially Miss Katherine McManus and Miss Lillian Hines, are deserving of many thanks from me for the polite courtesy which they have extended in putting through thousands of telephone calls to citizens of Ward 17. Our friends, the police officers assigned to duty in the Council Chamber, are to be congratulated for their splendid handling of situations which have arisen from time to time and which required a tactful application of duty and diplomacy. I extend my grateful thanks to all of the City Hall representatives of the press for the accurate manner in which they have presented to the public the proceedings of our Honorable Body and which, in my opinion, has been the greatest factor in enlightening the public regarding the services which we have rendered. I am particularly grateful to “Jim” Colbert of the Boston Post, to Frank Reilly of the Boston American and to “Eddie” Dragan of the Boston Herald, to John Donovan of the Globe and Baldwin Garretson of the Christian Science Monitor, for reporting the various orders which I have originated and sponsored with the object in view of helping Ward 17 and Boston as a whole. I especially desire on this occasion to publicly thank the editors of the Hearst Boston newspapers for their generous and friendly editorial comments on my character and efforts as a public servant. The best I can wish my successor—and I sincerely wish it for his benefit, and especially for the benefit of the fine, splendid people of Ward 17—is that he may enjoy the same friendly cooperation of this Honorable Body of gentlemen that I have enjoyed for the past four years, so that the people of our ward may continue to be the beneficiaries of that type of service which they expect and which they should receive. To you, my brother councilors, every loyal impulse compels me to say that I have enjoyed working with you in our city’s service. Whenever it is possible, if you feel that I can be of service to you, I shall be glad to prove a sincere and practical friendship for each and every one of you. In order that no one may be omitted as a recipient of my gratitude, I wish to thank the many employees of City Hall, too numerous to mention, who have cooperated with me in helping me fulfill my duties as a City Councilor and have thereby benefited my constituents. In conclusion, I sincerely express my deepest and most heartfelt thanks to the voters of Ward 17 for the honor and privilege they have twice bestowed upon me in choosing me as their City Councilor. Without the confidence with which they publicly entrusted me, and in which, thank God, I can honestly say I have never failed them, I should not have been the recipient of so much good friendship as I have enjoyed here in the past four years, neither should I have gained the wealth of experience which I now possess. May all of the people of Ward 17, Dorchester, and Boston and all of you gentlemen assembled here and your families, all of our members whose terms of office expire this year and their families, all of the councilors-elect and their families and those of our brother members who are now serving our country—Naval Lieutenants “Bobby” Linehan and “Jimmy” Langan, Major “Jimmy” Goode, Private Frank Foster and Seaman “Teddy” Lyons—enjoy a New Year which may see the end of this catastrophe we call World War II and a return of all those whom we love and who are now fighting for the principles of Democracy as exemplified in such public gatherings and assemblies as our own Boston City Council. May all of our brothers, sisters, relatives and friends who are now serving with the armed forces be returned speedily to our hearts and homes so that 1944 may be the most happy and prosperous New Year we have ever experienced.

THANKS OF PRESIDENT HANNON.

President HANNON—This, as we all know, is the last meeting of the 1943 session of the Boston City Council and, as your presiding officer during that period of time, it now becomes my happy duty to thank each and every one of you for your splendid and gracious cooperation. I have had during the course of my political career many honors and have received many gifts, but I have received no honor and no gift which could surpass the presidency of the City Council or which could surpass this splendid gavel or token of leadership which you have given me. Being President of this Body is an honor of which I cannot fully express my deep appreciation. It came to me, as you all know, sooner than I had anticipated, or sooner than perhaps the majority of us here had anticipated. Regardless of that, I have tried to conduct myself at all times in keeping with the confidence you gentlemen reposed in me. If at times we did differ, I know, and each and every one of you by his own knowledge knows, it was an honest difference, and if perchance I did err, I take this last opportunity to apologize and thank you sincerely for your forgiveness. As regards this gavel, I shall always treasure it. I shall keep it in my home, and it will always be to me not a mark of the presidency here, not a mark of the presiding officer, but rather a mark of friendship. I wish each and every one of you might enjoy the pleasures and might endure the trials of presiding up here throughout a year. I say that sincerely and say it honestly because, as we all know, you cannot decide a question both ways. Decisions must be spontaneous, and decisions must be made according to your own honest convictions and knowledge. Now we have gone through the year and if you gentlemen, even after the year of turmoil and strife and the many sometimes long battles we have had, still think enough of me to present me with this gavel, you can believe me sincerely when I say I deeply appreciate it. I would like to thank everybody individually, particularly the City Clerk and the Assistant City Clerk, the Clerk of Committees, and the secretary to the Council, the various stenographers, the City Messenger and his subordinates, the police officers attached here, the newspaper reporters, the telephone operators and all with whom I have come in contact. Everybody has been most gracious. You have made it a very fine year for me. The best I can say to you, regardless of what you give me, is that there is only one thing I cherish, that which we all cherish—your friendship. I wish each and every one of you a happy and prosperous New Year.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. DWYER, at 1.45 p. m., sine die.

Direct their deliberations and assist them in carrying out the program that they have formed, that blessing may rest upon them now and during the days of this year. Mayor TOBIN—The City Clerk will read the certification of election of the members of the School Committee.

The City Clerk read the certification of election of members to the School Committee as follows:

Clement A. Norton, 33 Myopia road.
Joseph C. White, 12 Ruskin street.
Daniel J. McDevitt, 238 South Huntington avenue.

Mayor TOBIN then swore in the members of the School Committee.

His Honor the Mayor then delivered his address, as follows:

Right Reverend Monsignor Casey, Members of the City Council, and Fellow Americans:
As we enter upon a new municipal year, and the third year of the most terrifying and destructive war in the history of mankind, I think it excusable to omit the customary and lengthy dissertation on the various activities of the city government during the past year, and to also omit the usual presentation of proposed activities for the current year.

In these critical days our attention might be more profitably focused on two important topics affecting our city government, namely, a factual résumé indicating the state of the city government; and a consideration of the problems which, in all probability, we shall be faced with at the termination of the war, namely, post-war planning.

The State of the City Government.

It is with some pride, therefore, that I present a more or less general outline and a comparison of the debt situation as I found it when I became Mayor, and as it is today. I submit that, were it not for the judicious exercise of the debt incurring power, our city, with its constantly shrinking real estate values, could not face the future with the optimism which I believe today is justified.

In the six years I have been Mayor of Boston, the funded debt of the city has been reduced by $20,000,000, despite contracting $11,000,000 of permanent debt to replace an equal amount of worthless assets carried at full value on the books when I first assumed office.

On the last day of the year just passed, the net funded debt of the city was slightly more than $110,000,000, the lowest figure since 1929. The reduction of $8,600,000 for 1943 itself is the greatest reduction in the net funded debt in any given year in the history of the city.

In 1938, the first year I occupied the office of Mayor, the debt requirements included in the tax levy amounted to approximately $12,750,000.

In 1944 the debt requirements will be $10,403,000, or a reduction of $2,350,000.

In 1938 interest payments for debt, met out of the tax levy of that year, amounted to $3,478,000. In 1944, this year, interest payments on debt, to be met out of the tax levy of this year, will amount to $1,731,000, or a reduction over a six-year period of more than fifty per cent in interest debt requirements.

A continuation until the end of my term on December 31, 1945, of the debt policy we have followed for the past six years will result in a net funded debt of $93,000,000 or $94,000,000, which will be the lowest debt obligation of the city since 1926.

If this policy should continue beyond my term of office and remain in force until the year 1950, our net debt by that year would be $80,000,000, or back to the level which prevailed in 1913, before the first World War, and this figure can be attained even though during the years 1946 to 1949 a total of $10,000,000 is borrowed. An adherence to a safe and sane policy of this sort until the year 1950, which I strongly recommend and which I hope the members of the City Council will advocate, will immeasurably strengthen the financial structure of the city, and will make it possible for the city government to undertake not only permanent improvements out of current taxes, but will also permit the city to give substantial relief to the taxpayers.

If this recommendation is adopted by succeeding administrations, and my debt policy continued until 1950, serial bond redemptions and interest payments for that year would total $4,750,000. Compare that figure with the almost $13,000,000 for debt and interest during my first year as Mayor, in 1938, and we get a graphic picture of the enormously high annual debt charges we must meet out of taxes through extravagant and many times unessential borrowings.

The difference between the debt charges of 1938 and the estimated debt charges of 1950, if my debt policy is followed, would be $8,500,000. If that amount of money were available this year, we could reduce our tax rate by almost six dollars, or, still more emphatically, that amount of money would provide the entire operating expenses for the Long Island Hospital, the Mattapan Sanatorium, the Health Department and ten health units, the Deer Island House of Correction, the Park Department, the Charles Street Jail, the Suffolk County Court House, the Traffic Department of the City, and the Boston City Council, and even after paying all these operating costs we would still have sufficient left over to purchase land for several new playgrounds, and to make much needed improvements and provide much needed equipment for our other playgrounds.

I am hopeful, too, that a mistake of the past will not again be repeated. Between the years 1923 and 1930, years of prosperity, the assessed valuations of our city rose over $200,000,000. Amazingly, during this same period, the net debt of the city was increased by $28,000,000. After 1930, when real estate valuations began to shrink rapidly, the fallacy of mortgaging the future of the city by excessive debt expansion became apparent, and when 1938 rolled around, the year the so-called second depression occurred, we not only had lost the $200,000,000 of increased valuation, but over $200,000,000 in addition, and yet we were forced to meet out of taxes debt charges of almost $13,000,000.

After serving as Mayor of Boston for a period of six years, I am firmly convinced that the most important financial policy to be pursued for the future security of the city is the rapid reduction of its outstanding debt and the incurring of such permanent debt as only unusual conditions might compel, and then, under no circumstances, should the amount of debt contracted in any given year ever exceed the amount retired.

In the pursuance of this policy, and for the good of the future generations of Boston's citizens, I ask the whole-hearted cooperation of the members of the City Council.

The Post-War Period.

Even though we are in the midst of a great war which has disrupted the economic life of the entire world, we must, nevertheless, give thought to that day when the normal, peaceful life of the world is resumed.

I am of the belief that the lessons we learned at such cost following the last World War will prevent a recurrence of those conditions which found returned veterans, who, but a short time before, were offering their lives for the preservation of democracy and all it entails, roaming the streets of our nation, unable to obtain even the most menial kind of work, and dependent on the relief provided by local governments for the bare necessities of life. To permit that to happen again, after a war in which over twice as many men are in the armed services, and over twice as many individuals in defense work, as compared to the last war, would result in a consequence far more frightful to contemplate than the combined hate of all our enemies.

I am confident that the business and industrial leaders of our nation will do their utmost to quickly change their enterprises from wartime to peacetime production, and it will be to their advantage to do so, because of the anticipated tremendous consumer demands. It is apparent, however, that these changes cannot be made overnight, nor fast enough to absorb the willing hands released from the armed forces or defense work. In the interim period it should be the duty of the Federal, State and Local Governments to provide at least temporary opportunities for employment. Our city should, most certainly, do its part in this respect.

Projects, the cost of which will be self-liquidating, will be given preference in any post-war activities, in order that we may avoid placing unnecessary debt burdens on our citizens.

Some time ago I appointed a post-war committee under the leadership of the chairman of the City Planning Board. That committee is giving consideration to a tentative program involving all urgent projects of a public works nature.

I think it advisable to recount some of the projects and undertakings under consideration by the committee, so that your Honorable Body may know that many improvements you have advocated in recent years are matters of concern to the committee.

The full program has as yet not been decided. Some projects have definitely been approved. Others are in process of engineering studies to determine their practicability.

The project standing number one on my list is the construction of a viaduct connecting Long Island with the mainland and the demolition of all second and third class structures at that institution. Among the structures will be a new hospital for women, a women's dormitory, and a new hospital for men. The total cost of this project will be in the vicinity of $2,300,000. Sufficient progress has been made on the preliminary engineering of the viaduct to be able to proceed shortly after any easing in priorities on materials required for its construction. This portion of the project carries an estimate of $800,000.

For many years there has been talk of bringing the Long Island Hospital to the mainland. This will make Long Island a part of the mainland, with all of its accruing benefits to patients, inmates, and workers.

The Transit Commission, under the direction of the Post-War Planning Committee and the City Planning Board, has been giving consideration to transportation problems and possible projects of post-war significance which will have far-reaching effects upon the whole metropolitan area.

With a view to the extension of rapid transit facilities, the West Roxbury Branch of the New Haven Railroad has been completely engineered to the Dedham line. The studies prove this to be a needed self-supporting project. This work should be started at the earliest possible date following the termination of the war.

A further study is in process, extending the West Roxbury line through Dedham to Hyde Park, and returning over the Providence Division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad to Forest Hills. The estimated total cost of the over-all project is $10,426,000.

The White Fund Trustees, of which, as Mayor, I am chairman, have voted to erect a fitting memorial to the veterans of all wars. Plans are in process at the present time. This project should be ready for construction immediately following the termination of the war. The cost is estimated at $1,000,000. Plans have been completed for a bath house, recreational center and solarium on the Charlesbank, at a project cost of $250,000. Construction of this project may be started the moment priorities are available.

Other projects for the various city departments totalling an estimated cost of $14,000,000 are under consideration by the Post-War Planning Committee. The capital cost of the greater portion of these projects can be justified on the basis of self-liquidation.

In 1940 I appointed a Mayor's Conference on Traffic to study the problem of traffic congestion in Boston. That conference developed a program of traffic arteries which has been the subject of legislation for the past several years. The war has delayed final action. It is now before the State Commission on Post-War Highways. This commission is in agreement that the completion of this program will eliminate the most serious traffic problem in the Commonwealth. Engineering estimates place the cost of these projects in the vicinity of $20,000,000. The contention that this is a proper charge against the Highway Fund is generally accepted.

A complete listing of the Transit Department proposed self-liquidating projects, with their costs, is as follows:

Rapid transit extension from Forest Hills over Providence Division of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad to Readville and return over Dedham Branch and West Roxbury Branch, $10,426,800.

Removing present elevated structure between Bennet street and Forest Hills and constructing subway, $23,000,000.

Removing present elevated structure from North Station to Sullivan square and building subway, $11,000,000.

Adjusting that portion of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad between Harrison square and Braintree to Boston Elevated Railway operation (at the request of the Governor's Committee on Metropolitan Transportation), $3,835,200.

Total, $48,262,000.

In the Congress of the United States, I am pleased to report, consideration, as a post-war reconstruction activity, is now being given to the replanning and rebuilding of the centers of metropolitan areas in order to eliminate the blight which has followed the trend of decentralization during recent years. Among the proposals receiving active support in Congress is one to provide loans to cities to purchase large downtown areas to be cleared and leased to private agencies on a long-term basis, the difference between the annual rental of such land and the annual interest and amortization of the loan would be charged off over a long term up to one hundred years.

This proposal coincides with studies we have made here in Boston for the rehabilitation of depreciated areas, and for the elimination of needless streets, and the creation of new recreational areas. From the standpoint of Boston, it is needless to state that any program of rehabilitation, which can be carried forward by government financing, has attractive possibilities in addition to its other advantages as a post-war project.

Other projects being contemplated are the extension of the East Boston Tunnel from its present terminus under Chelsea street in East Boston to the expanded Boston airport and beyond to Orient Heights. The extension of the Washington Street Tunnel to Forest Hills and removal of present elevated structure along Washington street. Extension of Washington Street Tunnel from Haymarket square to Sullivan square, Charlestown, and removal of present elevated structure along that route. All of these projects have definite permanent value to the community.

Recreational facilities in our city have not kept pace with our needs. The Post-War Committee has under consideration the broadening of these facilities and the development of present facilities. There is a general need for a review of our recreational facilities. This feature of post-war planning will receive intensive consideration.

With these examples of proposed projects which merit consideration in planning for post-war activities, it may be ascertained that the city government recognizes the part it must play in the post-war period, and recognizes, too, the need for large-scale improvements if our city is to maintain its standing as a leading metropolitan center of our nation.

Conclusion.

At the beginning of this annual report I stated that I did not intend, today, to discuss the ordinary activities of the city government, but before concluding this message I believe I should give passing mention to the fact that many of our city departments and divisions are making notable contributions, either directly or indirectly, to the victorious prosecution of the war. We are indeed happy that this is so, and we shall continue to give, through our departments, all possible aid and help in the furtherance of the war effort.

Our Public Works Department has achieved a record in the collection of tin cans and waste paper that is the envy of almost every other American municipality. Of course, this marvelous accomplishment would not have been possible without a right-spirited, patriotic citizenry.

During the twelve months ahead I firmly propose that every important activity of our city government should be considered in the light of its relationship to the war effort. We cannot, and we must not, as a municipality, do anything, engage in any activity, or make any obligations that might, even remotely, hinder or obstruct the impelling necessity of quick and decisive defeat to our enemies. In the pursuance of this objective, I shall ask for the cooperation of the membership of the City Council, a cooperation which I know you gentlemen will willingly give.

It must be evident to all that the kind of war in which we are engaged is a war requiring greater sacrifices on the part of every citizen than any other trial in the nation's history. All of us at home are making sacrifices and we may well be called upon to make more and more sacrifices. But, whatever our sacrifices, they are trivial in comparison to the sacrifices and hardships that our fighting men are undergoing on the various fronts of this global war. It will be to our eternal shame and dishonor if those of us who remain at home, while our fighting men suffer and die in the blazing inferno of war, do not accept the minor sacrifices which are our lot, and which must be our lot if we are to defeat enemies who, if victorious, would degrade and enslave us all to a new order that denies the existence of man's God-given rights.

To the 1943 membership of the City Council I extend my sincere appreciation, and the appreciation of our citizens for your devotion to duty during the past year.

I hope that my relationship with the present City Council will be as harmonious and as productive of good for our city as my relationship with the previous City Council.

I close this message with the most prayerful hope that, long before this year reaches maturity, victory over our enemies will be achieved, and peace restored to a weary and war-torn world. I pray that the cost of that victory, in human sacrifice, will not be great. I pray that He Who is the Light of the World will give us all the strength and courage to carry whatever burdens and whatever sorrows the future may bring. I pray that He will protect and preserve those in the armed forces of our country, and that His bountiful mercy will be extended to those who shall pay the supreme price on the cross of freedom. I pray for His divine guidance in the year ahead so that I shall, with His help, be a worthy and useful public servant. (Applause.)

The Mayor and suite then retired from the Council Chamber.

MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

At the conclusion of the Mayor's address Senior Member DWYER called the Council to order and directed the clerk to call the roll to ascertain the presence of a quorum.

The roll was called and all of the twenty-two members were present.

The meeting was then opened with the salute to the Flag.

BORROWING IN ANTICIPATION OF TAXES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 3, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached communication from the City Auditor. In accordance with the recommendation contained therein I submit an order providing for the issuance in anticipation of the revenue receipts of the year 1944 of temporary notes in an amount not to exceed $40,000,000. I respectfully recommend consideration and adoption of this order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Auditor's Office, January 3, 1944.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—It is customary to submit to the City Council at its first meeting in the new year an order authorizing the issuance as needed during the year of temporary loans in anticipation of revenue receipts. Last year the maximum amount of temporary borrowing authorized by the Council was $40,000,000. I respectfully recommend that an order in this amount be submitted to the City Council for consideration and adoption.

Respectfully,
CHARLES J. FOX, City Auditor.

Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations for the financial year 1944, the City Treasurer be, and hereby is, authorized to issue and sell, at such times and in such amounts as he may deem best, notes or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston not exceeding $40,000,000 in the total, in anticipation of the revenue of the financial year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be made payable with the interest thereon within one year of their date and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as the City Treasurer and the Mayor may determine. The said City Treasurer is hereby further authorized to renew or refund any such notes issued for a shorter period than one year, under the provisions of section 17 of chapter 44 of the General Laws.

The order was given its first reading and passage, yeas 22, nays 0.

Chairman DWYER—The Chair awaits the pleasure of the Council.

BALLOT FOR PRESIDENT.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I move the Council proceed to the election of a President for the year 1944.

Coun. COFFEY—I move we now adjourn.

Chairman DWYER—All those in favor; those against. (Members responded.) It is not a vote.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. Chairman, I would like to hear a speech from the candidates who are running for President of the Council today, or I would like to hear a speech from some one of their managers, or some one interested in their candidacy before we proceed with any balloting.

Chairman DWYER—Well, counselor, there is a motion before the house, before the Body. Do you move to amend that motion?

Coun. COFFEY—Yes, I move to amend the motion so their candidates, or supporters or backers, will make a speech and air their views.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman DWYER—State your point of order.

Coun. TAYLOR—I think the gentleman from East Boston is out of order, and that that isn't the procedure by which we elect Presidents of the Body.

Chairman DWYER—The Chair will rule he knows nothing in the rules that says nominating speeches cannot be made.

Coun. KELLY—I rise to a point of order.

Chairman DWYER—State your point of order.

Coun. KELLY—I think, Mr. Chairman, that this would be nothing out of line. I can recall some four or five years ago when the gentleman made a motion to proceed to the election of a President and got up on the floor of the Council and gave a flattering speech or talk in behalf of one of the candidates for the presidency. I can recall when a counselor from the Back Bay talked for fifteen or twenty minutes on the floor of this Council, I think five years ago, on behalf of one of the candidates who was then a candidate for the presidency. So I think this is breaking no rule.

Chairman DWYER—The Chair has already ruled, Counselor Kelly, that as far as he knows or understands there is nothing in the rules that would prevent nominating speeches, and as the Chair interprets the rules the Chair is going to rule that if any member wants to make a nominating speech the Chair is going to allow the nominating speech to be made. The question is first on the amendment as offered by Counselor Coffey.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. Chairman.

Chairman DWYER—For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Coun. HANNON—To talk on the order.

Chairman DWYER—On the amendment, counselor?

Coun. HANNON—On the amendment. Mr. Chairman, I suppose when this amendment was proposed it was through those who aspire to the office of President of this Body. I have been included as one of the potential candidates, and— we might as well be honest about it—I suppose I am as much of a candidate as any one of the twenty-two members here. We are all candidates. Everybody would take the job; anybody who gets twelve votes will be happy to take it. But I want to say, Mr. Chairman, I have had the job. I have been on it by vote of my colleagues, and I appreciate it and if by asking those who are candidates to rise up, they mean those who are going out of their way to seek the position, then, Mr. Chairman, they are not talking about me. I am not going out of my way to seek this honor. I have had it. I believe there are other men here just as capable, just as honorable, and even more entitled to it than I am. I have had my chance at it, and I think I am man enough to step aside, I am man enough to leave the election to the twenty-two men here, leaving them to decide whosoever is best fitted and qualified to hold the job. I know, Mr. Chairman, for whom I am going to vote, and I don't mind saying so. I am going to vote for a man who has been in here for two years, a man who exemplifies and typifies everything I look for in a Boston City Councilor, a man who is able, a man who is honest, a man who is conscientious, a man who is sincere, a man who can talk, a man who is not afraid and a man I know will be on the level, a man I know will be on the job. And, furthermore, last year we, as an honorable gesture in this Body, voted and elected as my predecessor the honorable counselor from Ward 20, Theodore F. Lyons. Ted was in the service and Ted was going away. Ted was an honorable man, an honorable counselor and a capable one, and we here, as a mark of respect, as a mark of honor to him, decided that before he went into the service we would elect him to the Presidency of this august Body. The same situation confronts us today. The honorable man of whom I speak, the counselor from Ward 11 (Coun. Hanley), a man who has served his people faithfully for two years, a man who has given of his best here, is now going to leave us within a week or two. I think, Mr. Chairman, following out the precedent of last year we, in all fairness, should bestow this honor upon him. Certainly nobody here is more able, certainly nobody here is more deserving, certainly nobody here is more honorable, and it is my pleasure to announce that I am casting my vote for the Honorable Matthew Hanley of Ward 11.

Coun. KINSELLA—I would like to second that nomination.

Chairman DWYER—The question is on the amendment as proposed by Counselor Coffey, that if the City Council proceed at this time to elect a President for the year 1944, nominating speeches be allowed.

The motion was declared carried.

Coun. HURLEY—I doubt the vote and ask for a roll call.

Chairman DWYER—Counselor, before the vote is announced, the Chair has already ruled that even if this is defeated, the Chair will entertain nominating speeches, so I will ask the clerk to call the roll on the amendment, and all those in favor of allowing nominating speeches will vote Yes and those opposed No.

The roll was called, and the motion was passed, yeas 16, nays 6.

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, Kinsella, McCormack, Russo, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan—16.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Hurley, Kerrigan, Muchnick, Scannell, Taylor—6.

Chairman DWYER—The question now is on the original motion offered by Counselor Chase, that the Council now proceed to ballot for the presidency for 1944.

Coun. FISH—I propose to be very brief, but I can't help but rise to my feet to say that as I look back over the six years I have spent in this Body one vote, one move that this Council made, shines out in my mind above all others. That is the one practical time that we had an opportunity to do what we say we want to do,—pay honor to the members of the armed forces. We did that last year when we paid the honor to a man who now is possibly out on the Pacific, the Honorable Ted Lyons. We have the opportunity today to do it again.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order.

Chairman DWYER—State your point of order.

Coun. TAYLOR—I don't like to interrupt the gentleman in his speech, but I think the question before the Body is as to whether or not we shall proceed to the election of a President for 1944. I think his speech is a little bit premature.

Chairman DWYER—I appreciate that that is the fact, that that is the motion before the Body, and I am giving the gentleman leeway because I believe he is probably leading up to talking on whether or not we should vote for the presidency in the year 1944 or not. I rule he is in order.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order.

Chairman DWYER—State your point of order.

Coun. TAYLOR—I think for the brief point of time while you are going to be up there you should render your decisions fairly, which you are not doing.

Chairman DWYER—The counselor is out of order. The counselor will conduct himself in an orderly manner, or I will rule him out of order for this session.

Coun. TAYLOR—I may be out of order, but you are out of order.

Chairman DWYER—Counselor Taylor is out of order. I will not recognize you.

Coun. FISH—Thank you for that ruling, because I think in sponsoring the election of one who is to go in the armed forces I possibly will be out of order in attempting to convince this Council to do the same. If the counselor from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor) feels that I am out of order—

Coun. COFFEY—I rise to a point of order.

Chairman DWYER—The Council will be in order, and the Chair will ask the gentleman from Ward 12 to very kindly refrain from making any further remarks while the counselor is talking.

Coun. FISH—Mr. Chairman, if he injects himself any further I will first ask this board for an apology and ask this Body to rule on it. May I repeat, the most honorable vote I have ever given in this Body was for a man who went into the service, and that is my intention today, and happy and glad am I of the opportunity that presents itself once more so that I can loudly proclaim the name of the counselor from Ward 11 to be President of this Body for the year 1944.

Chairman DWYER—The question is on the motion of Counselor Chase. Shall the Council proceed to elect a President for 1944?

Coun. COFFEY—Try and rule me out of order.

Mr. Chairman, I ask—

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. Chairman—

Chairman DWYER—The Council will be in order.

Coun. COFFEY—I ask that he be thrown out. I can talk just as well as the "Abe" from Ward 12.

Coun. MUCHNICK—Mr. Chairman—

Chairman DWYER—For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Coun. MUCHNICK—I think it is about time, Mr. Chairman, that some of us here conducted ourselves like gentlemen, and if the gentleman from East Boston doesn't care to, I will be very happy to meet him any time and place to straighten him out.

Chairman DWYER—The counselor is out of order.

Coun. COFFEY—As to A. W. is. I think everybody knows what A. W. is. It is like the fellow that went up to the hospital to be examined, and there was somebody there from Ward 14. I will continue. If he thinks he is a party to a certain group or clique that is going to come in here and take this Council over, he is sadly mistaken. If a man happens to take his orders from where they come, that is his privilege. If he wants to be a yes man or have no mind of his own—

Coun. MUCHNICK—Mr. Chairman.

Chairman DWYER—For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Coun. MUCHNICK—For various purposes. In the first place, it seems to me that the gentleman is not speaking on the order. And in the second place, it seems to me he should confine his remarks as a gentleman should.

Chairman DWYER—I will rule the gentleman has not progressed far enough in his speech for the Chair to determine whether or not he is speaking on the order.

Coun. COFFEY—There is no harm in making nominating speeches. That is our privilege, to take the floor here on every opportunity we have. I have always done it for the four years I have been here, and I am going to do it for the next two years, and nobody is going to stop me, even if I have to stay here and keep the Council in session for a long, long session. But it seems strange, whether they started to vote for nominating speeches or not, whether the amendment was favorable or not, that there was a certain group or clique voting against nominating speeches, and there must have been a reason for it. If that group or clique think they are going to come into the Council in the year 1944 and take over, they are sadly mistaken. For the four years I have served here I have probably said as much as anybody on the floor about anybody and everybody that I disliked. Every time I opposed anything I came out in a forcible manner and gave my reasons for it, but I must say for those four years there hasn't been any scandal in the City Council; there hasn't been any investigation by that so-called Finance Commission. But there had been investigations previous to the four years that I came in here, and I think everybody present here knows what I am talking about. For one thing I don't like to be called on the telephone and told that John McCormack is interested in any candidate running for the presidency of the Boston City Council. I think the fellow who made the call was a nitwit, and I think he was sitting next to the candidate, sitting next to the candidate for this office today, but so far he hasn't given a statement he is a candidate. I don't like things under cover. I asked for nominating speeches for one reason. In the City of Boston we have the highest tax rate probably of any city of its size in the United States. Now, it is all right if we had any reason to have that high tax rate. If we had millions of dollars worth of play areas, baseball fields, football fields, or if in the last six months or eight months we were taking every disabled or wounded veteran that came back from the various fronts and putting them on the pay roll, there would be a reason for this high tax rate. Or if we had relief hospitals or new fire houses built, or gymnasiums built, or municipal buildings built, or in other words, if the money had been spent in a proper way so the taxpayer would know that although he is paying $41 on a thousand he is getting something for it, that his children are getting protection, that he is getting adequate fire protection, that he has play areas where there is no fear of the children being hit by automobiles while playing in the streets, and so forth. I asked for nominating speeches to find out what the various candidates were going to do for a lower tax rate for the home owner in Boston, and what their intentions are to equip playgrounds with suitable equipment so the children may get off the streets and may not be endangered. I also want them to get up and say they are going to take a stand against the Legislature this year, that they are going up there on every measure to come before the Legislature on business in Boston. For example, when the Legislature decided as to competitive examinations without giving any wounded or disabled boys coming back from the various fronts an opportunity to take a civil service examination, or take a job in an employment department or Americanization Bureau, the Legislature went ahead with permissive legislation and created those jobs and made those favorites and put them on the pay roll, and sent that legislation down to us, so there is nothing we can do but appropriate the money and give the salary to those pets who happen to sit in. I want to know what the candidates today for the presidency of this Council are going to do in regard to disabled veterans coming back, in regard to equipment of playgrounds, and so on. Another thing, about contracts. Do they think a certain group is going to get in on some contracts? No matter who they are, they will hear my voice. I have attended every meeting. I am on the job and I know my way around, and I am going to stop any little clique that think they are going to come in and take over this city government and keep them from operating in a way I don't think they should operate. I listened to the statement of the Mayor on post-war planning. They decided they were going to build an addition to Sumner Tunnel, an addition that will run underground, an addition to the East Boston airport. I don't like that. I don't like the smell of it, and I don't like the thought of another tunnel being erected for the benefit of the so-called rich boys who are in on this expansion of the East Boston airport. I have brought out here several times about a certain Mr. McDonald who owns the Boston Port Development Company, and how he owed the city $327,000 in back taxes for a period of twelve years. He never paid one cent on those taxes, and recently the Navy stepped into the East Boston section and took a parcel of his land, and put in some underground tanks there. Mr. McDonald received a check for some $397,000. The Law Department and the Finance Commissioners got together and they held up his check after they found out I had been fishing around in the treasurer's office and the assessors' department, and also the Law Department. And the Finance Commission and Mr. Hopkins of the Law Department decided that if that check for $397,000—Mr. McDonald owing $327,000—instead of taking the entire $312,000, they took a measly $125,000 and they agreed to allow Mr. McDonald to pay $40,000 on April 1 of 1942, to pay an additional $40,000 on October 1, 1942, and to pay $125,000 on April 1, 1943. Now, Mr. McDonald in the meantime has been selling more of that land over there, and instead of the city taking this money as fast as he sells it, they allowed him to keep it. He made a payment on April 1, 1942, of $40,000. For October 1, 1942, he failed to pay his $40,000. For April 1, 1943, he refused to pay the balance, which ran something like $125,000. Now, in the contract that Mr. McDonald signed with the Boston Finance Commission and the Law Department, he stated if payments were not made on time he in turn would forfeit every bit of land he owned in the City of Boston to the City of Boston, and would not take the case to court. He has never made his payments and he still owes the City of Boston $100,000, and he is still doing business in the city. And he was with the engineer who was tearing down Young's Hotel, and he sold it for a parking lot to a syndicate from Chicago. I want to know what the Boston City Council is going to do about Mr. McDonald, about forcing him to make payments owed to the City of Boston. And I think anybody who is a candidate here today should get up and outline a program as to what his intentions are for the year 1944. I don't think it is asking too much. I don't like these underhanded ways of coming in here. You don't know who the candidate is until the newspapers notify you or until you get a telephone call telling that John McCormack or Jimmy Roosevelt is calling you, or usually one of the racket boys who is always calling. And I have always wondered why one of the racket boys is interested in somebody being elected President of the City Council. This is something I have said before. I have always wanted it brought out, and I think we have a right to have it out. I hope I am wrong in my next statement, but I am led to believe I am right. I have been on good terms with the Mayor of Boston for the past seven or eight months. I want to stay on good terms with the Mayor of Boston, and of course I won't be a yes man, no matter what happens, if I don't see eye to eye with them, and they know it. And if I am taking an opposite view I am doing the best I can to defeat what you want. At least they have respect for you. But for some, especially those that interrupt you, they consider them A. W., the same as I do. Last night one of the office holders that is here—kind of independent and a good fellow—I don't know how much he thinks of me—I never do care, except for those people in my section who saw fit to elect me so I am holding office for ten years. So regardless of what anybody thinks of me throughout the city, the people of my own district, who know me best, have elected me, so I am going to hold office ten long years, and I am very proud of it. But I heard only last night in the official family downstairs that a little pressure was brought on one of the members of the City Council, and I don't like that. I told him so before, and I will tell him again. If I had had an opportunity to this morning I would have. But if I have an opportunity I will talk to his Honor the Mayor this week and tell him that I don't like any member of his official family asking or telling people how they shall vote for the President of the City Council. I don't think it is fair. It is undue pressure. If one councilor wants to work on another, that is another thing. I don't think, Mr. Chairman, that we should go ahead today and elect a President of this Body who is not going to at least get up and tell us that he has got a program outlined for 1944. It seems to me when we took that vote that there was a little clique working together, and even though they were experienced men and they knew we could talk on anything that comes before us, whether that order was amended or not, they still were pious enough to vote no for nominating speeches. Now, I wonder why I have to say something to hide? Are they afraid of a scandal that happened here before I came here? If they are, then I think they should withdraw as candidates for the presidency. If not, let them get up and outline a program for the people of the City of Boston. Tell us what you are going to do. It may be to have a lower tax rate. All right, let us bring the tax rate down like Mayor Kane did, of Woburn. Say what you like, he did bring the tax rate down $11. Stop contracts. We don't have to spend any money this year. Take the disabled veterans, those that can't rehabilitate themselves. Let us find something safe for them. We have a rope contract given out by the President of the City Council, and I think there is a contract that should be given to four disabled veterans at a salary of $1,600 plus $200 that they would receive, which would be $1,800. That would be $7,200. Four disabled veterans could be appointed temporarily, because there is no civil service list. They could take a city truck and store rope down in the basement of this building, where it is stored free of charge. When they want a new rope, the contractor doesn't have to buy it, it is charged to the City Council. So everything is clear profit. A seven or eight year old child could do the work.

Use a city truck and about $8,500 is spent approximately each year. That money could be used to supply the city truck with gas and oil, and at least the city would be in the expenditure of the gas and oil to take that truck to go out on various occasions, and in addition to that we would take care of disabled or wounded boys that come back to us. One thing more I want to touch on is pressure being brought on the Council by members of the Legislature, especially those who happen to be on the city pay roll. If I were they, I would be very careful about working on any councilor, trying to bring pressure on him as to what he should do regarding the election of a president today. Some fellows in the Legislature are pretty fortunate, drawing city and state salaries, some at the same time. The fellow I have reference to should mind his own business, because he is a very fortunate fellow. While the Legislature is in session, while he attends a meeting in the morning and also in the afternoon, he is on the city pay roll at night, and whether he works or not is another question. But I think a fellow like that should keep his nose out of the Council's affairs. I don't think he has any right to interfere. I don't want him to, and I don't think anyone else would except that he could get them a vote. So I say that if we are going to elect a President today he at least ought to have courage to take his feet and tell us what he is going to do in regard to contracts, what he is going to do for the home owners, what he is going to do for playground equipment, what he is going to do regarding the Legislature, and stop them from giving jobs out without making permissive legislation so it would need the consent of the City Council. Now, one thing I want to touch on. They tell me you need experienced men up here. I am willing to go between and take any man who has served here six years, or I am willing to elect a new man. I think anybody that is in the City Council and has shown leadership in his own ward is fully capable of taking that chair, whether he is a man that has served six years or a new man that has just stepped in today. I think he is capable of taking that chair because, in my four years, I don't recall any man that didn't take that chair that didn't seek advice from the City Clerk. So at least a new man can come up and get some advice from the City Clerk. So I say don't let us elect a president today unless each man that is a candidate gets up and outlines his views. Don't forget we are a very powerful body. Twelve members standing here today can stop the Mayor of Boston from spending five cents if they want to. Seven members banded together can stop all appropriations, because they need fifteen votes before they can spend five cents on any appropriation in this city. And I think it is about time we got somebody in that chair in 1944 who at least before he takes the chair, has set up a program and has decided to let the rest of the twenty-one members in on that program, let us know what his intentions are. He owes it to us, but most of all to the taxpayers of Boston.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. Chairman, I am going to confine my remarks strictly to those of a nominating nature, in speaking of the young man whose name has been running through my mind for the last hour. We witnessed a spectacle today of six new members joining the Body, only one of whom has ever served in a municipal capacity. I think for the benefit of those who represent collectively a substantial part of the Boston electorate, something ought to be said about the young man for whom I intend to cast my vote for the presidency of this Body. Second-hand information or hearsay evidence is not much good to anybody, but I have a reputation in Boston for speaking my mind as I know it to be, and while I am not always correct, I am not wrong because anyone tells me to be wrong, or misinforms me. Mr. Chairman, without in any way detracting from the character of the men who have held the Body in control as President in their day and age in the past, without detracting one whit from their character and integrity, I believe that in the person of the young man whose name I shall utter later we have one of the cleanest and finest characters that ever went into Boston politics at any time. There has been a little talk made about qualification and ability. Of all bodies in this country where qualification and ability count for nothing, the Boston City Council is first. Everything is done here by mirrors. That is why I am heartily in accord with Councilor Coffey's statement, that candidates who are not going to enjoy the prestige and honor, such as it is, ought to have the hardihood to get up and declare themselves as forthright and as their controlling group will allow them to. At least make some semblance of a contest out of it. If it is worth having, it is worth fighting for. Two years ago next Wednesday by date, I had the great good fortune to be sworn in as a member of this Body at Symphony Hall, with four other new members at that time, one of whom was Councilor Matthew Hanley of Ward 11, Jamaica Plain district, Boston. He came into the Council as an unknown quantity. He had not set the world afire. He had confined himself strictly to the interests of Ward 11, and it might be to the advantage of each and every one of us to think as much of our own districts as he thought and thinks of his. And in that time that has elapsed Matthew Hanley has endeared himself—I truly mean endeared himself—to every member of this Body, even to those with whom he has been in sharp competition. There is no one that questions his honor, no one that questions his integral honesty, no one that questions the honesty of his physical acts. No one in this city can point a finger at Matthew Hanley and malign him or vilify him as being a schemer or a sharper or a rogue. No honor has come to him in this Body except the honor that came to him from the people of his ward whose votes put him in this Body, but I find myself today speaking from the bottom of my heart when I tell you that the greatest comfort and satisfaction, the greatest feeling of having accomplished something at any rate, has come to me today, and I thank God I have got the power of speech to put into words publicly my feelings about Matthew Hanley. That is not in any way to say that young Hanley has a corner on honor or integrity, but he has it in sufficient quantity to spread over this entire Body to his own honor and glory and to the good of the city. We are not the only ones that have a stake in this thing. There are 780,000 Boston people who are very careful as to the type of man they elect as Mayor. And we, as their chosen delegated representatives in this Body, owe it to them to select a man who can recognize the existence of every one, a man who will not stow himself away in a dark corner of the chamber, a man who won't consummate every deal in a smoke-filled hotel room. I am not under any one's thumb here. I have a free choice. The only place where there is any restriction on my freedom of choice is in the matter of the name of Kinsella. I wouldn't take the job, as I said a year ago, for $10,000 a year, but in the matter of the twenty-one of you gentlemen, Mr. Chairman, I have a free choice. I intend to exercise it. I am not biased or prejudiced except in the best interests of not only the people of Charlestown who put me here but in the interests of the Boston people who have contributed in one way or another to my physical well being. At this point I would like once more to utter the name of the cleanest and finest young man, bar none, in Boston politics, Matthew F. Hanley, councillor from Ward 11.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. Chairman, I have been a member of this Body for six years and am going into my seventh year, and it is with extreme regret that I realize that there is not more harmony in the ranks. I voted to allow the opportunity to the various councillors to make nominating speeches because I personally thought it was the only fair thing to do. I believe in free speech. I like to hear arguments on all sides. As a matter of fact, I have enjoyed that privilege on several other occasions. If I remember correctly, away back six years ago I made a nominating speech in behalf of Robert Gardiner Wilson, Jr., now judge of the Probate Court; and I think I made a nominating speech four years ago for Henry L. Shattuck. I see no harm in allowing nominating speeches. I am glad we have had the opportunity to hear those of the various councillors. I don't agree with some of the views expressed by some of the councillors. I personally think that the prime requisite for the office of President of this Body is honesty and a willingness to be fair. I think if we elect one of our members with those qualifications that the Council will get along well. Mr. Chairman, I hope that in the future the Council will refrain from indulging in personalities and will get down to rock bottom and conduct municipal business in a dignified manner, a manner in which we are supposed to conduct it, in which the citizens of Boston expect us to conduct it. I would like to say a few words in behalf of the gentleman whom I shall vote for. Again I would like to say that this man has not even approached me. No one has approached me in his behalf. I have had the pleasure of serving with him in this Body in the past years and, as a matter of fact, in prior years I have had the pleasure of voting against him because I thought another man was better qualified. I am very happy to have the privilege this year of voting for John E. Kerrigan, of South Boston. I think he is a fair man, and I think he will endeavor to conduct this Body in an honest and dignified manner. I think that is all the citizens of Boston expect from any man, and I think John E. Kerrigan is qualified to carry on in this office in that manner, and I shall so vote.

Coun. KELLY—Speaking on the motion, Mr. Chairman, I, like Councillor Chase, am going into my seventh year in this Body. It has been a pleasure for me to be sent here by my constituents of Ward 15, on different occasions, to be their City Councillor in city government. I agree with Councillor Chase that the man put in the President's chair should be honest and fair. The man I am going to cast my vote for I know to be honest and fair. That is why I cast my vote for him. I believe that the man that sits up in the President's chair should at all times remember that there are twenty-two members of the Council fifty-two weeks a year. He at all times should remember that twenty-two members of the Boston City Council constitute the members of the Boston City Council. The man I am going to cast my vote for has only been a member of this Body two years. There isn't any question as to his honesty; there is no question as to his fairness; there is no question as to his sincerity. There is no question that if he sits on that chair he will recognize every member of the Boston City Council. I don't want to be at any time any part of casting my vote for a man that won't remember that twenty-two men are members of the Boston City Council. I have been guilty of that offense before. I am not going to be guilty of it this year. It is a pleasure for me to cast my vote for the gentleman from Ward 11, Matthew Hanley, because I know he is honest and fair, and I know he will rule impartially. It was a pleasure for me last year to get up in this Body and give the deciding vote to that great young fellow from Ward 20, Theodore Lyons. My vote was the deciding vote for him that made it possible for him to be the President of the Council. I don't see how we can give any man a more fitting tribute today than to elect as President of this Council the honorable gentleman from Ward 11, for whom I will cast my vote, Matthew Hanley.

Chairman DWYER—The clerk will now call the roll, and as each member's name is called he will announce his choice.

The roll was called, with the following result:

FOR AIDING BOYS.

In an effort to lend a helping hand to misfit and underprivileged boys and to stem the alarming flow of young men into penal institutions and lives of crime, Big Brother Bureaus are being organized by the police departments of various cities. The International Association of Chiefs of Police urges all police jurisdictions to join the Big Brother League

CHARGE FOR POLICE RADIO SERVICE.

At least five cities and three states operating police radio systems charge for radio messages transmitted to police cars of other cities and suburbs which do not operate their own transmitters, the International City Managers' Association states. The cities are Cleveland, Detroit, Toledo, Akron and Providence; the states are Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Jersey.

Cleveland charges East Cleveland 42 cents for each call transmitted to East Cleveland police cars. East Detroit pays Detroit 35 cents a call; the sheriff's office of Lucas County, Ohio, pays Toledo 50 cents a call, with a minimum of $25 a month; and Akron charges 35 cents per message transmitted to Barberton, Cuyahoga Falls, and the sheriff's office of Summit County. Providence makes charges on calls to police cars of several surrounding communities.

Communities served by the Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Jersey state police radio systems are charged certain percentages of operating costs.—American City Magazine.

NO COST CONTROL FOR REFUSE DISPOSAL.

American cities on the whole may be clean housekeepers, but they don't know how much it is costing them to be clean or whether they are spending too much. Only a few cities are able to report accurately the unit cost of removing garbage and other refuse and of cleaning streets, according to the Public Administration Service of Chicago, Ill., which further reports that at least 90 per cent of the cities in this country have no cost control over this service.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 36.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1944.

No. 4

UNDER LEADERSHIP OF MAYOR TOBIN CITY EMPLOYEES ARE VOLUNTEERING IN INCREASING NUMBERS TO DONATE BLOOD FOR WOUNDED AMERICAN FIGHTERS—ALREADY, DURING THE WEEK, 164 HAVE CONTRIBUTED OR REGISTERED WITH CITY REGISTRAR FRANCIS J. FAY IN THE NEW DRIVE WHILE 1,964 HAD VOLUNTEERED THROUGH THE OFFICE OF LEO POWER, PUBLIC BUILDINGS COMMISSIONER—CAMPAIGN ON FOR 5,600 PINTS OUT OF THE 20,000 EMPLOYEES ENROLLED IN CITY DEPARTMENTS.

With the full indorsement of Mayor Tobin, some 20,000 city and county employees are being organized to contribute their blood for wounded American fighters in the biggest project of its kind ever undertaken by the Red Cross Blood Donor Center here. Already since Monday 164 have registered for contribution while approximately 1,964 had previously done so.

The Mayor has written letters to the heads of all city and county departments, pointing out the urgent need for additional supplies of blood plasma in preparation for the second front, and urging "utmost cooperation" in helping the Red Cross meet the demands of the Army and Navy.

Francis J. Fay, City Registrar, named by Mayor Tobin as director of the city and county blood donor campaign, has already begun distribution of registration blanks and a specially printed pamphlet outlining the campaign to all city and county employees.

The pamphlet features statements, praising the role of Red Cross plasma in reducing deaths among the wounded, by Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntyre, Surgeon-General, U. S. Navy; Maj.-Gen. Norman T. Kirk, Surgeon-General, U. S. Army; Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower; Rear Admiral Robert A. Theobald, Commandant of the First Naval District, and Lieut. Commander Arthur McQuaid of Lowell, a member of the Navy Chaplain Corps, whose life was saved by plasma after the battle of Lunga Point.

Special Message From Mayor.

Also included are a special message from the Mayor urging blood donations and answers by Army, Navy and Red Cross officials to various Axis-inspired rumors which, although untrue, have seriously hindered the work of the blood center.

The drive was officially launched when Mayor Tobin drove an antique, horse-drawn, city street-watering wagon to City Hall, where it will be parked for the next few days. The wagon, painted red, white and blue, and adorned with Red Crosses, carries a tank originally designed to hold 5,600 pints of water.

The Mayor has therefore set 5,600 pints of blood as the city's preliminary quota, but he has emphasized that he expects the tank to be filled "at least several times." Red Cross volunteers and servicemen rode the wagon to City Hall with the Mayor.

Sinclair Post of the American Legion, the city employees' post and the Municipal Women's Association are cooperating in the drive. The city is granting time off with pay to employees to donate.

Progress of the campaign will be recorded on two giant thermometers which have been set up at the main entrance to City Hall and at the Court House in Pemberton square. The Mayor will also get detailed statistical reports of the campaign every week, so that departments meeting their quota can receive special recognition and extra effort can be made in those departments falling behind.

The Mayor, Registrar Fay and other leaders in the drive will donate with the first group of city employees. It will be the Mayor's third donation and will entitle him to wear a silver Blood Donor pin — "Today's Badge of Patriotism."

Vice chairmen of the campaign are: Leo E. Diamond, Health Department; Robert Wilson, Election Department; John Kelliher, City Hospital; William E. Clegg, Public Library; James S. Kiernan, Public Welfare Department; Timothy L. Sullivan, Public Works Department; Mary Driscoll, Chairman, Licensing Board; Harold Coakley, Street Laying-Out Department; Dr. James W. Manary, Superintendent, City Hospital; Dr. G. Lynde Gately, Health Department; Sheriff James Mellen, County Employees; Superintendent Arthur Gould, School Department; Daniel J. McDevitt, School Committee; Frank Smith, Commander, Sinclair Post American Legion; Mary McKernan, President, Municipal Women's Association.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

MAYOR TOBIN MOVES FOR SURVEY OF BOSTON SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Mayor Tobin has submitted the following to the City Council:

Boston, January 17, 1944.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—I am transmitting herewith a communication which I have received from the Boston Finance Commission recommending an appropriation of $75,000 to enable that body to undertake a general survey of the Boston School System, to "determine what steps, if any, may be taken to improve the administrative and educational organization and methods and to discover whatever possibilities of saving may exist."

In checking back over the history of the School Department, I have been unable to find any instance in which a general survey has been conducted. Partial surveys were made in 1916, 1928 and 1930.

A tremendous decline has occurred in Boston's school population, from 139,000 in September of 1932 to 101,320 in September of 1943. This condition alone warrants a general survey. From all indications this downward trend is going to continue to a figure substantially below one hundred thousand. In addition to this major problem which, in itself, justifies a general survey, it is also imperative that consideration should be given to the planning of an educational program for the thousands of youngsters who entered the armed forces before reaching their eighteenth birthday and prior to the completion of their high school courses. These boys will return to us as mature men, and unless this educational handicap is overcome their progress in life will be inevitably retarded.

For the benefits that will accrue to the pupils; the assistance the survey will be to the department's administrators and teaching personnel; and the over-all benefits that should accrue to the entire citizenry; I strongly urge upon the members of the City Council the prompt passage of the accompanying order in the sum of $75,000 for the furtherance of this much-needed survey.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

VI. COMMENDATION.

At 1.47 p. m. January 6, 1944, the department responded to an alarm from Box 2226 for a fire in the dwelling house at 81 Sterling street, Roxbury.

On arrival of Ladder Company 12 at the scene it was found that three children were alone on the second floor where the fire originated. Members of the company raised a twenty-foot ladder to a second floor window and Ladderman James W. McDonald of Ladder Company 12 went over the ladder, entered the room, and crawling on his hands and knees made a search for the children. He found two of the children in an unconscious condition on the floor, brought them to the window and passed them to firemen on the ladder. He found the third child in a crib in a room off the room involved by fire and passed it out to the ladder.

During the time he was performing this work Ladderman McDonald was subjected to severe smoke and heat as the window shades, curtains and trimmings in the room were burning, causing slight burns to his neck and face.

Because of the risk to which he exposed himself in performing this rescue work, Ladderman McDonald is highly commended by the Fire Commissioner and his case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

By order of Fire Commissioner WILLIAM ARTHUR REILLY.

SAMUEL J. POPE,
Chief of Department.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon several dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with firms, contractors, etc., for labor, supplies, merchandise, etc. Communications from the heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Boston, December 28, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request your approval for the payment to the American Express Company of the sum of $132.95, which is the expressage cost on the shipment of the World War No. 2 memorial plaque from Chicago to Boston Common.

This plaque was made by the National Ronzite Industries, Ltd., of Chicago, Illinois, and was shipped to Boston freight or express collect. This arrangement was made by a special committee appointed by your Honor for the erection of the memorial plaque.

The amount of $132.95 is to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Boston, January 14, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The SS. "Stephen O'Meara" goes out tomorrow, January 15, for its annual inspection and repairs, as required by the United States Steamboat Inspectors. Due to wartime activities and extraordinary demands on dry dock facilities, the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation of Boston is the only company in a position to perform this necessary work.

Since nothing can be gained by advertising I hereby respectfully request your authority to dispense with advertising and to award the contract to the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation in the sum of $5,620.

HUGH J. CAMPBELL,
Commissioner.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Boston, December 30, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of November 10, 1943, your Honor approved this department's request for permission to award contracts for furnishing milk and cream for city departments to the following contractors:

Herlihy Brothers, Inc.: Boston City Hospital, $53,378.45.

Shawmut Dairy, Inc.: Long Island Hospital, $25,104.00.

Martin S. Cosgrove & Sons, Inc.: Sanatorium Division, $21,927.15; Suffolk County Jail, $700.00; Franklin Park Zoo, $489.30—$23,158.45.

Because of restrictions of the Milk Control Board and the freezing of milk quotas, at that time the Cosgrove Company found itself unable to guarantee delivery; and until absolute assurance could be given this department of its ability to make deliveries, the Whiting Milk Company, the contractor for the period from May 1 to October 31, 1943, delivered the milk and cream to the departments in question.

Word has been received from Martin S. Cosgrove & Sons, Inc., that its milk quota will now allow the fulfillment of the con-

BUILDINGS RAZED.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Building Commissioner to raze the following structures as fire menaces or nuisances:

To raze the building at 5 Lincoln terrace, Ward 22. An agreement has been made with the Fellsway Wrecking Corporation, 68 Bridge street, Cambridge, Mass.

To vacate the first floor of the building at 582 Dorchester avenue, Ward 7, as the building has been damaged by fire and is in an unsafe and dangerous condition.

To vacate the building at 119 Green street, Ward 19, as the building is not provided with exits satisfactory to the Building Commissioner.

To vacate the building at 121 Green street, Ward 19, as the said building is not provided with exits satisfactory to the Building Commissioner.

To vacate the building at 125 Green street, Ward 19, as the said building is not provided with exits satisfactory to the Building Commissioner.

To vacate the building at 17 and 19 Lamartine street, Ward 10, as the building in its present condition is unsafe and dangerous.

On December 2, 1943, the district building inspector reported that a corner post of left rear piazza of building at 12 Fairmount court, Ward 18, had broken off, leaving three floors of piazza and roof over same, approximately 9 feet by 12 feet, unsupported. Therefore, for the protection of the occupants and the public, Topham & Bates, contractors, 1209 Hyde Park avenue, Hyde Park, were ordered to put a temporary shore and braces under the piazza to support the weight.

Work has been completed and a bill in the amount of $7.05 has been approved.

On December 12, 1943, it was reported that at the rear of the building at 20 Everett street, Ward 1, there was a brick wall 9 feet long and 32 feet high, 8 inches thick, built at end of piazza near the lot line, which had been left without lateral support due to removal of piazza, creating an extremely unsafe condition which required emergency action by this department as a protection to the public. Therefore, J. R. Whelan of 21 Ivory street, West Roxbury, was ordered to remove the wall immediately and work was completed at 9.30 p. m. on said date.

A bill in the amount of $80 has been approved for work performed.

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

TAKING OF CHARLESTOWN PROPERTIES FOR CEMETERY ADDITION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 3, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the chairman of the Boston Park Commission relative to your order of December 6, 1943, regarding the taking by the department of certain properties in the Charlestown district.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, December 18, 1943.

Arthur C. Carey,

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Carey,—I am acknowledging your memorandum of December 7, with inclosure, order from the City Council regarding the taking over of certain properties upon the completion of demolition work in Charlestown, Ward 2.

I have given this order considerable thought and looked the area over. I cannot see where we would benefit in any way, shape or manner.

This cemetery has been closed for many years, no burials are allowed there unless in extreme cases. By enlarging it, it would cost a considerable amount of money for new fencing—that would be establishing a play area there, which would be what it would be used for, as we cannot keep the boys out of there now with an iron fence.

Furthermore, I could not sell land over there for burials and I do not think it would look just right to open up a new area in an old cemetery. As I say, I have given this a lot of thought and cannot see how we could possibly use the additional land.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

FILLING OF CELLARS OF RAZED BUILDINGS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 10, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Building Commissioner relative to your order of November 29, 1943, concerning the filling of cellars of buildings which have been razed in the City of Boston.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Building Department, December 28, 1943.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,

Mayor of Boston.

Subject: City Council Order of November 29, 1943.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—Concerning your communication of December 1, 1943, subject, City Council order of November 29, 1943, please be informed that the Building Code does not permit the Building Department to negotiate contracts for filling cellars of buildings which have been razed in the City of Boston; however, in many instances I personally have acquired the filling of such cellars through the cooperation of the Public Works Department in providing fill from their street projects.

Undoubtedly in most instances an open cellar does present a hazard, but seldom, if ever, is there sufficient incombustible material in a building razed to provide for the filling in of the basement of the building. For this reason I have to solicit the aid of the Public Works Department, as above stated.

In part, the City Council's order asks for the removal of foundations, and to this I state that in my opinion same should not be done as removal of foundation walls would contribute to cave-ins of adjoining land and probably public sidewalks and would cause a hazard far greater than the unfilled cellar, as in most instances foundation walls below grade are in effect retaining walls.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES H. MOONEY,

Building Commissioner.

Placed on file.

APPROPRIATION FOR ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 10, 1944.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941 provides that in the period after the expiration of any fiscal year, and before the regular appropriations have been made by the City Council, city departments may incur liabilities for carrying on the work of the departments, and payments therefor shall be made from the treasury from any available funds therein, and charged against the next annual appropriation, provided that the liabilities incurred during such interval for regular employees do not exceed in any one month the average monthly expenditure of the last three months of the preceding fiscal year.

This provision makes it impossible to pay the salaries of the first assistant assessors on the same basis as previous years, namely, one half of their annual salary during the months of January, February and March at the rate of $300 for January, $300 for February and $250 for March.

In order that these employees may be paid in accordance with the established schedule, I am forwarding herewith an appropriation order for $82,000 which will relieve the condition until the regular budget is submitted and acted upon by the City Council, and respectfully recommend immediate adoption and passage by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $82,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended as herein-after specified, said sum to be raised by taxes on the polls and estates in the City of Boston, and that all orders hereinafter passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes and the interest thereon, apply to the appropriations and taxes herein provided for.

APPROPRIATION FOR HOUGHTON AND DUTTON BUILDING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 10, 1944.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am advised by the chairman of the Board of Real Estate Commissioners that in connection with the reconstruction work carried on in the Houghton and Dutton building in order to provide accommodations for various war agencies it was necessary to make, at the request of Federal officials, certain alterations and changes not provided for in the original contract. At the time this extra work was performed it was agreed that the Government should reimburse the city for the additional expense. Under this agreement a check for $11,757.40 has been received and deposited to the credit of the income account of the Board of Real Estate Commissioners. In order that this amount may be available for expenditure,

I submit herewith an appropriation order and respectfully recommend its adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Board of Real Estate Commissioners,
January 5, 1944.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

My dear Mr. Mayor,—During the course of construction in the Houghton and Dutton building extra demands were made by the Government in excess of the original contract. Recently a check for $11,757.40 was received from the Government in reimbursement for these additional expenses. This check has been deposited with the City Treasurer.

Under the accounting practice of the city this amount cannot be used for expenditure purposes without being appropriated. I respectfully request that an appropriation order for the above amount be submitted to the City Council.

Very truly yours,
DANIEL M. DRISCOLL, Chairman.

Ordered, That the sum of $11,757.40 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated from the income of the Board of Real Estate Commissioners, exclusive of proceeds from the sale of foreclosed property, for the following purpose:

Foreclosed Real Estate, Emergency
Reconstruction $11,757.40
Referred to Executive Committee.

BORROWING IN ANTICIPATION OF TAXES.

Chairman DWYER called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Ordered, That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations for the financial year 1944, the City Treasurer be, and hereby is, authorized to issue and sell, at such time and in such amounts as he may deem best, notes or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston not exceeding $40,000,000 in the total, in anticipation of the revenue of the financial year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be made payable with the interest thereon within one year of their date and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as the City Treasurer and the Mayor may determine. The said City Treasurer is hereby further authorized to renew or refund any such notes issued for a shorter period than one year, under the provisions of section 17 of chapter 44 of the General Laws.

On January 3, 1944, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 22.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 21, nays 0.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. Chairman, I move that we proceed to the election of a President for the year 1944.

The motion was carried.

Coun. HANNON—Before the vote is taken, I would like to say a few words. During the course of the year, Mr. Chairman, there are many orders which come before this Body, but there is no order which should be more important or which should mean more to the individual members of the City Council than the selection of a man who is to preside over us during the forthcoming year. I know, Mr. Chairman, that there is quite a bit of interest in this contest. Almost everybody is getting telephone calls; everybody is being approached, everybody is being talked to,—and rightly so,—but when we get in here everybody seems to be afflicted with dumbness; everybody seems to be bashful or backward about getting up to talk, and yet they can go outside, put a nickel in the telephone, and they can talk for an hour. Now I think we are all interested in, and we should all know, the qualifications and the abilities of the man we are going to elect as President. I know, Mr. Chairman. I have been here for some time. I have served with sixteen of the members of this year's Council. I know them and have found them to be O. K. I have had the honor, as I said before, and I am perfectly willing to step aside and give that honor to somebody else. I do not think it is an honor that should be usurped by any one man. I do not think any one of us is so far above the others that we should receive the plum and keep on receiving it year after year. I have been up there, and I probably have had better opportunity than anybody else to observe the members of this Body; and I know, and am willing to admit, that there are other members here who served with me last year who are perfectly well able, perfectly well qualified and perfectly capable of carrying on at least as well as I carried on. For that reason I am taking my feet to advance the cause of one of the men who has served with me. That man is Councilor Matthew F. Hanley of Ward 11. Everybody who was in this Council last year and the year before sat here sometimes in awe at the learning of the gentleman from Ward 11. Everybody here regardless of personal feelings has had to admit that the gentleman from Ward 11 is at least as well qualified, is at least as capable and honorable, as any other man in the chamber. When we vote for a President we should vote for a man who has ability, a man who has shown that ability, a man who has served with us so we have had an opportunity to observe him, both on the floor and in his committee meetings. We want a man who is conscientious. I know there are others, but we must make a choice. We can vote for only one and the qualities and qualifications we should look for, I believe, are ability plus honesty. You know, Mr. Chairman, just as well as I, that it is not a soft job being up in that chair. There are twenty-two members in this Council, and each one of the twenty-two of us is probably as smart as the other twenty-two. Each one of the twenty-two of us has his own views and each one of the twenty-two of us must be able to express his views or else he would not have been elected to this Body. Therefore, when you are in the chair, many times you are going to be called upon to rule against this one or rule against that one. You cannot straddle. You have to be honest. You have to have brains to reach a decision and have to have courage enough to follow that decision to its logical conclusion. We have men here, Mr. Chairman, who are able to do that, and out of those men it is up to us to pick one man who has those qualities at least as well, if not a little better, than the rest of us. That man, a man endowed with courage, and a man endowed with honesty and endowed with brains and who can express himself as probably no other man here can, is the councilor from Ward 11, Matthew F. Hanley. In addition to that, Mr. Chairman, last year we had a member here who served well with us, the councilor from Ward 20, Ted Lyons, and during the course of the year Ted Lyons was called into the service of the country. He joined the Navy. As a mark of respect, a mark of honor and a token of appreciation, we got up, twelve of us, and voted for Lyons to elect him President of the City Council. We did that because we honored him for his faithful and conscientious service. We did it because we felt sincerely that that title might help him not merely in the Navy, because in the Navy I suppose all men are equal, but it might help him later on in life if he came back again, to say that at one time he had been honored by his colleagues of the Council by being elected to the presidency. I hope, Mr. Chairman, that everybody here will be honest and sincere in the casting of their ballots. Ted Lyons took the presidency, held it for a short time, and then resigned. The councilor from Ward 11 is already in the service. He will be with us only a week or two weeks more, and then his resignation will be here. Nobody loses anything. He gains an honor. I think we will have gained a little prestige because we are sticking together and doing something for somebody who has served amongst us conscientiously and sincerely. So far as I am concerned, Hanley has every qualification that I would look for in a candidate for public office. He is a credit not only to his district but to the whole City of Boston. He will reflect credit on this Council. Last Monday he received eleven votes. Eleven of the members here last Monday had confidence enough in him and had knowledge enough of him to vote for him. We know that during the course of the week nothing has happened to destroy, disrupt or disturb that confidence. I know those eleven who voted for him last Monday will be happy and pleased to vote for him again. We are asking those who have not been here to serve with him during the past two years to look at his record, to talk with those of us who have been here with him, and I am certain that out of the fullness of our hearts, out of the honesty of our intentions and our own knowledge gathered by personal observation and personal service, we will elect as the President of this Council the honorable member from Ward 11, Matthew F. Hanley.

Chairman DWYER—The clerk will call the roll and, as the members' names are called, each member will announce his choice for presidency for the year 1944.

The roll was called, with the following result:

For Coun. Kerrigan—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Hurley, Keenan, Kerrigan, Muchnick, Russo, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—12.

For Coun. Hanley—Coun. Carey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Kelly, Kinsella, McCormack—9.

The chair appointed Coun. Hurley and Bayley to escort President KERRIGAN to the chair. They performed the duty assigned, amid applause.

President KERRIGAN—Gentlemen, I wish to thank you very much for the great honor you have bestowed on me today, and I want you to know I will treat each and every one of you with the greatest of respect. The door of the President of the City Council will be always open to each and every one of you, and I hope that we will all work together for the best interests of our great city. Thank you very much.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, may I on behalf of my constituents of Ward 11 and also through personal reasons extend my sincere congratulations to you as President of this Honorable Body for the ensuing year 1944. As a runner-up in the contest, based more or less on friendship rather than qualifications, I extend to you the hand of friendship with the fervent wish and cherished hope for your success, health and longevity. Speaking on behalf of myself, I would like to thank each and every one of you who cast your votes for me and for the beautiful tribute you extended to me by your nominating speeches. Feeble words of mine will never express the thoughts which surge within me, the gratitude for the honor which I received through the generosity of the distinguished councilor from Ward 13, who stepped aside in order that my name might be brought before you honorable gentlemen. One of the greatest diplomats of the world, whose diplomacy was based on deceit and dishonesty, wrote his epitaph on the pages of history by having his name considered by the world synonymous with deceit. His name was Machiavelli, an Italian prince, and Machiavellian has become the name for his type of diplomacy. And so his thoughts have come down to us today, down through the corridors of time, and found their amplifying voice in the hallowed chamber of the Boston City Council. Some of those now looking at me today may know how, through lies and insinuations, they have tried to drag down my name in the gutter of vilification. They have utilized their poisonous virus in order not to destroy me but rather to attain something that I would not give to them because it is dishonest. I owe no apologies to any man or to any group. I have always fought with what God gave me, my voice and my faculties and the physical and mental abilities He has endowed me with. I bend my head to no man, and I will bend my knee to no man. But the virus of propaganda was brought into this chamber that Councilor Matthew F. Hanley—"well, he may be a decent man, he may be an honorable man, he may be an honest man, but he is now in the United States Navy, although he is garbed in civilian attire; we know that he would make a good president, presiding officer of the Boston City Council, but he would not, he would not"—and those are their exact words—"he would not resign his presidency because of his affiliation and association with other members." In other words, they utilized the old axiom "Show me your associates and I will tell you who you are." I was never one to throw stones at any one, no matter what their private life is or what their public life is. Life is too short. I would rather forgive a man and be known as a friend than ever be utilized as a tool or puppet by anyone. I could attain this presidency very easily. I could attain it through the same channels that other men obtain it. I am very sorry that the armed forces have me so my voice can no longer be heard in this hallowed chamber. But there are men in this Honorable Body whose character I will not impugn. Their constituents elected them. There are also men in this Honorable Body who are well qualified to become political assets, not only to the City of Boston but to our great country, and I only hope my life will be spared and that some day I will be able to reciprocate upon a public platform and to espouse their cause among their constituencies. That is the only way I can pay back a debt of gratitude. I can never utilize the filthy lucre that we call money. I can never utilize the dirty contractors who feed and live upon the gullibility of our city. I can never promise them a tax abatement with a 20 per cent fee. But I would promise them friendship. You members who utilized propaganda to try to defeat me, if you can live with your conscience, then I can live with mine, but some day we may meet again and the result that day may be different. Today through the columns of the press and editorials in the Boston Post they tried to stigmatize the Boston City Council. We were stigmatized before by a well-known commentator as a "city of bums," and that has been amplified through the columns of the press in their editorial columns. I refer specifically to the Boston Post. I do not fight behind closed doors. I will fight where my voice is recorded by a public stenographer. There has never been a body of deliberation from the beginning of time but there have been squabbles and there will not be a body of deliberation until the end of time without squabbles. When you do not have squabbles, then you know definitely that there is something wrong; there is something putrid; there is something that is being covered up by the blanket of deceit and hypocrisy. There was never any squabbling in the Reichstag; there was never any squabbling in the Comintern; there was never any squabbling in the Fascist régime of Italy, because they produced dictators, and there was never any squabbling in our Congress until the life blood of our land was offered up upon the sacrificial altars of the God above. I never intended to be and never will be a puppet to any man, and I never allow myself to be stultified in the columns of the press by stigmatizing any body I belong to. I can put off that cloak of hypocrisy and tell you the story of the Boston Post. Reporters—they report the news; they never make it, but they can color it, and they can utilize interpretations in order to wean away to their side the gullible members of this body. Maurice Tobin is the Mayor of our city. As a Christian I am compelled by my holy religion to love and honor all men, but I am not compelled to honor and respect all the principles of men, and I have tried to the best of my ability to distinguish and differentiate between a man and his principles. I have never allowed racial or religious feeling to color any act, word or deed of mine. As a member of the United States Navy, I cannot hurt anyone. I am subject to order to go whenever the commanding officer sends me. I really thought that I could some day come back and say that I was honored by my colleagues. However, I hold no grudge towards any man. I came into this chamber unknown and I will go out unknown. I am friendly to all men in all walks of life. I hold no brief for anyone. So far as his Honor the Mayor is concerned, he and I are friends. I have never said anything about him behind his back. What I have said is all recorded in the public records. He had nothing at all to do with my defeat here today. I lost because of propaganda. But I will say to you, Mr. President, that you are a fine young man. I know your background, and I know your public record, and I know why you left the United States Army. You will make a fine parliamentarian from your past experience. I know you will be fair and impartial in all your views, but you will be called upon in the most critical period, not only of our history but the history of the world, to decide on issues that may jeopardize or secure our American rights, liberties and privileges. My last salutation will be this: Let the Stars and the Stripes be unfurled to the breeze. Let that banner be placed upon the highest pinnacle of the land; let it never dip its colors to those of any other flag, but rather let those other people throw off their lethargy, their serfdom and their ignorance and lift their banner to the height of the Stars and Stripes. Presidents will come and presidents will go. Men will come into this life through birth and pass from this life through death, but the principles woven into the fabric of our Flag are eternal. They are the Alpha and Omega; the beginning and the end of Christian justice and charity. I thank you, Mr. President.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair hears no objection.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, as I said before, politics is a peculiar occupation or might properly be called a peculiar vocation. It presents problems at all times. Like yourself, Mr. President, I am proud to be of Irish-American extraction. I am one of those fellows who, if he has a job, tries to do it, and I am also one of those fellows, who if there are two sides to a question, is willing to take one side and stick to it. That is why, in the present contest, I nominated the gentleman from Ward 11. I was fair in my nomination. I was fair and honest in my selection of a candidate. So far as I am concerned, the battle is now over. You have been elected, you have won. From now on, Mr. President, I am merely your humble servant, and I congratulate you and now move, Mr. President, that your election be made unanimous.

The question came on the motion, which was carried.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President KERRIGAN—Any objection? The Chair hears no objection.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, after listening to the remarks of the distinguished gentleman from Ward 11 (Coun. Hanley) I just couldn't sit here without getting up and having something to say about those remarks. No one holds the gentleman from Ward 11 in any more esteem than I do. Nobody thinks more of Matthew Hanley than I do. I had the pleasure and privilege of voting for him last Monday. A lot of water has gone over the dam since last Monday. In fact, I was supposed to be the candidate today on the first ballot, and some of those whom I worked for damned hard, worked for and engineered things for, were not men enough to come today and say, "We will vote for you, Coffey." "Oh, no, leave Coffey in our group, but do not elect him President of the Council. Give him so many votes, but have one or two stay off so Coffey will not become President of this Body." But Coffey has a brain, thank God, or I wouldn't be serving in my ninth or tenth year with all the fighting I have done with practically everybody I have come in contact with whom I did not like. Now, it is all right to honor a man in the service. We would all like to do that. We did it last year and without my vote. I did not vote for Teddy Lyons. I did not vote for Matthew Hanley today. I suppose I could go into this thing in detail and bring out things on both sides. This does not end on one side. It goes both ways, but one thing I will be honest enough to say is this: so far as Matthew Hanley is concerned, no propaganda has reached me that he was going to continue to hold office for the entire year, because I know in my own heart Matt Hanley if elected was going to resign. I know that. Well, everybody seems to be patriotic because we are at war. I do not think anybody in the chamber has a better war record than myself. I have a boy in the service who has already seen a year's service in the Air Corps, so I do not think I have to take my hat off to anybody when it comes to patriotic duties and so forth. I want to bring out something that happened here last Monday when the gentleman from Ward 14 got up and made a statement that according to the record, as I understood it, he was going to take me out and teach me the rules and regulations of the Council,—not the way the Boston Post wrote it up, and they wrote it twice in one column, that Coffey backed away from the councilor from Ward 14, because Coffey won't back away from anybody, no matter who the hell he is, in this city. He never has and never will. I have always been an independent and am going to end up that way and, as I said before, with the attitude I take I probably will end up on the W. P. A., but that is the way I want to end up. At least, I will be my own boss even in that job. Nobody is going to tell me what to do or how to do it. Now, while I have the floor, I want to go briefly into a few things that have happened here the past few weeks. In fact, for the four years I have been here I have been particularly disgusted with the Boston Post reporter telling the councilors what to do and how to vote. I am not the only one who has been disgusted. One time when I first came up here the members got together and were going to bar the press from coming into executive session only for one reason, that they only print the things they want to print. If you do not sit in with them, if you are not a "stooge" or do not do as they tell you,—and I am referring to the Post specifically,—then they tear you apart in the press. Now I heard it time and time again. We have heard the Post reporter say, "Doubt a quorum; let us get out of here; call the meeting off." He and roamed around this chamber until I got so fed up with him that a month ago I got up and demanded he be seated. Three weeks ago I demanded he be seated, and two weeks ago, or a week ago last Friday, I got up and demanded he be seated, and one of the other reporters thought I was making an attack on him. I am sorry he thought so, because I have a lot of respect for him. But they tell me this other reporter who thought I was making an attack on him wanted to know if he could bring suit against me. If he gets anything, I will split it with him. I never got anything. Everybody I run into has got fish hooks. It goes in but won't come out, but it just goes to show you what a reporter thinks. He wants to know if he can sue me, and yet they can go down in their paper and tear us apart and if we open our mouth at the next meeting they tear us apart the next week, and that will go on continuously until we become aroused or they try to make us see the light of day, and do as they tell us to do. Now, briefly, I will go over the Boston Post. To begin with, you remember the Cocoanut Grove fire. You remember how they screamed to high heaven about the Cocoanut Grove building. It was a firetrap; they wanted the responsible parties sent away; they wanted them prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. May I ask anybody in the gallery here if they have ever been in the Boston Post building? It is the biggest firetrap in the entire city, and if there was a fire over there today there would be hundreds of persons burned to death. I know people who work in the Boston Post who fear the place as a firetrap. Do you know their pressrooms are four floors underground with only one stairway leading down and leading up? Do you know they have a dozen or two dozen rooms on the fourth and fifth floors with no back exit, or side exit, and no back or side windows, and the only way you can get down is the stairs you come up? If there was a fire over there of any extent, I am positive hundreds of those employees working in the Boston Post would be burned to death. But do I have to go any further than the Mayor's election six years ago when in big screaming headlines the Boston Post said in practical terms that the Cardinal endorsed Maurice J. Tobin against James M. Curley for Mayor of Boston? The way that read, it didn't state the facts—it just continued on to mislead the people of Boston that the Cardinal himself was supporting Maurice J. Tobin for Mayor, and to add insult to injury they had their staff of employees and their kids that sell papers go out and give those papers outside of every church in Boston because if you remember that was a holiday of obligation. Now, there have been a couple of editorials written, I imagine, by the Post reporter right here because he also wrote one for another paper he writes for, condemning the members of the Boston City Council. I will ask you people in all fairness if you wouldn't want us to thresh everything we have got to say right here on the floor so any member or any person in the city can come in the gallery and listen to what we have to discuss. Isn't it better than going in a back room and arranging things before we come out here? Isn't it good to see two sides in the Council? Don't you think you are getting a better return for your money in the City of Boston when you have both sides given here? You will know everything is not packed and know when we come out here we are openly discussing anything before us and that there are two sides? We fight it out. Sometimes we get a little hot, and may I ask a man in the gallery if he never had a fight at some time or other, and isn't it good to have that fight and get it out of your system? But you do not want us "stooges" or "yes" men. If you did, the twenty-two of us would leave the chamber and put rubber stamps here and when anything comes up you could just stamp it. But I think there are a lot of men in this Council who have the respect of people. I know their views and I know the stand they take. Sometimes we are asked to do certain things, and I say, thank God there are enough of us to say, "We won't do it. We do not see eye to eye with you and we are not going to do as you request." If a thing is fair and reasonable, of course we will go along with it. That is only natural. But I was glad to get on my feet today. I thought I was not going to get unanimous consent, but I had an order all ready so I could talk anyhow. But I was glad of this opportunity because we cannot go on the radio and attack the Boston Post. To begin with, it costs money, and when you have a gang of kids and are in the Boston City Council, you are not going to save very much. I will tell you that. It is not like some smaller bodies where there are only seven or eight men, and they can operate behind closed doors, and they know the members and they can go in and agree to what they want and come out and pass it unanimously, and the company thinks they are getting a good shake and probably a year later they wake up that probably something has been put over. But I am glad of the opportunity to be recorded in the minutes of the meeting. That is as far as it will go. The press won't touch it. I do not expect them to, but I have to say in all fairness to the gentleman who thought I was making an attack on him that I was not. My remarks may have been a little hot, but they were meant exclusively for the Post reporter, and I want to thank the Christian Science Monitor reporter, the Traveler reporter,—they have been fair to us. The Globe reporter has been impartial and very fair, and I will have to take my hat off to the Hearst newspapers because they have been more than fair to the Boston City Council.

Later in the session Coun. KELLY said: Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Kelly asks unanimous consent to make a statement. The Chair hears no objection.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I want to congratulate you on your election as President of the Council for the year 1944. I saw fit to be in the other group. One thing I have always done while I have been a member of this Body and in private life and in public life—there is one thing I have always been admired for by people in private or public life, even those who do not like me personally,—and that is that I keep my word. It was amusing for me to hear the councilor from Ward 1 say he was a potential candidate on the first ballot. If he was in our group, I know if he was the candidate on the first ballot I would have to go along with him. The first time I heard he was to be a candidate on the first ballot was when he got up on the floor after the presidency was decided. I had not made up my mind who I was going to vote for until Councilor Hannon made the speech in behalf of Councilor Hanley. If Councilor Coffey was to be the man on the first ballot, I would have gone along with him, as I gave my word I was going to stay loyal to that group. I will agree with Councilor Coffey that there are a lot of underhanded methods going on in the contest for the presidency. Councilor Kelly doesn't have to take a back seat with anybody. I may never be President of the Boston City Council. I probably won't be. I don't like the underhanded methods that are going on, but no matter if there is one member of the Council or many members of the Council who do not like me personally, one thing they always admire is when I give my word I always keep it, no matter what goes on in the City Council. Whether on the winning or losing side, I always know what is going to happen. But to get back to the underhanded methods. Certain members of the group were afraid my name might be proposed as a member of the group and so they saw fit to go after me among the members of our own group,—the same gentlemen who probably had some underhanded propaganda about Councilor Hanley, which I did not pay any attention to, and I resent it. I resent it because the people in my district have seen fit to send me here on four different occasions and have seen fit and been willing to allow me to carry every one of the precincts in my ward, a record for the City of Boston. The underhanded propaganda was this, and I want it to go in the record because I am going to use it later on in the year. "Kelly is a good fellow, but what is the use of putting him up in the President's chair because he wouldn't have time to conduct the duties of the office of President because, unfortunately, he is conducting a laundry business in Dorchester." True, Mr. President, I conduct a laundry business. I have been in the laundry business for twenty years. That is my living, Mr. President. I do not make my living as a member of the Boston City Council, and I am honest enough to admit it. I am working to support my family in the laundry business. I am proud I am in the laundry business. I can truthfully say on this floor I do not have to bow to any contractor in the entire City of Boston, as in not one of my political campaigns have I ever gone to any contractor to help me out. I will never go to any contractor. I do not want the contractors and their money. They can keep it. I will go up in public life or I will go out the way I came in. I want to take this opportunity to be on the floor, as it is probably my last term, because I am running for higher office out in Dorchester this year. I am confident I am going to be successful, and I invite those contractors to come into my district and spend their money, and then it will be Kelly versus the contractors, and I am satisfied that Kelly will come out on top. I do not hold any personal animosity against any member of the Boston City Council. I once again congratulate you, Mr. President, upon your election, but there is one thing I have always been admired for in private life and in public life, and I will go down through the days, sink or swim with it, that when I have made a promise to any member of this Council or when I have made any promise to anybody in private or public life, I have always seen fit to keep my word, and that is why no matter when they say to "stop Kelly," at least they always admire him because he has kept his word.

OCCUPATIONAL TAX.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Resolved, That the members of the City Council indorse the statement of Auditor Charles Fox pertaining to the adoption of the occupational tax similar to the one now in existence in the city of Philadelphia; and be it further

Resolved, That the City Council request his Excellency to call a special session of the Legislature for the purpose of enacting legislation to accomplish this purpose.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I was very happy to read in the newspapers this week, or last week, a statement by the Auditor of the City of Boston, Charles Fox. I was very happy to see it because it received headlines in the newspaper. This statement was made on the floor of the Council several years ago, not once, but several times on occasions by myself. Charlie Fox has been the Auditor of the City of Boston for a great many years, and he above all knows more about the financial structure of the city than any other person in the entire city. He fully realizes the injustice of the taxation of property owners alone for the expenses incurred by the City of Boston during the period of a year. Charlie Fox, knowing the financial situation of the City of Boston, knowing that in 1930 this city had an assessed valuation of over two billion dollars and knowing that today we have an assessed valuation of less than $1,400,000,000, a reduction of 25 per cent from the assessed valuation, full well realizes that unless we have some other form of income which will take care of the expenses which have not been reduced anywhere near proportionately, something is going to happen to the financial structure of the City of Boston. Unfortunately, the Legislature has seen fit to place upon the shoulders of the City of Boston too many burdens for the taxpayers of the City of Boston. We have to pay out money for things that do not concern the City of Boston, such as the Suffolk County taxes, taxes for Winthrop, Revere and Chelsea, such as the Boston Elevated Railway deficit charge that we have paid during the past few years in a sum of over two million dollars. We also have to pay to the state annually many millions of dollars by reason of the fact that the state's budget must be met at the end of the year, and if the state expends $90,000,000 in annual appropriations—$70,000,000 by their method of income—the cities and towns of the State of Massachusetts must make up the deficit. Consequently the City of Boston is taxed anywhere from $4,000,000 to $7,000,000 a year. Something has got to be done to alleviate the situation. It is true that our Welfare up to the present year increased from 1930 from $5,000,000 to $13,000,000. There is going to be a reduction somewhere in the Welfare, but our Old Age tax and our Mothers' Aid tax have gone up considerably, so at the end of the year our Welfare burden will still be great. We have had to increase the wages of the city employees. It was only humanly necessary. They had to live the same as other employees in the city, and I am sorry to say this now, that city employees do not receive as much money as they should to meet the high increased cost of living. Now, how are we going to amend the situation? How are we going to bring in sufficient income to take care of this high tax rate? If we do not do it, notwithstanding the fact that the Mayor of Boston has done a good job in reducing the funded debt of the city by over $20,000,000 during the six years he has been in office,—nevertheless we are going to have a post-war period that is going to cost the City of Boston many, many millions of dollars because it is our duty. I know the Mayor is sympathetic and we in the Council are sympathetic to carrying out a post-war program, so those boys when they return from across the sea will be given employment, respectable employment, and not be given any aid. We must obtain revenue from some source. The Legislature affords only the opportunity to take from those who own real estate. It is an unjust tax. There has been a ceiling on rents, although the owners of real estate must pay increased costs of maintenance of the real estate. They must pay high plumbing, high roofing and high carpenter bills and high taxes. They have had no alleviation at all so far as their expenses are concerned, and now they still have to pay very high taxes. I am not protecting the property owners as landlords because it really affects the tenants, because the moment the ceiling price goes off the tenant must eventually meet the cost of the landlord's demands. It eventually enures to the benefit of both the landlord and the tenant. We must have added income. We take in a small amount of money for license fees,—a couple of million dollars, which is a small amount so far as the City of Boston finances are concerned. Now in the city of Philadelphia they had the same proposition to meet. They were on the verge of bankruptcy, but fortunately, unlike the City of Boston, Philadelphia is a Republican city in a Republican state, while Boston is a Democratic city in a Republican state, and the Republican Legislature of the state, excluding those who come from the City of Boston who understand the interests of the City of Boston, has always been inimical to our interests. As a result the City of Boston has suffered greatly. If the city of Philadelphia can take in over $26,000,000 in a year for the purpose of supplementing their income from real estate, so that the tax rate can be reasonably around $28 a thousand, why isn't it possible for the City of Boston to do likewise? It is a fair tax. People who come from outside of the City of Boston, live outside of the City of Boston, come into the city to obtain their employment, to gain their livelihood, and as a result are able to put bread and butter upon the tables of their families. If they use our services, our public services which cost the city many millions of dollars, why shouldn't they pay some proportion of our tax? I refer specifically to many school teachers and other employees who live outside of the City of Boston and take the City of Boston money and still do not want to live and pay taxes in the City of Boston. They are to be condemned severely. I think that this is a fair proposition, Mr. President, I think we are entitled to live like any other municipality in the entire country. We are not going to live if we do not get some form of added taxation. I think this is a fair request, to ask the Legislature to convene and pass some sort of an occupational tax for the City of Boston. I know the State Legislature has been hostile to the interests of the City of Boston from time immemorial, but they have got to come to the conclusion that the people of Newton, Brookline and Waban and all other surrounding cities and towns that come into the City of Boston to earn their living and go out to Brookline, Newton and Waban, pay no tax at all for Welfare because they do not have any Welfare. People who have to go on the Welfare naturally come to live in urban areas like Boston. I think the time has come when Boston should receive some justice from the State Legislature. I think it is a fair request for us to make to ask the Governor to call a special session of the Legislature so that Boston will be prepared in its post-war period to spend many millions of dollars for those boys who are expending not only their dollars but their lives so that their children may remain in a free country.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I do not agree with the gentleman from Ward 12. I can fully appreciate that some other means of taxation or some other method must be adopted whereby the real estate tax burden on the taxpayers of Boston will be reduced. No question at all but they are being overtaxed, but, Mr. President, I do not believe that what has been advocated is the solution. I think the only solution is to economize and to urge relief in the State Legislature by asking them to consolidate the metropolitan area into one large city. I see no reason why the Legislature should not adopt that policy of consolidation. Boston has a population of about 800,000 people and Metropolitan Boston has a population of over 2,000,000, and the majority of the people living in Metropolitan Boston actually work in the City of Boston, and depend on the facilities that the City of Boston renders, which the citizens of the City of Boston pay taxes on. I feel, Mr. President, that the only solution is consolidation of the metropolitan area into one large city. I realize that many of the local governments for selfish reasons will not approve of this, but nevertheless it is the only remedy. I think the American public today is being overtaxed and I am not going to be in favor of taxing the citizens of Boston or the metropolitan area when we can and should advocate something which should be done, and that is consolidation of the metropolitan area into one large City of Boston. It would mean the doing away with a lot of unnecessary duplication of services,—fire department, police department, and many other things,—and it would mean the saving of millions of dollars to the taxpayers of not only the City of Boston but the entire metropolitan area. If big business was managing the various corporations, municipal corporations in our metropolitan area, they would not for one moment allow these many duplications of services being rendered by the individual corporations. It means not only high taxes to the City of Boston, but Brookline, Newton and every other section. Mr. President, I do not think it is proper for the City Council to go on record as advocating more taxes on the people of Boston. I think this matter properly should be referred either to the Executive Committee or to the Committee on Rules for further discussion as the people of Boston and the metropolitan area today are suffocated with taxes. What we need is economy in government, and what we need is good management in government and not mismanagement. If the Legislature would only heed what I say that we should consolidate the metropolitan area into one large city, that would make Boston, the capital of Massachusetts, one of the largest cities in the United States, a position which it rightfully deserves. I trust, sir, that you will refer this matter to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, I had not intended to say anything about this particular tax plan, but I have heard some interesting arguments for and against during the last ten minutes. My first recollection of any reference to such a plan was back in 1941 in the Taxation Committee of the Legislature. I do not recall fully whether it was heard as a petition or plea, or whether it was discussed off the record. However, I do recall that the first person whom I heard make reference to such an occupational tax was the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation, Henry Long. I have been trying to draw upon my memory whether it was entirely informal discussion and never committed to paper at that time, but as I understood it then the plan was to tax every worker who lived outside of Boston but whose occupation brought him into Boston every day in exactly the same manner as Boston residents who worked outside of municipal Boston but who lived in municipal Boston would pay taxes to the community in which they worked. I don't know that there is anything wrong with that plan when we take into account the benefits that are extended to the population that comes into the corporate limits of the city every day. It is my understanding that two million people, by one means or another, come into Boston either to shop or to work. Probably out of 800,000 people in Boston there may well be about 225,000 wage earners, roughly, two out of three of the residents. Of that number it is extremely difficult to say how many go for their daily bread to other communities. I don't know why the facilities of the City of Boston should be placed at the disposal free of charge of such a huge portion of the Massachusetts population which is something like four million. If two million move into the city in any given business day, and one half, at least one half, come in to earn their living,—and who pay all of their taxes in the district in which they live,—Boston ought to be compensated in some degree for the services and the facilities that are at their disposal for the period of time that they are here each day. The instant that they step over the line from Cambridge, Somerville, Everett, Revere, Malden and further out and come into Boston, there is a burden on Boston to guarantee their protection. They can make our libraries available to themselves during their noon hours and other periods of relaxation. Our parks and playgrounds and beaches are theirs for the asking. They have the full protection of the Police and Fire Departments. They have hospital facilities for which we all know they never pay. Those things ought to be considered honestly and sincerely by every person in Boston, even by those who find themselves employed in other districts with a consequent proportionate tax upon them. As for broadening out Boston into the metropolitan area and calling it corporate Boston, that is hardly feasible. We are in bad enough financial condition right now, and if we undertake the burden of bailing out nearby cities and towns that have for their size the highest tax rate in the country, we are not going to enrich ourselves. Mr. President, you have been in the Legislature and you know at first guess, which would probably be the correct guess, that the Senators and Representatives in the General Court from the districts that now comprise Greater Boston but which are corporate entities themselves would never vote for merger with Boston. I think that kills off the plea that we ought to broaden out the physical limits of the city by legislative action. You cannot have legislative action in the negative. You must have a sufficient number of votes and by adding up the huge block of votes that would result from the combined efforts and the total tally of the members in the Legislature from the districts that Councilor Chase says ought to make up the new corporate Boston, we know that there would be a sufficiency with their friends to defeat such a plan. I do believe that so long as we hold out advantages to a nonresident working population, then it is fair, it is proper, it is right and it is just that they pay some small cost of the burden of operating the City of Boston.

Coun. MUCHNICK—It seems from what I have heard in the last few minutes there is considerable difference of opinion about the effect of this, and I move it be sent to the Executive Committee for further action.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, on a point of information. Will you please have the clerk read the order once again?

President KERRIGAN—The clerk will read the order.

(The order was read by the clerk.)

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will refer the matter to the Executive Committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

COUNCILOR TAYLOR TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

President KERRIGAN designated Coun. Taylor as Acting Chairman of the Executive Committee.

STRIKING OUT OF ALLOWANCE FOR LEGAL SERVICES FOR POLICE COMMISSIONER.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be instructed to strike out, forthwith, the item, in any amount for legal services for the Police Commissioner of the City of Boston, from the budget for the Police Department for the year 1944.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President. I hope in presenting this order that I shall not be accused from any quarter of having been motivated by anything I read in the papers recently. Aside from my right to read the papers where public opinion is generally crystallized, I have the right, and I intend to exercise the right, to place my own interpretations on any actions of anybody who is a public official and who in the prosecution of his duties takes upon himself the conduct and the behavior of a persecutor. I hold no brief for the police. Of all the members of this Body I am probably the one who ought at any time, reasonably or unreasonably, to slug even in the open or from ambush, but I cannot do that to satisfy any personal feelings in that matter because long before there were any police officers there were human beings and we witnessed the sorry spectacle of several men of long service to the City of Boston and in that respect of long service to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to themselves, to the United States of America, dragged before a court of justice, you might say, in that they were kept in the headlines from day to day as violent, vicious characters, corrupt and obscene in all their official actions, and we were led to believe, at great cost to the public treasury to which we all contribute, that here at least was the root of everything evil. After six or eight months of playing with those men, not to mention the torment of mind it caused their families, the chief prosecuting officer of the Commonwealth decided he had nothing on them, and mark you well, Mr. President, the paradox, I should say the contradiction in his attitude, he finds nothing in the indictment that warrants prosecution. Lo and behold, in the next breath, over his own signature, he says, "I turn over these cases to you, Mr. Commissioner," and in effect says, "Get a competent attorney," "What is a competent attorney?" What does that mean? Unless tacitly he is saying publicly that he is not a competent attorney. He failed, and now the department head is saddled with the burden not of prosecuting but of persecuting. For some years past it is my information that an item of $7,500 has appeared annually in the budget of the Police Department of the City of Boston for the express purpose of paying legal expenses. I wonder how much I shall have to beg any members of this Council to go along on the logical, sensible assumption that when the courts, when the courts were kept out of the case, by action of the prosecuting officer, supreme in his profession in the Commonwealth, how should I have to beg to get the Council to agree that the Police Commissioner of the City of Boston should not be allowed to spend $7,500 or any part thereof to pay a competent attorney in the selfsame case? I hope the rule is suspended and the order is adopted, Mr. President.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will refer the matter to the Executive Committee.

ELIGIBILITY OF SHIP LOADERS FOR HOUSING PROJECT TENANCY.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, is of the unanimous opinion that men engaged in the work of loading and discharging ship cargo in Boston be classified as Defense Workers, and therefore eligible for tenancy, as Defense Workers, in any of the Housing Projects under the jurisdiction of the Boston Housing Authority; and be it further

Resolved, That the Boston City Council respectfully requests the Boston Housing Authority to use its good offices with the Federal Housing Authority, to the end that acceptance of workers, so designated, may be permitted by the Boston Housing Authority.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, on September 28 of this year a bulletin was received from the Federal Housing Authority in Washington that all local authorities restrict as of that date apartments then available or that became available in the future to what they call migrant war workers. It has never been recognized that longshoremen are defense workers, and yet they are loading and unloading every day in Councilor Scannell's district, in yours, in Councilor Russo's district, and in mine, and in Councilor Coffey's district nothing but tools and implements of war. Trade and commerce have been suspended, and yet those men cannot be called defense workers, and therefore are unavailable for tenancy in the housing projects locally. They cannot get in in the low-rent category because we all know they are making double and three times the amount allowed in the low-rent categories. How the Federal Housing Authority could justify such a bulletin at any time when we have worthy citizens in Boston who are helping to pay the freight and whose children long after they are gone will have to carry the burden of that indebtedness is beyond my comprehension. I believe, Mr. President, that that is one of the best resolutions that has come in here. Think it over yourself. They are loading and unloading tools and implements of war, trade and commerce having been suspended, and yet they are not called defense workers. I hope the resolution passes.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

CLARIFICATION OF REMARKS ON DECEMBER 31.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I ask permission to clarify the minutes of the meeting of December 31.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Carey will proceed.

Coun. CAREY—I specifically refer, Mr. President, to the remarks made in connection with the Board of Recreation that was proposed and to be reported back by the Playground Committee at that meeting. I refer specifically to my remarks on page 421. The remarks I wish to clarify I will read:

"There was a meeting of the Playground Committee here within the past ten days, and several appeared here who were in favor of the setting up of this board. There wasn't a single one that appeared here that didn't have a personal interest in this matter. They don't care whether there is better recreation. They are on the pay roll of somebody who is pushing the cause also."

I desire to clarify the record, Mr. President, because one of the gentlemen who is at present a member of this Body is greatly disturbed over those remarks. I refer to the gentleman from Ward 5 (Coun. Bayley) in whom I have the utmost confidence and for whom I have the greatest respect. As we are aware, the Board of Recreation bill was proposed in the Legislature and considerable interest shown there by former Councilor and Representative Shattuck and the Honorable Joseph Lee. Of course, Mr. Shattuck and Mr. Lee did have a personal interest in that matter, which was their own business, and I do not desire to question in any way their motives. Both those gentlemen have demonstrated that they are interested to a great extent in the recreation movement in the City of Boston. The Honorable Mr. Bayley, elected by the people of Ward 5, also appeared here and spoke in behalf of that bill. I know, of course, that Mr. Bayley had no interest or desire to get on anyone's pay roll in appearing here in favor of that bill. He is a respected gentleman, one of the most highly respected gentlemen in the city, and in order that he might not be disturbed, that he might have been included in those I said on that occasion were interested in that bill only because they wanted to get on the pay roll, I want the record clarified. I still insist, however, there were some here that day who had no interest in recreation as we know it, but who were doing their darndest to get on the pay roll of some of those who are vitally interested. I am only too happy to clarify the record in regard to Mr. Bayley, because he is a respected gentleman and would not be a party to any effort to get on anybody's pay roll in order to put any matter over on the City Council.

President KERRIGAN—The correction is duly noted and recorded.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. COFFEY the Council voted to take a recess at 4:05 p. m., subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President KERRIGAN at 5 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORT.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

Report on resolve (referred today) approving adoption of occupational tax—recommending reference to the Committee on Legislative Matters. The report was accepted, and the resolve was referred to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

FLAGPOLE FOR BILLINGS FIELD, WEST ROXBURY.

Coun. SHANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor, through the Park Commissioner, provide a sufficient sum of money in the 1944 budget of the Park Department for a flagpole at Billings Field, West Roxbury, to be erected and dedicated in honor of men and women of that locality who are in the armed services of the United States.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REAL ESTATE TAX EXEMPTION FOR SERVICE MEN.

Coun. MUCHNICK offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Board of Assessors be directed, through his Honor the Mayor, to request a legal opinion from the City Law Department as to whether applications for exemptions of 1944 real estate taxes may be accepted from service men after February 1, 1944, and acted upon under the provisions of chapter 412 of the Acts of 1943, when such men are inducted into service after February 1st or in any case where such applications for any reason are not filed until after February 1.

Coun. MUCHNICK—Mr. President, within the last two weeks Commissioner Long of the Department of Corporations and Taxation has ruled that applications of service men received after February 1st of this year cannot be honored under the act referred to in the order. It seems to me through a reading of the act that it is clearly the intention of the Legislature that all service men who are inducted into service either before or after February 1st should have the taxes on their homes abated. It also seems rather unfair that there is so little publicity given to this and many men may not know about it, and will not file their applications for abatement on time, and thus will lose the benefits of the act that was created solely for them. Further, in view of the fact that most of the people concerned with this are the married men who will go into service and where it is the married men who are now being taken in such great numbers, it seems to me our own Board of Assessors should request a legal opinion from the Law Department and, if necessary, through the Law Department from the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth to see whether or not the effective date can in any way be changed. I ask suspension of the rules and passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SHELTER FOR ELEVATED PATRONS AT BRIGHAM CIRCLE.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a shelter, with windows, for the convenience of patrons at Brigham Circle, Ward 10.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I will be brief and merely want to say that for a long time there has been a great need of this shelter there at Brigham Circle, since people have to stand for anywhere from five to twenty minutes for a street car and in cold weather and on rainy days hover in the doorways of the stores there. All of a sudden the street car comes in and they hurry out in the middle of the street for the car and very often just avoid very serious accident. There has been a long-felt need for that shelter and I hope the Mayor will lose no time in transferring the request to the trustees, and that the shelter will be constructed in a short time. I ask suspension of the rules.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

DELIVERIES OF ANTHRACITE COAL.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the Solid Fuels Administrator in Washington for the purpose of obtaining larger shipments of anthracite coal to Boston and that he also take up the matter of delivering small quantities of anthracite coal to residents of Boston who cannot afford to purchase same in ton lots.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, there is a situation here in this City of Boston where the poor of this city cannot get coal deliveries because during last summer when the rich people or the medium-class people of the city could go out and buy their coal, the poor of this city could not buy this coal, this anthracite in small lots. From my experience and my information there is a coal shortage in this city. In my observation through the city in the past week we have run into the situation where in South Boston, Roxbury and the South End section and the West End and the North End sections of the city, people have been carrying 100-pound bags of coal on their backs. Now that is something that cannot exist in this city. The leading coal dealers in this city—I mean the hard coal dealers—should do something about this. Recently there was a conference in the Mayor's office and they gave the Mayor of Boston a beautiful picture that there is not going to be a coal shortage in Boston this winter. I say it is time to act and act now because from my experience and information it is going to be that the rich get richer and the poor get poorer. It is about time that there was something done where these small stores that used to sell twenty-five or fifty pounds of coal to a person could get some hard anthracite that these poor people can use in their kitchens. It is also about time that these rich coal companies took a moral obligation on themselves to take care of the poor people of this city. It is going to be, in a very short while, where the poor will be cold in this city and there is not going to be anything done until the horse is stolen from the barn. I am asking the Mayor of Boston not to listen to some of these fantastic stories these coal dealers tell, because I know from where I talked and looked into the situation,—and bring the Washington authorities on here and find out if the poor of this city can be delivered small lots of coal and not the rich getting four and five tons. I therefore move for the suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, it is a really bad situation to exist in the City of Boston, especially when we have in mind that the people of the city and of this nation were told about a year ago for patriotic purposes, that they ought to have patriotic sentiments, and the majority all fell in line to change their oil burners back to a coal system. It seems to me, Mr. President, these families who removed their oil burners and went back to coal, now some individuals find it very hard to have their orders filled. I know instances whereby coal orders have been in since away back in the summer and up to the present time they have not received their coal allotment, even though their orders were paid in cash away back in the summer months. I have spoken to some of these companies that I have called on the telephone asking them if they would kindly bring in some coal to these poor families that were without any heat and having someone sick with this influenza, but up to the present time I have been unsuccessful in having some orders delivered to these families. The reason these companies give is that they are not receiving the amount they should receive in the City of Boston to take care of the people. There is something wrong somewhere, and I heartily agree with the councilor from Ward 6 that something ought to be done. These coal dealers seem to blame it on to Congress and therefore I do hope that Congress will do something about it in order to see that some more shipments of coal are brought into the City of Boston to take care of these people for these cold months.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, it makes me laugh sometimes and laugh out loud in the wrong places when I read of the advice that was poured into our minds ever since Pearl Harbor, to be patriotic and give up and sacrifice and do without, and to practice self-abnegation in the interest of the war effort. We did not get comparable sacrifice on the part of people in Washington who were controlling our destinies. Every word of the order is true. Every word Councilor Russo said is true, and isn't it significant that the first three men to speak on the order come from the tenement districts of the city where the slightest wind blowing through the cracks of the old houses in which these people perforce have to live feels like a blast from the Arctic? We were advised a year ago, Mr. President, to convert from oil to coal and yet in spite of the criticism that has been leveled against a certain newspaper here today, that newspaper was the only one in Boston that called the turn in November or December of a year ago when it said, quoting Harold L. Ickes, that "the coal situation in the East will be worse next year than the oil situation is at the present time." We were forewarned about it. Now I said there is a great deal at which to laugh in some of the instructions that we as patriotic American citizens were asked to adopt, and the biggest laugh of the lot is the fact that you cannot keep warm and comfortable the homes of the poor families who are supplying the armed service with men and women. Since they are in the majority in this country, necessarily they are in the majority when it comes to supplying the man and woman power to fight a war. Business as usual was to be suspended immediately after Pearl Harbor. "You cannot do business as usual; you have to sacrifice and do without." And yet when the smelly mess of the coal strike was finally revealed to the people of America we found out no punitive action was taken against John L. Lewis or the United Mine Workers because they contributed $500,000 to the Democratic coffers in 1940. They could continue business as usual. They could strike and they did strike and they caused a loss in production of something like 300,000-odd tons of coal per day. Business as usual with the right to strike, and here in Boston, one of the coldest cities in the East, we are now feeling the results of the right to strike. Do you recognize the right to strike when your life was on the line for as long as they wanted it? You need not answer. I am not talking to you as an individual, sir. I am talking to you as one who typifies the American service man. Did any one of you strike? Did you have your own way? Did you strike for $60 a month when getting $50? Did you strike for a twenty-two-hour day when you were required to be there twenty-four hours? Did you strike because you didn't like your sergeant? Democracy,—we have seen it fail miserably because they won't take care of their own first. That has been my plea for three years,—take care of your own first. They have the colossal brass gall to allow in the newspapers immediately upon the capitulation of Italy a small item that millions of people who did not have astigmatism must have seen and read: "Immediate diversion of coal supplies to somebody that was killing our boys twenty-four hours before." You saw the job that the same New Deal did in 1941, appropriate for the forty-eight states of this union $875,000,000 for the W. P. A. to keep honest, God-fearing, decent American men and women alive,—the lowest appropriation in years, as a consequence of which thousands of them were knocked off on Friday night, June 27, 1941, four days before the start of the Government's new business year, and yet not long thereafter the same Congress, with its heart bleeding for an ally across the water, appropriated seven billion dollars Lend-Lease for England. Russia was not in the war then. England received eight times, or seven times, to be exact, in Lend-Lease the appropriation for American citizens. Can't you be proud? Councilor Scannell is right and so is Russo. We have poor people in this city who won't be alive when the frost leaves the ground, and it is going to be the fault directly of a domineering, despotic, overbearing, tyrannical New Deal in Washington that allows us to suffer while they placate with aid of every conceivable kind an enemy who the day before was killing our boys. I only hope that not one word of this goes in the press. I am not talking for publication. I am talking to God-fearing, honest American citizens like myself. I hope, who have some interest in this problem. Excuses,—I will go home tonight and from six o'clock until I go to bed I will receive sixty or seventy phone calls. Forty or fifty per cent of them will be, "Leo, where can I get some coal?" And what will I tell them? "Call Capitol 8320." And then they will find out it is not very profitable, for the excellent reason that there is no coal, yet the real hot feature of all I have had to say is the strikes that they have authorized, and then according to one of the most powerful coal dealers in Boston,—I do not want to work him any hardship by quoting him by name,—but I would like to tell you all off the record who he is. He said to me when I complained to him of the quality of coal that a friend of mine had received, he said, "That is the mine sweepings or slag, and after the strike is settled they send it out first in order to answer the demand." Stuff that is thrown away, and that is all clinkers after ten minutes of burning. Imagine what the poor are getting, because apparently nobody loves them. And he said, "Councilor, I often think that the mine operators do this and encourage strikes in order to make use of the slag that otherwise they cannot sell, but it goes out first in carload lots as soon as the strike is settled." America the beautiful! A beautiful what? The beautiful fool for every foreigner that wants to embroil us in their wars; take our manpower and woman power and reduce it if not to death and injury at least to idiocy, sending us back our boys that are lunatics, that are coming back to mothers and fathers who cannot get coal. That is all I have to say.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I think that the order introduced by Councilor Scannell brings home to every one of us something that we have not been lax about, but have been unable to do a great deal about. The same situation prevails relatively in the ability of the small user to obtain coal this year that existed a year ago when that small oil user, range oil user particularly, was not able to get his range oil, and only because proper provision had not been made by the powers that be and those who are responsible to see to it that the door-to-door peddler could get his hands on some coal this year. We have all had requests. Most of them have come from the unfortunate who are only able to buy one or two hundred pounds at a time. I don't know whether the City Charter allows it. If it does not, I think some emergency rights should be given to the city to contract and buy and set aside thousands of tons of coal that these peddlers can get their hands on in order that the poor people in Councilor Scannell's and Councilor Russo's districts and Councilor Kinsella's district and the district of every one of us who represent the poorer sections of the city might have it available. Most of the people on old age assistance and other forms of relief are not able to buy a ton or two or three or five tons at a time. They haven't the money and have not the accommodation for it. So they are forced to buy in 100 or 200 pound or half-ton lots at a time. As Councilor Kinsella has well said, there hasn't been enough done to take care of the needs of those who are here. I am as charitable as anybody in this chamber, as charitable as anybody in this city; as charitable as anybody in this nation, but during the last week what do we have? We have a clothing drive,—clothing for whom? Not for the poor, the cold and the hungry of this country. We have filthy streets; no garbage collections; no ash collections. Why? Because the very limited equipment that this city has provided has not been able to take care of the situation. I say, confiscate this clothing. We cannot seem to confiscate the coal. Take care of the cold children in Boston,—the cold mothers and fathers, give them what they need as to clothing. If there is anything left, then let us ship it across. Charity begins at home, but you wonder sometimes where that home is. As was well stated by the councilor from Ward 2, you know most of the families are out there doing their bit in order that what we call home might be preserved, but the way things are going, when the boys come back there will be no homes, no home—why? Because there is hunger, there is cold, there is even nakedness. Any one of you gentlemen can leave here and on your way home tonight you will come across innumerable youngsters, both boys and girls, on the streets with shoes on that are shoes in name only and with clothing that is tattered and torn. It is about time we all asserted ourselves to a far greater degree. We want to help them across, but for God's sake let us help those at home first. Let us have something done to get this coal in small lots. Let us have something done to take this clothing and give it to the naked and the cold, and I will repeat that I am as charitable as anybody whether they are in Boston or throughout the United States, but I say, take care of our own first and let the over-supply be shipped.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I think it would be quite effective if a specific case were brought out here today. I do not think the press could do a greater service or perform a greater service than to bring this case to the coal dealers in Boston. Their reason for not giving coal to this particular family is that they did not deal with them last year. What would you infer from that? "We have the coal, but you are not our customer." I wish I could mention this family's name, but I do not think it would be fair to do so without his consent, but I will say he is the father of eight children, ranging from several months, new-born baby, up to about fourteen years. He says if it continues very much longer he will have no place to put the coal. He has chopped down the coal bins to try and keep the family warm. He has not had coal, not in the past week or two weeks or a month. He has not had coal all winter. The press can keep my name out if they wish to and I much prefer they would, but if there is some way if the press wants to ask me, if they care to, I will give the name and address provided they will not publicize it. Now I do not plead for just this family. After all a family with a father and mother and no children, or one or a few, is just as deserving as this family. But nevertheless, there is a family of eight children and a mother and father and they cannot get coal simply because they were not customers last year. I would gladly furnish more information to the press if they care to have it.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, there have been serious charges made on the floor of the Council that the coal dealers will not equitably distribute the fuel they have in their yards, and I think it behooves us to take some measure to see that the various coal dealers are forced to make even distribution of this coal. There is no reason why one family should be delivered two or three tons of coal and another family, because of economic circumstances cannot even get 200 pounds of coal. I think our state officials should take immediate action. With that in mind, I am introducing a resolution asking the State Fuel Administrator to take immediate steps for an investigation with the view of relieving this situation.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Whereas, There are many complaints in Boston that the coal dealers are not equitably distributing fuel among the householders of Boston; and

Whereas, There are many Boston people suffering from this inequitable distribution; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in regular meeting assembled, respectfully requests the State Fuel Administrator and Board of Necessities of Life to conduct an immediate investigation with a view to relieving this deplorable condition.

Adopted under a suspension of the rules.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN, at 5:30 p. m., to meet on Monday, January 17, 1944, at 2 p. m.

ELECTION OF CHAIRMAN

The Committee proceeded to the election of a Chairman, and the Secretary was directed to call the roll.

On roll call, the members respectively voted as follows:

For PATRICK J. FOLEY—Messrs. McDevitt, Norton, Ward and White—4.

NOT VOTING—Dr. Foley—1.

On motion of Mr. White, the election of Dr. Foley as Chairman of the School Committee was declared unanimous, and Dr. Foley assumed the chair.

Dr. Foley: Gentlemen, members of the School Committee: First, I want to thank you for electing me Chairman of this distinguished body. It is an honor of which I may well be proud, and I assure you that I am grateful for your confidence in me.

In accepting the honor, I am deeply conscious of the importance of the position and the obligations it imposes. I am conscious, too, of the responsibilities that are part and parcel of the chairmanship—responsibilities to the more than five thousand men and women connected with the Boston school system and to the parents and children of the city. It is a double responsibility of grave concern—and I accept it in full realization of this fact.

The Boston school system is the best in the nation—and it is our duty to see that it remains in that exalted position. We owe this to the children; we owe it to the parents of the children; we owe it to the loyal instructors, teachers, masters, assistant superintendents and superintendent who have kept the standard so high, despite the handicap imposed by the war and the loss of several hundred of our fine teachers to the armed forces.

Never before have we faced a task so important to the future of our city—and to the nation. We are fighting a great war to keep America, America. We are fighting to preserve the right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness assured us by our constitution. And in the school system, it is our duty to ingrain this thought into the minds of the children of the schools, so that these future citizens will recognize the meaning of the words and live up to the spirit of this great democratic document.

Wars bring with them, always, problems that reach into every household—and into the school system itself. Today, juvenile delinquency is a serious menace and one that needs the embattled forces of both the household and the school system to combat.

It is not enough to say that the problem exists. It is not enough to say that it is the result of the war. We must see to it that it is stamped out and the youth of our land educated to a respect for our laws.

Boston is the cradle of liberty. From its famed Faneuil Hall, there has spread throughout the land, the spirit of freedom for all men without regard to race, creed or color. We are pledged to preserve this glorious heritage—and here and now I can assure every parent that this School Committee and the teachers and officials of the school system throughout the city are very conscious of this duty.

We are not unmindful that, one day, the children now in our schools will become preservers of our way of life; that, one day, they will occupy the places in the government of the city, state and nation now held by their parents. We are not unmindful, too, that "as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined" and that our school system must be fashioned with this thought in mind.

That this Committee and our educators have so fashioned it—I am sure no one can deny. That which has stood the test of time has been combined with the most advanced thought in modern education. At the same time our system of education teaches respect for our laws and our liberties and our teachers inculcate this respect, daily, into the minds and hearts of the children of our schools.

They recognize that any other course would undermine the very foundation of the school system. They stand, as Lincoln said, "firmly for the right, as God gives them to see the right." They need no instruction in this phase of their duty.

A long line of distinguished citizens has preceded me in this position—Chairman of the School Committee. I hope to preserve the high plane on which they have placed this chairmanship and to be worthy of the trust imposed.

Thank you!

Mr. McDevitt: As outgoing Chairman I would like to express publicly my thanks to the members of the Committee who have served during the past year.

I think we all agree that it has been one of the most critical years confronting the Boston School System, a year when our problems have been more serious than ever before. It was only through the close co-operation and the time given generously by the members of the present Committee that I have been enabled to guide this School Committee through this year of destiny. And I would like to thank each member publicly and to express to the next Chairman, Dr. Foley, that I am willing and ready to co-operate with him and the other members of the Committee during this coming year.

Mr. Norton: While we are on this subject I want to congratulate the members of this body for adhering to the idea of permitting each year some new member to hold the office of Chairman. I hope Mr. Ward will have the privilege of heading this Committee next year.

The office of Chairman of this Committee is the second highest honor in the city of Boston, second only to the office of Mayor of Boston.

I believe that the principle of rotation in office is fundamentally democratic. I only wish we could follow the principle of rotation right down through the system and that the members of our Board of Superintendents would be rotated in their duties each year so that each one can see each year what makes the system tick. It is a procedure that is followed in many of the leading corporations of the country, such corporations as the Standard Oil, the duPont Company and General Motors, so that in the event of the death of an important official there is someone to step into his place.

Mr. Ward: I want to congratulate Dr. Foley on his election to the chairmanship of this Committee and to congratulate the Committee in thus electing him. Like the presidency of the City Council it is a full year's job, except that in the case of the School Committee he serves a full year, whereas the president of the City Council may not be elected until July.

I hope during the coming year, Dr. Foley, that the members will co-operate as well as they have co-operated during the past year.

Mr. White: I offer you my congratulations, Dr. Foley, and I wish you a successful and efficient administration of your term of office. And I promise to co-operate in every way possible to make your efforts as Chairman of the School Committee produce the results that we all desire.

Chairman-elect: Thank you, Mr. White and members of the Committee.

The communication was placed on file and the seven orders passed.

OPENING OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS IN CONNECTION WITH YOUTH ORGANIZATION MOVEMENTS.

Mr. White: At this time I move as an order of the Boston School Committee that in our Extended Use of Schools program we co-operate with the Massachusetts youth organizations in making available all high school halls and gymnasiums and the facilities of all schools throughout the city during evening school nights, without extra charge, to all organizations co-operating for the benefit of youth and the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

We have a diminished evening school population, and during most of the evening school nights the facilities of our school buildings where evening schools are conducted are not occupied and are in darkness. One of the ways in which we can make these facilities useful is by co-operating with the organizations and groups that are carrying on for the elimination of juvenile delinquency. Wherever possible we should make those halls available without charge.

In this connection I would suggest that this Committee approve an order designating the assistant superintendent in charge of the Department of Extended Use as supervising director, so that we can organize in our evening schools and in our adult recreation department programs of supervised education for the youngsters.

Furthermore, I would like to ask the Superintendent to appoint Mr. McKenney and Mr. Mulroy and the assistant superintendents in charge of adult recreation and physical education to sit in conference and devise ways and means of extending evening recreation and supervised athletic programs throughout the fourteen evening centers.

Mr. Ward: We sat down at Faneuil Hall one day and the members of the School Committee agreed to co-operate in this program referred to by the Chairman in his acceptance speech, so that it might be made an integral part of our school curriculum and in this way combat the problem of juvenile delinquency.

I sat at that luncheon and everybody agreed to do this. There has been only one man who has carried the ball, and that has been Mr. Ford, of the Boston Record. Considering the support that he has received, I wouldn't blame him if he threw the thing out the window.

I would like to put this program in as a distinct part of our school curriculum. To me it is as important as the teaching in the classrooms.

I would ask that the fathers and mothers of these children be requested to come to these centers and co-operate to the fullest in a plan of recreation for the 'teen-age children. I do not care what it might cost.

It is our duty to the 100,000 children of this school system to do whatever we can through education, through sports and through entertainment, to keep these children away from the sources of crime which seem to be segregated in certain sections of Boston.

Mr. Bert Ford has worked untiringly on this problem. I do not know what co-operation he has received from the head masters and from the teachers. Every one of them should help in this work. It is only through their co-operation that the program can be successful. It is an important program. As members of the School Committee we should follow this through.

At the next meeting of this group which I believe is to be held at the Brighton High School, I would like to see the head masters of every school in the Brighton District, as well as the fathers and the mothers, so that a coordinated program can be established for that section. We should keep this thing rolling and should not let it die or become stagnant, or let it be the responsibility of one man. One man cannot carry the ball.

I would ask our Superintendent to impress on every member of the Board of Superintendents and on our school personnel the necessity of co-operation in this program. If we are going to combat this problem of juvenile delinquency each one of us will have to do his part in the work.

Mr. Norton: Any change that comes in the Boston School System must come from the top down and not from the bottom up. We must have the co-operation of all of the school administrators and executives as well as the head masters and others. We must give this thing the necessary direction from here and follow this thing through day after day and night after night.

Here we are in the midst of a great world war with this growing problem of juvenile delinquency in which our School Department wants to co-operate. Yet we have 260 school buildings which have cost over $70,000,000, extending over 47 square miles, and during most of the evening hours they are dark.

We are spending $300,000 on physical education and other extracurricular activities and we are hardly scratching the surface of this juvenile delinquency problem.

The moment you make a suggestion in a large school system you run into reaction; you run into conservatism; you run into the group that says, "You can't do any more." You cannot get to first base until you stop thinking in terms of the period of the Spanish-American War. Our thinking on this question should be brought up to date.

This School Committee is wholeheartedly for doing something. Yet we have 260 buildings dark during most of the evening hours when these youngsters are getting into trouble.

While this School Committee has been struggling to do something in physical education, what has been accomplished? We are the only large school system in America with no organized athletics in our junior high schools, where our youngsters are in the so-called 'teen-age, the acute age so far as the problem of juvenile delinquency is concerned. We are the only large city in America with no organized athletic program whatever in our junior high schools.

The moment that you try to do something you are told that nothing can be done. I think that something can be done and something ought to be done. Why shouldn't these gymnasiums be open during the evenings when we have night sessions in those buildings? When we ask why, we are told that it will interfere with the evening school program, that you cannot have two distinct groups in the building at the same time, that one is going to interfere with the other. As a matter of fact, we have so few people going to our evening schools that any program for the benefit of our youngsters should not cause any interference.

If there is anything that can be done I am wholeheartedly for it, but the direction has to come from 15 Beacon Street. Somebody up here has to be after it night after night and day after day.

For five years I have been talking of mass athletics, and ninety per cent of the youngsters graduating from our high schools do not take any part in organized athletics. Why cannot the system be changed? Why can't something be done? We need some promotion of these things. We started a swimming program and something was accomplished. One man at Mechanic Arts High School has taken every youngster who could not swim and has taught him to swim. With a little extra exercise on the part of each of those boys it took about half an hour a day five days a week. The result has been that every youngster has learned to swim. Why can't that be done in every high school?

Last year in our high schools every boy was requested to report at a certain tank for swimming instruction, and in one high school not a single boy reported at the tank for instruction.

Mr. McDevitt: Inasmuch as this committee which is going to meet at the Brighton High School has agreed to go ahead, we should give it our wholehearted support and enable it to function as it should.

Mr. Ward: The principal need of the children in that district is dancing instructors. Can we have dancing instructors appointed under this order?

Mr. White: That is a part of Mr. Mulroy's program in the Department of Extended Use.

Mr. McDevitt: With the co-operation of the Department of Extended Use and this Committee we ought to be able to start this program next Saturday night.

Mr. Norton: May we have a weekly report from the Superintendent on what is taking place in connection with this program? We ought to have a report every so often on what is going on in these evening centers.

Mr. Ward: I attended one meeting, and Mr. McDevitt and Mr. White attended another meeting. Each member was invited. So many times we set up these programs and there is no co-operation.

The problem of juvenile delinquency is not one that is prevalent in youngsters between six and ten. The children of eight, nine and ten years old do not know what it is all about. It is a problem that concerns the youngster who has carfare and who goes into Scollay Square and other sections of Boston where the occasions of juvenile delinquency are to be found.

Chairman: For some time we have not had the attendance in the evening centers that we should have. I think we should get Mr. Mulroy to see if it is possible to arrange a program that will meet the approval of Mr. Ford and his associates.

Mr. Ward: After all, you have a central head that this should function through. We do not want to have Mr. Mulroy stepping on the Superintendent's toes or on the toes of the assistant superintendent in charge of the Department of Extended Use.

Mr. White: My orders, if accepted by the School Committee, would make it incumbent on the School Committee and the Board of Superintendents to make the necessary money available for the instructors and for the various activities in the evening centers.

Mr. McDevitt: I move that Mr. White's order be accepted.

The order passed by unanimous vote.

Mr. Norton: That order is to open up the gymnasiums on the nights where there are evening schools and to place them under Mr. Mulroy's Department of Extended Use.

Mr. White: Included in that is the thought of making available all facilities in schools where evening schools are in session. While we have the personnel there we can make available all the facilities of that school.

There may be objection on the ground that this recreation may interfere with the work of the evening schools, but with the co-operation of the principals I think we can straighten that out. There could be no more propitious time than the present to try it out. We place on our own shoulders the acceptance of these orders and the making of this money available for these instructors under this program.

Mr. Ward: Can we ask that Mr. McKenney co-operate with the Park Department under the supervision of this Committee?

Chairman: It would be only fitting to have Mr. Mulroy, Mr. McKenney and the others interested co-operate in this program that has been referred to by Mr. White.

If we can sit down with Mr. Mulroy, Mr. McKenney and Mr. Ford, I think we can iron this out to the satisfaction of all those interested in it.

Mr. McDevitt: The purpose of this youth committee is to sound out these youngsters and have them decide what activity they would like. If dancing is one of the activities that they would like that can be reported back to this committee or a representative of the youth committee can be present at one of our meetings.

Chairman: You might find that most of these youngsters would want juke boxes or something that it would be impossible for us to provide. If you are going to ask these youngsters what they want they might go sky high and we could not accommodate them with some of the things that they would ask for. I believe it would be better to sit down and formulate plans for the sort of a program that would be wanted. As it is, we have different ideas and we want to co-ordinate these ideas in one group.

Mr. Norton: The experience of years is that what we get is inaction and procrastination. We discuss this problem with a great deal of exuberance, and yet our plans fail. Five months from now somebody will say that this is wrong. What is wrong?

I believe we should have frequent reports on what is happening, how many gyms have been opened, and how many youngsters have been able to participate. Otherwise what we plan here will be forgotten.

Mr. White: In Mr. Mulroy's department he can employ, under our direction, what help he needs, where there is a class organized.

If I or any member of this Committee was competent to organize a class in the Department of Extended Use, in dancing, or clay modeling, or any other subject, and could get a sufficient number of people to attend that class, Mr. Mulroy could assign a teacher. All that is needed is to organize the class and Mr. Mulroy carries on from there.

Mr. Norton: I do not want to go into detail and tell Mr. Mulroy how to run his department. I want to see that the agencies that we have are co-operating. I do not think we will accomplish one-tenth of what we are talking about unless we establish a system of frequent reports so that we can keep in touch with these things.

I have in mind a clergyman at Neponset, who has a large group of boys that he would like to take into the Grover Cleveland School on certain nights. Those are our Boston boys and that clergyman is co-operating in working with those boys. It so happens that at the Grover Cleveland School there is an assistant custodian who is willing to cover in while the group is there. Can that be arranged?

Superintendent: If it has nothing to do with religious instruction it can be arranged.

Mr. White: We have had a request for the use of the English High School drill hall for a couple of nights a week by an outside group. We also have several requests by various agencies who are expanding their program of supervised recreation. If something is done in the Grover Cleveland, why can't it be done throughout the city?

Mr. Norton: In the Grover Cleveland you have an assistant custodian who is willing to work with this group without asking for extra compensation. If you have someone at English High who will co-operate in the same way, that can be done.

What about the clergyman's group at the Grover Cleveland? Is there any objection to going ahead under those conditions?

In this connection, I should like to introduce the following order:

ORDERED, That occupancy of school gymnasiums be allowed to certain civic groups for recreational activities, without charge, in buildings where watchmen are on duty, or in buildings where junior custodians assigned to buildings are willing to serve without compensation. This provision will not apply when admission is charged.

The order passed by unanimous vote.

While we are on this subject, I think we should have a standing committee to keep in touch with our custodians, and through that committee we ought to see that it is possible to work out ways and means of keeping our buildings open until ten or eleven o'clock at night, where there is a responsible group that wants to use these buildings. That is an old, old problem, and I do not know what the answer is.

In New York City the School Committee has this same problem and it is a problem which exists in many large cities. They have worked out some kind of a plan with the custodians. I think we should be in continuous contact with our custodial groups to see if it is possible to make better use of our buildings.

Mr. White: The other day Mr. McDevitt and I spent an hour and a half with the regional director of the Federal Works Agency in charge of the expenditure of funds under the Lanham Act, Dr. Dora-Louise Cockerell, who told us that we would have the co-operation of the Federal Government so far as these problems affected the children of war workers and that we might be able to acquire Federal funds to help us in the after-school care of these youngsters, especially in areas where the mothers and fathers are doing defense work and the children are left to their own resources.

If we open up after-school recreational facilities in these defense areas, like the areas in which we have nursery schools, we might be able to get funds under the Lanham Act. I think we ought to designate an assistant superintendent of schools to look into the possibility of receiving funds under the Lanham Act for the purpose of taking care of these youngsters before school and after school.

Mr. Norton: Let us have a report at the next meeting of the School Committee on that.

I understand that the South Bay House, under Mr. Turley, has plans for furnishing a well balanced meal during the winter months to certain youngsters who are poorly nourished.

Superintendent: Mr. Haley is looking into that. As far as I know, that can be arranged. We have a communication from the Commissioner of Health of the City of Boston, who favors it. The only difficulty is in selecting the pupils.

Mr. Norton: Where we have a respectable agency headed by a man like Mr. Turley, we should make every effort to co-operate.

Chairman: It is necessary that we resolve in the first part of the year to get committees operating on problems such as these and get reports on what they are doing, so that we can become active and get something done during the course of the year.

Mr. Norton: We do not have meetings such as this very often.

I was riding into South Boston a couple of weeks ago and I saw a large group of youngsters in charge of a clergyman from St. Monica's. He said to me, "We have many of your 'problem' children here." The thought came to me that this is a tremendous problem and we have to have the co-operation of all of these agencies in the city to help us.

I asked this clergyman if there had been anyone from the School Department of the City talking to him about the youngsters, of whom there must have been a thousand, and he said there had not. I was amazed to see a clergyman taking that interest in our youngsters. He should have the co-operation of our Physical Education Department or whoever is charged with these extracurricular activities. I am sure that you get the general sense of what I am driving at. We ought to help that man and let him feel that we want to help him.

Mr. Ward: In this recreation program we should have the co-operation of school cafeterias. If we have dances in these schools and the children want refreshments and they are willing to pay for them, our cafeteria department ought to be able to provide ice cream and sandwiches and cocoa and coffee. When we were kids and we had our little dances the refreshments were a very important part of the fun.

Mr. Norton: I notice that Mrs. Mahoney, the Boston Globe representative, is still absent, and I suggest that we send her a message of sympathy and express the hope that she will soon be with us again.

Chairman: I agree with that.

The Committee adjourned.

NO COST CONTROL FOR REFUSE DISPOSAL.

American cities on the whole may be clean housekeepers, but they don't know how much it is costing them to be clean or whether they are spending too much. Only a few cities are able to report accurately the unit cost of removing garbage and other refuse and of cleaning streets, according to the Public Administration Service of Chicago, Ill., which further reports that at least 90 per cent of the cities in this country have no cost control over this service.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

No. 5

CITIES OF COUNTRY FACE CRITICALLY SERIOUS MANPOWER PROBLEM WITH POSSIBLE BREAKDOWN IN SERVICES UNLESS SITUATION CAN BE SATISFACTORILY ADJUSTED BY SOME PLAN OF DEFERMENTS, MAYOR TOBIN TELLS CONFERENCE OF MAYORS MEETING IN CHICAGO — HE SPOKE IN ROUND-TABLE SESSION ON SUBJECT OF "MANPOWER REQUIREMENTS AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT SERVICES" — CITES STATISTICS OF ALL OF LARGER CITIES OF COUNTRY TO SHOW THAT BOSTON'S PROBLEM IS NOT AN ISOLATED CONDITION — SUGGESTS COMMITTEE OF MAYORS MEET WITH NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICIALS TO DEVISE SOME PLAN FOR RELIEF OF SITUATION.

At the United States Conference of Mayors, held at Chicago on January 19 to 21, in one of the round-table discussions, Mayor Tobin spoke as follows:

GENTLEMEN,— Generally speaking, of all the topics selected for discussion at this year's conference, the general subject of "Manpower" is the one most pressing for consideration and discussion.

Economic stabilization and the cost of living is, of course, a major challenge to the resourcefulness and to the talents of our economists and the National Government.

It differs, however, from your speaker's subject in that it is a continuing problem, stemming from the maturing of world economy and of our own national industrial-finance economy with its many interdependencies and sensitive relationships. As I say, the matter of its stabilization is a constant problem and will be with us in peace as well as in war.

Federal-State-Local Fiscal Relations have become increasingly intricate with the assumption by government of many more functions which until practically the last decade were unrecognized as such. With a trend toward centralization of governmental authority, and with the competition among units of government at the various levels for additional sources of revenue in more recent years, it has occupied more of our attention. We may well believe that such a matter will be of growing concern to us at many conferences in years to come.

Post-War Matters.

Post-war matters, such as Public Works Planning, Housing, Aviation, as well as Demobilization of Industry, are programs of the future and the best which I believe that we can do is to rough-hew these plans for the future.

On the problem of "Manpower Requirements and Local Government Services," to borrow a phrase, we might well say it is a condition and not a theory which confronts us. I feel that it is the one thing on the program of most pressing and immediate practical importance. I hope you will agree with me in at least that one observation.

Some three years ago when the storm clouds of war were gathering on the horizon, military requirements for our peacetime training had relatively little or no effect upon our municipal personnel supply, nor upon the services which we were rendering the residents of our respective cities. With the full fury of the storm about us, however, a situation has developed which makes it well-nigh impossible for us to maintain our employee quotas at anywhere near acceptable limits. It is difficult to accord, except under the most trying circumstances, the fire and police protection, the hospitalization and the sanitation services to which the American family and the American home is entitled, even in wartime. It is now well-nigh impossible to fulfill all of the extra wartime demands placed upon these departments.

The inducements of high wages and salaries offered by private industry, war production work, and non-war work as well have worked against us. Individuals had better chances for occupational deferments if engaged in war production than if employed by government. The draft itself has made heavy inroads upon existing municipal personnel. Selective service has requisitioned heavily upon the general supply of manpower which is ordinarily the recruiting pool for our municipal personnel supply.

The particular functions which I have mentioned above have been the most seriously affected. The impact of the manpower shortage has, of course, been felt in every municipal department without exception. These four are, to my way of thinking, the most vital of all, and they are the most drastically jeopardized.

Critical Condition.

Let me tell you what has happened in these departments within recent years and you may judge for yourself how critical is the matter at the moment and how great the concern you must feel for the future.

MAYOR TOBIN'S ADDRESS IN CHICAGO.

The United States Conference of Mayors, in a bulletin issued under date of October 29, 1943, has shown that on the basis of its survey of 100 major American cities, with a total population in excess of sixteen million, municipalities now face the loss of over one third of their police and fire departments through operation of the Selective Service Act. There is, of course, the prospect of a further loss of strength through resignation of other employees in order to accept more lucrative employment elsewhere. Municipalities cannot currently compete with the compensation levels of private industry. And, of course, the attrition of departmental quotas through death and retirement is always a factor. This possibility presents itself at a time when fire-fighting forces of many of our American cities are already below what is considered to be minimum requirements for effective fire fighting.

Los Angeles, with an authorized strength of 1,500 men, has not been able to fill 180 vacancies, and the civil service list is exhausted.

In Houston, Texas, they have been unable to recruit fire department replacements for over a year, and there is a serious shortage in that department.

In New York City there were 9,220 members in the fire department reporting for duty, as compared with 10,374 on July 1 of 1941; a reduction of 11 per cent. The available manpower supply has about disappeared in that city, and of 450 recently authorized temporary firemen, only 100 men were recruited, despite waiving rigid civil service requirements.

Boston Also Affected.

In my own City of Boston it would require a minimum of 906 men to cover all companies. Of an authorized strength of 1,100 men, the roll call total is 940; 88 of this 940 have their retirement papers pending, and 372 additional men are eligible for the draft. The Chief of the Department has informed the Draft Board that, in his opinion, it requires about two and one half years of training for a fireman. The Association of American Fire Chiefs sets the minimum training period at two years. In the event that the drafting of firemen continues on the present scale, and we have no doubt but that it will, unless something is done to prevent it, this means the City of Boston will have but 480 trained firemen available, and we must still make allowances for miscellaneous absences other than direct fire-fighting assignments of about eighty men, with a net force of 400 men for twenty-four hours of coverage.

In terms of percentage of its actual strength, 43 per cent of the fire-fighting strength of Los Angeles is subject to the draft. Philadelphia, 47 per cent; Dallas, Texas, 49 per cent; Worcester, Massachusetts, 35 per cent; San Francisco, California, 36 per cent; Rochester, New York, 30 per cent. In my own City of Boston 42 per cent of the present actual strength of the fire-fighting force is subject to the draft. In all, 44 out of 100 fire departments included in the survey by the conference have 40 per cent or more of their uniformed fire force subject to Selective Service.

Of course, the problem varies from city to city, depending upon the nature of construction of their buildings, height, age, congestion and so forth. A re-assignment of the older and less vigorous members to the outlying areas will, in a small measure, afford a greater degree of protection to those centers of congestion and high valuations.

In Kansas City, Missouri, with an authorized strength of six hundred men, the present actual employment in their police department is 444, and about 148, which is 33½ per cent, of the present force is subject to the draft.

Detroit had an actual police roll of 3,471 men on January 1, 1944, as against an authorization of 3,724; a shortage of 254. This situation exists with a wartime increase in population of 426,000, or over 25 per cent. The general experience would indicate that some 1,100 men, or about one third of the present force, is subject to the draft.

In Milwaukee there are ninety vacancies in the uniformed police service, against minimum personnel requirements of 1,012. About 350, or 38.5 per cent, are subject to the draft. In view of the opinion of the Chief of Police, that it will not be possible to fill vacancies in 1944, their situation is serious.

In South Bend, Indiana, out of a normal strength of 115 men in the Police Department, 19 are already in the service, and 31 additional have been temporarily deferred. Of the 96 presently on the Force, about 50 per cent are subject to the draft. An inability to make temporary appointments creates a critical situation.

Percentage Subject to Draft.

With these existing depletions in the ranks of the police and with the unusual procurement difficulties, the survey of the conference shows that 35.4 per cent of the present personnel of the police departments of ninety cities that were included in the survey are subject to the draft.

Of equal concern to us all is the situation in our own public hospitals, directly attributable to the requirements of the armed forces for professional medical skill and to general manpower stringencies. There is a general shortage in our municipal and local government hospitals of both visiting and resident physicians; of nurses and of general hospital help.

In a telegraphic census which I made only last week, returns from eight major American cities showing a reduction from 766 doctors in their public hospitals as of January 1, 1940, to 493 doctors on January 1, 1944, or a reduction of 35.7 per cent. The number of nurses dropped from 1,483 to 1,069 for the same period; a drop of 414. At the same time the caliber of non-professional hospital recruits was relatively so low as to make them but of little value to the hospital.

New York City, which is not included in the above census, reports a substantial decrease in nurses, while the patient census was down only three per cent.

Pittsburgh wired that they were compelled to take all internes off the ambulances, as Selective Service authorities thought that they should cut down the form of service in this respect.

In Cincinnati the hospital staff nurses have dropped from 158 to 27. The number of orderlies from 101 to 43. Resident and assistant resident physicians have dropped from 73 to 55, while medical internes have dropped from 40 to 26. Attempts to remedy the situation include an increase in the number of hospital attendants and hospital maids from 60 to 180 in the first case and 66 to 87 in the second case. They have also increased the number of student nurses from 147 to 181.

In the Baltimore City Hospital visiting physicians and house officers have dropped from 128 as of January 1, 1940, to 79 as of January 1, 1944. The number of graduate nurses from 162 to 74 in the same period.

In Louisville, Kentucky, physicians have decreased from 44 to 23, internes from 61 to 27, and nurses from 76 to 50.

In Sanitary Services.

The deficiency in manpower available in our sanitation services is one that I know must likewise disturb the great majority of us.

New York City is having considerable difficulty filling its routine vacancies, to say nothing of obtaining military substitutes. In certain sections of the city, daily collections have been changed to three collections a week, to get the necessary work done with the force available.

In Los Angeles the laboring force is about 100 short. I understand it is practically impossible to fill these vacancies. Except in the downtown area, combustible refuse is collected every three weeks, instead of every two weeks.

Here in Chicago, 250 men are short out of a quota of 800, with ash and garbage collections made every two weeks, instead of every week.

In St. Louis replacements of help in street cleaning and garbage removal aren't up to standard and I am informed that this has definitely lowered the standard of the sanitation service in that city.

In Pittsburgh likewise the supply of help for garbage and ash removal is entirely inadequate.

Baltimore had to limit the operation of one of its two incinerators from a twenty-four-hour basis to an eight-hour period, because of a labor shortage.

In Boston there is a certain lag in filling vacancies in the Sanitary Division that may be attributed to the stringent manpower situation. A requisition to the Department of Civil Service in March of 1943 for forty laborers was not filled until September, six months later.

Many of our districts are in the private contract removal class. These organizations are experiencing considerable difficulty in procuring sufficient help to enable them to maintain their regular collection schedules. This kind of work has practical limitations to compensation payable. The War Labor Board has added other restrictions. Existing work opportunities elsewhere are obviously more attractive. There is a general shortage of men who might be physically qualified for this strenuous work. These are circumstances which will operate adversely throughout the war period. As many as 100 city employees have had to go into the contract districts to assist the private contractor to maintain schedules.

Women Cleaning Streets.

Baltimore women have been employed to clean streets and the experiment has proven satisfactory. On actual garbage and ash removal, however, I am certain that women will not fill the requirements and I am dubious as to whether or not women can be induced to clean streets throughout the country generally.

The Mayor of Louisville, Hon. Wilson W. Wyatt, within the past week has written me that Selective Service has taken many of his water service workers and garbage handlers and that the garbage situation in that city is deplorable.

With a sub-standard of operating efficiency, it does not require much strain upon the imagination to consider the consequences of such a condition upon our municipal areas. Police and fire protection will seriously decline, with increased hazards to the lives, to the safety and to the property of our people. With inadequate medical care, comes a higher incidence of mortality, more prolonged periods of illness, with many chronic physical ailments the aftermath of incomplete hospitalization.

Rat Population Menace.

The hazards of failure to fulfill the sanitation service completely are not so readily discernible, but are just as serious. The most certain consequence from uncollected garbage is the breeding of rats, and rats spread disease. Typhus carried by rats is the most serious of the threats. It has frequently been reported from war areas in Europe. It is our duty to see that it does not turn up here. It is commonly held that the rat population of the United States, and of the world, is two to three times the human population. I do not believe any one of our cities can establish an exception to this general rule. A high concentration of rats in any of our cities might easily make that city a focal point of infection for a nation-wide epidemic. Infectious jaundice is rat-borne and world-wide. Trichinosis may be spread by rodent life and eventually transmitted to human beings. Dr. Vlado Getting, State Health Commissioner of Massachusetts, says, "Rats may harbor eleven species of intestinal parasites that are found in man, in addition to a form of meningitis, a type of brain fever."

Certainly, gentlemen, a high sense of responsibility for the health — yes, the very lives — of the people who depend upon us to protect them, demands that we make sure that the public are not unnecessarily exposed to these dangers.

I wish to point out, however, that we have not been unaware of the situation. While some of the adjustments we have initiated are partially preventative, I do not believe that they come to grips with the entire situation. In the light of impending events they will not meet the future problem as I see it at all.

Many cities have lowered the age requirements or have raised the age limits for entrance into the civil service.

Physical requirements and educational standards have been all but dropped in procurement programs.

In Kansas City they have employed seventeen year old boys in the Fire Department.

In Detroit the entrance age limitation was raised from twenty-seven to fifty years.

Some cities have placed their fire department employees on overtime, and in others the firemen are working out their vacation and annual leave.

Other cities have attempted to compete with private industry in the matter of compensation. Men previously pensioned because of physical disabilities have been re-surveyed and many ordered back to active duty of at least a limited nature.

Cincinnati will now accept men between the ages of twenty and fifty years for the police department, has liberalized the residence requirement and will accept men with minor defects for durational appointment.

Louisville wired me that it is recruiting men from the police who would not even be eligible for consideration under peacetime conditions.

Hospitals Hard Hit.

In our municipal hospitals, solution to the shortage of employees for bedside care of patients is sought generally through increasing of the number of students in the nursing schools, as well as the employment of women attendants under nursing supervision to do some of the simpler nursing duties.

In some departments of the Boston City Hospital reliance is made in large measure upon volunteer help and nurses' aides, Red Cross workers, volunteer groups and individuals. A refresher course, offered to groups of non-practising older nurses, serves as a recruiting medium of them, for at least part-time service. Here a turnover of 1,300 employees out of a group of 1,600 general hospital employees, was experienced in the last twelve months.

In the sanitation services, alleviating measures include extending of the work day, of the work week, the payment of overtime, and by the transfer of men from other municipal laboring services to refuse and garbage removal work.

These manpower problems are being experienced when departments have taken upon themselves additional wartime functions. Wartime increases in population have increased the requirements of municipal services. Many cities adjacent to military areas have felt the influx of soldiers and sailors, their relatives and visitors every day and especially on week-ends. Fire and police departments have had to give special and constant protection to war production plants, and to military and naval properties located within or near their boundaries.

Vital points, including airports, bridges, tunnels, piers and power plants, had to be doubly guarded. Special policing and fire precautions were required for centers of amusement and recreation, especially during the even hours of peak activity.

Meanwhile our public works departments were for good measure devoting some of their scant reserves to scrap metal drives, tin can collections, waste paper collections and scrap metal salvage.

Selective Service Demands.

On January 14, 1944, the Selective Service advised Congress that, in order to bring the combined net strength of the Army and Navy to 11,300,000 by July 1, 1944, it will be necessary to draft 700,000 men during the first six months of this year, in addition to requiring replacements of at least 100,000 a month. If the same rate of induction were to be continued for the second half of the year—and we have no right or reason to presume otherwise—it would mean that some 2,600,000 additional men will be required this year.

It is questionable whether under present arrangements there are any satisfactory available replacements in civilian life for this number, who are drawn from the civilian labor pool. The cancellation of occupational deferments for men eighteen to twenty-two years of age will lessen the demands upon other segments of the labor supply, but it will in no way cope with the situation.

The attitude of local draft boards and of local appeal boards, as well as of state directors of Selective Service, toward occupational deferments for fire and for police and hospital employees generally has not been too encouraging. It gives no guarantee that if not promptly changed our manpower problems in these particular city departments will not become progressively worse.

In its original form the Selective Service Act specifically forbade the deferment of individuals "by occupational groups or of groups of individuals in any place or institution."

It is my opinion that the attitude built up in pre-Pearl Harbor days, of local draft boards and of local appeal boards towards governmental employees persists today when an entirely different situation exists. Then the main thesis was one of impartial selection from an untapped supply of manpower. Now it is a question of filling the last 25 per cent of the nation's needs. Now the decision to be made is what civilian activities must be considered more essential than others, and what can least bear the burden of curtailment. The municipal manpower problem can be studied now only when related to the personnel inventory of the entire nation, to the trend of events in the progress of the war and to the war production front.

Look to National Government.

We all realize that the war must be fought and won regardless of the shortage of manpower and that we must make the utmost use of every man, woman and young person in our population. It is not for us to say how large an army is necessary to win the war. That is a question of high military strategy. Nor do we attempt to question, nor to analyze in a critical way the manpower program of the National Government. I do not believe that a single member of the Conference of Mayors would ask that the manpower goal set by the Army and Navy be whittled down by a single man. I sincerely hope, however, that in attaining that goal the National Government will administer its induction program so as to give permanent recognition to the equality of war service and indispensability of service which particular local government departments are giving today.

We are deeply aware of the importance that particular municipal employees have in the performance of their work in wartime. We all know the roles which American cities are playing in this hour of need. We fear, moreover, the undesirable effects upon the war effort and the inherent dangers for American families and homes were the Selective Service to insist upon the induction into the armed forces of those eligible municipal employees who are now engaged in our fire, police, hospital and sanitation services.

In many respects, soldiers and public employees stand on the same footing. "In my judgment, the obligation of a policeman, of a fireman, a collector of street refuse, or an employee of a city water works is as sacred as the duty of a soldier," wrote President Woodrow Wilson twenty-five years ago.

We have often defined local and state governments as "service agencies." These services provide for the needs of the armed forces as well as of the needs of industry and of the civilian population.

Without these "service agencies" producing water, sewerage, disposals, sanitation, garbage disposal, health and hospital care, police and fire protection, roads and bridges, and harbor facilities, there can be no war program. A serious disruption in any of the "service agencies" will impede the armed forces, cause industry to slow down, impair the productivity of the civilian population and destroy civilian morale.

It is our duty to see that such a condition shall not come to pass.

I have already referred to a rather adamant position that Selective Service has taken with regard to deferments of municipal employees. In fairness, I want to say that local boards and local appeal boards are caught between two fires. That of meeting their induction quotas and the pressure of local government officials in their objection to the total emasculation of the departments rendering such vital services.

Requests for Deferment.

Deferments have become more general with the recognition of the essentiality of local government services, and with the designation of indispensable employees as "key men." "Replacement Schedules" have been a form of procedure affording a logical base for deferment, but, as Detroit pointed out in its report to me, in the absence of available replacements for those being inducted the "Replacement Schedule" was operating as a "Contribution Schedule."

In Massachusetts, a State Review Committee has been appointed to coordinate the procedure of handling requests for deferments of state, county and municipal employees on occupational grounds.

Under State regulation, if a man is considered to be essential to the national health, safety, or interest or to the community health, safety, or interest, he may be deferred. But deferment, not exemption, is granted and there is no guarantee against an induction program invading minimum organization requirements.

I have expressed in a way the general problem. Situations differ in each town or city and it is impossible to offer solutions to each local problem. I am certain, however, that temporary deferment of fire department employees when the department is experiencing, as at the present time, severe shortages in their uniformed forces, is not the solution.

I am confident that a Committee of Mayors to meet with the National Selective Service officials to consider ways and means of guaranteeing protection to our staffs engaged in fire, police, hospital and sanitation work could find a common basis for agreement.

The shortage of trained registered nurses for civilian professional practice is another matter which we must consider. We have a good medical doctor procurement control, but practically no nursing control.

It is unpleasant to think that, with the supply of nurses greatly reduced, no effort has been made by any agency of government to see that the remaining nurse supply is distributed evenly and fairly throughout the country.

Nursing skill is a scarce and valuable commodity. It does not seem equitable that some civilian hospitals and some communities should be served with peacetime nursing standards, while other hospitals and other communities lack highly skilled nursing service almost entirely.

The application of the National Service Act to this particular field is not only desirable, but necessary.

Lack of unskilled laborers of good physical quality is another problem for cities to face. I have mentioned the relative unattractiveness of employment in garbage and refuse removal. In a period when there are more jobs than men, we are bound to have difficulty in getting people to do this work. The importation from foreign countries, under labor contract waivers, with the approval of the Department of Labor and of the Division of Immigration, of necessary help, for short renewal periods, might afford a solution to the problem. Certainly it is reasonable to feel that there are many natives of the West Indies, and of Mexico, who would welcome such an opportunity for employment.

I have addressed these remarks to you confident of your interest in all problems of municipalities, confident of your desire to attend to their solution, and certain of your action when called upon.

I hope, also, that the Federal officials who are speakers at this morning's gathering, can assist us with these matters.

BOSTON SALVAGE COMMITTEE APPEALS FOR WASTE PAPER.

January 26, 1944.

To All City and County Department Heads.

I know that you are aware of the shortage of waste paper and I am writing, therefore, to request that you take steps to see that every scrap of waste paper accumulating in your department is salvaged and not burned or disposed of as rubbish.

I suggest that you take the following steps to dispose of all salvagable waste paper:

1. Sell it to a junk collector or waste paper dealer.
2. Donate it to some charitable institution, such as the Morgan Memorial, Salvation Army or St. Vincent de Paul.
3. Tie it securely in bundles and save it for the regular collections that are made each month in this city.
4. All loose paper in bags, boxes, etc., should be forwarded to the Sanitary Division yard of the Public Works Department, 650 Albany street, at which location it will be baled.

I also suggest that you have an immediate survey made throughout your department to determine if any paper records, cards, books and the like can be discarded and salvaged as waste paper. The latter-referenced records, etc., should also be tied securely in bundles and disposed of as suggested above.

I know that you appreciate that this is a most important matter and I suggest, therefore, that you give it your personal attention and also call it to the attention of those employees who normally would be in charge of this work in the offices or buildings that are under your jurisdiction.

If, for some reason or other, you cannot salvage your waste paper, kindly inform me to that effect and I shall make whatever arrangements are necessary to assist you and find a solution to your particular problem.

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Chairman, Boston Salvage Committee.

MAYOR TOBIN BROADCASTS APPEAL TO CITIZENS TO RALLY TO SUPPORT OF PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY BALL TO RAISE FUNDS TO AID BATTLE AGAINST SCOURGE OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS—POINTS TO RAVAGES OF DISEASE AND SINISTER INSIDIOUSNESS OF ITS ATTACK ON YOUNG AND OLD—WANTS ALL WHO CAN TO PURCHASE TICKETS OR CONTRIBUTE DIMES TO HELP SWELL FUND ON ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH OF HEAD OF OUR GOVERNMENT.

On Monday evening from the studio of WNAC Mayor Tobin delivered the following address in appeal for support for the President's ball in the interest of the Infantile Paralysis Fund:

Most willingly I speak for the cause which engages our minds and hearts tonight. It is a cause which stands above every issue of politics, and demands action, watchful and constant, in war no less than in peace.

The dread disease called infantile paralysis respects no issue of time, of persons or place. It strikes through the walls of a palace as quickly as it may pass the door of any humble house. To both it comes without warning.

And once this malady has entered your home or my home its fateful visit must either be swiftly met and dealt with by experts or it will remain through all of a lifetime, turning vigor to helplessness, and bright hope to dark despair.

We call this affliction infantile paralysis, and indeed it has wrought some of its worst hardships upon little children. But young men and young women are not immune. Adults in middle life are not beyond danger. In fact, there is no shield or buckler yet known which can protect human life against the risk of this plague at any time from the cradle to old age.

It is to help find such a shield that the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is now hard at work—to mention but one of the foundation's chief purposes. You know, of course, that modern medical science has found excellent means to prevent other serious diseases. Smallpox, typhoid fever and diphtheria—all these were great menaces only a few decades ago. But now even individual cases are rare in most of our American cities, and epidemics are either completely absent, or else, if one begins to develop, it can be swiftly and surely controlled.

FIGHTING THE DISEASE.

Unfortunately, science has not yet won a similar mastery over outbreaks of infantile paralysis, but we know that if you and I will do our part, and help to provide the funds necessary for further research, the victory will yet be won.

Meanwhile, the National Foundation does not sit back and wait for the performance of miracles. Fifty per cent of the funds raised in this great annual campaign remain in the community where the dimes and dollars are given. The local chapter holds the money—here in Boston, for example—so that if infantile paralysis should strike in your home or my home, skilled help will be available immediately and close at hand.

Last summer infantile paralysis struck the United States in severe epidemic form, for the first time since 1935. Instantly the National Foundation, and all its local chapters, swung into action. Doctors, nurses and physical therapists—skilled in the Nurse Kenny methods—were sent to the scenes of trouble. Hospital services, ambulances, wool, machines, apparatus of all kinds were supplied.

It made no difference if funds, in any one community, were found insufficient. Thanks to the people of America, who contribute so generously in the annual fund-raising campaign, the National Foundation has been able to pledge, and carry out its pledge, that no infantile paralysis patient anywhere in the United States shall go without hospital and medical care because of lack of money.

EFFORTS MUST NOT LAG.

That promise, my fellow citizens, is one of the broadest and most heartening guarantees of swift aid in human distress that was ever given in all the history of man's good will to man.

Now is no time, with our country at war, to let that promise down, or in any way to slacken our efforts. Certainly our boys on the fighting fronts would wish us to maintain our gifts to this cause at the utmost. What would it profit an American flier, soldier or sailor to defeat our enemies in Europe and on the Pacific, only to learn that his young brother or sister here at home had become a victim of infantile paralysis, without our having done all in our power to prevent this plague and to heal those who are struck by it?

Every American citizen knows that a human being, afflicted with infantile paralysis, can be restored to useful life. We know this through the courageous example set by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He was thirty-nine years of age when, in 1921, the cripple laid him low. And yet, by strength of soul, aided by proper care, he recovered sufficiently to become not only a useful citizen again, but the faithful and hard-working holder of the highest office in the gift of our people.

It is most fitting that the sixty-second anniversary of President Roosevelt's birth should be used this year, as similar occasions have been used in the past, to mark a climax of the annual fund-raising campaign of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The President's birthday—January 30—comes this year on Sunday, but an excellent celebration has been arranged for this Friday evening (January 28) in the Boston Garden.

I hope that every man and woman in the City of Boston, who can possibly afford to do so, will buy a ticket for this birthday celebration on behalf of this appealing cause, and that absolutely every one will at least contribute in some way—even if by only one dime—to this immensely useful fund.

RECREATION, ADEQUATE AS TO KIND AND AVAILABILITY.

Although the ratio of park acreage to population has been used as the simplest measure of the extent to which cities provide areas for the recreation of their people, it is by no means an accurate basis for determining this. If most of the total acreage is in one large park, if the parks are poorly distributed, or if they do not provide various types of recreation facilities, the park system may be inefficient even though the acreage is large. The efficiently planned park and recreation system will involve balanced relationship and well-distributed location of several types of properties, namely, children's playgrounds, neighborhood playfield parks, neighborhood parks, reservations, boulevards, and parkways.

POPULATION OF NEW ENGLAND, 1930.

Total population, 8,166,341 (4,024,657 males and 4,141,684 females); total white, 5,065,113 (3,972,465 males and 4,092,648 females); total native white, 6,230,803 (3,067,723 males and 3,163,080 females); native white of native parentage, 3,167,082 (1,572,885 males and 1,594,197 females); Negro, 94,086 (46,963 males and 1,568,883 females); foreign-born white, 1,834,310 (904,742 males and 929,568 females); native white of foreign or mixed parentage, 3,063,721 (1,494,838 males and 47,123 females); Indian, 2,466 (1,273 males and 1,193 females); Chinese, 3,794 (3,233 males and 561 females); Japanese, 352 (277 males and 75 females); Mexican, 107 (69 males and 38 females); all other races, 423 (377 males and 46 females).

A NEW POSITIVE WATER-METER TESTER.

The large majority of waterworks, particularly the smaller ones, seldom have accurate or positive means of testing their meters. Often when a meter is repaired, the man making the repairs simply blows through the meter to see if it runs, when it is again put into service with the assumption that it is accurate. Sometimes meters are hooked up in series with a new meter and water is run through to see if the readings check. This is better than the lung-power method, but still is far from accurate or dependable, in that the test meter may be in error by 2 per cent or even more. Several states have regulations governing water utilities, both municipal and private, and require a positive method of testing water meters in every meter shop.—American City Magazine.

BUDGETARY CONTROL.

Prior to installing the present system of budgetary control, effective as of January 1, 1939, the city of Newark had no centralized accounting control over its budget commitments. The city's general ledger contained accounts for the various budget appropriations, and reflected disbursements out of the appropriations. However, commitments for work and material were not recorded in the city's accounts until after bills submitted by the vendors had been approved for payment by the Board of Commissioners. Consequently, financial reports could only show the amount of appropriated moneys that had not been disbursed out of any account. No recognition could be given in these reports to the unpaid purchase commitments, since the amount was not known. The American City.

TAUNTON'S ASPHALT PLANT.

One of the functions of a city public works or street department is to operate as effectively as possible in the construction and maintenance of its streets and sidewalks and to produce the necessary materials for paving at the lowest possible cost. In some cities this is effected by the purchase of all paving materials in either the raw or the mixed stage. Taunton has used a city-owned 100-ton asphalt plant for street paving and maintenance and for sidewalk construction for ten years. Located in the city yard with the equipment repair shop and garage, the plant is housed in a 60 by 90 foot building with a 30 by 100 foot wing, which was formerly used as a foundry. The American City.

SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

TO PROTECT MINORS.

Buffalo is considering an ordinance, similar to the one in effect in New York City, for the protection of minors in theaters. It permits children, unaccompanied by adults, only in theaters licensed as to adequate sanitary and safety provisions, sets aside a certain section for them and requires the presence of a licensed matron.

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

VOTE OF METROPOLITAN DISTRICT IN 1936.

In the election of 1936 for Governor, the 43 municipalities (including Boston) cast 371,481 Republican votes and 418,341 Democratic, showing a Democratic excess of 46,860. The eight cities, i. e., Boston, Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Lynn, Revere, Somerville and Woburn, and the towns of Canton, Hull, Norwood and Watertown, showed a Democratic plurality of 125,064 while the six other cities and all but the four above-mentioned towns opposed with a Republican plurality of 78,204.

DEBTS AND ASSESSMENTS OF SPECIAL DISTRICTS. STATISTICS FOR YEAR 1937.

The gross Metropolitan debt (included in contingent debt of State) for water, parks, sewers and Charles River Basin improvements on July 1, 1937, amounted to $87,494,640; sinking funds, $38,059,240; net debt, $49,435,400, or $1,418,176 more than on July 1, 1936. SEEKS COMMUNITY AID IN ARMY CAMP CITIES.

The army welcomes the aid of civic organizations in helping to protect soldiers from intemperance and vice when they are away from their duty stations.

The War Department is endeavoring in various ways to protect its personnel from temptations while at military posts and camps. Healthful and wholesome entertainment is furnished. Commissioned officers are charged with the responsibility for the men in their commission. Understanding leaders offer them advice and counsel, and medical officers guard their physical well-being. —American City Magazine.

MODEL FOR BLACKOUT ORDINANCES.

The National Institute of Municipal Law Officers has prepared a blackout ordinance, approved by the Office of Civilian Defense; it delegates reasonable administrative powers to the proper executive officer and contemplates both actual air raid conditions and those of practice blackouts. Several state leagues of municipalities have also prepared model ordinances.

The first city to enact a blackout ordinance was Seattle, Washington, early last year. Many others have done so more recently, the ordinances ranging in character from the type that delegates all authority to the mayor or city manager to those providing no delegation of power but outlining completely the rules for civilian conduct during blackouts. In some cases, at least, the city is declared not liable for damage to persons or property resulting from an authorized blackout. —Municipal Review.

STATE AID AND LOCAL REVENUE.

Study of the Division of State and Local Government from the Bureau of the Census shows that in 1941 state aid took 29.5 per cent of the revenues of the forty-eight states and amounted to 24.3 per cent of the total revenues of local governments.

The relative importance of state aid to local government varied widely from state to state, however, ranging from a low in Oregon, where only 5.9 per cent of state revenues were turned over to the localities and accounted for only 6.1 per cent of all local revenues, to a high in Colorado, where state aid took 44.5 per cent of all state revenues and accounted for 36.6 per cent of all local revenues. In Delaware state aid accounted for the highest percentage of local revenues—48.8 per cent, but it represented only 33 per cent of the state's revenues. In all, the study shows, state aid to local governments amounted to $1,697,814,000.

POST-WAR PLANNING PROGRAMS BY STATES.

New York's State Commission for Post-war Public Works Planning, created by a law signed by Governor Lehman in May, provides the first machinery for state post-war planning to be established by statute, according to the American Society of Planning Officials. Massachusetts and Minnesota are two other states which have made provision for post-war planning.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

CINCINNATI'S NEW SPORTS FIELD.

Cincinnati's outstanding recreational event of the past year has been the opening of its 200-acre Airport Sports Field—an instantaneous success. Although far from completion and lacking in many necessary facilities, it is already paying its own way. —American City Magazine.

APPROPRIATION FOR SURVEY OF SCHOOL SYSTEM.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 17, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am transmitting herewith a communication which I have received from the Boston Finance Commission recommending an appropriation of $75,000 to enable that body to undertake a general survey of the Boston School System, to "determine what steps, if any, may be taken to improve the administrative and educational organization and methods and to discover whatever possibilities of savings may exist."

In checking back over the history of the School Department, I have been unable to find any instance in which a general survey has been conducted. Partial surveys were made in 1916, 1923 and 1930.

A tremendous decline has occurred in Boston's school population, from 139,000 in September of 1932 to 101,320 in September of 1943. This condition alone warrants a general survey. From all indications this downward trend is going to continue to a figure substantially below one hundred thousand. In addition to this major problem which, in itself, justifies a general survey, it is also imperative that consideration should be given to the planning of an educational program for the thousands of youngsters who entered the armed forces before reaching their eighteenth birthday and prior to the completion of their high school courses. These boys will return to us as mature men, and, unless this educational handicap is overcome, their progress in life will be inevitably retarded.

For the benefits that will accrue to the pupils; the assistance the survey will be to the department's administrators and teaching personnel; and the over-all benefits that should accrue to the entire citizenry; I strongly urge upon the members of the City Council the prompt passage of the accompanying order in the sum of $75,000 for the furtherance of this much needed survey.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

The Finance Commission,
24 School Street, December 8, 1943.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Honorable Sir,—The cost of public education in Boston and the maintenance of the existing public educational system are matters which are of serious concern to the people of the city. In the past decade there has been little increase in the size of the school plant. In the greater portion of the period, the number of pupils enrolled has been continually declining. This decline has been from the high figure of 137,521 on September 30, 1933, to 101,320 on September 30, 1943. Yet there has been no appreciable reduction in the cost of maintaining the educational system.

The necessity of providing education to suit the needs in the depression era first, and then later in the war period, imposed new demands upon the school authorities. The extra burdens were not peculiar to Boston alone, yet Boston has remained throughout the period at or near the top in almost all the statistical comparisons of educational costs in cities of comparable size made by such interested agencies as the United States Department of Education.

Boston has attained eminence in public education by its liberality in providing funds for the operation of its educational program. There is little doubt that the present generation of taxpayers is as willing to provide liberally for education as were those of any earlier period. Nevertheless, governmental expenses in Boston, which include this cost of public education, have reached a height which has made many taxpayers gasp. Many question if it is all justifiable. Many wonder if equally good results might not be had at less expense.

The Boston tax rate is approximately the highest of the large cities. In 1943 the school appropriations from taxes amounted to 27.46 per cent of the whole levy. In dollars and cents, the school appropriations in 1943 totaled $17,704,057. It is almost unnecessary to state that for any such large expenditure there should be every confidence that the money is well spent and that satisfactory results cannot be obtained for less.

It is accepted that any system providing public service, particularly at such great expense, should be examined carefully from time to time. Yet there has not been a survey of the educational program in all its aspects for almost three decades. The school authorities promoted a partial survey in 1928-29 and the Finance Commission another partial survey in 1930-31. In both instances, the surveyors emphasized that it was not the intention to do an over-all job.

It would seem, therefore, that in view of the great amount annually paid by the taxpayers for public service generally, and, particularly, in view of the fact that the educational program and the administration and financing of that program have not been examined by experts for so long a period, a general survey at this time is of prime importance. Added to these considerations is the present necessity for looking forward to the time when the catastrophe of war has ended and the youth of the country has returned to seek livelihood in peacetime occupations. What the war effort has already done to previously accepted standards in education and what new requirements must be met is giving concern to educators everywhere. Obviously, a thorough understanding must be had in advance and suitable plans worked out.

In the light of the above considerations, the Finance Commission has adopted the following resolution and order:

Whereas, The cost of maintenance of public education in the City of Boston has been in excess of $16,000,000 annually for many years and in the present year is estimated to exceed $17,000,000; and

Whereas, The cost has persisted in spite of the declining size of the school population, which has been steadily decreasing for many years and is now approximately 30,000 pupils less than it was in 1937; and

Whereas, From figures compiled by the United States Department of Education, it appears that the cost of education per pupil in the City of Boston has for many years been higher than in comparable large cities of the country, and of late has been steadily rising; and

Whereas, There has been expansion of both the administrative structure and educational program of the system; and

Whereas, The propriety of the city's continuing to pay for public education at the present rate, while maintaining other services which are a vital necessity and entail a great financial burden, is seriously in question; and

Whereas, No general survey or appraisal of the objectives, accomplishments, and administrative and educational methods of the Boston schools has been made for more than two decades; and

Whereas, The changing needs of public education due to the war will offer new challenges to all public educational systems; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Finance Commission undertake a general survey of the Boston school system to determine what steps, if any, may be taken to improve the administrative and educational organization and methods and to discover whatever possibilities of savings may exist.

The work of obtaining the necessary facts and of making proper appraisement of them requires months of study by a number of persons. To be of constructive value and to carry weight, such a survey must be undertaken by recognized experts in education and in the administration of education. The results thus obtained will be generally accepted as being the best approach to the solution of our school problems.

An undertaking of this nature requires an expenditure of a greater total sum than can be provided for from within the appropriation guaranteed the Finance Commission by statute. From careful inquiry made, it appears that a general survey may be had for approximately $75,000 which is 4/10 of 1 per cent of the school appropriation for the year 1943. This sum will make it possible to obtain recognized experts and to ensure adequate survey of every feature of public education.

The commission requests that you take steps to provide the necessary appropriation for this purpose.

Respectfully submitted,
THE FINANCE COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF BOSTON, ALEXANDER WHEELER,
Chairman.

Ordered, That, in addition to the sums required to be appropriated for the expenses of the Finance Commission under section 20, chapter 486, of the Acts of 1909, the sum of $75,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Finance Commission of the City of Boston, for the purpose of conducting a general survey of the Boston School System; said sum to be raised by taxes on the polls and estates in the City of Boston, and that all orders hereinafter passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes and the interest thereon, apply to the appropriations and taxes herein provided for.

Referred to Executive Committee.

PREPARATION OF COUNCIL RULES FOR 1944-1945.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That a committee of five members be appointed by the President to prepare and report permanent rules for the government of this Council for the years 1944-1945.

The order was passed.

President KERRIGAN later appointed as said committee Coun. Taylor, Chase, Hurley, Hanley and Shannon.

ALL-DAY BASIS FOR EAST BOSTON RELIEF STATION.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reopen the East Boston Relief Station on a twenty-four-hour-day basis.

The order was passed.

USE OF SUMNER TUNNEL BY RAPID TRANSIT, INC.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to allow the Rapid Transit, Inc., to use the Sumner Tunnel for the purpose of eliminating hazardous traffic conditions in Maverick square, East Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I introduced a similar order on this matter on May 10, 1943. The traffic conditions in East Boston are growing worse daily, and with the proposed expansion of the East Boston airport and the coming season for horses and dogs we are going to be very much overcrowded in that section. I think it is about time for the Boston Elevated road, which is now in the black instead of the red, to do something to eliminate these traffic conditions. They allow buses to come in from Salem, Peabody and other places, and they use this tunnel. If they allow the Rapid Transit from Winthrop to come into East Boston and use the tunnel, it will be a help, it will help to clear traffic conditions in Maverick square, and of course there is the matter of the passengers from Winthrop having to pay an additional ten-cent fare. There is to be considered, of course, the fact that the Elevated, which has been running in the red for the past twenty years, is now in the black, besides the fact that if something is done here, as suggested in the order, it will help to relieve traffic conditions in East Boston. I certainly trust that something will be done, and I hope that the Mayor will take the matter up with the Elevated Trustees, allowing this additional use of the Sumner Tunnel, instead of congesting Maverick square, East Boston, as is being done at the present time.

The order was passed.

APPROPRIATION FOR PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor submit to the City Council an appropriation order for five hundred thousand dollars for playground equipment throughout the city, said money to be expended under the direction of the Park Commission.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, a few weeks ago—in fact, on the same day that the past City Council saw fit to turn down the bill for the Board of Recreation, I was glad to introduce with five other members an order asking his Honor the Mayor to send to us an appropriation of $500,000 for suitable playground equipment throughout the entire city. I have talked with his Honor the Mayor since I introduced the order in regard to playground conditions in my section. There are, for instance, some thirty parcels of land, some of which are now being used for dumping purposes, which could be devoted to playgrounds. Many of these places could be leveled with a bulldozer, the ground being softened up, and be put in good condition for playground purposes, then introducing equipment of various kinds, swings and otherwise. I hope the Mayor sees fit to act favorably under this order. I trust that it will be unanimously passed.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I, too, certainly hope that proper attention will be given to this order introduced by Councilor Coffey by his Honor the Mayor. The same remarks that have been made by Councilor Coffey could be duplicated by various members of the Council as applying to their districts. There are in my section, for instance, and in other sections so-called playgrounds where there is nothing for the children to use so that they might properly enjoy themselves. I think it is well that some money of the taxpayers should be expended in this way, for the purpose of furnishing the things that the children and adults are being denied today. In that way, so-called "playgrounds" in different parts of this city could be so equipped as to deserve the name. Therefore, this is not a matter that concerns merely one member of the Council, but it concerns many of the members. In Ward 10, for example, services to be rightly expected in an area that you call a playground are not being supplied. You don't even find swings, sand boxes or other equipment that children wish, to say nothing of the equipment that should be furnished for adult people. There are no rest accommodations for mothers, for instance, where they can enjoy themselves on a hot summer afternoon, when they might get out of sweltering rooms and enjoy themselves quietly, sitting down while the youngsters are playing, under shade trees protecting them from the sun. Speaking about playgrounds in Boston, we have at the present time on the table a recreation bill that has some merit but along its present lines it does not furnish any new ideas and is going to mean an added expense on the taxpayers. Something along the line of proper playgrounds can, however, be easily supplied. All that is needed is proper equipment. As a matter of fact, Mr. President, it is shocking to see the lack of attention to the needs particularly of children in these areas. I am one of those who feel that if we gave the children proper means of recreation outdoors, our juvenile court rooms would not be so crowded. I have said on more than one occasion that money spent for the Juvenile Court might better be spent for equipping the playgrounds, that properly equipped playgrounds would lessen the work of the Juvenile Court. But nothing has been done about it. Where you furnish no equipment or no facilities for the enjoyment of children on our playground areas you are only encouraging them to indulge in dangerous activities. It is certainly wrong to have conditions which naturally tend to youngsters being sent to the Juvenile Court, where they get an abhorrence for law and order that never dies within them. I cannot for the life of me understand why this whole matter of dealing with our children is not carried on in a more sensible way. Of course, you may say it costs money for equipment. We all know that. But it also costs money to run our Juvenile Court. We have, of course, to a certain extent, what is supplied by our Park Department, but they haven't the tools to work with. I certainly trust, therefore, that this money will be appropriated. I don't know how much can be spent at the present moment, because we all realize today the difficulties we have because of priorities in this war period. I certainly trust, however, that we will at least take this step and that the order will not go into the waste basket. These playgrounds that we have in the city should be properly equipped for use. As I said in connection with the recreation bill, we can at least supply the money now and children and adults, mothers and fathers, will in proper time be able to obtain the outdoor recreation to which they are entitled.

The order was passed.

SHELTER IN CENTRAL SQUARE, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a suitable shelter in the Central square section of East Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, back on August 25, 1941, I introduced this same order. At that time I asked the Boston Elevated Trustees to erect a suitable shelter in the Central square section of East Boston. Of course the trustees did nothing about it. But the necessity for a shelter of this kind has become even greater since I introduced the other order, and I certainly trust that some action will be taken along this line in the Central square section of our town. I read in the paper the other day that the Board of Selectmen of Brookline thanked the Board of Elevated Trustees for erecting a shelter in Cleveland Circle. Of course, we are all pleased at seeing things of that kind done for any section. It was also for the benefit of the residents of Newton, at the expense of the City of Boston. Without wishing to detract in any degree from what is done for other sections, I believe that we are entitled to have the Board of Elevated Trustees take similar action in regard to our Central square section of East Boston. I don't think the people of Brookline or Newton are any better than the people of East Boston. As a matter of fact, we have to go over 100 yards to get any cover over there. A shelter there is badly needed, and if this sort of thing can be done for the people of Brookline and Newton, I certainly think something of the sort should be done for the people of East Boston.

The order was passed.

ERECTION OF VETERANS' HOSPITAL BY WHITE FUND.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appropriate sufficient funds for the erection of a veterans' hospital in the City of Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I don't know just what the definite purposes of the George Robert White Fund are. At the end of my brief remarks I will ask that the order be referred to the Executive Committee so that we can have the Trustees of the Fund present and find out just what can be done with the fund. I have been talking with a Senator who happens to be on the rehabilitation committee at the State House, and he tells me that there are 1,500 mentally deficient veterans who have been returned to Massachusetts and that it is a serious problem to find various hospitals to which they can go. As a matter of fact, there is only hospital room for six hundred, which means that 900 such veterans are roaming the streets of Boston, simply because there is not sufficient room for them at the West Roxbury or the Bedford veterans' hospitals. It is clear that another veterans' hospital should be erected in the City of Boston, and there is a chance that some of the George Robert White Fund may be used for that purpose. It would probably require the expenditure of a million dollars, and certainly something should be done for these mentally deficient veterans for whom at present there are no accommodations. Therefore, I have offered this order, which I trust will be referred to the Executive Committee, so that we may be able to have some of the trustees before the committee and find out what, if anything, can be done along this line,—whether a million dollars, for example, can be spent from this fund to build a hospital for the disabled and mentally deficient veterans of Boston. I trust, therefore, that the order will be referred to the Executive Committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

APPROVAL OF PASSAGE OF VETERANS' BONUS BILL.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the members of the Boston City Council in meeting assembled go on record as favoring the immediate passage of the Veterans' Bonus Bill as sponsored by the Hearst newspapers; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Massachusetts delegation in Congress.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I think that is the most worthy order I have heard read of the many orders put in by the councilor from East Boston today. I would like to quote a specific case that has come to my attention. I wonder how the Federal Government feels about a young discharged soldier of about twenty-one or twenty-two, who has served eighteen months overseas at Guadalcanal and other places, and who finally comes back to Boston. All along the line he has not had a kindly word said to him, let alone the furnishing of financial assistance which he very much needed, until he went to our own Soldiers' Relief Department. He is a young man from Roxbury, and I know that the councilor from that district would take just as much interest in the matter as I do if it had been particularly brought to his attention. It so happens, however, that the matter was brought to my notice through one of the deputy commissioners in the Soldiers' Relief Department. This young man went up there in uniform, greatly in need, with but five cents in his pocket, and it was our Soldiers' Relief Department that first took an interest in him and gave him an emergency allotment. And what do you think this young man said? He almost fell on his knees, thanking them, and then he said to this particular Deputy Commissioner, "Do you happen to know where I could go and perhaps get a second-hand suit of clothes, because I have not got money to buy a suit, and in the meantime I have to be wearing the soldier uniform?" That is why I rise on my feet in the Council Chamber, wondering why the Federal Government does not take sufficient interest in a discharged soldier to furnish him with a little money to help him over. We all know that when an inmate is discharged from one of our institutions he is furnished with a little money and with a suit of clothes, and the thought comes to our mind, why the Federal Government, which is spending so much money at the present time, cannot do something in a case like this. I commend Councilor Coffey for presenting this order today, and I hope that the necessity of having our Soldiers' Relief Department take a hand in such cases will soon cease and that the Federal Government will assume the responsibility that it should assume.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, I would like to support Councilor Coffey on this order. I, too, am wondering at the moment at the great solicitude of the State Department of Correction for a convict who is released when his time is up, as compared with the apparent negligence of the Federal Government in a case like this. When a convict is released at the end of his term he gets a suit of clothes and a sum of money with which to go out into the world. Why is not similar treatment accorded to a discharged veteran by our Federal Government? I have had some unpleasant experiences with these boys who have come back, unpleasant because of the hopelessness with which they are obliged to face the world. It is certainly significant that they get more honest help from such a department as our Soldiers' Relief Department than they get, when they need it most, from our National Government. It is a pitiful thing to realize that the Government has taken the attitude that "it is not to your credit to serve the nation, it is your duty. You are a young man, patriotic, and you are simply performing your duty in entering the government service, and you should not notice shortcomings on our part." And yet we are in a country where the people are supposed to govern, although in some respects, in a matter of this kind, there seems to be no more resemblance to democracy than they have in Germany today. These young men overseas are fighting for what they think is right, and yet under the title of democracy the element in control of our government does not seem to take the interest that it should take in those who are fighting this war. I wonder what kind of measure should be adopted to compel decent, humane treatment for these boys who have gone out to fight our battles, who are compelled, if necessary, to serve twenty-four hours a day or to give up their lives, and who, when they come back, find that there is not the same solicitude for them as there is for a man who is confined in one of our penal institutions for violation of the law, but who when his term expires is furnished with a suit of clothes and a ten-dollar bill. Why is not similar treatment extended to a returned veteran who, after having been discharged and perhaps having been hospitalized, remote from his home, is simply left on his own without any assistance either to get to his home or to be properly fed and clothed? That sort of thing has been called to my attention on frequent occasions, and I think it is the duty of the newspapers to give utterance to what is happening. Certainly such a flagrant situation should be given prominence in our public press, so that the people may realize what is going on. Let me repeat: certainly as much solicitude should be shown for the boys who have returned from the front as is shown to those who have violated the laws of society, have had to pay the penalty, and who when their term is up are furnished a suit of clothes and some money to start again in the world. If the Federal Government will do that sort of thing, it will be a practical, working demonstration of democracy.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, we have all had brought to our attention just such cases as have been referred to by Councilor Fish and Councilor Kinsella. Sometimes we think they are isolated cases, but they are many in number. Councilor Fish has referred to the case of the returned soldier who could get no help until he applied to our Soldiers' Relief Department and who asked if they knew of any place where he might get a suit of even second-hand clothes. I sometimes think that we are spending altogether too much time in worrying about some and practically spending no time worrying about others who are at least as deserving and perhaps even more deserving. No doubt this young man was in such dire need of clothing that he would have taken a second-hand suit, so to speak, or such a suit as might have been picked up in the rubbish collected in parts of our city. No veterans, of course, should be subjected to that sort of thing, and there seems to be no real reason why anything of this sort should occur. Certainly returned veterans who have been fighting our battles overseas are entitled to the very best. Money can or should always be furnished to meet crying needs. For example, we have complaints about filthy streets, where garbage and ashes are allowed to collect, and we all feel, and rightly so, that a proper amount of money should be set aside to handle cases of that kind. I wonder sometimes what becomes of a lot of the material that is cast aside, and there might at times in the collections be a fairly good suit of clothes which might be available to somebody who badly needs it. There are no doubt, as we know, many returned veterans who need clothes and who need a little money to get along temporarily. But who cares? Apparently the fellows in Washington don't seem to care. I wonder sometimes why something cannot be done with the enormous amounts of money raised in these war loans. I think it is about time that there was a survey made of real requirements and the best way of meeting them. There certainly should be provision for meeting the needs of these boys in a worthwhile way. There must be close to a million who have come back now, because a month ago there were 800,000 who had been returned, and many of them were veterans of foreign service. Certainly something must be done to bring the needs and demands of these veterans to the attention of the public. There has been legislation talked about in Washington for some five or six weeks, legislation looking to the help of these returned veterans, and still it has not got beyond first base. It is too bad that some of these returning boys have to use the floor of this Council as a sounding board, when more attention should be given to them by our Federal Government. There can be no better proof of the way that the interests of these veterans is being neglected by Congress in Washington. A man died at sea on April 5, a year ago, and yet his widowed mother is not told until recently, and then it was through intercession on the part of a Boston City Councilor. Certainly action should be taken in Washington to eliminate such needless and totally unwarranted delay. Such information should be conveyed in twenty-four hours after it is known by the authorities. I say that the members of Congress should attend to their proper business. Let them stay in Washington, where they belong. That is where they can do the greatest good right now for the people of this country. They cannot do it by traveling around throughout the country in a totally unnecessary way. Let them take action that will bring results, and let us have the results. The resolutions were passed.

PLANS FOR MASSACHUSETTS VETERANS.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:
Ordered, That his Excellency the Governor be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to call a special session of the Legislature for the purpose of devising ways and means to provide a bonus for Massachusetts veterans and to make plans for a rehabilitation program for Massachusetts veterans.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I shall talk only briefly on this order, incidentally practically repeating some remarks I made a few moments ago. That is, I have already referred to the 1,500 mental and disabled cases of veterans who have been discharged, only six hundred of whom can be taken care of in the hospitals available, and the other nine hundred of whom are walking around the streets of Boston. A case was called to my attention in the morning paper of one of these men who killed his wife and baby. He probably was no more responsible for doing that than any mentally affected man might be, such men as you will find in our insane institutions. I think the Governor's Council or the Governor himself should immediately call a special session of the Legislature for the purpose of devising ways and means to provide a bonus for Massachusetts veterans and to make plans for a rehabilitation program for them. Certainly something should be done for such veterans, who are being returned to us in hundreds and thousands, and many of whom can simply walk the streets. There are only 320 beds in the West Roxbury Veterans' Hospital, and the hospital at Bedford is already crowded. You cannot get a bed there, and when they try to send soldiers over to the Naval Hospital, they find that that is already overcrowded, with cots all over the place, and with their funds in such condition that they are not able even to pay the salaries of their employees. Mr. Perkins himself (Commissioner of Mental Diseases) recently made a statement setting forth the condition of affairs and the dire need for action. I saw Governor Saltonstall awhile ago and urged upon him the necessity for a session of the Legislature to act upon these matters, and Mr. Perkins has emphasized the need for more room. It is certainly time that the Governor took some action, instead of simply making statements through the newspapers. There is a crying demand for steps to be taken looking to the rehabilitation of the boys who are coming back, and it should be done without further loss of time. As I have said, there is room for only 320 patients in the West Roxbury Hospital, the Bedford Hospital is full, and out of the fifteen hundred returned mental and disabled cases, only six hundred can be taken care of, leaving nine hundred who need hospitalization walking the streets of Boston. It is certainly time to take some action and do something for these cases, and the Legislature should meet and take action immediately. Let us start with the hospitals, and then take up the matter of the bonus. Certainly with the facts that have been stated here, the facts that the returned veteran has been unable even to get a suit of clothes or a few dollars to keep him going, and with nothing being done to help him by the Federal Government, we should take care of the situation here.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, I don't like to get up here again, but there are several of these orders that Councilor Coffey has offered today of which I am very strongly in favor, and this is one of them. I am reminded of a service flag here at the window, stating, if I remember correctly, that we have furnished 1,150 men to the armed services. That probably means largely men who have voluntarily enlisted and who are doing their bit. It is a very vital question in my mind whether those who come back are going to get into the jobs that they voluntarily left. About a year ago I had the brass and temerity to get up on this floor, in spite of the F. B. I., and advise any person in our employ not to voluntarily resign his job for the sake of being a hero. The reason is this. I have the understanding that nobody can get back the job he relinquished unless he qualifies again through a physical examination. I hope I am wrong, but I understand that none of them can get back without being subjected to another physical examination. Unless that situation is changed, none of those men who have gone into the service can get the jobs they left back again without passing another physical examination. If I am in error, and somebody will point out to me the fact that I am in error, I certainly regret it and will personally retract what I said. I don't want to be in error any more than I have to be. But that is my understanding, and if that is so, I believe it is incumbent upon Governor Saltonstall or his successor to see to it that, as far as possible, regardless of the physical condition of those people, they are reinstated in their jobs when they return from the armed services. I repeat, that I understand that when they have left their jobs and gone into the service of the country, although they left here with healthy bodies, sufficiently good for the armed service standards, when they return, if a physical examination shows that their condition is not what it should be, they cannot be reinstated. I hope I am wrong, but let me say again that that is my understanding. If anybody can show me that I am wrong, I will be glad to acknowledge it. The order was passed.

MEMORIAL TO EAST BOSTON VETERANS.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor submit to the City Council an appropriation for sufficient money to erect a memorial to East Boston veterans of all wars, said memorial to be erected in Central Park, East Boston.

The order was passed.

MEMORIALS TO VETERANS IN EACH WARD.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appropriate sufficient funds to erect a memorial to East Boston veterans of all wars, said memorial to be erected in Central Park, East Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, referring to these two orders, one is that the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appropriate sufficient funds for the purpose stated. If, however, from the George Robert White Fund the money cannot be appropriated for the purpose suggested, I would at least like to have action taken in some way so that there may be funds supplied for an appropriate memorial in the East Boston district. On February 1, 1943, Councilors Hanley, Hannon, D. F. Sullivan and myself introduced an order that his Honor consider the advisability of having erected on the front lawn of City Hall two tablets, one for deceased members of the Fire Department, and one for deceased members of the Police Department, who have been killed or who have died from injuries in the performance of their duty, the names and dates of death to be inscribed thereon in chronological order, and the tablets to be illuminated during the nighttime, with dedicatory services. Then, on May 17, 1943, I introduced an order for memorials to the war dead of the First World War, in each ward. Also, there was the order asking that plaques be erected in every section of the City of Boston. For example, in my ward that would mean the erection of four plaques, because we have four sections in the district. Shortly afterwards we received a message from the Mayor recommending the erection of an appropriate temporary plaque on Boston Common to commemorate war dead. The result would be, of course, that the East Boston mother of a family passing by would not see at once the name of her boy, but would simply see a general list, and unless she went through the list she would not realize that her boy's name was there. The name would be tied up with a lot of others not from the East Boston district. Therefore, I thought at the time that it would be well to have a plaque in every section of the city. I talked with the Mayor at the time and thought he was very responsive, but nothing came from it so far as plaques in East Boston are concerned. I think the trustees of the George Robert White Fund have decided that a memorial should be erected in the Back Bay section of Boston, and that that would be the memorial for the veterans of all wars who had passed away. That might be all right as far as it went, but I still feel that we should have such memorials in the East Boston district. I attended a meeting of representatives of the veterans' organizations over in East Boston, which went from 8.45 until 12.30 at night, in regard to the matter. The representatives present were from Flaherty Post of the American Legion, the Orient Heights Post of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 608, the Italian-American World War Veterans, and the Spanish War Veterans. They went on record asking that a memorial be placed in the East Boston district. But it seems hard to get anything through the George Robert White Fund Trustees except for the Back Bay section. I have here a letter from the East Boston Veterans' Council, addressed to me under date of January 14, which I would like to read. It is as follows:

East Boston Veterans' Council,
January 14, 1944.

City Councilor James S. Coffey, Council Chamber,
City Hall, Boston.

Dear Councilor and Comrade,—At the regular meeting of this organization held last evening the following vote was adopted:

"That the City of Boston appropriate moneys to erect a suitable monument to the veterans of all wars who have come from the East Boston district. It is the hope of this organization that such a monument would be symbolic of the heroism and gallantry of our native sons."

It was further voted to request that you present this matter to the City Council as our representative in that Body and a comrade of this organization.

Your cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated by us.

Very sincerely yours,
JOHN L. MCCARTHY, Commander.

Commander McCarthy has been more or less in contact with me the past year in regard to a suitable memorial for the veterans of all wars in the East Boston district. They have considered this matter at some length. They favored plaques at one time, and they have been in touch with me upon the matter right along. They have hoped, as I have hoped, that the Mayor would go along on the matter, recommending some such action as they favored, in a message to the Council. They hoped that a memorial of this nature would be given to the East Boston district. Of course, we have the two districts over there, one going from Day square up to Orient Heights, and the other covering the balance of the section. They have been busy making collections of $1 from each family, having the plaque idea in mind, and they want a memorial plaque down in the Central square section. In their house-to-house canvass they have raised about $1,300, which shows that the people of my district want plaques. They have been working hard on the matter from the Orient Heights section all over the district, and they would like to have a memorial in the Central square district of East Boston. I would like to know what action could be taken by the trustees of the George Robert White Fund, if any. We are certainly very much interested, as is shown by the orders I have introduced from time to time; and we now trust that a suitable memorial may be placed over there, as I have suggested. The families interested are proposing to raise about $5,000, or between $4,500 and $5,000. That is not the entire point, however. We would like to have this matter referred to the Executive Committee and have the George Robert White Fund Trustees invited here, so as to see whether we cannot have, through that fund, a memorial erected in the Central square section of East Boston. It is all right to talk about having this sort of thing in the Back Bay, perhaps at the Museum of Fine Arts or the Public Library, but how many people from my section go there? I asked a number of them if they had ever been to the Boston Public Library, and they had not, and I myself have not been in the Boston Public Library or inside of the Museum of Fine Arts. Seventy-five per cent of the people of East Boston never go to the Back Bay and would not be interested in a memorial that might be placed there, although it is all right, a fine thing. But we would like to have something in the section in which we are particularly interested to commemorate the services of our boys on behalf of their country. Our people can then have before them in visible form a record of what East Boston has done in this way. I have not the slightest objection to the building of a war memorial in the Back Bay section. That is all right. But, incidentally, I would like to ask why it would not be a good idea from the George Robert White Fund, if it can be done, to provide a veterans' hospital which is as much needed as a memorial. I would certainly like to know who represents the veterans in regard to these matters. Some of the East Boston veterans were certainly led to believe that they were going to get a memorial in East Boston, but it seems that the Back Bay section is the one considered. Now, I am not opposed to that, because nobody in public life could be opposed to it. But I would like to have the trustees of the George Robert White Fund appear before us and tell us whether we can have a memorial and whether we can have a hospital for the veterans. It seems that the trustees did not spend any money last year, but that they are planning to do so this coming year. I might also add that we are very desirous of getting playground equipment in that section of the city. We have a large number of children of five and six years of age, for whom something should be done, who should be given something that would interest them in the playgrounds, and it is also important that something be done for the adults. There are probably thirty or forty lots in my town where a bulldozer could be put to work, ploughing and smoothing the ground, and preparing it for playground activities, and I certainly hope that something can be done along that line. It need not involve a great deal of expense, but it is very important for the youngsters.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

Coun. KINSELLA called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor January 10, 1944, of Francis Q. Winnett and Joseph F. Kelleher, to be Constables without authority to serve civil process and to serve without bond.

On motion of Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN the Council voted to act on No. 2 on the calendar, under unfinished business, at the same time, viz.:

NEW EDITION OF "BOSTON'S STREETS."

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Printing be authorized and directed to print a new edition of one thousand copies, bound in boards, of the book entitled "Boston's Streets," with the precinct changes, if any, made by the Election Commissioners to December 31, 1943, and the list of streets, etc., added to and corrected by the Board of Street Commissioners up to the date of publication; said copies to be distributed under the direction of the Committee on Printing; and the expense to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

COLLECTION OF ASHES AND GARBAGE BY COLEMAN BROTHERS.

Coun. KELLY and MUCHNICK offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to compel Coleman Brothers to live up to the terms of their contract for the collection of ashes and garbage in the Dorchester district, or take immediate steps to revoke same.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, conditions have got to a point in Dorchester where, as you pass along the street, you would come to the conclusion that every yard on every street was in the junk business. Coleman Brothers in every section of Dorchester—and I have checked this personally—for the past two weeks have been entirely behind schedule. Something drastic should be done. I don't know that the matter should be referred to the Executive Committee, but some committee, perhaps a special committee, should be appointed, so that action may be taken immediately without any further delay. It is really an emergency situation, and we must have a showdown. I say that the way that Coleman Brothers are acting in this matter is radically wrong. I was going to ask you, Mr. President, to refer this matter to the Committee on Public Safety, although I know that you have not yet appointed your committees. If a committee could be appointed to consider this matter, it might be taken up on Thursday, we will say. Certainly it should be taken up at a very early date, and we should have a showdown, so that the people of Dorchester will no longer be compelled to put up with this sort of treatment. In many sections of Dorchester there is a delay of eighteen days before they collect, where collections should be made frequently, if we are to observe the laws of health and decency. I certainly feel that we should have a meeting on the matter this week, and if Coleman Brothers cannot handle the contract let us have the work done in some other way. The people of Dorchester pay their taxes and are entitled to some consideration. It is a pretty serious matter, and I think we should have a hearing some day this week to consider and deal with the situation. I am receiving twenty to thirty telephone calls a day and getting numerous letters. Action is demanded, and I feel that the matter should be taken up by a committee this week, say on Thursday.

President KERRIGAN—The matter can be referred to the Executive Committee today, and some action can be taken by that committee.

Coun. KELLY—Well, Mr. President, I am perfectly willing to have it referred to the Executive Committee if that means that some action will be taken. In fact, if it is taken up by that committee today and a hearing given, I, for one, would be willing to stay here all night. This is a very serious, a very threatening situation in the district, and we must have a showdown.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I feel that, if this is referred to the Executive Committee, we can have some action taken today. There need be no delay.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, that is all right with me, so long as we can have a hearing Thursday.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

SYMPATHY TO EX-COUNCILOR LYONS.

Coun. HANLEY and HANNON offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council in meeting assembled extend its deepest sympathy and condolence to our former colleague, Councilor Theodore Lyons, to the wife, mother and the immediate members of the late First Sergeant Francis X. Lyons's family. A talented young man who in life was a credit to his name, his devoted and loving mother, his family, city and country. A man who by his honorable and heroic death typifies all those who have died and will die in this war, in order that others may live, their last measure of devotion to humanity, thus earning for themselves for all eternity a crown in Heaven emblazoned with the inscription, "No greater love hath man than he lay down his life for a friend."

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

CONGRATULATIONS TO WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council in meeting assembled commend and congratulate the Hearst newspapers in their outstanding achievement of unifying and amplifying the voice of the American people in the support of a Congressional bill designed with the provisions for a mustering out pay, hospitalization, and rehabilitation of the returning war veterans; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Mr. William Randolph Hearst, Sr., extending to him our deepest appreciation and our cordial wish for his continual good health and happiness.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, one of the four cornerstones of our American liberty, progress and civilization is the freedom of the press. Freedom of the press is most important in peace and in war. It is the only means to check, to unify and to amplify the voice of the American people, not only in our everyday life, but in the halls of Congress and in our State Legislature. William Randolph Hearst, now in the twilight years of his life, as a journalist and as a man who has interested himself in public affairs, has shown rare vision and energy in promoting everything that looked to the betterment of the American people; and now, in the twilight years of his life, it is only fitting that proper appreciation of his work should be shown by us and by all forward-looking citizens, while he is still in our midst. As we know, he has written his own epitaph before he passes away, and he is even now working with his full vigor and clear-sightedness to advance his progressive ideas. His voice is now heard and amplified in the halls of Congress and throughout the entire United States, through his publications, in unifying and shaping legislation looking to the mustering out pay for our boys in the service and the hospitalization and rehabilitation of the returning war veterans. And so I have introduced this resolution and have delivered these words in appreciation of the record and services of William Randolph Hearst who, while thirty-five hundred miles distant from our voices, really typifies more than any living man the American principle of the freedom of the press and the freedom of thought and action for which America stands. He really symbolizes in his person what freedom of the press means, and it is certainly proper at this time that we should commend and congratulate him; and it is also proper at this time that I should commend and congratulate a young man who has been affiliated with Boston politics through his work as a newspaper reporter on the Hearst newspapers in this city for the past fourteen years, recording the remarks and opinions of each and every individual member of this Body. I refer specifically to Mr. Frank Reilly of the Advertiser-American, a man who has amply demonstrated his outstanding ability with his pen, a man who has shown his knowledge of parliamentary procedure during all the years in which he has been associated here with us and our predecessors, and a man who has had conferred upon him the greatest recognition that can be shown to a newspaper man, by being assigned to newspaper work in our national capital. William Randolph Hearst has assigned to such highly important work Francis K. Reilly, who in the past has presented such a graphic picture of what has transpired in this Body and in our committee rooms, always with a sympathetic and humane interest, as shown by his writings, in those who are fighting and dying in order that our country may live. Frank K. Reilly, our beloved friend and reporter of the Hearst newspapers, is one of the most popular newspaper men with whom we have ever had contact in this Body. I am proud of the acquaintance that I have had with him, and I am sure that he will prove to be one of the most popular and able newspaper writers who has ever migrated into Washington, whether his work is concerned with peace or war. His well known affability, his human sympathy, his keen reportorial instinct and his ability with his pen augur well, I am assured, for his success in the Congressional field, the same brilliant record on the Hearst papers as a Washington reporter and correspondent that he has shown at all times in his work on the Hearst press in Boston. We confidently predict for Frank Reilly the same fine record and success in Washington, dealing as a newspaper man with news from our capital which affects the forty-eight states of our Union, that he has always shown here in his work on our local papers, that he will bring forth clearly the news from stifling committee rooms and do his utmost to see that our war heroes, so far as it can be done through the medium of powerful newspapers, will get what belongs to them, and that from Boston to California, so far as it can be done by able and widespread reporting and interpretation of news from the center of our government by these great journals, people will get the correct view of what is happening and a correct perspective of its effect on our boys in the service and on our whole people.

The resolutions were passed.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3:23 p. m., on motion of Coun. HANLEY, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order at 5:04 p. m. by President KERRIGAN.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred January 10) for appropriation of $82,000 for Assessing Department, Personal Service that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 15, nays 0.
2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred January 10) for appropriation of $11,757.40 from income of Board of Real Estate Commissioners for Houghton and Dutton Building Emergency Reconstruction recommending reference to Committee on Appropriations.

Report accepted; said reference ordered.

3. Report on order (referred January 10) that Budget Commissioner be instructed to strike out item for legal services for Police Commissioner from budget for Police Department for 1944—that same ought not to pass.

The question came on the passage of acceptance of the report.

Coun. KINSELLA—Just briefly for the record, Mr. President, I should like to say that I was motivated originally to file the order a week ago today because I construed it as the opinion of the people of Boston that no further public expense ought to be entailed in an attempt to build up prosecution against the members of the Police Department prior to January 10; and had I known at the time, Mr. President, that it was mandatory under the law by virtue of the law written in 1906 that certain sums of money be made available for legal services by the Police Commissioner of the City of Boston, I should not have filed the order. However, Mr. President, I should like to close my remarks with the remark with which I opened, that I do not believe that the people of Boston are concerned with the further persecution of these men at the consequent cost of their own money after the charges have collapsed.

The report was accepted and the order rejected.

NATIONAL SERVICE ACT.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston, in meeting assembled, hereby expresses its belief that the so-called National Service Act, now before the Congress and recommended for passage by the President of the United States, be not enacted into law until such time as it is incontrovertibly proven that such legislation is imperative and essential to the winning of the war; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the Massachusetts delegation in Congress.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, I read with interest the President's address and the printed address in the newspapers relative to the National Service Act, but I think that Congress should move along on that question very slowly. I do not think there is any need, myself, personally, of the conscription of women at the present time. I know in Canada at the present time nearly all of the factories manufacturing munitions are now going back planning post-war work, and I think they will be far ahead of this country when the day of peace comes for starting back on peacetime work. I was listening last night to an address by some United States Senators talking to the commission on work in munitions plants throughout the country, about the layoff of help and the thousands who will be laid off monthly. They have struck a peak in the manufacture of munitions, and these people are going back to find work in civil life again, and I hate to think that Congress is now going to enact laws that I do not think are in effect even in Germany, hard pressed as they are for labor, where they are not conscripting women. I think it has been done in Russia, but I do not think Germany has had to have an act such as this, conscripting women. I think the taking of women out of homes up to the present time has been bad. It has been a bad influence and it certainly has not helped the women and the young people in this country, and I think that if Congress is to move ahead in the passage of this act, it should do so very slowly and that not until such time as it is deemed imperative should they put that act into operation.

The resolution was adopted.

TEMPORARY COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC SAFETY.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That a temporary special committee be appointed on Public Safety, to consist of five members of the City Council.

The order was passed, and President KERRIGAN appointed as such committee Coun. Kelly, Muchnick, Keenan, Fish and Hannon.

SYMPATHY TO COUNCILOR D. F. SULLIVAN.

President KERRIGAN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council, in meeting assembled, extends its deep sympathy to Councilor Daniel F. Sullivan on the death of his beloved father.

The resolution was unanimously passed.

MODERN PLAYGROUND IN FENWAY.

Coun. BAYLEY and CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a modern children's playground with a wading pool and other facilities in the Fenway.

The order was passed.

SURVEY OF DILAPIDATED BUILDINGS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of including in this year's budget for the Building Department a sum sufficient to conduct an immediate survey throughout the city to determine the number of buildings, both residential and business, that warrant condemnation proceedings by the Building Commissioner, said survey to show which buildings are city-owned and which are privately owned; and be it further Ordered, That in the event such survey is made, the City Council be informed of the result.

The orders were passed.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 36.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1944.

NO. 6

SEVENTEEN THOUSAND STUDENTS OF BOSTON HIGH SCHOOLS PARTICIPATING IN MAYOR TOBIN'S ESSAY CONTEST ON SUBJECT OF "RELIGIOUS OR RACIAL DISCRIMINATION MUST NOT EXIST IN AMERICA," REPRESENTATIVES FROM ENTIRE FORTY-THREE PUBLIC AND PAROCHIAL HIGH SCHOOLS — SUPERINTENDENT ARTHUR L. GOULD AND DIOCESAN SUPERVISOR REV. WILLIAM L. DALY MAKE ANNOUNCEMENT — ALL RECORDS FOR NUMBER OF CONTESTANTS FOR SUCH CONTEST IN HISTORY OF BOSTON SCHOOLS BROKEN — MAYOR TOBIN HIGHLY GRATIFIED.

Mayor Maurice J. Tobin has been advised by the Superintendent of Public Schools, Arthur L. Gould, and the Diocesan Supervisor of Parochial Schools, Rev. William J. Daly, that approximately 17,000 Boston girls and boys are participating in his essay contest on the the subject "Religious or racial discrimination must not exist in America." They represent the entire forty-three public and parochial high schools in Boston.

Mayor Tobin declared: "Never before in Boston's school history have so many high school students participated in any essay contest. This is a wholehearted, voluntary activity by the students."

A $25 War Bond will be awarded to the boy or girl writing the best essay in each high school. The school principals, or those whom they may delegate, are selecting the winner in each school. A committee composed of three men appointed by the Mayor will select the city-wide winners. A prize of a $100 War Bond will be awarded the student writing the best paper among all the public high schools, and a prize of a $50 War Bond will be awarded for second place. Likewise, a $100 War Bond will be awarded the student writing the best paper among all the parochial high schools, and a $50 War Bond will be awarded for second prize.

The judges for this contest are D. Leo Daley, headmaster of Mechanic Arts High School—representing the public schools; Rev. Thomas R. Reynolds, pastor of St. Matthew's Church, Dorchester, representing the parochial schools; and Ben G. Shapiro, secretary of the Massachusetts Committee of Catholics, Protestants and Jews.

The prizes to all the winners will be awarded at Lincoln Day exercises on February 13, at three o'clock, at Faneuil Hall, Boston. The first prize essay in the public schools and the first prize essay in the parochial schools will be read by the winners. Prior to the ceremonies the Mayor will be host at a luncheon at one o'clock in the Parker House to each of the winners in all the forty-three high schools, both public and parochial. The boy or girl winner will be invited to bring along his or her father and mother, or two close relatives. The dinner is being given in honor of these boys and girls. From there they will go to Faneuil Hall where the prizes will be awarded and the exercises conducted.

The money for the War Bonds, which will total about $1,100, will be obtained from the City of Boston Salvage Fund.

Mayor Tobin further declared: "Approximately 17,000 students of high school age actively participated, read the fundamental principles of equality and tolerance, and wholeheartedly entered into the spirit of the contest. The result is going to mean more than a $25 War Bond for the winner in each school. It is going to mean that 17,000 youngsters will become enriched in mind and spirit by this reading and study."

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"
From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

BOSTON HOUSING AUTHORITY REORGANIZES WITH JOHN CARROLL ELECTED AS CHAIRMAN, REV. THOMAS R. REYNOLDS RE-ELECTED VICE CHAIRMAN, AND HAROLD F. KELLOGG, TREASURER, FOLLOWING RESIGNATION OF JOHN A. BREEN, WHO RETURNS TO PRIVATE BUSINESS — MAYOR TOBIN NAMES MRS. EVA WHITING WHITE TO VACATED PLACE — FORMER CONGRESSMAN THOMAS A. FLAHERTY HAS BEEN NAMED FEDERAL RELATIONS OFFICER.

At the annual meeting of the Boston Housing Authority held February 2 at its office, 10 Post Office square, Boston, Mass., John Carroll was elected Chairman of the Authority. Also at the meeting Rev. Thomas R. Reynolds was re-elected Vice Chairman and Harold Field Kellogg was re-elected Treasurer.

Mr. Carroll, who resides in Brighton, has been a member of the Boston Housing Authority since its organization. He is a former member and former Chairman of the State Board of Housing and has been a pioneer in the public housing movement in Massachusetts. He is prominently identified with labor activities in Massachusetts.

Father Reynolds is pastor of St. Matthew's Church in Dorchester and is a former Director of the Catholic Charitable Bureau in Boston. Mr. Kellogg has been a prominent architect in Boston for many years. He is a former Chairman of the Boston Housing Authority, and both he and Father Reynolds have been members of the Authority since its organization.

Mayor Tobin had previously announced that John A. Breen had resigned from the Boston Housing Authority and that he would appoint Mrs. Eva Whiting White to the Housing Authority in Mr. Breen's place. He submitted Mrs. White's name to the City Council on Monday. The position on the Housing Authority is unpaid. The members elect their own chairman.

Mr. Breen also resigned his position as the City Federal Relations Officer with the Government departments in Washington. Mr. Breen resigned because of the pressure of his private business, to which he is to return. The Mayor accepted his resignation with great regret.

FOR FERRYBOAT SERVICE.

The Mayor has approved the following request of the Institutions Commissioner:

BOSTON, January 19, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully request your approval to pay to Captain William J. Corkum, 2093 Parkway, Everett, the sum of $2,000 on Service Order 6 dated January 18, 1944.

The annual certificate of the steamer "Stephen O'Meara" expired on Friday, January 15, and the steamer is now at the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, East Boston, for annual repairs as required by the United States Steamboat Inspectors.

While there we are required to keep steam up which necessitates a man three eight-hour-shifts with the rest of our regular crew making repairs of their own. Under present manpower conditions we would have an insufficient crew to operate the Penal Department boat, S.S. "Perkins."

Thomas A. Flaherty of Charlestown, now a member of the Boston Transit Commission, has been appointed by the Mayor to Mr. Breen's position as Federal Relations Officer for the City. Mr. Flaherty is a former member of Congress. The position as Federal Relations Officer pays $5,000 a year.

Mrs. Eva Whiting White resides at 395 Charles street, Boston. She has been a member of the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare for a number of years, serving under several administrations, and is the Director of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union. She is Chairman of the Division of Immigration and Americanization of the Massachusetts Department of Education, and is a former member of the Massachusetts Homestead Committee, which was the forerunner of the Housing program. She is also a professor at Simmons College.

The Mayor said that Mrs. White had agreed to accept a position on the Boston Housing Authority. Mr. Breen has served as Chairman of the Boston Housing Authority for the past six years. The Mayor said: "It is with very sincere regret that I accept the resignation of Mr. Breen. He has done an excellent job in his capacity as an unpaid member of the Housing Authority, and has made a tremendous personal contribution to the success of the Housing program in Boston."

The steamer "Lois H. Corkum" is the only boat at all satisfactory which we were able to hire and nothing to be gained by advertising. This boat will be in use for our services beyond two weeks, working evenings and Sundays during that time.

HUGH J. CAMPBELL,
Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, January 7, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—On August 3, 1943, publicly advertised bids were opened in this office for the effecting of repairs to the draw fender pier at the Chelsea Bridge North, over the Mystic river. Four bids were submitted, the lowest being submitted by the contracting firm of W. H. Ellis & Son Company in the amount of $23,830.

Your Honor approved the awarding of this contract to the above-referenced contractor, but the contract document was never executed because the money to pay for the work was not available. We have, however, provided sufficient money in the current year's budget and it is most essential that the work provided or in the above-referenced contract be started immediately.

I respectfully request, therefore, your approval to the award of a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, — but on the basis of the publicly advertised bids that were opened last August 3, — to the contracting firm of W. H. Ellis & Son Company, 479 Meridian street, East

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without public advertisement, to the Everett Fuel Company for furnishing approximately 50,000 gallons of commercial kerosene to the city departments, as required, for a period from January 1, 1944, to December 31, 1944, at the posted tank wagon price per gallon at the time of delivery.

The Everett Fuel Company has had the city contract for furnishing commercial kerosene for the last four years and the performance of the contract by it has been satisfactory in every respect.

This department has checked the market for this commodity and finds that the price quoted by the Everett Fuel Company—that is, the posted tank wagon price—is the best that can be obtained.

The posted tank wagon price as of today is 10.6 cents per gallon. The total amount of the contract will be approximately $5,300.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, January 26, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without advertising to the New England Coke Company for furnishing approximately 125 tons of stove size coke for delivery to Penal Institutions, Deer Island, House of Correction, at a price of $11.44 per net ton delivered less a cash discount of 2 per cent for payment within fifteen days.

The New England Coke Company has been, for several years, the only bidder on coke requirements for the City of Boston and has always made delivery in a satisfactory manner.

The approximate total amount of the contract will be $1,430.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, November 23, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of September 30, 1943, your Honor approved a request to purchase from A. Frylink & Sons, Inc., Babylon, New York, 20,850 daffodil bulbs at a price of $80 per thousand which was presented by the Chairman of the Park Department. This purchase was used to replace the usual annual tulip show presented every year by the Park Department.

Inasmuch as the amount of this contract exceeds $1,000 it is obligatory that the Supply Department handle this purchase, and in view of this explanation, I would respectfully request that permission be granted me to award a contract to A. Frylink & Sons, Inc., Babylon, New York, for the purchase of 20,850 daffodil bulbs at a price of $80 per thousand.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

SUFFOLK COUNTY COURT HOUSE.

BOSTON, January 3, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MAYOR TOBIN,—Your approval is hereby requested for the award of a contract without advertising to the Otis Elevator Company for the complete maintenance and servicing of the ten signal control passenger elevators in the Suffolk County Court House in service continuously during Court House hours, for the year beginning January 1, 1944, and also including the required annual drop test, and the replacement of all parts; and, in addition, to include monthly supervisory inspection of four intermittently operated passenger elevators at the Court House and of four electric book lifts, including also the annual drop test for these, at a monthly charge of $860.

All of the ten continuously operated signal control passenger elevators, the four other elevators used intermittently for passengers, and the four electric book lifts, were manufactured and installed by the Otis Elevator Company, and the Court House Commission believes that nothing will be obtained by advertising for the foregoing service, particularly with existing and increasing difficulties in procuring mechanical parts for repair and replacement to complicated mechanisms unless in stock by the manufacturer of the particular machines.

A similar contract for maintaining and servicing with the Otis Elevator Company has been in satisfactory operation at the Court House for the calendar year 1943.

Under the circumstances, the Suffolk County Court House Commission requests, under the provisions of chapter 156 of the Acts of 1939, that you indicate your approval for awarding the foregoing contract without public advertising.

Very truly yours,

SUFFOLK COUNTY COURT HOUSE
COMMISSION,
by ARNO I. DREW,
Chairman.

BOSTON, January 3, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MAYOR TOBIN,—Request is hereby made, because of existing fuel emergency shortage, by the Suffolk County Court House Commission for your approval to contract without advertising with the Boston Edison Company for the purchase from it for the year 1944 of steam for heating both the old and new portion of the Suffolk County Court House.

The steam will be supplied by the Boston Edison Company from its steam mains in Somerset street, at the rear of the Court House, which in the vicinity supply steam to the Hotel Bellevue, to the (State) Metropolitan District Building across the street from the Court House, to the Massachusetts General Hospital, to the (State) Public Works Building on Nashua street, to the Hotel Manger, and to the Boston & Maine Railroad at the North Station, both for station and car heating.

The Boston Edison Company street circuit at the rear of the Court House is connected with a power and heating generating plant at both ends, at one end with the company's plant on Kneeland street and at the other end with the company's plant on Minot street, near the North Station. These double connections should insure to the Court House uninterrupted services.

The rate for service will be the same as it was for similar service in 1943 and is as follows, viz.:

Demand Charge: $70 per month for the first 1,000 pounds per hour of demand or any portion thereof; $50 per month per 1,000 pounds per hour for the next 2,500 pounds per hour of demand; $44 per month per 1,000 pounds per hour for all over 3,500 pounds per hour of demand.

Consumption Charge: For the first 200,000 pounds of steam per month, 80 cents per thousand pounds; for the next 300,000 pounds of steam per month, 65 cents per thousand pounds; for the next 500,000 pounds of steam per month, 58 cents per thousand pounds; for the next 3,000,000 pounds of steam per month, 55 cents per thousand pounds; for all over 4,000,000 pounds of steam per month, 50 cents per thousand pounds.

Coal Charge: The foregoing consumption charges are based upon an average cost of bituminous coal of $4 per long ton delivered alongside the company's wharves. Whenever the average alongside cost of the bituminous coal in storage at the beginning of the month exceeds $4 per long ton, an additional consumption charge per 1,000 pounds of steam will be made at the rate of six cents for each $1 per ton of such excess.

After careful consideration and with full knowledge of the uncertainty existing in the fuel situation, the Court House Commission believes it prudent to contract for steam with the Boston Edison Company through December 31, 1944, on the above basis.

Very truly yours,

SUFFOLK COUNTY COURT HOUSE
COMMISSION,
by ARNO I. DREW, Chairman.

BOSTON, January 3, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR.—Because of the satisfactory service rendered over a period of years by the Federal National Linen Service Company, Inc., of Boston, in supplying towel service to the Suffolk County Court House, the Court House Commission believes that it would be for the best interest of the City of Boston and the County of Suffolk to continue this service with the Federal National Linen Service Company, Inc., for the fiscal year 1944, and requests your authority for awarding a contract without advertising to the Federal National Linen Service Company, Inc., for the calendar year 1944 on the basis of supplying one thousand towels weekly, at a monthly charge of $93.60, or a total of $1,123.20 per year. This is the same rate charged for 1943.

The deliveries and collections of towels at the Suffolk County Court House have been made without bickering with employees as to replacements. The Federal National Linen Service Company, Inc., owns the towels, bears the losses and replacements, and guarantees the suitability of the towels furnished, and undertakes to save the owner from any claims arising through the performance of the service.

Cordially yours,

COMMISSIONER FOR THE CARE, CUSTODY AND CONTROL OF SUFFOLK COUNTY COURT HOUSE,
by ARNO I. DREW, Chairman.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, January 24, 1944.

Regular meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President KERRIGAN in the chair and all the members present.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

APPOINTMENT BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the Council, the Mayor submitted the following appointment, viz.:

Constable for term ending April 30, 1944, without power to serve civil process and to serve without bond: Kenneth W. Blennerhassett, 70 Keith street, Ward 20, vice Archibald McNeil, resigned. Laid over a week under the law.

REIMBURSEMENT OF CITIES AND TOWNS FOR CERTAIN EXPENDITURES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 24, 1944.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Corporation Counsel regarding your order of December 27, 1943, concerning the drawing up of legislation whereby cities and towns in the Commonwealth will be reimbursed for moneys spent as a result of unfounded indictments by the Attorney-General's office of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, January 11, 1944.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.
Dear Mr. Mayor,—This will acknowledge receipt of a copy of an order recently passed by the City Council requesting the Corporation Counsel to draw up legislation which will be presented to the next session of the Legislature whereby cities and towns in the Commonwealth will be reimbursed for moneys spent as a result of unfounded indictments by the Attorney-General's office of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in such cases as Commonwealth v. James Mooney and Eldracher of the Building Department of the City of Boston. We are holding this matter together with other recommendations for legislation to be introduced at the 1945 legislative session and will give it our attention when the 1945 bills are being drafted.

Yours very truly,
FRANK J. MURRAY,
Corporation Counsel.

ERECTION OF SHELTERS BY ELEVATED.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 24, 1944.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway regarding your orders of January 10, 1944, and January 17, 1944, respectively, concerning the erection of shelters in certain parts of the city.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway Company,
January 21, 1944.

Mr. Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Sir,—The trustees took up at their meeting today the two items in connection with shelters, suggested in orders of the Council, one at Brigham Circle and one at Central square, East Boston, and directed me to advise the Council that as in the case of so many other requests for these shelters the trustees cannot follow a policy of construction. Recently shelters have been provided either through the municipalities or private individuals where the need seemed to warrant.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

LIGHT AT BREED AND LEYDEN STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 24, 1944.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of December 13, 1943, regarding the placing of a light on Breed street, at Leyden street, Ward 1.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
January 21, 1944.

Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Mr. Carey,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council on December 13, 1943:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Public Works Commissioner to immediately place a light on Breed street, at Leyden street."

Upon investigation, I find that there is a street light located at the above-referenced intersection and, in view of this, no consideration can be given to installing a second light because, in my opinion, the installation of a second light would be disapproved by the War Production Board. The latter-referenced Federal agency must approve of the installation of all additional street lights in this city because all materials involved in the installation of street lights are under priority regulations.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

USE OF SUMNER TUNNEL BY RAPID TRANSIT, INC.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, January 24, 1944.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway relative to your order of January 17, 1944, regarding the use of the Sumner Tunnel by Rapid Transit, Inc.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway Company,
January 21, 1944.
Mr. Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—The trustees have directed me to reply to the order of January 17, 1944, of the City Council relative to allowing Rapid Transit, Inc., to use the Sumner Tunnel.

The authority to permit operation of Rapid Transit, Inc., through the Sumner Tunnel does not lie with the trustees. It is their duty, as they have done in other cases, to oppose granting of licenses of this character within the Elevated territory which would result in depleting revenues of the Elevated System, and the State Department of Public Utilities have sustained this basic principle in many cases. The trustees are, of course, acting in this manner only for the protection ultimately of the taxpayers of the fourteen cities and towns in which the railway operates.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

INDORSEMENT BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF SCHOOL SURVEY.

The following was received:

Boston Chamber of Commerce,
President's Office, January 22, 1944.
To the Honorable City Council of the City of Boston.
Subject: Survey of Boston School Department.
Gentlemen,—May I take this means of expressing the hope that the City Council will favor a survey of the Boston School Department as suggested by the Finance Commission in its letter addressed to his Honor the Mayor and dated December 8, 1943. This is based on the opinion of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, in which I personally fully concur, that, in the interests of the general public, the city school system, like other important functions of government, should occasionally be examined by competent outside persons. Such examinations do not necessarily assume that inefficiency exists. On the contrary, they may be the means for strengthening and publicizing existing features as well as assisting the authorities to bring about needed changes.

Appropriations for Boston's schools exceed those of any other city department. They amount to more than $17,000,000 annually and constitute over 25 per cent of the entire levy for city expenses. Between September 30, 1933, and September 30, 1943, school enrollment declined by 37,000, or 25 per cent.

A well run business organization with an operating expense of $17,000,000 would have its expenditures not only under continual expert scrutiny but would welcome friendly, constructive suggestions. I believe that a survey of Boston's school system made by competent persons with knowledge of the subject and high standing in the community would be welcomed by the public and that the findings would be received with confidence.

The suggested cost of the proposed survey $75,000, is less than one half of one per cent of the current school appropriations and may be infinitesimal in comparison with the benefits derived over a period of years. No matter how efficient the Boston School Department now may be, it seems to be highly probable that such a report would contain constructive and beneficial recommendations. The fact that our laws give to the Mayor and the Council but little control over the expenditures of the School Committee makes an occasional properly conducted review especially desirable.

It is pertinent to bear in mind that despite a shrinkage of over $507,000,000 in the tax assessment valuations of Boston since 1929, appropriation orders for the city taken as a whole have increased some twelve per cent. The tax rate in 1909 was $16.50, in 1929, $28, and in 1943, $41. The situation is so serious that savings in the city's operating expenses must be effected wherever possible.

On behalf of the Chamber, I therefore respectfully urge your prompt approval of the $75,000 appropriation as suggested by the Finance Commission and as recommended by his Honor the Mayor.

Very truly yours,
HENRY J. NICHOLS, President.

Referred to Executive Committee.

INDORSEMENT BY BOSTON REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE OF SCHOOL SURVEY.

The following was received:

Boston, January 21, 1944.
Mr. John E. Kerrigan, President, City Council of the City of Boston.

Dear Mr. Kerrigan,—Recently the Finance Commission of the City of Boston asked May or Tobin for an appropriation of $75,000 for the purpose of undertaking a general survey of the school system, the work to be done by recognized experts. It brought forth the information that the cost of maintaining the school system has for a long time been in the neighborhood of $17,000,000 annually, whereas the school population has declined 30,000 pupils since 1937. Furthermore, it pointed out that the educational cost per pupil is, and has been, higher in Boston than in any comparable large city.

We understand that Mayor Tobin approves of the request of the Finance Commission and has passed it on to your Council for action.

The Boston Real Estate Exchange represents the largest group of taxpayers in the city and the money required for this survey will in the end, and to a substantial degree, be paid by our member in the form of real estate taxes. It therefore seems appropriate for us to express our opinion. The appropriation, though a sizable sum, is a small fraction of the amount annually expended on the schools. The fact that there has been no general survey of the school system for over twenty years seems in itself to warrant a check up now and when coupled with the rising cost of education per pupil, we believe the need for an appraisal of the situation becomes quite imperative. Certainly the city should have the information to consider this problem intelligently. Moreover, there may be post-war requirements demanded of the school system which can be better analyzed and more intelligently met if the authorities have before them a current and comprehensive study of the entire school system and its varied problems.

The Municipal Affairs Committee of the Boston Real Estate Exchange would like to go on record as being in favor of your granting the appropriation requested by the Finance Commission.

Yours very truly,
MAYNARD L. HARRIS, Chairman,
Municipal Affairs Committee.

Referred to Executive Committee.

SURVEY OF SCHOOL SYSTEM BY FINANCE COMMISSION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, January 21, 1944.

Mr. John E. Kerrigan,

President, Boston City Council.

Dear Sir,—The Finance Commission has been notified by the Clerk of Committees that the Executive Committee of the City Council desires the commission to attend its next meeting to discuss the recommendation to you by Mayor Tobin of an appropriation of $75,000 for a general survey of public education in Boston.

The Finance Commission appreciates that you desire, and properly so, to be informed of the need for such an appropriation. There is, however, little that the commission appearing now before you as a group, or through a representative, can add to the very ample communication on this matter which was sent to Mayor Tobin by this commission under date of December 8, copies of which have been forwarded to the members of the Council individually, and to the Council as a whole formally by the Finance Commission and by Mayor Tobin in his communication of January 17, 1944.

In order to determine the cost of a survey the commission, through a representative, consulted several educators of recognized standing who have had experience in school surveys. The amount specified in our communication to the Mayor as needed for a general survey is the result of those inquiries. We believe an adequate and suitable survey will cost approximately $75,000.

It is the intention of the commission if the required appropriation is made to engage the services of the best obtainable educational experts. The size of the City of Boston, the amount of the annual cost of public education in Boston, the fact that no general survey has ever been made previously within the term of service of any now having responsibility in educational management in Boston, together with the necessity of planning now suitable education for the post-war period, warrant the outlay of a sum sufficient to obtain a complete survey. Obviously, it will require a skilled staff to perform an undertaking of these proportions. Subjects to be covered by such a survey would include:

1. The organization and administration of the schools.
2. The business administration of the schools.
3. A study of the program of the schools, including the curriculum and teaching carried on in kindergarten, elementary schools, junior and senior high schools, vocational schools, and in adult classes; and particularly giving consideration to post-war needs.
4. A survey of school buildings now in use and recommendations for any necessary rehabilitation or extension of the school plant.
5. The operation and maintenance of school buildings.
6. The personnel employed in the school system involving the selection, appointment, transfer, training in service, etc., of the professional and non-professional staff of the school system.
7. The financing of the schools, including a study of costs and recommendations with respect to methods of support and possible economies to be effected.
8. The adjustment of the schools to the needs and abilities of the pupils enrolled in them, including a consideration of the education of the physically and mentally handicapped.
9. A consideration of the program of guidance provided in the schools.
10. Such other inquiries as may be found necessary and desirable in support of the inquiries named above.

A survey of this character ought to be welcomed by the staff and teachers of the schools, and the public generally, inasmuch as it should serve the purpose of showing clearly the merits of the system, as well as those directions in which it is capable of improvement.

The Finance Commission has not yet made arrangements with any of the experts needed to make the survey. This necessarily must await the establishing of the appropriation.

Respectfully submitted,

ALEXANDER WHEELER, Chairman,
ELIAS F. SHAMON,
JOHN F. CUSICK,
LEO J. DUNN,
FREDERICK DEANE,

The Finance Commission.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RULES FOR COUNCIL.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the special committee to prepare and report rules for the City Council for 1944 and 1945, submitted the following:

The committee appointed to prepare and report rules to govern the proceedings of the City Council for the years 1944 and 1945 respectfully submits and recommends for adoption the accompanying draft of rules. The rules reported by the committee are the same rules that governed the City Council during the years 1942 and 1943, with the exception of the last paragraph of old Rule 13, which the committee has reworded to read as follows:

"Any matter referred to a committee may be recalled at any time by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the city council present and voting, or, if such matter is not reported upon within thirty days from the date of reference, by a majority vote of the members present and voting."

For the committee,
CHARLES I. TAYLOR, Chairman.

RULES OF THE CITY COUNCIL 1944-1945.

Rule 1. Unless otherwise ordered from time to time the regular meeting of the city council shall be held on every Monday at two o'clock p. m. Special meetings may be called by the president at his discretion, and by the city clerk for the purpose only of drawing jurors. No special meeting of the city council, except to draw jurors, shall be called, except with the consent of all the members, upon less notice than twenty-four hours from the time the notices are mailed or dispatched by special messenger.

Quorum.

Rule 2. A quorum of the city council shall consist of twelve members. If, at the time any meeting is called to order, or if, during a meeting, on a vote on the adoption of a motion or order, or on a point of order raised by a member, a roll call shows less than a quorum present, the president shall declare the meeting adjourned; provided, however, before adjournment is declared he may entertain a motion to adjourn to a specified time and said motion may be adopted by a majority vote of the members then present, and a meeting held in accordance therewith, if otherwise valid, shall be a legal meeting of the city council.

President.

Rule 3. The president of the council shall take the chair at the hour to which the council shall have adjourned and shall call the members to order, and a quorum being present, shall proceed with the regular order of business. In the absence of the president the senior member by age present shall preside as temporary president, or until a presiding officer is chosen.

Rule 4. The president shall preserve decorum and order, may speak to points of order in preference to other members and shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal. Any member may appeal from the decision of the chair, but no appeal shall be considered unless properly seconded. No other business, except a motion to adjourn or to lay on the table, shall be in order until the question on appeal has been decided.

The question shall be put as follows: "Shall the decision of the chair stand as the judgment of the council?" The vote shall be by a roll call, and it shall be decided in the affirmative unless a majority of the votes are to the contrary.

Rule 5. The president shall propound all motions in the order in which they are moved, unless the subsequent motion shall be previous in its nature, except that, in naming sums and fixing times, the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

Rule 6. The president shall, at the request of any member, make a division of a question when the sense will admit of it.

Rule 7. The president shall, without debate, decide all questions relating to priority of business to be acted upon.

Rule 8. The president shall declare all votes; but if any member doubts a vote, the president shall cause a rising vote to be taken, and, when any member so requests, shall cause the vote to be taken or verified by yeas and nays.

Rule 9. The president shall appoint all committees, fill all vacancies therein, and designate the rank of the members thereof.

Rule 10. When the president of the council or the president pro tempore shall desire to vacate the chair he may call any member to it; but such substitution shall not continue beyond an adjournment.

Motions.

Rule 11. Every motion shall be reduced to writing if the president shall so direct.

Rule 12. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible; but a motion to strike out being lost shall not preclude amendment, or a motion to strike out and insert.

Rule 13. No motion to proposition of a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

Any motion, order or resolution which in the opinion of the presiding officer does not have a direct bearing on the business of the council shall be referred without debate to the committee on rules and shall not be further considered by the council except upon report by that committee.

There shall be no appeal from the decision of the chair hereunder, and this rule shall not be subject to suspension.

The committee on rules may report that any motion, order or resolution so referred to it is out of order because not having a direct bearing on the business of the council, and its report shall be a final disposition of the matter, subject to an appeal which shall be governed by the same provisions as those governing appeals from rulings of the presiding officer.

Rule 14. When a petition, order or resolution relates to a subject which may properly be examined and reported upon by an existing committee of the city council, such order or resolution shall, upon presentation, be referred to such committee. When a motion is made to refer any subject, and different committees are proposed, the motions shall be put in the following order:

1. To a standing committee of the council.
2. To a special committee of the council.

Any member offering a motion, order or resolution, which is referred to a committee, shall be given a hearing on the same by the committee before a report is made thereon, provided he so requests at the time of offering the order or before final action by the committee.

Any matter referred to a committee may be recalled at any time by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the city council present and voting, or, if such matter is not reported upon within thirty days from the date of reference, by a majority vote of the members present and voting.

Rule 15. After a motion has been put by the president it shall not be withdrawn except by unanimous consent.

Rule 16. When a question is under debate the following motions only shall be entertained, and shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged:

1. To adjourn.
2. To lay on the table.
3. The previous question.
4. To close debate at a specified time.
5. To postpone to a day certain.
6. To commit.
7. To amend.
8. To postpone indefinitely.

Rule 17. A motion to adjourn shall be in order at any time, except on an immediate repetition or pending a verification of a vote; and that motion, the motion to lay on the table, and the motion to take from the table, and the motion for the previous question, shall be decided without debate.

Readings.

Rule 18. Every ordinance, order and resolution shall, unless rejected, have two several readings, both of which may take place at the same session unless objection is made, provided, however, that all orders for the expenditure of moneys, unless reported upon by a committee of the council, shall be over for one week before final action thereon. Whenever the second reading immediately follows the first reading, the document may be read by its title only; provided, that all orders releasing rights or easements in or restrictions on land, all orders for the sale of land other than school lands, all appropriations for the purchase of land other than for school purposes, and all loans voted by the city council shall require a vote of two-thirds of all the members of the city council, and shall be passed only after two separate readings and by two separate votes, the second of said readings and votes to be had not less than fourteen days after the first, except in cases in which a shorter period is authorized by law.

Reconsideration.

Rule 19. When a vote has been taken any member may move a reconsideration thereof at the same meeting. No member shall speak for more than ten minutes on a motion to reconsider.

Rule 20. When a motion to reconsider has been decided, that decision shall not be reconsidered, and no question shall be twice reconsidered unless it has been amended after the reconsideration; nor shall any reconsideration be had upon the following motions:

- To adjourn.
- The previous question.
- To lay on the table.
- To take from the table.
- To close debate at a specified time.

A motion to reconsider may be laid on the table or postponed indefinitely, and the effect of such action in either case shall be to defeat the motion to reconsider.

Conduct of Members.

Rule 21. Every member when about to speak shall rise, address the chair, and wait until he is recognized, and, in speaking, shall refrain from mentioning any other member by name, shall confine himself to the question and avoid personalities. Any member who, in debate or otherwise, indulges in personalities or makes charges reflecting upon the character of another member, shall make an apology in open session at the meeting at which the offence is committed or at the next succeeding regular meeting, and, failing to do so, shall be named by the president or held in contempt and suspended from further participation in debate until said apology is made.

Rule 22. No member shall speak more than once on a question when another member who has not spoken claims the floor, and no member speaking shall, without his consent, be interrupted by another, except upon a point of order.

Rule 23. No member shall be permitted to vote on any question, or to serve on any committee, where his private right is immediately concerned, distinct from the public interest.

Rule 24. Every member who shall be present when a question is put, unless he is excluded by interest, shall give his vote, unless the council for special reason shall excuse him. Application to be so excused on any question must be made before the council is divided, or before the calling of yeas and nays; and such application shall be accompanied by a brief statement of the reasons, and shall be decided without debate.

Standing Committees.

Rule 25. The following standing committees of the council, and all other committees, unless specially directed by the council, shall be appointed by the president:

1. A committee, to be known as the Executive Committee, to consist of all the members of the council.

2. A committee on Appropriations, to consist of seven members of the council, to whom shall be referred such appropriation orders as may be submitted to the council from time to time.

3. A committee on Claims, to consist of five members of the council, to whom shall be referred all claims against the city arising from the act or neglect of any of its departments. They shall report annually an account of the claims awarded or approved by them, and the amount of money awarded or paid in settlements thereof.

4. A committee on County Accounts, to consist of five members of the council.

5. A committee on Finance, to consist of seven members of the council, to whom shall be referred all applications for expenditure which involve a loan.

6. A committee on Inspection of Prisons, to consist of five members of the council.

7. A committee on Legislative Matters, to consist of five members of the council, who shall, unless otherwise ordered, appear before the committees of the General Court and represent the interest of the city; provided, said committee shall not appear unless authorized by vote of the city council and shall not, unless directed so to do by the city council, oppose any legislation petitioned for by the preceding city council.

8. A committee on Licenses, to consist of seven members of the council.

9. A committee on Ordinances, to consist of seven members of the council, to whom shall be referred all ordinances or orders concerning ordinances.

10. A committee on Parkman Fund, to consist of five members of the council, to whom shall be referred all matters concerning the Parkman property, or the expenditure of the income from the Parkman Fund.

11. A committee on Printing, to consist of five members of the council, who shall have the charge of all printing, advertising, or publishing ordered by the city council as one of its contingent or incidental expenses, and the supply of all stationery or binding for the same purpose. The committee shall fix the number of copies to be printed of any document printed as above, the minimum, however, to be four hundred; and they shall have the right to make rules and regulations for the care, custody and distribution of all documents, books, pamphlets and maps in the charge of the city messenger.

12. A committee on Public Lands, to consist of five members of the council, to whom shall be referred all matters relating to public lands.

13. A committee on Rules, to consist of five members of the council, to consider all matters concerning the rules, and to whom shall be referred all resolutions expressing opinions, principles, facts or purposes.

14. A committee on Soldiers' Relief, to consist of five members of the council, who shall determine the amount of aid to be allowed to soldiers and sailors and their families and submit a schedule of the same to the city council monthly.

Order of Business.

Rule 26. At every regular meeting of the council the order of business shall be as follows:

1. Communications from his honor the mayor.
2. Presentation of petitions, memorials and remonstrances.
3. Reports of city officers, etc.
4. Unfinished business of preceding meetings.
5. Reports of committees.
6. Motions, orders and resolutions.

Spectators.

Rule 27. No person, except a member of the council, shall be permitted to occupy the seat of any member while the council is in session.

Rule 28. No person, excepting officials connected with the city council, and duly assigned reporters of the daily newspapers, shall be allowed in the ante-rooms or upon the floor of the council chamber while the council is in session. Spectators will be allowed in the gallery of the council chamber when the council is in session, and no one will be admitted to said gallery after the seats are occupied. No demonstrations of approval or disapproval from the spectators shall be permitted, and if such demonstrations are made the gallery will be cleared. The city messenger shall enforce this rule.

Burial Grounds.

Rule 29. No permission for the use of land for the purpose of burial shall be granted until a public hearing shall have been given by the executive committee of the city council on the application for such permission, after due notice has been given abutors.

Smoking in the Council Chamber.

Rule 30. No smoking shall be allowed in the council chamber when the council is in session.

Committee Meetings.

Rule 31. No meeting of any committee shall, without the consent of all the members thereof, be called upon less notice than twenty-four hours from the time the clerk shall have mailed the notices or dispatched them by special messenger, provided, however, that meetings of the executive committee may be held in the recess period of any meeting of the council without such consent or notice. No committee, unless authorized by an order of the city council, shall incur any expense. No committee meetings shall be called later than one hour immediately preceding the time set for any regular meeting of the city council, nor shall any committee remain in session later than the hour named for any such regular meeting.

Form of Votes.

Rule 32. In all votes the form of expression shall be "Ordered" for everything by way of command, and the form shall be "Resolved" for everything expressing opinions, principles, facts or purposes.

Transfers.

Rule 33. Every application for an appropriation to be provided for by transfer shall be referred to the executive committee, unless otherwise ordered, and no such appropriation shall be made until the said committee has reported thereon.

Use of Committee Rooms.

Rule 34. No person except members and officers of the city council and regularly assigned city hall reporters shall be admitted at any time to the west anteroom, the locker room, or the president's room, except when invited on official business or accompanied by a member of the council.

Confirmation of Appointments.

Rule 35. The question of confirming appointments by the mayor shall be decided by a yeas and no ballot, unless otherwise ordered.

Amendment and Suspension.

Rule 36. The foregoing rules shall not be altered, amended, suspended or repealed at any time, except by the votes of two-thirds of the members of the city council present and voting thereon.

The report was accepted and the question came on the adoption of the rules.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, can I be informed as to what difference there is between these rules and the rules of 1942 and 1943?

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, the rules are exactly the same with the exception of Rule 13, which heretofore has been rather ambiguous. It read last year that in the event of anything being referred to a committee, if the committee did not report upon it within thirty days, after thirty days a majority of all the members could withdraw it from the committee and bring it out on the floor. As interpreted last year, it required twelve out of the twenty-two members to bring it out from the committee. Under the proposed rule, if it is not reported by the committee within thirty days, a majority of the members present and voting have a right to call it up on the floor.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, it seems to me that the old rule was a very good rule, and I would like to know why a change has been considered necessary.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I move reference of the matter to the Executive Committee.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I was going to make a suggestion, but I guess the reference to the Executive Committee would cover the point I had in mind.

The matter was referred to the Executive Committee.

CHANGING OF NAME OF SOLDIERS' RELIEF DEPARTMENT.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the department now known as the "Soldiers' Relief Department" be changed to read and be known as the "Veterans Department of the City of Boston."

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, the only change suggested is to drop the word "Relief." I do not feel that the disbursements made by the department in question should be so characterized. The disbursements made by the department really constitute an obligation which the city should assume towards the families and relatives of those who are in the service. I don't think such payments should be considered as relief.

The order was referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

REPAIR OF RONAN PARK, WARD 15.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately repair all benches and fences at Ronan Park, Ward 15.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAIR OF FENCE AT CHELSEA-MERIDIAN BRIDGE.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repair the fence at the approach to the Chelsea-Meridian Bridge, East Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, this is the third order of the kind that I have introduced. All these orders are of a similar nature. Condor street is the last street in the East Boston approach to the Meridian Bridge, and the wooden fence at the approach to the Chelsea-Meridian Bridge badly needs repair. As I have said at times this past year, any children or adults going between Chelsea and East Boston are apt to slip on the ice and drop into Chelsea Creek, and in that case it would be hard to save them from drowning. It is only a small matter for the Public Works Department to fix that bridge. His Honor the Mayor has sent back two of these orders, and this is the third, and I certainly trust that now something will be done. It will be the easiest thing in the world for the Public Works Commissioner to fix this fence, and it may prevent loss of life.

The order was passed.

FENCE AT NORTH FERRY.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor contact the officials of the Navy Department in an effort to obtain a fence at the North Ferry.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, this is a matter the importance of which has been called to my attention by some of the residents of the housing project. This land has been taken over by the Navy. The old ferry has been abandoned, of course, and this work has been needed for two or three years. A short time ago a child would have been drowned there if it had not been for the presence of a sailor, who effected a rescue. The expense involved to the Navy Department will be very small, and I trust that the Mayor will contact the officials of the department in an effort to obtain such a fence.

The order was passed.

LIGHT ON BREED STREET, WARD 1.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a street light on Breed street, around the corner from Leyden street, Ward 1.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, one of the orders that the Mayor sent back, was an order which I introduced a few weeks ago. Anybody going over there and looking at the situation will realize the importance of having such a street light on Breed street, around the corner from Leyden street. It is true that there is a light at the corner of Leyden and Breed streets, but the light does not reflect on Breed street. Coming down Breed street there is a drop for forty-odd feet where the light does not shine. I have been up there to look into the matter several times, and there is certainly no question of fact that a light should be installed there in the interest of the public.

The order was passed.

ESTABLISHMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That special committees be appointed by the President to consider the subjects indicated by their titles and such other matters as may be referred to them from time to time, viz.:

- Building Code, five members.
- Constables, three members.
- Hospitals, five members.
- Parks and Playgrounds, seven members.
- Public Welfare, five members.
- Public Safety, five members.
- Unclaimed Baggage, three members.
- Voting Machines, seven members.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

President KERRIGAN called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor January 17, 1944, of Frederick Fishman and Norman H. Menzies, to be Constables authorized to serve civil process upon filing bonds.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Coffey and Dwyer. Whole number of ballots 15, yes 15, and the appointments were confirmed.

MINIMUM SALARY OF $2,500 FOR POLICE AND FIREMEN.

Coun. HANNON and FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That police and firemen of the City of Boston be given a minimum salary of twenty-five hundred ($2,500) dollars per year.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT TO COUNCIL PRESIDENT AS ACTING MAYOR.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That provisions be made in the yearly budget for the payment of fifteen hundred ($1,500) dollars yearly salary to the President of the Boston City Council for his services as Acting Mayor throughout the year.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EXTRA COMPENSATION FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT DIVERS.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Fire Commissioner be directed to provide extra compensation for those members of the department who become divers.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LICENSING OF OIL BURNER REPAIRMEN.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Department of Public Safety be requested, through his honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of issuing licenses to individuals and concerns doing business as oil burner repairmen.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 2.30 p. m., on motion of Coun. TAYLOR, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President KERRIGAN at 5 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETINGS ON THURSDAYS.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That all matters referred to the Executive Committee be considered at a regular meeting of the committee to be held on the Thursday following the Monday on which such matters are referred to the committee; unless otherwise ordered by a majority vote of those present and voting.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, every Monday when we come in here certain matters are referred to the Executive Committee, and we will go out there behind closed doors and for two or three hours talk matters over, and we come back in here again and go through the same procedure for two or three hours more. Now, Monday is supposed to be the regular meeting day of the Council. I don't think that Monday should be used up entirely, or mostly, anyway, behind the doors of the executive chamber. People come down here to see us on Mondays. They know Monday is our meeting day. They have a right to see us here, and I think the present situation is unfair to the people of Boston. When they come down here they have to stand around or sit up in the galleries two or three hours in order to see some councilor who is engaged in executive session. Thursday, for the most part, has been set aside as committee meeting day. There are very few matters referred to the Executive Committee that need immediate action. Such matters can be acted upon in executive session by this body, and I think we ought to set apart a certain committee day and have committee meetings then. When Monday is the regular meeting day of the Council, we should devote ourselves primarily to the meeting in here, and to meeting our constituents who come down to see us. I am going to suggest the matter be referred to the Committee on Rules when it is organized, in order that it may be acted upon.

The order was referred to the Committee on Rules.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on report of committee to prepare and report rules for Council for 1944 (referred today)—that the rules ought to be adopted.

On motion of Coun. COFFEY the rules were laid on the table.

2. Report on order (referred January 17) to erect memorial to veterans in Central square—recommending passage in accompanying new draft, viz.:

Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appropriate sufficient funds to erect a memorial to veterans of all wars on appropriate sites in each ward of the city.

3. Report on order (referred January 17) that trustees of George Robert White Fund be requested to appropriate sufficient funds for erection of veterans' hospital in City of Boston—that same ought to pass.

The reports were accepted and the question came on the passage of the orders.

Coun. COFFEY—The original order, Mr. President, was amended so as to read "erect a memorial in every ward of the city." Talking on the order, last week we had—I imagine it was—the secretary of the George Robert White Fund, before us, and today I thought that at least some of the members of the George Robert White Fund would be present to explain to us whether they had the authority or not to erect a veterans' hospital in Boston out of the funds of the George Robert White Fund. Also, I would like to know if they have the authority to erect these memorials in each ward throughout the city. I would also like to find out if they have the authority to erect the memorial they now propose to erect in the Back Bay. I have an editorial here from an East Boston paper, and it is written by a former member of the Boston Finance Commission, who says: "Silly idea, Mr. Mayor. The proposal to use a million dollars of the White Fund for a war memorial in the Fenway is ridiculous." Leaving out the front part and getting down to the meat of the matter, it says: "Here is the background of the memorial plan. In 1930 Governor Allen appointed a commission to consider a memorial and report to the Legislature. The commission was mixed in that the Speaker of the House and the President, as well as the Governor, appointed members. The commission invited architects to offer plans, and five were submitted. The majority of the commission favored a plan submitted by a Worcester architect. The late Ralph Adams Cram, in a minority report, blasted the plan of the Worcester architect, and supported a plan submitted by Charles D. Magenis of Boston. On the commission was Willard Luther, who supported the majority report. The Legislature threw out the matter, and would appropriate no money. There the matter rested until revived by Mr. Luther, who has become a trustee of the White Fund for the time being through his presidency of the Boston Bar Association. He has changed his position with reference to the plans, now supporting the Magenis plan which he voted against as a member of the state commission. Mr. Luther lives in Cambridge, and while he could not place the memorial in Cambridge he favors the Back Bay Fens, a few feet away. To take money from the White Fund, which was established by George Robert White for the benefit of the people of Boston, and use it for a project which the state rejected is ridiculous, yes, an outrage." Then, at the bottom, it ends up, "Now, we have the ridiculous suggestion proposed by Willard Luther, a temporary trustee of the White Fund, that the funds to the extent of a million dollars be used for a war memorial in the Back Bay Fens. An idea rejected by the state, which should undertake the project if there is to be one, not the White Fund, left for the benefit of the poor people of this city." Now, at the last hearing you all know the questions I asked the gentleman there. He made the statement that no bids were opened; that the architect picked was a Mr. Magenis, who had been interested in the memorial for a number of years. And why shouldn't he be, if he was going to be given the architect's fee to draw up plans for that memorial? $60,000 or $70,000—any one of us would be interested in that. For a number of years he kept in close association with those who had the power and authority to build such a memorial. Now, I asked if there was authority to build a hospital, and the answer was that he didn't think they did. They have built some seven health units, and naturally they took care of the sick and needy in Boston. So my view is they have just as much authority to spend that on a hospital as they have on a memorial. There would be only two or three rooms open in that million-dollar structure that the veterans would be able to get some recreation in, such as the library and a small auditorium. I think it is about time we members of the Council should receive some recognition from members of the George Robert White Fund Trustees, the Finance Commission and the Chamber of Commerce. Every time we have asked them down here in Executive, by the authority given us, they never yet, to my knowledge, have put in an appearance. There was only one time the Finance Commission sent over a representative, and that was their secretary, and he said he had no authority to speak for the commission. And after a few sarcastic remarks, not only by me but by others who were justified, without the naming of names or telling of instances where anything was going wrong in the city, we find out that just the secretary comes over and tells us he has no authority to answer questions and leaves in a hurry. The same thing is taking place today. The George Robert White Fund members for some reason or other don't appear. I suppose they think it is out of our jurisdiction, that they should not come in and talk to us on anything they are going to spend. After all, a million dollars to be spent is taxpayers' money. We want a memorial for the war dead of all wars and for the living, but we don't want it in one exclusive section of the city. I think we should have a memorial in every ward in the city. If they want to spend a million dollars, and that is their own admission, or that of the gentleman that represented them, their secretary, they don't want to touch anything small. Let them touch something big. Spend $25,000 or $50,000 on a beautiful memorial in every section of this city. But don't let them kid us. They can build a memorial for a million dollars and put it in the Back Bay but can't spend a million dollars or more for a hospital for both men and women, not only in memory of World War I and World War II and also for those left from the Spanish-American War. I think it is about time something should be done. We have no authority here whatsoever. We make requests. Nobody pays any attention to them. They won't come down to the Executive Committee, the same as we have seen with the Finance Commission today. They refuse to come over, and yet the committee saw fit to pass an appropriation of $75,000 for a survey of the School Department, and we don't know who is going to make the survey. And it is just a case of if so-and-so fits they will get what they want. No matter how much we screech, it is not doing us much good. We always manage to lose out by one or two votes. Right is wrong, and the majority rules. I think it is about time the entire body got together. If we decide we want somebody down here we ought to bring them down here, even if we have to go to the court, and if we can't get them that way we ought to create a little fund of our own and go up in court and get injunctions against these things happening throughout the city from year to year. I think it is time we stood up in our shoes. I think it is about time the majority got together and ran this city the way it should be run. And although I have never been in agreement with the gentleman from Ward 5 (ex-Coun. Shattuck) previous to the present incumbent, I will always say this for him: "He always said the City Council had more authority than they had knowledge to use," and he was positively right. We have authority, and we don't know enough to use it. We are a powerful group and don't realize it.

The reports were accepted and the orders were passed.

4. Report on order (referred January 17) that Commissioner of Public Works be requested to compel Coleman Brothers to live up to terms of their contract for collection of ashes and garbage in Dorchester district or take immediate steps to revoke same—recommending reference to Committee on Public Safety.

The report was accepted and the order was referred to the Committee on Public Safety.

5. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred January 17) for appropriation of $75,000 for school survey by Finance Commission—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I wish to offer an amendment to that order.

Coun. FISH and HANLEY offered the following amendment to be inserted in line 7 of the order after the word "system":

"said survey director to be appointed and approved unanimously by the Presidents of Harvard, Boston University and Boston College."

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, on the amendment. Regardless of whether the amendment passes or not, it is my intention to vote against the $75,000. And I do so for several reasons. I believe that if a survey is to be made of the School Department, the request should come from the School Department itself. If it is a reflection on the School Department that they should ask for a survey of education in Boston, then I say the same reflection can drop down two floors into the corner office, the Mayor of Boston who for four or five years has asked for a survey of his own doings. I don't know why, if we are going to have a survey of a department, we don't make use of the present survey committee which we have. They may say they haven't the powers to survey the schools. I think the power could be invested in them. To me it is just a way of circumventing the real issue. If this survey passes today, this $75,000, which may interfere with the curricula of the school teachings, then it is my intention to ask that an unlimited amount be appropriated; and if it doesn't come from the request of the Mayor, I shall ask an unlimited amount be appropriated to investigate the entire Assessing Department and all its doings in the City of Boston.

Coun. TAYLOR—I want to ask whether or not we have the right to allow such an amendment.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair rules that we haven't the power to change appropriation orders. We either accept or reject them.

Coun. FISH—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of order.

Coun. FISH—If we haven't the right to amend it, according to those words, would you enlighten me as to any way we may amend it, whereby we may get an answer to the simple question: Who, if this is passed, is going to survey the schools?

President KERRIGAN—There is no way the Council can vary this appropriation order other than to reduce it and it is up to the Finance Commission to select the survey committee.

Coun. FISH—If there is no other way, drop that down two floors.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I rise to a point of information.

President KERRIGAN—State your point.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—How many votes does it take to pass this order?

President KERRIGAN—A majority of the Council present and voting.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—A majority? Thank you, Mr. President.

Coun. KINSELLA—Referring to the Chair's ruling a moment ago that the order could not be amended, may I suggest that the Chair is probably wrong, in view of the fact that we are not changing the amount?

President KERRIGAN—That is a question of opinion. The Chair feels he made a decision, and it was right.

Coun. FISH—Have we the power of appealing from the decision of the Chair?

President KERRIGAN—You certainly have.

Coun. FISH—Then I appeal from the decision of the Chair.

Coun. KINSELLA—I would like to say that just within recent weeks there was some matter brought before the Appropriations Committee and somebody, or the committee itself, suggested a lesser amount, and the decision was that they couldn't alter or change in any way the amount. But the terms here, not dealing with the finances of it, I believe, Mr. President, might be altered, so long as the amount is not changed.

President KERRIGAN—This order came before this Body and was referred to the Executive Committee from the Finance Commission. It calls for $75,000, and the Chair feels that we cannot amend the wording order at all.

Coun. KINSELLA—In none of its conditions?

President KERRIGAN—We either accept or reject it.

Coun. DWYER—I second the appeal of Councilor Fish.

President KERRIGAN—Shall the decision of the Chair be sustained?

Coun. CHASE—I rise to a point of inquiry.

President KERRIGAN—State your point.

Coun. CHASE—Is such a matter subject to appeal?

President KERRIGAN—Yes; all matters are.

Coun. KINSELLA—I don't want to be contentious, but I would like to ask the councilor from Dorchester to withdraw the appeal because, regardless of how it goes, we can't change the order. I ask that the councilor, for the sake of common sense, withdraw that motion. We can't change it, anyway.

Coun. FISH—If it is ruled that the amendment has no power whatsoever, then I will say the amendment effects nothing, but I certainly want to be convinced of it, because I am interested, if we do have a survey of the schools, that that committee or director who is to supervise the survey be appointed, approved and appointed, unanimously by the presidents of Boston College, Harvard and Boston University. But, as I say, if this is an improper procedure, then I will gladly withdraw the appeal.

Coun. COFFEY—I rise to a point of information. Can the amendment be adopted if passed?

President KERRIGAN—No; I made my decision.

Coun. COFFEY—Even with a majority vote the amendment cannot be adopted?

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Fish withdraws the appeal.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, I move at this time, speaking on this appropriation, that we go in and cut this appropriation down. Take $65,000 off this appropriation and wait until the time that the Finance Commission appoints a man from Boston to make a survey of the schools. So I therefore move that the appropriation be cut from $75,000 to $10,000.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Scannell moves that the appropriation be amended, cut from $75,000 to $10,000.

Coun. KINSELLA—I rise to a point of order. Councilor Scannell has made a motion. We cannot touch any of that order. Isn't that so?

President KERRIGAN—An appropriation can always be reduced in amount.

Coun. COFFEY—May I further add an amendment that the appropriation be cut from $10,000 to $75?

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Coffey moves that the appropriation be cut from $10,000 to $75.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I believe it would be in order at this time to move that this item be laid on the table for one week, and, in line with the suggestion of Councilor Fish, that they be directed to inform us by next Monday, or as soon as they can inform the members of the Council, just whom they are going to appoint and who is going to make the survey. I believe then that the members of this Council can act more intelligently on this.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on laying on the table. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, yeas 11, nays 11:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Kelly, Kinsella, Russo, D. F. Sullivan—11.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Hurley, Keenan, Kerrigan, McCormack, Muchnick, Scannell, Shannon, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—11.

President KERRIGAN—The vote is 11 to 11, and the motion is lost.

Coun. KELLY—I make a motion at this time that this order be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Kelly moves that this order be referred to the Committee on Appropriations. The clerk will call the roll.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, I think that this is a very fine motion. After all, this is a suggestion that appropriations should be handled by a group of the Council here who really know the financial condition of the city, who really know the financial bearing of the money being appropriated and the purpose for which it is being appropriated. We had a lot of talk in executive session about the purposes of this survey, but one thing that wasn't touched upon is where they arrive at this figure of $75,000. Nobody was there to explain why they believed this survey was going to take $75,000. Nobody here knows why they recommend $75,000. Who is going to get the money? We talked about who might conduct the survey, but nobody knows if we are going to have accountants; nobody knows if we are going to employ auditors. And I think if we spend $75,000 we ought to know why we are spending it and for what purpose we are spending it. The Finance Commission gave us ten reasons, or ten recommendations, on what was going to be studied. But I don't know, and I sat in there very quietly. I didn't ask any questions because I really figured that being out there in executive session is more or less a waste of time. We come in here and go over the same ground and consider the same subjects, but nobody out there during the two or three hours in which this matter was under debate—nobody asked how this figure of $75,000 was arrived at. I don't think that it is going to cost $75,000. I don't know that it is wise to spend $75,000, but if we are going to spend it I would like to know how it is going to be expended, where and by whom, and I think the proper procedure here, if we cannot alter and amend as we would like to do,—I think the proper procedure here is to refer this matter to the committee of the Council to whom we look on all matters of finance, the committee on whom we place the responsibility of investigating financial matters. $75,000 is still a lot of money, especially when it is somebody else's money that you are spending, and I think everybody here would benefit if this matter went to the Committee on Appropriations. Most certainly, Mr. President, that committee will not be hostile. That committee is going to be most friendly, and we know we are going to get an honest and fair report from that committee. Financial matters in this Body belong to the Committee on Appropriations, and before that committee meets we will have a chance, individually and collectively, to investigate ourselves and determine what course this survey is going to take. We might even find out whether or not some of these amendments are going to meet with favor, whether or not some of these amendments are going to meet with the approval of those sponsoring this measure. I, for one, am always ready to refer financial matters to the financial committee, and am perfectly willing to admit that those members of this Council who sit on the Committee on Appropriations are more conversant with and have more knowledge of financial matters than I have. I think, for the benefit of everybody here, each and every member of this Council, this matter should be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I sincerely hope that this Council will reject reference to the Committee on Appropriations, simply because I don't think the Committee on Appropriations can gain any more knowledge than what we have already ascertained heretofore. I don't think, Mr. President, that his Honor the Mayor would send this order requesting the Council to appropriate $75,000 to the Finance Commission unless he thought it would be of material benefit to the taxpayers of Boston. In this particular instance I have the utmost confidence in his Honor the Mayor. I have confidence in the Boston Finance Commission. They are men of integrity. I don't think they are going to squander $75,000. I think they are going to put it to good use, and I think, as a result, that the Boston School Department will be shown ways of saving millions of dollars of the taxpayers of Boston. I see no reason why we members of the Boston City Council should hold up this order. This is perfectly within the business of the Boston Finance Commission to investigate the school system or investigate any part of municipal or county business that is put through the pay roll of the City of Boston. That is their job, and it is their job to go into the Boston school system and investigate it from top to bottom if they see fit. The Legislature gave them that authority, the same as the Legislature gave us our authority. I don't see that we should be instrumental in holding up an appropriation to prevent the Boston Finance Commission from doing a job that they are supposed to do. I think they have come to this conclusion because they feel that the taxpayers of Boston will benefit by it. We have had a message from the Boston Chamber of Commerce, a substantial organization in this city, and we have a message from the Boston Real Estate Exchange, urging us to appropriate this money. The membership of both of those organizations, sir, is not going to advocate that we spend $75,000 on a wasteful project. They feel that the taxpayers of Boston will benefit by this. Why, sir, even the members of the Boston School Committee have no objection. The only objection, to my knowledge, that was voiced by them was the theory that some communist or a "parlor pink" would be appointed by members of the Boston Finance Commission, that there is that possibility. I submit that is a ridiculous thing to offer to twenty-two members of this City Council. We know that members of the Boston Finance Commission are not sympathetic to the communist movement. I feel, Mr. President, that the taxpayers in my district—yes, in the twenty-one other districts in this city—would like to see a reduction in the tax rate, and the only way you can get a reduction in the tax rate is through proper management of government, to cut out a lot of unnecessary duplication of services. And you can do that, sir, without firing people from pay rolls. I know that his Honor the Mayor would not advocate anything which would require the firing of wage-earners. But there are ways through consolidations, through doing away with duplication, that millions of dollars can be saved in our municipal government, and the school system is part of that government. Now we are called upon by his Honor the Mayor to do something on behalf of the taxpayers of Boston, to help the taxpayers of Boston. The Boston Finance Commission desires to conduct an honest survey of the Boston school system in order to do away with a lot of unnecessary expense. I trust that the members of this Council will go along with his Honor the Mayor and endeavor to help him instead of hurt him.

Coun. RUSSO—I am heartily in accord with referring this matter to the Committee on Appropriations, as Councilor Hannon so well stated, because that committee has a duty to perform, and that committee will have before it every person that is interested on whatever the item may be that is before it, and will speak either in favor or against. I have been in the Executive Committee and we have listened in there for about two hours or more, and I know less now than what I did before I went in there. In answering my colleague on my right (Coun. Chase), that we should be in full accord with everything his Honor the Mayor sends in to us, I say that I have been in accord with his Honor the Mayor in things that I believed were right, and I have been against his Honor the Mayor in things that I believed I was right in being against. If I have to sit idly by and approve everything his Honor the Mayor or any head of any department sends in, then I say it is a waste of money for the taxpayers to elect me to office and for me to be here. I have made that statement time and time again. If all we have to do is sit here and approve everything without knowing what is going to take place, then I say, why have the City Council? Abolish it. This is a matter of $75,000. The Finance Commission has the power, if they so desire it, to investigate any department they so wish, and if they have that desire, why don't they come in and tell us if they want an investigation? Why bring it up in the form of a survey? I don't know what is behind all this, and I would like to be enlightened before I cast my vote either for or against. The Finance Commission were invited to be here to explain to this Body what they intend to do with this $75,000. Yes, they have sent us a few items they would like to make a survey on, but they still fight not to come here. I say, give it to the Committee on Appropriations. If the ones interested in seeing this is passed are not present to give us their point of view, why we should accept the adoption of $75,000, then I say we should not go ahead and adopt it. I again state that I believe that this order should be referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Coun. HURLEY—I heartily agree with the councilor from Ward 4 that this order, or any order since I have been a member of the City Council that the Mayor has sent up here, is an order that would be beneficial to the people of the City of Boston. I don't think by sending this to the Appropriations Committee we are going to help the matter one bit. We have had three members of the Boston School Committee here today, and I think the three of them agreed there should be a survey. The only question in their minds, as stated by the councilor from the Back Bay, was the type of person who would do the investigating, and I still agree with the councilor that the members of the Finance Commission are not of that pinkish hue, and I don't think they would go into any cult or organization to select such a type of man to come in here and make a survey of our school activities. There was one question I asked one member of the School Committee. They called for an examination for director of cafeterias in Boston. It was simply another title for dietitian. They held a competitive examination and there was one woman selected from the Civil Service list to become the director of cafeterias of the Boston School Department. The School Committee member told me that she offered to take the job for $4,000 a year. Then, through their generosity, they said, "We will give her $6,000 a year." Her duties are, Mr. President, arranging a luncheon for the children attending our schools five days a week. During the summer there is no work for her, and during the different seasonal vacations there is no work for her. In comparison to that job of $6,000 a year as dietitian, I call your attention, members of the Boston City Council, to a comparative job in our Hospital Department in Boston. We have a woman in there, Miss Mary Lynch, dietitian at the Boston City Hospital. She arranges a menu for all of the patients in the Boston City Hospital, arranges a menu for all of the employees of the Boston City Hospital, three times a day, seven days a week. On top of that she arranges all special diets as prescribed by the doctors for particular ailments. This woman's top salary is $2,400. Now, if this survey committee, coming into Boston, would find a few instances of gross inequalities of pay compared to other departments in Boston, $75,000 would be small money, Mr. President, to save many times that amount for the taxpayers of Boston. That is one particular case that happened to come to the attention of all of us here, but how many other jobs are there up there, Mr. President? I say my knowledge of the School Committee is nil, and probably a few members here will agree that their ideas on the workings of the School Committee are about as large as mine. If an investigation were made, we don't know how many thousands of dollars the taxpayers of Boston would be saved, and $75,000, Mr. President, in the end would be a small amount of money to spend.

COUN. TAYLOR—Mr. President, ordinarily I assume, if the committees had been appointed before this came before the Body, it would have gone to the Committee on Appropriations and then, if past experience means anything to us, it would have been sent out from here and the Appropriations Committee would have reported, and it would have gone to the Executive Committee. It is a parliamentary procedure when procrastination is wanted to send it from one committee to another. But I don't think we learn anything more by sending it to another committee. We ought to be men enough to take our lickings or victories the same way. If it is to be voted on, let us vote and get it over with. What is the sense of delaying? As far as the order itself is concerned, for a survey of the schools, I want to say right here that this in no way intends any reflection on our School Committee men in office today. I think the public will admit that these men are doing a very satisfactory job, but they are running a big business, Mr. President, when they are spending close to seventeen millions of dollars a year. That is one department doing that, and it is a big business. A full time job, and it is an unpaid job. The School Committee men that I know want to give the very best to the City of Boston, and they themselves do not object to any assistance from the outside. It is not an investigation; it is a survey. If there is to be an investigation the Finance Commission would not need to come up to the City Council and ask for an appropriation to do it. They are entitled to $50,000 appropriation whether we pass it or not. The state law says so. If they felt there was anything wrong in the School Committee they would go right ahead with their investigation and not ask for any money, and have a perfect right to do so. But the Finance Commission does not believe that is the fact. It believes, like any big business, in hiring and employing efficiency experts to arrange their business so they can determine for themselves whether they are running it in a profitable manner or not. Times change, conditions change, and they have changed within our schools. The school population has decreased probably 25 per cent. Our expenses have not decreased the same. I don't say that is the fault of the School Committee; it undoubtedly is not. A structure has been set up and expenses must be met to maintain that structure whether you have three school children or one hundred thousand school children. A survey committee comes in for the purpose of going through the entire problem, devoting their entire time to determining whether or not our school system can be improved upon, whether or not the City of Boston can save money as the result. I don't even say the $75,000 will save the City of Boston a nickel. It may not, but we are big business, and in all fairness to the taxpayers we should expend money from time to time for the purpose of surveying that business to see whether or not it is being run for the best interests of all. Now, as to the selection of the survey committee, I don't think that the committee suggestion about pinks or reds or Fascism or Nazism has any place in this at all. We are big enough in the City of Boston, whether it is the Finance Commission, the School Committee or the Mayor or the City Council, to select men in the City of Boston who perhaps are not tainted with any such color, whose only interest is to earn the $75,000 by giving to the City of Boston what they are looking for. I don't think there is any ulterior motive. To me that is ridiculous, and a very weak argument. To me the School Committee is the final word on the matter. If the suggestions of the survey come from a committee that is tainted red, or not seeking to do what is best for the School Committee of the City of Boston, the School Committee are not going to adopt them. I don't think the Finance Commission or the Mayor or anybody else wants to waste money. $75,000 may accomplish nothing, or it may accomplish a lot. I think we ought to be interested enough to give this small amount, small in comparison with the large amounts spent by the City of Boston, to a purpose which is constructive, and I don't see why we cannot decide now and not send it to another committee, which will learn no more than we have already learned. If one committee has decided it should not be appropriated and another has decided it should, let us settle it by the democratic method, by vote, and, in my opinion, I think in fairness to the taxpayers of Boston. We have the approval of the Real Estate Exchange to expend $75,000 of the money of the City of Boston. They must know whereof they speak. They don't want their taxes increased unless they feel that something constructive is going to come of it.

COUN. KELLY—The reason I made the motion to refer this to the Committee on Appropriations was to see if we could get some knowledge about the matter. There isn't a gentleman on the Council that knows anything about what the $75,000 is for or what is going to happen. I am ready to vote on the matter today. If it comes up today I shall definitely vote against it, in fairness to the taxpayers of Boston. I want to know how they feel about it. I haven't had any taxpayer get in touch with me. If the matter is put over for a week, I am sure I will be able to nose around and find out their feelings. Now, as far as referring it to the Executive Committee is concerned, if you are going to refer everything to the Executive Committee, you might as well abolish all committees, not have any committees. You could refer the budget to the Executive Committee and vote the budget through in one day. I think the taxpayers of Boston are entitled to some consideration. As far as the Finance Commission is concerned, they could spend the $50,000 without coming before us. We had an order here some time ago for $50,000 for the Boston Elevated Company. I am sorry now that I voted for the matter. After we spent the $50,000 we didn't find out anything more than we knew before. I realize that this is for a survey and not for an investigation. I don't see any harm in referring it to the Committee on Appropriations, because there isn't any one member of the Council that can convince me they know what is going to happen or that they know who is going to be appointed on the survey committee. I don't give a rap what the organizations think. I am interested in what the people of my district think, and not what any organization thinks. If this is referred to the Appropriations Committee, it will give each and every councilor an opportunity to go out in his district and find out what the people want. Each one of us has a vote in the City Council. We represent twenty-two wards, and everybody ought to be able to find out what the people in their districts think. That is why I wanted it referred to the Committee on Appropriations, because it will give everyone a chance to go out and find out the sentiment in each district. Today, as I stand, I am going to vote against the appropriation of $75,000. I think it is a waste of the taxpayers' money, the same as the $50,000 for the Boston Elevated. But if it is referred to the Committee on Appropriations and I get the sentiment of the people of my district I might change my vote.

COUN. MUCHNICK—I cannot understand why an attempt is being made here to stall voting on this matter finally by reference to the Committee on Appropriations, or previously by an attempt to table it, or by any other method that may be introduced after this has been gone through. It seems to me, despite all the red herrings that were attempted to be drawn across the trail in executive session, there is only one issue. We either have a school system now which is running properly, or we have one that is not run properly. A survey by an independent source is the best method of determining which of these two exists. If that survey shows us, or the School Committee, that the school system is now functioning as properly as it possibly can, then, clearly, the amount involved is well spent in restoring or strengthening the confidence of the people of Boston in the school system. If the survey by any chance should show the system is not running properly as it should, then, clearly, certain corrective measures should be taken. A survey can point out to us which of the two conditions exists, and there is no sense, in my opinion, in stalling this thing by sending it to a committee. There seems to be every sense in acting on it favorably.

COUN. KINSELLA—I have heard a number of references today to the Boston Elevated appropriation of $50,000, and it reminded me that in the spring of 1941 the Callahan report came out. On one of the pages there the statement was made in plain English that over $20,000,000 of the taxpayers' money had been stolen since 1918. Within a day or two of that report being placed in the hands of the Legislature, of which I was one, the Mayor had lunch in the Parker House, at which he tried to persuade the members of the Senate and House to accept his $20,000,000 recommendation for the Boston Elevated highway bill. And, opening the report of the Callahan committee to the page on which I found the word "stolen," I held it up to the Mayor and I said, "Mr. Callahan was your selection. This is Mr. Callahan's word. What do you intend to do about it, or is it the fact that this is election year and nothing will be done about it?" He looked at his watch and said, "It is five minutes of two." You boys sit at two o'clock." Understand, I am not taking a shot at the Mayor of Boston. I am recording things as they happen. Don't misinterpret my position and say that Kinsella gave it to you. I don't care if I have no use for a fellow; if he is right I am for him, but sometimes I don't like the sponsorship. Now, we heard three of a group of five members of the School Committee, which constituted a majority, and everyone of them answered my question, a very pointed question, that there was nothing in the list of ten particulars that the chairman, Councilor Taylor, read off two or three times, that was beyond their legal authority to correct. If correction is the only thing that is needed, call it what you will,—improvement or correction,—everybody here, twenty members of the twenty-two in this Body, heard them say that those things are within their purview and can be treated and handled by them as the School Committee. Yet I don't know that the School Committee itself favors the idea of adding $75,000 to its own budget. As for the condition that Councilor Fish attempted to impose, I am all for it, but I don't intend to waste time in voting on matters which we cannot touch, and that is why I supported the ruling of the Chair and asked the councilor to withdraw his amendment. I am for it if it appears in a subsequent order. Now, what is wrong with the school system of the City of Boston that wasn't wrong five years ago? The public clamor, according to the editorial that was read to us in there by Councilor Chase, the public clamor, mind you,—that is the sort of a clamor some office holders would have you think is set up in their district to get them to run for office, and that isn't so. Now, in the district of Charlestown, which I hope I represent faithfully in this Body, we have at least twelve public schools, servicing children from five and a half to six years up to high school graduation at the age of eighteen, and none of their parents have ever come to me and criticized the system or abused those who are carrying out the program. I cannot see that there is any crying need for spending $75,000 because we happen to be in the midst of a war boom and probably have the money. You have been in this Body before, Mr. President, and you know that public welfare matters where we would like to increase the pay for everybody on the rolls, cannot get as much attention as the expenditure of $75,000 that will go to somebody of whom we, the appropriating body, have no advance knowledge. Mind you, we have no advance knowledge of the person or persons, or their type or types, that are going to get $75,000 of our friends' money. Mind you, our friends. And we are not to be enlightened as to the type of people who may make recommendations that will vitally concern and affect the future educational programs of the City of Boston school system. Our children are coming along to go to those schools, and we don't want them inculcated with anything less than the strongest of American ideals and ideas. We have the right to point a finger at a phantom or shadow that won't come out in the open. Let them, or him, come out and reveal themselves, or himself, as a full-blooded, honest, American citizen, capable and expert in the matter of conducting these survey probes or investigations, and I am certain the money will be granted, and possibly a subsequent $100,000 if necessary. While I am on my feet, I might say another thing I have yet to hear said in this Body. I was very friendly years ago with two men in my town who were certified public accountants and considered to be extremely efficient in their field. In the depression years each had an income of $75,000 a year. To show you they were not imaginary characters, they were practically next door neighbors to Roy Green. They told me on more than one occasion, before I ever went into politics, how in conducting audits of the books of the cities and towns, they found more graft than could possibly be excused or condoned, enough to run that city or town for a full year. And that leads up to a very direct and pertinent question: Have we got that condition in Boston? If we have, are we going to ignore it, because it is only the people's dough that is involved? Then let us put the matter to a vote and give them $75,000. If we have, however, the honesty with which we charge ourselves, we will go on and thresh this thing out right down to the dregs. We will find out if the children are going to be aided in any way. Now, it is a fortunate thing that there is a safety valve on this. It is my understanding that the School Committee will have to take the person or persons designated as the surveyors, but they don't have to take their recommendations. But I am wondering whether they do or not. If the recommendations come out, as they will, because you could never excuse the expenditure of that amount of money unless radical recommendations were made, they will have to accept them, or somebody will have to do a lot of explaining as to why $75,000 was expended and nothing came of it. Now, when I started out today I fully intended to vote for this, but I learned a little beyond the doors. I found out that three members, a majority of the School Committee of five, say that they would welcome a survey. But there is a danger that we are going to be subjecting children to the pernicious influence of some radical change in the curricula. It is only a few years ago there was a huge scandal in one of our school systems, and I don't know but what it might have been Boston, to the effect that certain episodes in our past history had been deleted from the history books because the man who had the contract and published the book, or whoever it is—and I don't say yet it was Boston—was of English ancestry and didn't like the references that the compilers of the book made to certain statements of losses that were sustained in the War of the Revolution, and they were stricken out of some of the books that our children were given out of which to gain knowledge. I will vote for this if there is a guaranty given to me that it will be conducted by honest and red-blooded American citizens, for one condition; for another, that we find out what they expect to discover that the School Committee itself cannot correct.

Coun. COFFEY—Some gentleman has brought out here that the Chamber of Commerce and the Real Estate Exchange are in favor of this. As I said in executive, I wonder if it wouldn't be better for us to appropriate $75,000, if we could, to investigate the Boston Real Estate Exchange and members of the Chamber of Commerce as to the big tax abatements they receive for their clients. I think that that $75,000 would be well spent and there wouldn't be any need of the $75,000 survey, as the Boston Finance Commission has sent in here today. It was brought out by one of the members of the School Committee today that the cost of living has gone up in the last few years, which is only natural, and that there are some 6,000 less children in school. But, as he put it, take all the classrooms throughout Boston and there is the same number of teachers, and it brings it down to one and a half less pupils for each teacher to teach, and I think our children are benefiting by that. I know my little boy has been out of school since July, and he learns more by having a private teacher take him one hour three times a week than he ever could learn in school, and it is certain if a teacher has had a class of thirty children and now has a class of only seventeen or eighteen children, if she is going to have more time, it is only natural to give those children more of her time and her teaching. I know as the result of having that teacher come to the house and to the hospital since last July that my boy is going to be promoted next year and, if able to go back to school, he will be put right in the first division, because he has had an opportunity to have this teaching by the teacher giving him only one hour of her time three times a week. Now, the members of the School Committee were before us today and had a little rough going over by some members, and each one of the three members admitted they would welcome a survey. May I ask here, what the "heck" else could they do? Suppose the Finance Commission sent over an order that was introduced by them or the Mayor asking for an appropriation of $75,000 by us to investigate us? What would we do? Is there anybody here that would have the guts to get up and say, "No, we don't need an investigation." We would all welcome an investigation. We would say, "Sure, appropriate the money." And that is what took place today with these three members. When asked, "Would you welcome a survey?" they said, "Yes." What else could they say? Because, if they said "No," the general public would be under the impression they had something to hide. Personally I don't think they have anything to hide. They have a manager up there that sees where every nickel is spent. He knows where every nickel is spent. They appropriate what funds they need, and he sees that those funds are expended. We know down here that we appropriate certain funds. We never see a dollar bill come across the table in that executive chamber. All we see is figures. Once they leave there they come out here and become again figures to us, and they leave us here and we don't know what becomes of them. The same condition exists in the School Committee. They go along to their Business Manager who spends that money. The Finance Commissioners didn't have the courage to come over here today, although they were invited, to tell us what this money is for. It has been well brought out by Councilors Chase and Taylor, and other councilors, that they don't need this money, that if they wanted to they could go ahead and investigate. Then, there is nothing to investigate. They are fishing, because if there was an investigation needed, we would not see this $75,000 appropriation today. They would go ahead with the money appropriated every year and not bother with members of the Boston City Council. They are putting us on the spot with this appropriation. I say that they have absolutely nothing to investigate, but they haven't been in the newspapers for the past four or five months. There has been no big snowstorm, so they couldn't tackle the councilors like in the past. We demanded they come over here and name names of councilors who had impeded the snow work, and they put out a twelve-page pamphlet stating that we impeded the removal of snow by demanding they put certain men and trucks to work. They didn't have the guts to come over here and back up their twelve-page report. They sent their secretary, who said he couldn't speak for them, and he was driven out by questions he couldn't and didn't dare answer. Then we had an appropriation come through asking for a $50,000 appropriation for the Boston Elevated, and we were told that it was going to save the taxpayers millions of dollars, that there was something radically wrong there in the Legislature, and the gentleman from Ward 4 has always given them credit for having all kinds of wisdom. They were the ones that stopped the investigation. We appropriated $50,000, and from that $50,000 $35,000 went for lawyers' fees, and they brought back a report there was something wrong with the Boston Elevated, and it was thrown in the waste basket and we never heard anything of it. Well, I suppose there is no sense talking any further, other than the fact that I might state that this motion before us now is to send it to the Committee on Appropriations. I say that will be licked 11 to 10. See how good I am. Then the order will be passed for the $75,000 11 to 10.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, only for the record I would like to state that I never have been, and I don't believe I ever will be, opposed to any survey that can be made which is going to benefit the people of the City of Boston and in particular our youngsters. I stated in the Council Chamber some time ago that I will never vote against an appropriation that has to do with the education of my children and the children of the people of the city. But, before I vote on this appropriation, I would like to know whether or not the $75,000 is sufficient to conduct such a survey. There hasn't been one person in the Executive Committee that could answer that question, and if there is one now I would like to know. There isn't one of us that knows how they arrive at $75,000 to take care of the survey. I have in mind, Mr. President, that some time ago an appropriation came in to us. I believe it was for $200,000, to take care of the Houghton and Dutton building, and, lo and behold, after that was passed we had another appropriation confronting us, and I believe this cost in the vicinity of $400,000. I say, get the true picture now. If it is going to cost $50 or $500,000 to make a survey for the benefit of the children of our city, for the education of our children, then I say let them tell us now what they intend to do, and that is the only reason I am opposed to the passage of this order at the present time.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I think it might be well to send this matter to the Committee on Appropriations because, as it was well said by Councilor Hannon, we don't know why $75,000 was specified. We don't know whether it is going to be enough. The suggestion emanated from the Finance Commission people. They did send a suggestion here today, limited in its description, but they didn't think it of sufficient importance to send anyone here in person. I have been amazed, as I have sat back and listened to the names of his Honor the Mayor, the Real Estate Exchange and all those supposed to be vitally interested in the welfare of the City of Boston. I don't believe they are any more interested than I am. I have given six years of loyal service to the people of my city, and intend to carry on in the same manner for the next two years, and I was one of those, too, who voted the $50,000 to be spent at the instance of the Finance Commission to investigate the Boston Elevated. We thought we were going to save the taxpayers some money. Well, $50,000 was spent. The city is still paying deficits; the tax rate has not gone down, and I don't suppose this $75,000 here is going to do anything to help the taxpayers. I, for one, am not going to vote for it. I am one of those of this Council who is sick and tired of putting people to work on high salaried assignments such as this, taking the money out of the taxpayers' pockets and giving them nothing in return. We have a School Committee of five members, and I think this request of the Finance Commission seriously reflects on the ability and qualifications of the members of the School Committee. I might well say it might be entitled "Incapable Boston" again. Aren't we ever going to prove to the people, the Finance Commission, the Real Estate Exchange, the Chamber of Commerce, that we have some capable men here in the City of Boston, elected by the people, capable to represent them in a qualified manner? I think the School Committee is well able itself to have a survey made. The matter has never been broached to them before. We have different members of the Committee that admit they made reductions of as much as $1,100,000 the past year. Why can't we do it this year? As very well said by the councilor from Ward 1 (Coun. Coffey), you wouldn't expect members of the School Committee to come in here today and say they didn't favor this survey. They are not being asked to appropriate the money. But I am sincere in my belief that there is no more need of spending the $75,000 than there would be in spending half a million for the same purpose. I am likewise sincere in my belief that nothing more will be accomplished, the taxpayers will save no more than they did when I was one of those who voted the $50,000. It is about time, to use the common expression, that we "wised up" here in the City Council. I don't care how this request came in here. I have my own ideas relative to this matter. I have the interest of the taxpayers of my district and of the entire city at heart, and I don't think the thing is going to be accomplished in their favor by voting to spend $75,000 that will accomplish no more than the $50,000 did that I voted on in 1941.

President KERRIGAN—The question comes on the motion to refer to the Committee on Appropriations. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, yeas 10, nays 11:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Kelly, Kinsella, Russo—10.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Hurley, Keenan, Kerrigan, McCormack, Muchnick, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—11.

The motion to refer to the Committee on Appropriations was lost.

President KERRIGAN—The question now is on the passage of the motion by Councilor Scannell to cut the appropriation to $10,000. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, and the motion was defeated, yeas 0, nays 20:

Yeas—0.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Coffey, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Keenan, Kelly, Kerrigan, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—20.

President KERRIGAN—The question now comes on the passage of the order.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, it is customary for the presiding officer to appoint various men to various committees for certain reasons, and it has been customary over a period of years to have an Appropriations Committee for the purpose of interrogating certain men who have certain specific knowledge on the subject matter at hand. Councilor Hannon asked that it be referred to the Appropriations Committee so that committee could at least request the presence of the Boston Finance Commission, who refused to come before the twenty-two members of the Boston City Council. I believe that when his Honor the Mayor sends up his budget for the year it should be referred directly to the Executive Committee, and you, Mr. President, should abolish for all time the committees. $75,000 is an arbitrary figure, concocted by men who know nothing at all about educational systems, either parochial or public. $75,000 is merely another steal from the people of Boston, to be given to men who sometimes are outside the corporate limits of Boston. $75,000 should never be expended by the people of Boston for investigating their own public officials. They have the power to create or destroy a man on election day, and they should not allow men who never come before the people to be set up as inquisitors. Councilor Taylor read and reread the ten items, the general items that they are to investigate or survey, and one of those items is a curriculum. It is the plural of the Latin word "curriculum," which means course of study. About three months ago this Honorable Body went on record in opposition to any subsidy on the part of the Federal Government in order to inject themselves into our educational processes. At the present time in England there are 325 millions of dollars being appropriated for that same purpose. Education should never be tampered with by business men. There is a vast difference between business and politics. Politics is the science of government, business is merely interested in obtaining a profit for itself or its shareholders. The Real Estate Exchange are the beneficiaries of the greatest grafting system ever perpetrated in the corporate limits of Boston. The Chamber of Commerce meet and have their business here in Boston, because it is near the heart of it, or because of the profit, but their residences are outside the corporate limits of Boston. The Boston School Committee was elected by the people of Boston by ballot, and they are being stigmatized at the present time by two pressure groups, the Real Estate Exchange and the Chamber of Commerce. The Boston Finance Commission is the greatest insult that has ever been perpetrated by Beacon Hill. $50,000 is allocated annually for their purpose, in merely writing letters to his Honor the Mayor and to the City Council, and to present to the incoming Legislature. The same information is open to each and every one of us in the city in the Statistical Department. $50,000 is taken from the people of Boston for no other purpose than to give legal fees and remunerative positions to people who never could obtain a vote themselves. Education should never be tampered with. City, State or Federal Governments were never intended for a profit, but rather to extend to the many those things which they as individuals do not procure, such as fire and police protection and education. When we tamper with education we are tampering with something that may have repercussions that may involve each and every one of us. Only three weeks ago, there was a full page advertisement in all our leading papers regarding deleting certain articles in our history books and our textbooks that don't come up to the estimation of certain men. You are letting yourself in, gentlemen, for something you may some day have to answer for.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, the expenditure of $1,000,000 by the city government involves the addition of 65 cents on the tax rate. The expenditure of $75,000 involves about a nickel to the average person, and for a modest $5,000 home owner it involves 25 cents. We are being asked to gamble 25 cents of the money of the man who owns a modest $5,000 home to possibly procure, or to effect, some substantial reduction in the budget and budget allotments of the Boston School Committee. I was campaigning for re-election last October and an interested member of my audience asked something relative to the financial appropriations of the City of Boston. I think some other members of this Body may have had a similar experience. I didn't hedge in reference to it, and I didn't hesitate to use the old saw, that the largest amount of money spent by any single body in the city is spent by the Boston School Committee, and the City of Boston and the Mayor and the City Council have nothing to say about it. It is one of the few places where they can't reduce and God knows they wouldn't want to increase. So we are asked to gamble 25 cents of the small taxpayer's money to see if we cannot reduce appropriations of the Boston School Committee. We are asked to gamble it, and not only for the small home owner. After all, I think it is about time we should think of the Boston Real Estate Exchange and the Boston Chamber of Commerce, and it is about time we should think of people who are coming into Boston to do business here. The Boston Real Estate Exchange has millions of dollars to hand in to the city treasury from the big taxpayers, many of whom are now taking their new business properties outside the City of Boston. The Chamber of Commerce involves many business enterprises in this city. If they cannot be given some talking point so far as the city's finances are concerned, then they are not going to do much to bring enterprises into the City of Boston. I am acquainted with hundreds of teachers, and I have heard them make suggestions over and over again relative to the Boston School Department, and I think that possibly a survey will reveal that there is ample room for a change in methods at 15 Beacon street. I say this with no animosity toward any member of the Committee. I think the present committee is doing a good and honorable job, and consists of four honorable men, in fact, and one demagogue. We are only asked to gamble 25 cents of the ordinary taxpayer's money. What do we gain? A possible reduction in the city's tax rate, a possible improvement in the condition of youth, possibly better schools, possibly bringing up a curriculum that will adapt these boys and girls to the after-war world. But I notice one thing in that communication of the Mayor relative to the Finance Commission's request, and that is that included in this will be certain recommendations for post-war rehabilitation. We frequently hear that the City of Boston, or the State, or the Federal Government, will do something for the veteran when he returns. Let us start it here, and possibly this survey will bring in definite, tangible recommendations that will help the boys after the war is done. I have heard no substantial objection to this argument today. My good friend, Mike Ward, said he favored it. Also, Dan McDevitt, Joe White and Doctor Foley. All the arguments were brought up, and they said, "We favor a survey, but don't appoint the wrong people." So it just isn't up to us, as we have no powers of appointing. Jurisdiction of the schools reaches into a realm where it is absolutely ridiculous.

Coun. HANLEY—Is the councilor impugning any argument of mine? He had better stick to the subject.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—In so far as the School Committee is concerned, that doesn't tell the people how to vote on something. That constitutes a Federal amendment. It must be adopted by thirty-six states, and I am sure that the Boston City Council is not going to decide just what thirty-six states decide. I cannot see any objection to this. The objections have no merit in so far as the Boston City Council is concerned. The objections involve things about which the Boston City Council has nothing to say or do. We cannot change them by appropriating, and we cannot change them by not appropriating, the money, but we are asked today to gamble 25 cents of the ordinary taxpayer's money to help, and it is worth the gamble. There isn't a $5,000 home owner in Boston who wouldn't gamble 25 cents to see the tax rate reduced. We are asked to gamble 25 cents to help the big taxpayers. It is time they got some help, God knows.

Coun. FISH—I think the councilor from Ward 22 left out one thing. What can we gain? We may gain something that will be our loss. We may gain a complete change in the curricula of the schools. I wonder if the people want to pay 25 cents to see their textbooks possibly changed. I wonder if that is their gain. I say that because we have asked one thing. We have asked the Finance Commission to tell us who they have in mind, to tell us who is going to make this investigation. We don't know the list of the men they have selected, if they have selected them. We haven't the appointive power. We have the power of appropriation, and we have the right in that appropriation to ask the appointive power how they are going to appoint. That is all we want to know. As far as the Boston Real Estate Exchange is concerned, for all the money that is spent in Washington, it isn't big enough, the whole pot of gold, if you are going to have a change in the curricula in the education of our young children.

Coun. KINSELLA—I will be very brief, but I would like, in justice to the philosophy I just heard expounded, because the price is only 25 cents on $75,000—I would like to ask the councilor from Ward 22 if he would let somebody put his hand in his pocket whether there was $100 or $1 or nothing?

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Is that a question?

Coun. KINSELLA—Yes.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I would. We are representing the people and, accordingly, we are authorized to represent them.

Coun. KINSELLA—You have the right, but I don't think you ought to adopt the fallacious view just because it is a quarter, and just because there may be some benefits from it, that the thing is good.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Is the gentleman not mistaken in the belief that I said this was inherently good due to the fact it is only a quarter, and does he not agree with me I said this 25 cents involved a worthy—

Coun. KINSELLA—I understand those are the words you used. The whole theory, as I understand it, aside from the fact that it is public money, is that it is only a quarter. Well, in principle, how much difference is there between a quarter and 65 cents? Or if it were a million for that matter?

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I will answer that question. The difference between 25 and 65 is 40 cents.

Coun. KINSELLA—Now, you see he gained something from education. He couldn't have if the Boston schools hadn't been run as they have over the years. Otherwise, he would not have known there was 40 cents difference. Let that be a lesson. Mr. President, I must admit I do take an honest view of this thing, an honestly different view of this thing, than I had at three o'clock when in executive session, because I learned something in there. If I remain static I might as well get out of office. We have the right, as the appropriating body, to know where this money is going and why it is necessary today, in 1944, if it wasn't necessary years ago, when the trend away from Boston was definitely under way. I am not opposed to it for any less than an excellent reason. I cannot see the necessity for it and, furthermore, gambling 25 cents of somebody else's money is not, in my opinion, in conformity with the high opinion I had of the morals of the gentleman who expounded that philosophy. It isn't whether it is a penny or a million dollars. It isn't our money, except in so far as we have to account for it, and I will say to the councilor from Ward 22, and I believe I speak for the twenty-two councilors, the item of money, in any amount, is of no consequence. We want to be sure of the value. We have a couple of business men on my right. They don't take chances, and they would be foolish if they did. Is there any member of the Body engaged in business that doesn't do something only on full and complete knowledge of what it will bring him in? You are a laundry man, you ought to know, John Kelly. I am serious. I am not trying to inject any harm in here. You have your business or you don't, and if politics is your business, what are you getting at? Now we are taking somebody else's money, and we are making it extremely attractive to somebody although it might get us only regrets. Think it over.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on the passage of the order.

Coun. COFFEY—I didn't get up to make any speech. All I got up to say was this. As soon as this matter is acted upon, everybody is going to beat it. I have a couple of orders I would like to get in before they do. My orders I won't speak on. I want to know if it is fit and proper to postpone this until other matters are taken care of.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on the passage of the order.

Coun. COFFEY—I have seen this happen too often.

President KERRIGAN—The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, and the order was passed, yeas 12, nays 10:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Hurley, Keenan, Kerrigan, McCormack, Muchnick, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—12.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Kelly, Kinsella, Russo—10.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 36.

No. 7

MAYOR TOBIN SUBMITS ANNUAL BUDGET TO CITY COUNCIL — GRAND TOTAL CALLED FOR BUT $143,117 MORE THAN IN 1943, DESPITE INCREASED COST OF SERVICES DUE TO WARTIME CONDITIONS — TOTAL EXPENDITURES PLACED AT $44,900,797.46 FOR YEAR — SUM REFLECTS PRESENT COSTS FOR VITAL SERVICES NECESSARY TO CITIZENS IN PUBLIC HEALTH AND WELFARE — INCLUDED IN THIS ARE HIGHER SALARIES TO MEET CONDITIONS, ESPECIALLY IN HOSPITALS AND INSTITUTIONS — ASKS PROMPT CONSIDERATION AND ACTION.

On Monday, February 7, Mayor Tobin submitted his annual budget to the City Council in the following message:

BOSTON, February 7, 1944.

Honorable Council of the City of Boston.

GENTLEMEN,— Section 3 of the City Charter of the City of Boston, as most recently amended by chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941, provides that all appropriations, other than for school purposes, to be met from taxes, revenue or any source other than loans, shall originate with the Mayor, who, not later than the first Monday in February of each year, shall submit to the City Council the annual budget of the current expenses of the city and county for the current fiscal year. Accordingly, I herewith recommend to your Honorable Body the maintenance appropriations for the fiscal year beginning January 1, 1944, and ending December 31, 1944, for the city and county departments. There is submitted, in addition, my allowances for the revenue departments of the city which are self-sustaining, and are not provided for from tax collections but from fees charged for their services.

Obviously, the budget recommendations for 1944 must reflect a continuance of wartime conditions. Expressed in budgetary terms it means increased cost of getting those services performed which are vitally necessary to the public health and welfare.

The major portion of the increase in the appropriations for personal services as compared with the expenditures or appropriations for 1943 is attributable to several factors.

Higher salary levels in order to avoid impairment of our professional and technical staffs, particularly in relation to our hospitals and institutions, have become mandatory. A substantial addition must be provided in the Election Department for Presidential primary, State primary, and also election. Increased inspection requirements made necessary by the new building laws have required increased technical personnel in the Building Department. A change in budgetary classification of the costs of dental service in the Health Department has resulted in these amounts being included in the Personal Service group, instead of the Contractual Service group.

The largest single increase in the group for Contractual Services is attributable to the increased costs of the contracts for ash and garbage removal and disposal. Approval by the War Labor Board of increases of 20 cents an hour in pay for employees of private contractors engaged in this work has resulted in increased contract prices. Long-deferred maintenance and repair work in our plant and equipment, aggravated by inability to make replacements, account for the remainder.

Wartime priorities have made the acquisition of new equipment unpredictable, with a corresponding reduction in allowances in the C Group.

Prices in general having been more or less stabilized, there is relatively slight change in the group requirements for Groups D and E, Supplies and Materials, respectively.

Group F includes pensions, workmen's compensation and various types of public welfare, soldiers' relief, and old age assistance. A substantial decrease in the dependent aid category of relief is practically offset by the overlay requirements of more liberal provision for our old age assistance needs inaugurated during the past year. Ample provision has been made for anticipated needs in each item.

Comparable provision has been made for the continuance of the emergency compensation allotment, and for snow removal.

To the customary Special Appropriation items have been added a substantial appropriation for securing and removing of unsafe buildings, funds for a survey of the School System by the Finance Commission (passed by the City Council January 24, 1944), and also a special appropriation for the establishment of a Reception and Information Centre for Boston War Veterans (passed by the City Council January 24, 1944).

Amended charter provisions limit departmental work programs until passage of the budget. Wartime conditions make it desirable that this procedure be expedited. In order, therefore, to afford the maximum opportunity for unrestricted departmental functioning, permit me to urge prompt consideration of, and action upon, this budget.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

(See page 123 for Tables — Comparison of 1944 Allowances with 1943 Appropriations.)

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

From Boston Centennial Poem by

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

BOSTON NOT SCENE OF BLACK MARKET ACTIVITY.

Mayor Tobin has addressed the following letter to the Director of Defense Transportation:

BOSTON, January 31, 1944.

MR. JOSEPH B. EASTMAN, Director,
Office of Defense Transportation,
Washington, D. C.

DEAR MR. EASTMAN,—This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of January 12 relative to the question whether a "black market" exists in railroad reservations in Boston, and if it does exist, whether an ordinance should be passed to remedy the abuse.

I held a meeting in my office at which were present Mr. Glenwood Sherrard, the President of the City of Boston Hotel Association, and the National Hotel Association; Mr. William Day, Chairman of the Transportation Committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce; four representatives of the railroad—Mr. A. H. Seaver, Passenger Traffic Manager of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad; Mr. F. T. Grant, General Passenger Agent, Boston and Maine Railroad; Mr. Ira G. Rasp, General Passenger Agent, Boston and Albany Railroad; and Mr. William Clifford, Secretary of the New England Passenger Association.

Mr. Sherrard reported that he had gone into this matter intensively and finds that there is no "black market" in Boston. He declared that Boston has the best record of any large city in the country in this regard. Mr. Day of the Chamber of Commerce also some time ago made an inquiry into this matter and finds that there is no "black market" problem in Boston. I have never received a complaint from any source relative to "black market" activities in railroad reservations.

The railroad officials named above also feel that there is no real problem in this regard in Boston and that the city has an excellent record in this matter.

I am inclosing herewith a copy of a law which was passed by the Legislature in 1936—chapter 160, section 198B, of the General Laws of Massachusetts,—which covers the matter of railroad ticket resale. In the event a real problem arises it is felt that this law gives ample protection.

Sincerely yours,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon several dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with firms, contractors, etc., for labor, supplies, merchandise, etc. Communications from the heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

BOSTON, January 26, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—On Friday morning, January 21, 1944, a fire was discovered in the Joseph H. Barnes School in East Boston, which did considerable damage in the area of the gymnasium. The cause of the fire is undetermined.

In the emergency I called upon John F. Hynes, Inc., 1342 Columbus avenue, Boston, to report to the building and proceed to repair the damage caused. This work involves the services of several trades.

The John F. Hynes Company, Inc., has furnished me with a price not to exceed $1,982 for the performance of the necessary work.

In view of the foregoing I respectfully request your Honor's approval of an expenditure to John F. Hynes, Inc., in an amount not to exceed $1,982. On the completion of the work itemized bills will be furnished by the contractor and thoroughly checked by this department before releasing for payment.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES J. MAHAR,
Superintendent of Construction.

ENLISTING 100,000 SCHOOL CHILDREN IN JUNIOR SALVAGE ARMY.

George G. Hyland, Chairman of the Boston Salvage Committee, has announced that a city-wide drive to enroll 100,000 children in both the public and parochial schools in the Boston Junior Salvage Army was launched on Monday.

Both Dr. Arthur L. Gould, Superintendent of Boston Public Schools, and the Rev. William J. Daly, Diocesan Supervisor of Parochial Schools, have indorsed the plan to enroll the city's school children to assist in the salvage of waste paper, scrap tin and any other materials the Government may need to help win the war.

Delivery of more than 100,000 pledge cards to schools throughout the city was started Monday by salvage officials. These cards were distributed by teachers to the pupils in their classes.

When a youngster signs a pledge card to help salvage waste paper and scrap tin, he is given a card to show that he is enrolled as a member of the Boston Junior Salvage Army. Certificates of patriotism are to be presented by Director Hyland to all classes whose pupils enroll 100 per cent to aid the salvage work.

"The school children of Boston can be of tremendous assistance in our salvage program," Hyland declared. "Many of them have done and are doing a grand job, but I feel confident that our salvage collections, particularly of waste paper, would increase substantially if every child would pitch in and do his bit."

"The youngsters who enroll in the Junior Salvage Army will be expected to take charge of all waste paper in their homes and to see that all of it is sent to war where it will do the most good."

"Part of their jobs will be to bundle the paper properly and to put it out for the collectors on the day that the salvage trucks visit their district. If they do that, they will be making a real contribution to the war effort."

RENTAL OF GARAGE FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Mayor has approved the following request of the Fire Commissioner:

BOSTON, January 25, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Subject to your Honor's approval, I shall enter into an agreement with John A. Hope, Inc., agent for the rental of the garage at 174 Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury. The monthly rental will amount to $225. In the event that the garage is leased, sold, or otherwise disposed of, John A. Hope, Inc., will give this department a ninety-day removal notice.

The garage contains 11,000 square feet and is in good condition with the exception of the heating system. The agent has agreed to put this system in proper operation at no cost to the city.

At the present time, we have about twenty-five pieces of motor equipment, including ladder trucks, hose cars, pumping engines, and passenger cars for which we have no storage place. In many instances they must be parked in the open air during the wintertime. Neither is there any space available for this equipment in other city-owned garages.

All of our fire stations are occupied to capacity with apparatus in service, O. C. D. trailer pumps and other equipment which must be kept on hand in the event that it is required during a wartime emergency.

The location of the foregoing garage at 174 Blue Hill avenue is near enough to our Maintenance Division Repair Shop so that apparatus equipment and mechanics can be transferred between the two points in a very short time.

Very truly yours,

WM. ARTHUR REILLY,
Fire Commissioner.

SURVEY OF BUILDINGS WARRANTING CONDEMNATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 31, 1944.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Building Commissioner relative to your order of January 17, 1944, concerning the provision in the 1944 budget of a sum sufficient to conduct an immediate survey throughout the city to determine the number of buildings that warrant condemnation.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Building Department, January 24, 1944.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,

Mayor of Boston.

Subject: City Council Order of January 17, 1944.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—Concerning your communication of January 19, 1944, subject—City Council order regarding provision in the 1944 budget of a sum sufficient to conduct an immediate survey throughout the city to determine the number of buildings that warrant condemnation, original copy of order attached, please be informed that I do not believe it necessary to provide funds in the 1944 budget for the purpose of making the survey mentioned.

On file in this department are lists of buildings upon which notices for violations of law have been issued or complaints received, and they contain most of the unsafe and dangerous buildings in our city; however, the personnel of the department could be directed to make the survey requested as part of their regular duties. Consequently I will proceed to make a survey which apparently is desired by the City Council.

It should be understood, however, that as complete as the survey may be when submitted to the City Council it may not contain the addresses of every building warranting condemnation proceedings, inasmuch as it has been the experience of this department to find that occupied buildings when vacated often reach a state of dilapidation and unsound condition within a period of twenty-four hours after being vacated, due to vandalism and other causes.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES H. MOONEY,
Building Commissioner.

Placed on file.

TRANSFER OF TITLE INTEREST IN ROWE'S WHARF.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 17, 1944.

To the Honorable the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order for the transfer to Josiah Wheelwright and Donald M. Hill, trustees, of a certain title interest held by the City of Boston in that portion of the premises situated on the easterly side of and being numbered 350 Atlantic avenue, Boston, commonly known as Rowe's Wharf.

The City of Boston's title interest in this property consists of strip of land and flats, together with that portion of the building thereon, approximately thirteen feet in width, extending from the easterly side line of Atlantic avenue to low water line in Boston Harbor together with certain rights from low water line to the Harbor Commissioners' line established in 1880. The city's title interest in this property relates back to the year 1630. A town way, subsequently known as Belcher's lane, was laid out through this property in 1667. For more than two centuries this property was used for public highway purposes.

In the year 1875 the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn Railroad Company, under the authority of chapter 160, Acts of 1874, took an easement in said property for ferry purposes and erected thereon and on the adjacent properties the wharf, dock and buildings known as Rowe's Wharf. From 1875 to 1941 the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn Railroad Company operated and maintained this property for railroad and ferry purposes. The discontinuance and abandonment of this railroad company in 1941 caused a termination of the easement and a reverter of said property to its former owners. Josiah Wheelwright and Donald M. Hill, trustees, together with the City of Boston are the present record title owners of this property.

Daniel M. Driscoll, Chairman of the Board of Real Estate Commissioners of the City of Boston, has at my request made an appraisal of the city's interest in this property and reports that in his opinion "this property in itself, if isolated from the two abutting parcels, is worthless and a liability to the city. Inasmuch as the properties on either side of this real estate have the same owner, I would recommend the transfer of the city-owned land to the abutting owners at a nominal cost.

The purpose of this proposed transfer is to permit Josiah Wheelwright and Donald M. Hill, trustees, the owners of the abutting properties, to sell the entire parcel of property to a purchaser who intends to use same for commercial purposes.

The City of Boston's title interest in said property is no longer needed for public purposes and the transfer of the city's title interest to private owners will facilitate the assessment and collection of real estate taxes thereon. I am of the opinion that the proposed transfer should be made to Josiah Wheelwright and Donald M. Hill, trustees, at a nominal figure.

A plan of the locus prepared by the Street Laying-Out Department of the City of Boston is transmitted to you herewith.

I recommend passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Whereas, The City of Boston owns in fee a certain parcel of land and flats, together with that portion of the building standing thereon, commonly known as Rowe's Wharf, situated on the easterly side of and being numbered 350 Atlantic avenue, Boston, containing approximately four hundred fifty-seven (457) square feet of solid fill and two thousand eighty-eight (2,088) square feet of flats together with certain rights in tidal waters extending to the Harbor Commissioners' line established under authority of chapter 170, Acts of 1880; and

Whereas, Josiah Wheelwright and Donald M. Hill, trustees, the owners of said Rowe's Wharf subject to the title interest of the City of Boston therein, have petitioned the Land Court to register and confirm their title to said property and desire to obtain the title of the City of Boston's interest therein; and

Whereas, The City of Boston's title interest in said Rowe's Wharf is not required for public purposes; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, to convey to Josiah Wheelwright and Donald M. Hill, trustees, by an instrument in writing satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston and for the nominal consideration of one dollar the City of Boston's right, title and interest in and to the parcel of land and flats, together with that portion of the building standing thereon, commonly known as Rowe's Wharf, situated on the easterly side of and being numbered 350 Atlantic avenue, Boston, containing approximately four hundred fifty-seven (457) square feet of solid fill and two thousand eighty-eight (2,088) square feet of flats together with certain rights in tidal waters extending to the Harbor Commissioners' line established under authority of chapter 170, Acts of 1880, as shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Atlantic Avenue, Boston Proper, December 1, 1943, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," Referred to Committee on Public Lands when appointed.

APPROPRIATION FOR BOSTON VETERANS' RECEPTION AND INFORMATION CENTRE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, January 31, 1944.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order providing for an initial appropriation of $25,000 to permit the establishment of the Boston Veterans' Reception and Information Centre. It is intended that this agency will serve as a central clearing house for the consideration and adjustment of problems facing veterans upon their release from military service. As now planned, representatives of the United States Employment Service, Veterans' Bureau, Army Emergency Relief, Soldiers' Relief Department, Law Department, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American War Veterans, Spanish-American War Veterans, Red Cross and the Council of Social Agencies will be stationed at the Centre to furnish and provide whatever means may be necessary to assure the veterans of the community an orderly transition from military to civilian life. The outstanding feature of the Centre will be that all agencies connected and concerned with the rehabilitation of veterans will be housed under one roof.

The Centre is to be located on the fourth floor of the Somerset street wing of the National War Agencies Building, and according to estimates prepared at my request the probable cost of renovation of this floor and providing the necessary furnishings and equipment will be $16,500. At the outset it will be necessary to provide for the services of a doctor, nurse, switchboard operator and one or two clerks. In addition, it will be necessary to provide for office forms, stationery, postage, telephone service and miscellaneous office supplies.

It is desirable that the work involved in the establishment of the Centre be started at the earliest possible moment. I, therefore, recommend immediate consideration and adoption by your Honorable Body of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $25,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Mayor, for the establishment of the Boston Veterans' Reception and Information Centre, said sum to be raised by taxes on the polls and estates of the City of Boston, and that all orders hereinafter passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes and the interest thereon, apply to the appropriations and taxes herein provided for.

Referred to Executive Committee.

COMMUNICATION FROM DIRECTOR OF NECESSARIES OF LIFE.

The following was received:

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Department of Labor and Industries,

January 27, 1944.

The Honorable City Council.

Gentlemen,—In the matter of a resolution by your Honorable Board, alleging inequities in the deliveries of coal to householders by retail dealers in the City of Boston, I have to advise as follows:

The coal situation throughout the Commonwealth, with particular reference to anthracite, has been unsatisfactory, due to the wage dispute and cessation of production on several occasions since April 1. Because of this reduced production, a plan of distribution has been set up by the Federal Solid Fuels Administration, endeavoring to deliver to retail dealers 87½ per cent of the coal received during the last coal year. Thus far, there are many dealers in Boston who have not received their allocated 87½ per cent.

Massachusetts is a heavy anthracite market and the use of anthracite during the year April 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943, increased 23.4 per cent over the previous coal year. Boston retail dealers during that year sold to householders 680,344 tons of anthracite and Metropolitan Boston retail dealers sold 1,154,685 tons, this out of a total of 3,172,936 tons of anthracite sold to householders throughout the Commonwealth. A recent check at yards of thirty-six dealers in Boston showed a total tonnage as follows: 2,314 tons of anthracite; 21,105 tons of bituminous; and 511 tons of coke. Obviously, this is not a comfortable figure on anthracite, when considered in conjunction with the amounts thus far received and the volume of business done as indicated by the above figures.

A further factor in relation to this short supply is the situation in which many retail dealers regard themselves as of April 1, 1943, with inventories of coal on hand about 50 per cent less than the amount of coal on hand as of April 1, 1942. It is the intention of the Federal Solid Fuels Administration to allow dealers a percentage of this inventory, thus adding to the amount of available coal, but little progress has been made on this phase.

During the earlier part of the year no restrictions were imposed on householders' or dealers' deliveries, and during this period many householders received either a full year's supply or a large proportion of total requirements. On June 22 a temporary plan was adopted, endeavoring to equalize deliveries to householders and to dealers, and this plan was made permanent in September. The delay in formulating this plan earlier is the original cause of inequities in deliveries and, since the adoption of the plan, sufficient coal has not reached this market to properly balance dealer and household receipts.

Increased shipments of bituminous coal, intended for domestic use in central heaters or furnaces, have been received. In some instances, this coal has not received a good reception from householders, principally due to the fact that it was not a prepared bituminous. A prepared bituminous, screened and sized, has been reaching this market recently, and this product has met with better reception by householders and is meeting with success.

There have been occasions during the year when some coal yards have had no coal of any kind on hand, and customers have been compelled to wait varying lengths of time, in some instances extending to a period of weeks, but effort has been made by a Special Committee set up by the Mayor of Boston to effect immediate deliveries to householders in Boston without fuel. This Special Committee has investigated householders' requests for fuel, and in practically all cases these investigations have shown that the householders' representations as to lack of fuel were true. Coal to meet these emergency situations has been made available through the Federal Regional Solid Fuels Administration Office and the State Emergency Solid Fuels Administration.

Dealers have reduced deliveries to consumers from time to time as their stock piles approach the vanishing point, in an effort to increase the spread of available coal and the retail dealers have an industry committee, which functions in the equalization of distribution of coal to retailers and to householders. All of the agencies have worked unceasingly on this problem, but the difficulty lies with inadequate deliveries of coal from the source to our dealers.

Another contributing factor to delayed household deliveries is the irregularity of shipments from the source, severely taxing the manpower of our local retail dealers. The best remedy in this situation is, of course, increased shipments of anthracite to this area and the use by householders, wherever possible, of bituminous as a substitute during the interims of anthracite shortage.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN P. MCBRIDE,
Director of Standards and Necessaries of Life.

TREATMENT OF PRISONERS BY JAPANESE.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, abhors the savagery and brutality, reported in the public press, practiced by the soldiers of the Imperial Japanese Government, against American, Filipino and British captives, in violation of all rules of the Geneva Conference, laid down for the conduct of civilized warfare and treatment of war prisoners; and be it further

Resolved, That the Boston City Council is of the opinion, unanimously, that the United Nations should proceed at once to the imposition of more rigid and more restrictive administration of the affairs of those Axis prisoners, German, Italian and Japanese, who are presently confined in this country as prisoners of war, and in the other countries of the United Nations group; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the members of the United States Senate and the House of Representatives from Massachusetts, and to the office of the Secretary of State, Washington, D. C.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, I don't know just how civilized warfare, at best, can be called when it probably appeals to the basest emotion in human life, but, after all, it appears to me that even if the enemy has the substance of human manhood about him, there is something radically wrong in the character of those nationals who can practice this brutality on a fellowman, even though he be a prisoner. Mr. President, it has always been said by greater minds than we possess that there never has been a good war nor has there ever been a bad peace. But, if ever a war needed justification, the treatment of those unfortunates in the hands of the Axis powers has spoiled every bit of justification that any reasonable person could demand. As to a bad peace, the only bad peace that could come out of this war is a peace that would allow those people who have practiced such savagery to exist further in the brotherhood of man. Any one of those captives, be he black or white, Catholic or Protestant, Jew or Gentile, that suffered at the hands of the Imperial Japanese troops has contributed more in one moment of misery as a captive of those Japanese than anyone who puts his entire time in the fighting forces, even those in the front line who evaded capture. Now, Mr. President, the public press has been filled the last few days with accounts that would make your blood run cold. And I feel that it is about time the United Nations, and particularly the United States of America, that has contributed so much to the battlefront of this tempestuous world, ought to adopt similar tactics against the nationals of the Axis powers who are in their hands here. It appears to me it is futile and wasted effort to treat those men in such a way as they have been treated by fellow Americans here at home. Our own worthy citizens have had to take a back seat in the matter of preferment in the necessities of life that were going into these concentration camps for Axis prisoners. Necessities that were denied us were going to those camps and rotting,—rotting, Mr. President,—for the simple reason that they made certain that there was no shortage of supplies for those prisoners, presumably for the psychological effect it would have on their folks at home who received letters that America was treating them so humanely. And yet we are going to have boys come back here blinded, with arms and legs chopped off,—chopped off, Mr. President,—not as a result of battle wounds, but as a result of the savage bestialities of those people. And for one minute for any one to believe that we should not adopt those practices is to encourage the enemy. It is true that we don't have too many of them. That is very true. But, man for man, it appears now that upwards of 50,000 died at their hands and, man for man, we should retaliate. There is only one sad part about this aside from the misery suffered by these men, and that is the attitude of the Government in releasing the news; and, while I have been bitterly critical of the New Deal in recent months, I want to be uncommonly bitter because they didn't release that news to the American people until a bond drive came along, the purpose being to inflame people to such heights that they would do nothing but buy bonds, the first and primary consideration of the Government, rather than that they should be informed of what is happening to the boys they have contributed. That was secondary to the selling of bonds, the selling of bonds was primary, and if you want any proof of it you have to go back only a year, when another bond drive was started, and newspapers of the country were flooded with headlines that three American cruisers had been, months before, torpedoed, with a large loss of life in each case. Commercializing the death of American boys in order to put a bond drive over the top,—that is another of the New Deal policies. They didn't tell us that news of Jap atrocities, although they admit they had the story last spring, in the spring of 1943, and because they had other news at the time to headline in the sinking of the three cruisers they kept it quiet, and, significantly, never released it at the time. You may not like my criticism, but it is fair, and I make a direct charge that the controlling influences in Washington place secondary the torture of these men and first the success of the bond drive. They ought to be, if they had the capacity for it, thoroughly ashamed of themselves. A nation that can contribute men, that can put up with abuses inflicted upon them as a nation, can take news at its worst.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. RUSSO in the chair.

PAYMENTS TO UNEMPLOYED VETERANS.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:
Resolved, That the members of the Boston City Council request his Excellency the Governor to call a special meeting of the Legislature to enact legislation which will permit the Department of Unemployment Compensation to make payments to honorably discharged members of the armed forces who are residents of Massachusetts immediately upon their discharge, in the sum of $25 per week for the period of time they are unemployed, said period not to exceed ten weeks.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, the unemployment compensation of the State of Massachusetts can be now classed as one of the departments in the big money. The employers of the Commonwealth have been paying unemployment tax for many years, for the purpose of paying to those who lose their employment a certain sum for a certain period of time, so that they will in some way be able to provide for themselves and their families during the period of time they are unemployed. There has been a great hullabaloo throughout the entire country for the purpose of giving a bonus to our soldiers when they return. No one denies the fact that they are entitled to it, but the time when they will receive this bonus may be at a time when they don't need it most. I certainly am not opposed to giving them most anything, as they can never be fully repaid for what they have given to the country, but something more urgent is needed. When a man is discharged from the Army he requires a certain period of time for rehabilitation. It is impossible for everyone to go back to their employment immediately upon their discharge. Consequently during that short period of time that is necessary for rehabilitation they must have the wherewithal to provide for themselves and possibly their families. They can't secure a job the moment they leave the service. They may not be able to go back to their old job immediately, for some reason or other. We have accumulated funds in the Unemployment Compensation Department amounting to many, many millions of dollars, and there is very little going from that fund, due to the fact that there is practically no unemployment today, and, as a result, we are going to have such a tremendous fund that it would take the worst kind of a depression to deplete it. I say that the boys have left private life to go into the Army or Navy or any other branch of the armed services, when their august Government called them there, and when they return they should be given some consideration immediately upon their discharge. We cannot expect them to go on charity rolls. That is asking too much of those who have been willing to give their all. We have many, many millions of dollars which should be expended, and expended in a manner that is befitting the people who have given it and not given out to them in the form of any charity. They are unemployed. They have given their services to the United States armed forces. I have set down the amount of $25 a week up until the time they are employed, not exceeding ten weeks after their discharge, so if a man is discharged from the armed forces for a period of ten weeks he will be receiving some sort of a respectable sum to provide for himself and his family up until the time when he will be able to care for them himself.

The resolution was passed.

DELAY IN INSTALLING TRAFFIC LIGHTS.

Coun. KELLY, HANNON and FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council as to the cause for the delay in installing traffic lights, for which the money has been allocated, at the following intersections: Dorchester and Savin Hill avenues, Ashmont and Adams streets, and several other locations throughout the city.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, over two years ago we appropriated a certain sum of money to have traffic lights installed in various locations throughout this city. I know we were assured at that time it would only be a matter of a few weeks before these traffic lights would be installed, and I am wondering if the Traffic Commissioner can tell us, through his Honor the Mayor, what the great delay is. I know that various councilors in various wards are being hounded by their constituents to find out if we can't have traffic lights installed.

Coun. CAREY—I, naturally, want to go along with the gentlemen in their order, but I might say, from my own experience, I have been told because of war priorities the Traffic Commissioner hasn't been able to install traffic lights. I have the same situation prevailing in my ward, but nevertheless I go along with the councilors.

The order was passed.

COMPENSATION OF VETERANS FORMERLY CITY AND COUNTY EMPLOYEES.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That all city and county employees who have temporarily left their positions to serve in the armed forces of the country, and who, upon being honorably discharged, reapply for their position but fail to pass the necessary physical requirements demanded by Civil Service, be given a position of equal pay and opportunity. In any case where this is impossible to accomplish, the employee shall be given a full pension.

Coun. FISH—Just a brief explanation of that order. We are standing up here, twenty-two councilors, asking private industry to guarantee the job of any employee going into service upon their return. I don't know what right we have got to ask private industry to give the jobs back when our own employees are not guaranteed their jobs. When they leave the employ of the city they are physically able to enter the armed forces. Then, upon their return, they are required to pass a physical examination and, if not up to physical requirements, they do not get their job. What right have we got to get up and condemn private industry? Something should be done for them. I am only asking that if they cannot go back to the job they left, let the city find a job of equal pay and of the same opportunity of advancement, and if we cannot do that, then pension them at full pay.

The order was passed.

HEARINGS ON CONDEMNATION PROVISIONS OF BUILDING CODE.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That a committee of the City Council conduct hearings for the purpose of making a thorough study of the condemnation provisions of the Building Code now in effect in Boston.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, it is only that I feel that the condemnation laws of the City of Boston will not permit the demolition of many buildings in Boston that should be demolished. I don't think it is fair to have these dilapidated structures adjoining some of our most recent and modern buildings. We place a high valuation on a recent, modern building, and jeopardize its chances of doing business by wrecking the community in which that building is located, and yet our condemnation laws will not permit us to demolish those buildings. The purpose of this order is to put more teeth into the demolition laws. After all, what have we got to look forward to in Boston if we are not going to demolish those old structures? We cannot even handle traffic on the narrow streets we have here today, but, yet, what is our Planning Board doing about it? When we get the average amount of traffic in Boston now, after this war, I don't know how the business men are going to get along. They just can't handle it. There is nothing done by the Planning Board; nothing being done to demolish old structures. I venture to say that in ten or fifteen years we will have a ghost city here.

The order was referred to the Committee on Building Code, when appointed.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENT.

Chairman RUSSO called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor January 24, 1944, of Kenneth W. Blennerhassett to be a Constable without authority to serve civil process and to serve without bond.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Shannon and Kinsella. Whole number of ballots 16, yes 16, and the appointment was confirmed.

PAYMENT OF $200 TO HONORABLY DISCHARGED VETERANS.

Coun. COFFEY and FISH offered the following:
Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, hereby favors the enactment of legislation providing for the payment of $200 to veterans of World War II upon their discharge from the service at the Special Session of the Legislature which is shortly to be called by Governor Saltonstall.

The resolution was passed.

PERMANENT APPOINTMENT OF POLICE MILITARY SUBSTITUTES.

Coun. COFFEY and FISH offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with Police Commissioner Col. Thomas F. Sullivan in an effort to bring about the permanent appointment of approximately fifty military substitute members of the Boston Police Department, all experienced men who have been on the department up to thirteen months and who face the danger of losing their jobs if not made permanent by the 17th of February of this year.

The order was passed.

RECONDITIONING OF CATILLO PLAYGROUND.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to include in their 1944 budget sufficient funds to recondition the Catillo Playground, Ward 3.

The order was passed.

RECESS.

The Council voted, on motion of Coun. KINSELLA, to take a recess at 2.50 p. m. The members reassembled and were called to order by Chairman RUSSO at 3.44 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORT.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) for appropriation of $25,000 for establishment of Boston Veterans' Reception and Information Centre—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was passed, yeas 22, nays 0.

STATE INSURANCE OF CERTAIN VETERANS.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request his Excellency the Governor to propose to the contemplated session of the General Court an established system of state insurance for the returning armed forces, such a system to be used as a subsidiary when, and if, the private insurance companies refuse to allow the employment of veteran labor in private industry because they are too great a financial risk.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, one of the greatest barriers that man has erected to the free employment of labor is the insurance companies. A private employer merely employs, but a private insurance company determines whether that man is employable or not. It was brought out in executive session by Doctor Gately that private insurance companies will not allow the employment of members of the armed forces when they are returned into civilian life because they are too great a financial risk,—not to the employer, but rather to the insurance companies. It was with a great deal of relief and satisfaction that I read in the newspapers of last week that His Excellency the Governor is contemplating a special session of the State Legislature in order to synchronize the State efforts with the Federal efforts on absentee ballots. There are too many things coming up at the present time for any State Legislature or Federal Legislature or city legislators to prolong action. There are too many things coming up in our country today for men who are elected to represent the people to be sitting idly by with no sessions of Congress or State Legislatures in convention. On July 26th of last year Councilor Daniel F. Sullivan and myself introduced the same order that Doctor Gately spoke on today in executive session. We asked for an adjunct to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Department for the purpose of rehabilitating the returned armed forces. I believe that our Commonwealth should utilize the special session to set up a state insurance when and if private insurance companies refuse to allow the employment of the returning armed forces because of some physical or mental disability that they incurred while in the armed forces. One of the greatest physical specimens is a man that comes out as 1A down in the Cadillac Building. There is no physical examination of the insurance company that demands so much of a man as is demanded of any one of those who go down there as a physical specimen and is drawn as timber for the Army, the Navy or the Marines. Those men are fully qualified, physically and mentally, to enter into the armed forces, and if they incur any disability while in the service, then the Government, which is the people, should stand ready and able to wipe off any deficit. I know whereof I speak. I have the opportunity at the present time of speaking as a man of the armed forces and as a civilian, and I know whereof I speak. I know the physical requirements that are demanded of those men, and they may come back and become derelicts, cast upon the scrap heap because, while engaged in armed pursuits, they incurred some physical or mental disability. Insurance companies are the only ones that have set up a barrier to the free employment of labor. As I look around me, some of you men who are over thirty-five or forty years of age could not obtain a position in private industry,—not because of your qualifications, but because your lease on life has been shown as a deficit. The insurance companies are the only ones that allow the employment of labor. They are the only ones that pay the annuity either to yourself or your beneficiary if an accident is incurred. And insurance companies belong to the Massachusetts Safety Council, a subsidiary of the National Safety Council. Their main purpose in being is to eradicate anything that would jeopardize the life and limb of the employee. And when you have a lost-time accident you are immediately a liability, not to the firm, but to the insurance company; and if it occurs frequently you are discharged without compensation. That was the rule prior to the war, and that will be the rule after the war. And let us at least stand up and raise the inarticulate voice of the men who were physically qualified to shoulder arms but today are unable to speak for themselves. I ask suspension of the rules and passage of the order.

The order was passed.

LICENSES FOR BOXING EXHIBITIONS.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby petitions His Excellency the Governor to instruct the State Boxing Commission not to issue any further licenses for professional boxing exhibitions in Boston until such time as the said commission appoints competent officials who will render fair and impartial decisions.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, in presenting this resolution I do so for the protection of Boston people who go and see professional boxing exhibitions here at the Boston Garden or any other arena where professional boxing is shown. I am referring to the boxing contest where close to 8,000 fight fans here in Boston attended a boxing contest on last Thursday night and put through the gate of this arena a sum of $15,644. I refer to a decision that was made in the main bout of that contest,—yes, and other decisions that were made here in Boston in the last couple of months, where somebody in this city is taking the people of Boston for nothing but suckers. I refer to a contest where a young man from Providence and a young man from New York were in a ten-round exhibition fight, and a decision was rendered to the young man from Providence, which was one of the most outrageous decisions ever thrown on the people of Boston. Mr. President, these decisions are rendered in this city not for sporting reasons, but for gambling reasons, where some of these men in Boston are putting referees and, yes, judges in the bag for the purpose of gambling. I refer to the contest where a gentleman by the name of Izzy Jannazzo, from New York, and a gentleman by the name of Ralph Zannelli, of Providence, in my opinion—and I know a little about the fight game—where the man from New York took nine rounds out of ten, and the decision was given to the man from Providence. I am going to read an article where a gentleman from the Boston Evening American, and I believe he is an honest fight reporter, says: "7,852 fight fans near riot as Zannelli gets split award. You can fool some of the people all of the time and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time. Abe Lincoln's sage remark is as true today as it was in the 1860's. That was the time, after witnessing the riotous demonstration staged by 7,852 fans who protested the decision given Ralph Zannelli over Izzy Jannazzo at the Garden." And it further goes on to say: "Boxing never will prosper in this city while such decisions are rendered. I wonder if Sam Smith and Dezzie Wadsworth, Boxing Commissioners, will do anything about it." Yes, Mr. President, I am wondering what the Boston commissioners are going to do about decisions such as Zivic and Zannelli, and Zivic and Kaplan. I say it is outrageous. This is one of the biggest rackets this city has ever seen, and I am asking the Governor of the Commonwealth, and he is the man we should look to in this matter, to find out what the Boxing Commissioners are going to do about these decisions. It is about time the people of Boston woke up and stopped professional boxing in this city until such a time as the people of this city are not being victimized by gamblers who are reaping thousands and thousands of dollars from the people of this city. I ask suspension of the rules and passage of this resolution.

Coun. FISH—I think there is a little serious side to his order. Boston is none too good in a financial light, and one of the greatest industries we have is sports. We are fortunate, just recently, in having announced that Notre Dame is coming to Boston, which will bring a tremendous amount of money into our city. But, on the other hand, why should the Boxing Commissioners put up with any such decision as this, that will tend to ruin—not counting it as sports—a big industry in Boston? I think his order should be taken very seriously for the industry of this city.

The resolution was passed.

INVESTIGATION OF INSURANCE COMPANY REQUIREMENTS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That His Excellency the Governor be requested by his Honor the Mayor to have a thorough investigation made during the Special Session of the Legislature to determine whether or not insurance companies are going beyond all reasonable judgment in the requirements that are demanded of applicants for employment in private and public business throughout the state.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, as we all know, insurance in whatever form is a gamble and a risk. From my personal observation, and after listening to remarks made by members of this Council, I think the day has come when insurance companies want to take all and give nothing. They want to assume no risk whatsoever. Yet, as I see it, there has been a certain fear instilled in the hearts of employers, both public and private, because of regulations that have been permitted to be set up by insurance companies so that these employers are fearful of hiring help, and the insurance companies removing every vestige of risk that up to this time has been accepted, whether it is in the case of a civilian or a non-veteran or a veteran. The insurance companies today, of and by themselves, solely, are able to tell the employer who he is going to employ and who he is not going to employ. There can be but one ultimate condition arrived at, and that is this: That there is definitely going to be considerably more unemployment in the days to come than there otherwise would be, because many an individual, whether male or female, is going to be denied employment who is well able to perform that particular work, only because an insurance company that is thinking solely of profits is to be allowed to tell an employer that he cannot employ such individual. This matter has gone along altogether too far. The day has come when the State has got to step into the picture. We know there is no more vicious lobby today at the State House than that insurance lobby. There is no reason and no justification for the refusal on the part of the insurance companies to approve the physical condition of many an applicant for employment. I hope that the Governor—no doubt he has realized it, but I hope the time has come when he will treat this condition in the light in which it should be treated. This refusal on the part of insurance companies to O. K. the physical condition of an applicant for employment might well result in that individual going so far as to commit suicide because, in the name of the Lord, what can a prospective employee look forward to if he has to feel his physical condition is such he can no longer be employed? Company insurance is every day becoming more of the thing in business and, with the inroads it is making into business life, the day might well come when certain individuals will be prohibited exclusively from getting any employment whatsoever. To repeat, I sincerely hope that this order will not be one that will be thrown in the waste basket. Something must be done, and I sincerely trust that the Governor will make it a personal matter himself to see that efforts are being made, and immediately, to rectify a condition that certainly is very odoriferous.

The resolution was passed.

PARKING OF TRUCKS AND BUSES.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a survey throughout the city with reference to the parking of trucks and buses and to report their findings to the City Council.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, I am introducing this order as a result of many complaints, plus my own personal inconvenience that I have also suffered as a result of the—I don't know whether you call it mismanagement—an regard to licenses and permits in Boston for the parking of commercial vehicles and buses. There is a very flagrant abuse taking place evidently down here at Federal street by one of the large concerns, namely, the First National Bank,—on Federal street, between Milk and Franklin streets. I think it is about the narrowest part of Federal street. It is a main artery from the North to the South Stations, and traffic there is heavy, naturally. This concern has trucks backed up to the curb all day long, just leaving a small portion of the street for the regular flow of traffic, which I say is very, very heavy. I don't know who issued the permits, but I know if people were down there parking in the vicinity against the curb their cars would be very quickly tagged by the Police Department. If they have a legal permit we should see to it that the permit is abated, because it certainly is a nuisance. There is another condition existing in Boston which I don't think members of the Council are aware of. There are a large number of trucking and transportation companies with no business office in Boston. They don't pay taxes to the City of Boston and they are that cheap they won't hire freight terminals in Boston, but they will take our public streets and take these enormous trucks and vans and trailers, and disengage them from the tractor, and do their swapping of loads in the public streets, inside Boston proper, on traveled, congested streets, constituting not only a traffic hazard but a fire hazard as well. They leave these trucks jacked up with probably twenty tons of merchandise on them and just take the tractor and go out of town and leave this truck stopped in front of a hydrant and, in case of fire, it could not be moved because of no equipment to move it. The Police Department, or whoever is issuing the permits, if they are issued, should be called to task immediately. If these people are doing business in Boston they are getting the protection of the Fire Department, the Police Department, and all the different departments, and want nothing to do with paying any costs. They won't even take some of the vacant property in Boston and hire it to use as a terminal, but insist on using our highways. There is another condition that I noticed up at Park square, the Greyhound Bus Terminal at Park square, Boston to Providence. They take their buses, probably twenty-five to thirty feet long, and back them and hinder traffic going into Providence street. I have known of an occasion where a friend of mine passed on the left of the island and was called back by the officer, where the sign says "Keep to the right," but he couldn't go to the right because the Greyhound Bus Company had buses backed to the curb and there was no room to go to the right, so he went to the left, and was called to the curb, to come back for violation of the traffic laws. This company, if it has a permit, was given the permit for the Greyhound buses. It is like the Brighton Abattoir, they got the permit and everyone that wants to slaughter beef comes under that one permit. Everyone is invited in at no extra cost. The city makes no charge. It is the same way with that terminal up at Park square. There was a permit issued for that company alone, but they, in turn, charge every bus company entering Boston for the use of the facilities under the permit that was granted to them exclusively. Yesterday I was up there meeting some one coming in, and I noticed the New England Transportation Company pull in there, the Granite Stages, the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, the Greyhound Bus, Quaker Stages, and other buses I didn't bother to mark down. Mr. President, I think this is a good order if it is followed out by having the Fire, Police, Traffic and Street Commissioners invited over to enlighten the councilors as to how they arrive at giving permits to these transportation companies, both the commercial and bus companies. Why they grant them, who they grant them to, and what are the limits of their terms. And I wish, Mr. President, you would refer that to some committee that we may ask these people in here and see if we cannot get some revenue for Boston from these outsiders who are coming from outside the state and city and will not hire any rented property here in Boston, but use our highways for taking care of their business.

The order was referred to the Committee on Public Safety, when appointed.

RULES OF CITY COUNCIL.

On motion of Coun. TAYLOR the Council voted to take No. 2, under unfinished business, from the calendar, viz.:

2. Rules of the City Council as recommended by the Committee on Rules and the Executive Committee.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I don't think that the members of the Council have had fully explained to them just the purpose of the change, and perhaps the chairman of the Rules Committee might give us some further explanation, until I know what the purpose of the suggested change is.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I think if we are going to have a City Council we ought to have rules under which it can operate. We are now in session without any rules whatsoever. First of all, the Committee on Rules have recommended that the rules that were in existence for the years 1942-1943 be adopted for the years 1944-1945, with the exception of one change. If my memory recalls, it is a change in Rule 13. Rule 13 has to do with the withdrawal from committees of certain matters that are before those committees. I think it is the consensus of opinion that many hardships were caused last year by that rule, or the interpretation of that rule, and so that the rule shall not be ambiguous and by so doing shall be clear to all members, the Committee on Rules have recommended that the change be as follows: That any matter referred to any committee can, by motion, be recalled to the floor of this Body at any time by a two thirds vote of the members present and voting. In other words, if there is such a great percentage of the members of the Council that feel this matter is a matter that should be discussed by the entire Body, they shall have the privilege of recalling it by a two thirds vote of those voting and present. The other change in the same rule is that in the event that a committee has held that matter before them for a period of longer than one month, then a majority of the members present and voting shall have the right to withdraw it from the committee so that it may be acted upon by the Body. The old rule requires twelve members of the Council to withdraw that from the committee. As you know, Mr. Chairman, it has been very difficult to get very many members at the meetings, particularly last year, because of the fact that so many had enlisted in the service. We may be troubled by the same situation this year. There is one young man, a member of our Body, going into the service very shortly. They are calling married men now, and it may not be long before many others may be drafted into the service. In order that justice may be done so that problems that concern the City Council cannot be hampered by any particular committee, I think it is fair that this rule be amended so it would give a majority of the members who are interested in coming to the City Council meetings, who are here present and voting, such an opportunity after a period of one month, the matter having been in the committee for that period of time, which time should be sufficient in any matter to give them opportunity to bring it back on the floor. We have tried to make this a fair rule for all concerned, and I think it is a fairer rule for those that believe they are in a minority. But it didn't make any difference to me whether I was in a minority or a majority. I thought it was an unfair rule at any time, and I haven't changed that opinion because it may be believed I am in majority. I still think, in fairness to those who think they are in minority, the matter should be brought from a committee after a period of one month by a majority of those present and voting. I believe it should then be brought on the floor of the Council.

Coun. CAREY—I want to thank Councillor Taylor for his explanation. I want to be fair, also, and speaking of majorities and minorities, I perhaps shall be in the minority this year, as other years, but Rule 13 has stood for some time, and it hasn't been a bad rule to work under. Now, as far as the first change in the rule is concerned, that of taking a matter out of committee by a two thirds vote of those present and voting, very often a matter might go to committee where the committee might want to vote a hearing on it. It isn't always possible to have a hearing. I have seen it in my years here where the calling for a hearing was made, and the committee felt there wasn't enough interest, and postponed action until a later date, and called another hearing. I personally do not like to see a matter in committee over thirty days, although I will admit last year there were instances where there were matters in the Committee on Rules over thirty days. But in neither of those cases did the matter happen to be of such consequence that any very immediate action was necessary. But I don't think it is a good idea to throw an order to a committee today and, for some reason, want to take it out next week, on a matter which is perhaps of vital interest and should necessitate a public hearing. I want to be progressive, but haste makes waste, and sometimes we might move in haste on some matter left with the committee, before the committee has had ample opportunity to sit down and investigate the matter.

Coun. HANNON—I move that Rule 8 be amended.

Chairman RUSSO—The clerk will read now Rule 8.

(Rule 8 was read as follows: "The president shall appoint all committees, fill all vacancies therein, and designate the rank of the members thereof.")

Coun. HANNON—I move that that be amended so that when any member so requests, a vote shall be taken and verified by a call of yeas and nays on the request of three members, so as to read that three members instead of one shall demand a roll call.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of information.

Chairman RUSSO—State your point of information.

Coun. TAYLOR—There seems to be some sort of discrepancy. I don't quite understand it. Rule 8, 1942-1943, is different, a different rule entirely.

Chairman RUSSO—The Chair wishes to state he has been informed that the numerical order of our rules for 1943 and those for 1944 has been changed, due to the fact there was a certain rule numbered 1A which was inserted last year.

Coun. TAYLOR—And made an additional rule? Chairman RUSSO—And made an additional rule.

Coun. HANNON—I move that the report of the Committee on Rules should read, "Report of the Acting Committee on Rules." I move this matter be referred to the Committee on Rules when appointed.

Coun. TAYLOR—I don't think this Body ought to be without rules. I think we ought to adopt the rules of 1942-1943 right now. Then any member can make a motion to amend and let it go to the Committee on Rules. But I think this Body should have rules to begin with. We should vote upon that particular question as to whether or not we shall have the rules of 1942-1943, but any proposed amendments can then go to the Rules Committee. But I think we ought to have our rules so we can conduct our business.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. Chairman, I, too, agree we should have rules, but I, too, think the rules should be lived up to. We are supposed to be functioning, supposed to be a functioning Body, functioning here through committees. We have been here for a month, and no committees have been appointed, and we seem to be doing pretty well, and I don't know what rules we are following. It is all right to say we can amend the rules later on, but there is a tricky little rule later on which says: "These rules cannot be amended except by two thirds vote of those present and voting." That means you have to have a two thirds vote to make any amendment once we adopt these rules. There has been no ruling. A temporary Committee on Rules was appointed, and it has now made its recommendations. I think we are entitled to read over the rules. The first time I saw them was today. I had more to do with the rules last year than any member of the Rules Committee, and the member on my left who so graciously suggests that these rules be amended is the gentleman who spent so much time interpreting these rules. I think, in all fairness to all members of the Council, we can avoid those differences of opinion if we can have a proper hearing on those rules. The new members here haven't had a chance yet to read these rules. I came in here as a new member and I was given a book of rules, and I read them through, and the first thing I knew we gathered in here and somebody made the motion we adopt the same rules as we had before. The rules were adopted, and throughout the year we were hamstrung by rules that I think came down from the time of Noah. I am not suggesting offhand any number of changes. I think that is absurd, and most of us are inclined to believe if the rules have been good enough for the last thirty or thirty-five years, they are probably good enough for the next five or ten years, or at least as long as we are going to be here. But in all fairness to the new members who have come in here but don't know yet the rules, and haven't had time to read them, there is a change proposed, and yet you are given a copy and, by God, you have to have good eyes to be able to read them, let alone digest them. In addition, there is a divergence in the numerical order of the rules. Nobody knew about that until the gentleman from Ward 12 happened to notice it when I asked to have Rule 8 read. He noticed Rule 8 is different from the printed pamphlet on our desks. These are rules that are going to govern our procedure for two years. For some reason or other, no stated rules of parliamentary procedure have ever been adopted here, and in the course of two years there are going to be many, many parliamentary intricacies that are going to involve members of the Council. The only thing we can do in all fairness to ourselves is to read the old rules, compare them with the proposed new rules, and think out any honest change we think should be in there. We should have a hearing open to the members of the Council, and I believe the proper committee to carry this on is the Rules Committee, the Committee on Rules. We had a Committee on Rules last year, and I thought it was a very fine committee. However, this year, when it was decided to adopt rules, there was a new committee suddenly appointed, not a permanent committee, something transitory, an Acting Committee on Rules. That acting committee made certain recommendations. Now, we are not going to take the recommendation, I hope, of an acting committee, and then later on ask that these rules be substantiated and approved by the permanent committee. Why not let the one committee recommend the rules, and the same committee stand behind them?

Coun. CAREY—There is a great deal in what Councillor Hannon says, Mr. Chairman. The rules of the Council positively do govern the actions of the Council. There are new members here who might not want to see a matter taken out of a committee on short notice, or in a week's or two weeks' time. There might be some matter go into a committee that some of the new members are vitally interested in. It might possibly affect their own district. I don't think these new men have had enough time to familiarize themselves with the rules. I am somewhat familiar with them. I have been here six years, but I still don't feel that because a matter goes into a committee, that committee should be forced to hasty action. Any number of circumstances might govern that particular matter and make it more important that the committee spend more time before it brings back its report. I think it is altogether too early to change these rules, because any change would be of a permanent nature, until they were some time later on amended. But the new members have not been here long enough to study these rules and understand them. You have to see actual application, see it made, of some of these rules before you understand definitely what they mean. Furthermore, while the Committee on Rules might have met on these amendments to Rule 13, the Council as a body has not sat down and gone into the suggested change. I certainly hope, therefore, that the councillor from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor) will withdraw his motion, or that the Council will vote to leave the matter on the table until the councillors have had a chance to study them and see what these changes are all about.

Coun. TAYLOR—I would like to clarify my position in the matter. We had a meeting of the Committee on Rules—and incidentally I would like to rectify what I think is a mistake of the gentleman from Ward 13 (Coun. Hannon). As I understood, it was a permanent committee and not an Acting Committee on Rules. Furthermore, as far as my position is concerned, I am satisfied to have no amendments. I was in the minority last year, and I thought it was a mean rule, in so far as matters going to committees are concerned. It gave the committee an opportunity of holding a matter before them for an extended period of time, without any chance of this Body ever getting it out of the committee. If that is satisfactory to them, it is certainly satisfactory to me this year, and I am willing to say here and now that if it is a question of that amendment I am willing to withdraw as far as that particular amendment is concerned. I wanted to do the fair thing and get it out of committee, even though I think the committees might be favorable to my position this year. I am willing, as chairman of the Rules Committee, to withdraw, and if the rest of the members are willing to be polled on the matter, do so. I suggest we keep the rules as these gentlemen want for 1942-1943 and I will vote for them without any amendment whatsoever.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. Chairman, I heartily agree with the councillor from Ward 12. I was appointed on, as I understood, a permanent Committee on Rules, and there was a notice sent out, a meeting was held, and there was some opposition that came up about the changing of this rule, and I did state: "Well, I think we ought to carry the same rule we had last year." As the councillor from Ward 12 well stated, he was trying to bend over backwards to be fair with the entire Body. Last year we had two or three occasions on that particular Committee on Rules where the majority of the members of the committee wanted certain orders brought before the Body, and the chairman of that committee made up his mind they were not coming out. Here were twenty-one other members that wanted to act on it, and one member had the right to hold that order in committee, or not hold a meeting. I was on the committee last year, and these two or three particular orders lay in that committee for a long time after thirty days had expired, and we went to the chairman and asked him, "Will you kindly report this one way or another, and let the members vote on it? If they want to favor it or kill it, that is the right they have got." Why should we deprive them of that right? But a majority of the Council wanted certain matters removed from the Committee on Rules, and the chairman of the Committee on Rules refused to send them back. One thing I am referring to is selection of the City Messenger, and the Kelly order on lotteries in Massachusetts. Those lay in the Committee on Rules for two or three months or more. I think when the councillor from Ward 12 made the statement he was trying to be fair, that is what it was. We were sent here by the respective wards in Boston to vote on certain matters, to vote to pass or reject, and I think it is a pretty tough state of affairs when a chairman of a committee can decide that we will hold no meeting. And he was supreme. I consulted an authority, and I got an opinion that when the chairman doesn't want to hold a meeting he doesn't have to hold one, and when he doesn't want to turn in a report he doesn't have to. But if this rule was in there we could bring a matter out with a two thirds vote in less than sixty days. If twenty-two members want something returned in a week, I think they should have the right to return it.

Coun. KINSELLA—It is a rather dry subject to get enthused about,—rules. None of us have lived up to them. But if we adopt the Golden Rule, probably we could get along better here. I was a little amazed to hear Councilor Hurley make two separate and distinct references to the chairman who wouldn't call meetings and who wouldn't make reports. Some time last December I received notice in the mail from the Clerk of Committees that a meeting of the Hospital Committee would be held at two o'clock the following Friday afternoon. Getting into the elevator at half-past one, I met the councilor from Ward 8 (Coun. Hurley) and he said the hearing had been canceled, and up to this day it has never been held, to my knowledge,—or if it has been, it has been without notification to me, and I was a duly accredited member of the committee. Two years ago next April we had a hearing at the hospital on the death of young Wayne Simmons, in Charlestown, and the following Monday I had to get up here and ask why the Chair didn't submit a report of the facts adduced at the hearing, and those of you who were in the Council then will recall that I had to make reference to Councilor John Wickes to bear me out on some things said at the meeting. But those are only two isolated instances that come to mind. However, without attempting to pick a quarrel with anybody, is there any member of this Body that wants to say, truly and honestly, that the Council in its committee work has functioned properly? I have gone into the room where committees are properly held, where there were two out of a committee of five, of which three constitute a quorum, and I have actually seen them bring in a report here and validate their own actions by claiming that the third member, who got tired of waiting for more to show up, was "with us, anyway, so there is the report." The report of three men, one of whom didn't hear a word that was said. Then, of course, as you know, because of the absence of six men in the armed services, the committees were broadened in number. Some that functioned normally with five, if at all, had three or four added to them. So, necessarily, by action of the President, three no longer constitute a quorum, but five to seven,—five, at least. How often have the very same men, fighting for or against the adoption of these recommended rules, complained bitterly that you couldn't find a quorum, and why is it one matter up here is treated differently than another? There is stuff that went into the Rules Committee, and I am not critical of the President or members of the committee, in the last term, that has yet to be reported because we were told they were not of interest to Boston. I would like to know if the Boston people were absolved from paying enormously high taxes that came of the condition I spoke of in the Navy Yard. But my resolution was pigeonholed in the committee, and not by the action of one man, either. Those are cases in point. Upon my soul, I am sincere when I tell you, let us go along without them. Let us adopt some gentlemanly, grown-up conduct here for a change. Let us respect the will of the people in every ward in Boston, the people who selected the characters we are so ready to condemn and vilify because they don't see eye to eye with us. If we pursue a course of conduct modeled after the Golden Rule we will be better off, and for 1944-1945 let us speak good of each other for a change, and we don't need a rule in the book to tell us how to do that. If any one of us died tomorrow the expressions of sympathy that would come would fill the South Boston drydock. Never mind about the sincerity or lack of sincerity in them; they would come. Let us treat ourselves as grown men with the responsibility of three quarters of a million people. Rules! Gentlemen, you can fight until midnight over them, and next Monday you will forget them, and if you adopt them today I am going to ask you how much wholehearted support you will give the recommended Rule 30: "No smoking shall be allowed in the council chamber when the council is in session." Another rule, to show you the fallacy of all the time put in on these things: "No one but officials of the council shall be admitted to the floor while the council is in session." Mark you, that excludes everybody that is seen over here or there that isn't under the rule an official of the Council or an accredited newspaper man, and the poor City Messenger is saddled with the burden of throwing them out. Well, I wouldn't support him in his action against any of your friends, and I wouldn't expect you to support him if he started to heave out a friend of mine, in compliance with the slightly "daffy" rules you are wasting time about. I am going to conduct myself in the two years ahead of me with a proper and decent regard for everybody in here, and only when I can't do better will I consult a rule book to tell me what constitutes decent, common courtesy.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. Chairman, I was very glad to hear the councilor from Ward 2 get up and make his statement, "Let us speak well of each other." I hope he will stick to that, and I hope also that through this period of two years we won't have any councilor get on the floor here and say we are a gang of twenty-two "nitwits." It isn't in the record. And I hope no councilor will get up and make the statement that the only decent legislators come from the Back Bay. I hope the Golden Rule is practiced not only by the rest of us, but by the gentleman who made the last speech, because when it comes to speaking well of each other there is one particular gentleman that has failed to live up to his own rule. Now, I wish to make a motion that the amendment, as suggested by the Committee on Rules, be defeated, and that the rules for 1942-1943 be accepted by this Council.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, I happened to be appointed on the Rules Committee by the President, John Kerrigan, and I received due notice from the Clerk of Committees. On January 7 I find he appointed the committee. He didn't state whether it was temporary or permanent, and I gathered that I was on the permanent committee. I was in favor of the rule brought up by Councilor Taylor in the Rules Committee, and brought on the floor of this Council today for adoption, but I never thought that men would enter into gibes at one another on the changing or amending of any rule. As Councilor Hannon well said, these rules evidently have been in effect since the time of Noah, and will be until the consummation of the world. I have known Councilor William Carey, of Roxbury, for a number of years, and I have known him as a gentleman, a man of intelligence, and one who is capable of taking the floor at any time and speaking on a controversial subject, regardless of any group or any individual. For the past two years he has held a position in this Council as the chairman of the Rules Committee. That had been known as the "graveyard committee," but through Bill Carey it has been made a "resurrection committee." He has been given some of the most controversial measures not only brought into the City Council but in any legislative body of our country, and he has always brought them back. In due regard to Bill Carey, he needs no defending, and I don't believe he should be the target at any time for utilizing his position as chairman of the Rules Committee as a domineering factor. From my acquaintance with him in private and public life, I know he has never been afraid to leave his seat and speak on controversial subjects, and that shows the quality of the man, a man that is capable and able to distinguish between principles and men. Men mean nothing, but principles do, and Bill Carey, from my acquaintance with him, will some day attain a great political office, because he has always distinguished and differentiated between a principle and a man. On the two subjects referred to by the councilor from Ward 8, I believed I was in full accord with him when they were brought out here on the floor of the Council for a vote. I am always in favor of functioning committees. I am not in favor of any domineering rule that perverts. Right there in the executive chamber I was in full accord with Councilor Taylor of Ward 12 on his amended rule, and I am still in favor of it, but I don't believe we should set up anybody as a target for—target, I won't use the words "calumny of lies"—but I don't believe we should enter into personalities when we are talking on any rule.

Coun. CAREY—I don't know, Mr. Chairman, just why the councilor from Ward 8 (Coun. Hurley) saw fit to berate me. I was chairman of the Committee on Rules for two years. I am in this Hall every day of the week, and have always held myself available for any committee meeting that might be necessary, whether Rules or any other committee. Regarding the matter of the City Messenger's election a year ago, I think if the councilor wants to be frank, he knows that it was the desire—I think I should go so far as to say—of most of the members of this Body that that matter stay in the graveyard, as it did the previous year, when there was no man elected to fill the job that was held by the late Assistant City Messenger, William J. Walsh. I don't recall in that particular instance that there was any very particular effort on my part to keep the matter in committee, although I didn't vote for the man elected City Messenger. Relative to the order of Councilor Kelly, I held a committee meeting on that order. There were three of us there that day—Councilor Kelly, Councilor Hurley and myself. I admit that Councilors Kelly and Hurley voted to report that matter, "Ought to pass." I spoke to others of the committee and, as I recall, it was at the request of Councilor Kelly that I polled the rest of the committee. One was against it, and the fifth member of the committee was not willing to make known his intentions. Eventually three members of the committee voted the matter ought to be returned, "Ought to pass," and I returned the report of the committee in that fashion. I have tried to be fair during my six-odd years here, with every member of this Council. I think it is too bad that we have to feel we are either in a minority or a majority. There is no doubt about it, if the twenty-two members of this Council come in here week after week and set aside all personalities and all resolve to go along without any personal feelings, we would have a better Council here. Why the councilor from Ward 8 (Coun. Hurley) should take the floor and insist I was unfair on both those matters, I don't know. Personally I have nothing against the gentleman. I have been associated with him—this is my fifth year—and until very recently we have been able to pass the time of day. I have always got along with him, I have thought. And what it will avail him to get up and find fault with the way I conducted the Rules Committee last year, I don't know. I feel that most members of the Council will agree too, that I have never been afraid, as Councilor Hanley said, to take to my feet here and express my views on most matters that come before the Council. I don't know why any member should make it appear part of the record that I was unfair and tried to assume the role of dictator in keeping matters in committee. I can't understand the remarks of Councilor Kinsella. There are controversial matters brought in here, and those have been referred to the Committee on Rules that has been used as a graveyard, and any matter I failed to report back here as chairman of the Rules Committee was of such a nature that members of the Body felt they didn't wish to be recorded, inasmuch as it had nothing to do with city business.

Chairman RUSSO—The Chair wishes to say I shall ask every councilor to get away from personalities. I have tolerated them up to this moment, but I will not tolerate them any longer. I don't want to let any councilor feel that there is a minority or a majority. I believe we are all equal. There are times perhaps, as far as our opinion is concerned, that we may be in minority or majority, but outside of that we are all equal and we all feel we are all councilors elected by our people to come in here and act in the manner that we are supposed to act.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, I was rather reluctant about speaking any more. I was sent down here by the people of my district for the past four years, with two years more to come down and voice their opinions in the Council. I think I have a right to stand on my feet here and ask for just what I asked for this afternoon. There is no one indulging in personalities. There were no names mentioned here this afternoon by me. I am no orator, and I don't come down here Monday afternoons and claim I am. I didn't study at the Staley College of Oratory, neither am I a Latin student, and I am not here to listen to definitions of Latin words. I am here taking care of people in that district, and I think I do a pretty good job, and they think so. But when I made the statement of the chairman holding things in committee against the wishes of twenty-one other men, that still goes, and I am not going to sit quietly in my chair here. I am going to get up and say it is not right. It wasn't right to hold those things in committee, not alone against the wishes of the committee, but against the wishes of the other twenty-one men. I am not going to be bulldozed in here. These orators come in and take a slam at me and think I will walk downstairs and quit or resign. I don't intend to do that. I am going to be here two years taking care of the people of my district. That is what they sent me down here for, not to be a "stooge" sitting in a chair, but to voice their opinions the way they want me to do. And I still insist that the chairman of that committee held things in committee that should have been reported back on the floor. On the particular matter of the lottery pool introduced by Councilor Kelly, there was a meeting held and every one was given notice of it, and there were three members that voted that day, and the majority of the committee voted that the order ought to pass, and the order was not reported back. Councilor Kelly was around here every day trying to get it back on the floor. Let them kick it out the window or pass it, but let the Body act on it. It was the same way with the appointment of the City Messenger. I was on the committee, and the Council and the chairman of the Committee on Rules knows what happened, that I had gone to him on numerous occasions and asked him to hold a meeting, and he promised me he would hold a meeting, and I would go to him again and he would say, "Well, I will see how the other members feel on it." All I asked was that the meeting be held, letting the committee vote "Ought to pass" or not, and let it come back on the floor, and the twenty-two members of the City Council would exercise their right and privilege in voting, whether "Ought to pass" or "Ought not to pass," and if I have committed a sin by stating the truth, I am very sorry.

Coun. HANLEY—I never thought that I would ever engage in verbal combat with the distinguished councilor from Ward 8. As a matter of record, he didn't have the courage to name me. You can sit down, Mr. Chairman, because this is going to be lengthy.

Chairman RUSSO—I hope the councilor will confine himself.

Coun. HANLEY—I will confine myself to remarks made by the distinguished councilor from Ward 8, and I don't intend to be silenced and I recognise full well the meaning of the word "personalities." For the benefit of the councilor from Ward 8, I am not a student at Staley College. I am not an orator. That is a matter of opinion. I am not a learned scholar or a historian or a theologian. As far as Latin is concerned, it is a dead language. There are members in this Body today who know more about Latin and Greek than I will ever know. There are men writing over there in the press that can translate words that I know not the meaning of. I took care of my constituents to the best of my ability, and I was re-elected to my second term, with competition. I never bought off, or intimidated, or coerced my opponent. I didn't go after my opponent. I went after the Mayor of Boston,—not on his private life, but on his public record. And I am in here for two years more, Mr. Councilor, God willing, provided some one does not circumvent this chamber and take me away on twenty-four's notice. But I don't intend, councilor, to sit idly by and allow you, by inference or innuendo, to castigate me. The way you carry on in executive session or in any other body is in the manner of a bullfinch. At least, I try to uphold the dignity of my position, and my private life and my public life are open to scrutiny at any time. My hands are clean. As far as physical combat is concerned, I would never be guilty of murder. As far as verbal onslaughts are concerned, I will take you any time in your own ward, and I don't need a junk dealer to run against me. Very cleverly, by inference and innuendo, for the benefit of others he tried to state that I was an orator. If I have a voice, it is what God gave me. If I am able to express my thoughts that is because my father gave me an education. And I was brought up in your own district, councilor, Boston College High. But I will never sit idly by and allow any member of the City Council to hurt me, verbally or otherwise. If it comes to physical combat, it is either he or I, in the hospital that he is the chairman of. Now, the councilor from Ward 8 and you, Mr. Chairman, in May of last year introduced a resolution asking that five segments of historic Boston Common be dedicated to our war dead, and our pictures were placed in the paper, and our efforts were expressed in print, for suggesting what we thought was a laudable idea. But when it came up, for principle and not men, the councilor from Ward 8 would not attach his name to that order, and I had the honor, Mr. Chairman, of going along with you. I refer specifically to Councilor Joseph Russo. The councilor from Ward 8 would not attach his name to that order because his Honor the Mayor didn't see eye to eye with the war memorial scheme. It takes courage, Mr. Chairman, to stand up and speak, but it takes more courage to keep still when a principle is in the balance. Now, the councilor from Ward 8, if he cares to engage in verbal or written debate on any subject will always find me welcoming it—on any subject, business, night clubs, tea or coffee industry, parliamentary procedure, or juvenile delinquency and the embryo of juvenile delinquency. The councilor can answer if he cares to.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. Chairman, I think this matter has been debated pro and con by everybody in the chamber who wishes to get into the debate. It certainly has been debated enough for me to make me reach the conclusion that the members here are not yet ready to approve or disapprove the rules. I think in all fairness to everybody, Mr. Chairman, we should let this matter go over until next week so that we might be able to make these suggested changes. As one member here has said, a rule that is constantly violated forbids smoking by members. Now, we might as well abolish rules like that. There are other rules in there that might well be stricken out, and if that be so, Mr. Chairman, I feel that the majority of the members feel as I do. We have covered this thoroughly in debate, and I think the fair thing to do, and I now do it, Mr. Chairman, is to move that we adjourn.

Coun. Hannon's motion to adjourn was declared lost.

Coun. HANNON—I doubt the vote.

A rising vote was taken, yeas 6, nays 7, and the motion was lost.

Chairman RUSSO—The question now comes on the motion of Councilor Hannon to refer the rules to the Committee on Rules. All those in favor? Those against? (Pauses.) It is a vote, and so ordered.

Coun. TAYLOR—I would like to announce that the Committee on Rules will meet at half-past twelve next Thursday.

INCREASED PAYMENT TO HONORABLY DISCHARGED VETERANS.

Coun. FISH, COFFEY and HANLEY offered the following:

Whereas, Living costs are at such a high level; and

Whereas, Countless numbers of honorably medical discharged veterans are being denied the opportunity to work; and

Whereas, Countless other honorably discharged veterans will be unable to accept gainful employment for an indefinite period of time; and

Whereas, Practically all discharged veterans and their families have suffered a financial loss while a member of the armed forces; and

Whereas, The Boston City Council feel that it is a solemn Federal obligation to make adequate provisions to carry them through the readjustment period; and

Whereas, The Boston City Council do not feel that they should be forced to seek and accept local relief; be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, favor and request immediate action by our National Congress which will increase the present maximum discharge pay of veterans from $300 to at least $700, as sponsored by the Hearst newspapers.

The resolution was passed.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. SCANNELL, at 5.20 p. m., to meet on Monday, February 7, 1944, at 2 p. m.

RETIREMENT OF TEACHER

Mrs. Grace K. Lonergan Lorch: Could I ask whether my name is submitted as one of those resigning?

Chairman: No.

Secretary: The Superintendent is reporting the retirement of Grace K. Lonergan because of marriage.

Mrs. Lorch: On that I would like to request that action be held over while it is in the hands of counsel, until some future time, until a future meeting.

If action is taken I would like to ask that you take no action that would prejudice my rights.

Chairman: I do not see how we can grant that request.

Mr. White: We are not prejudicing your case.

Superintendent: I think it can be done without prejudice to Mrs. Lorch.

The Corporation Counsel has informed me that marriage acts as a resignation regardless of any action taken by Miss Lonergan in submitting her resignation, which she has not done, or any action by the school committee or any action by the Superintendent. It is an automatic resignation from the service, according to the present rules and regulations and, as the executive officer of the School Committee, I must report her retirement.

Mrs. Lorch: I would like to ask to be recorded as not resigning.

Chairman: This is a matter before the School Committee and, hearing no objection, the Committee will accept the report of the Superintendent.

The Superintendent thereupon reported that he has retired the following-named teacher because of marriage, to take effect on the date stated:

OVER FIVE MILLION POUNDS OF TIN AND NEARLY THREE MILLION POUNDS OF PAPER WASTE HAVE BEEN COLLECTED BY THE BOSTON SALVAGE COMMITTEE SINCE DRIVES STARTED, CHAIRMAN GEORGE G. HYLAND ANNOUNCES — WASTE PAPER COLLECTIONS FOR NEXT WEEK TO BE TURNED OVER TO RED CROSS, AND ESTIMATED CASH REALIZATION FIXED AT $4,500 IS GOAL — DECEMBER AND JANUARY COLLECTIONS REALIZED REVENUE AMOUNTING TO $8,900.

Boston has contributed to the salvage collection a total of 5,455,248 pounds of tin since collections started and a total of 2,771,535 pounds of paper during the three months from November to January, and the collections are still being made. This announcement has been made by George G. Hyland, Public Works Commissioner, and Chairman of the Salvage Drive Committee.

Chairman Hyland also has notified officials of the Boston Red Cross that members of the Salvage Committee have voted to turn over to the Red Cross the entire proceeds obtained from the sale of waste paper contributed by the people of Boston during next week's monthly collection.

According to Chairman Hyland $4,900 was received from the sale of waste paper in December and that about $4,000 was received in January by the Salvage Committee for the paper given by Boston residents. He predicted that the sale of the waste paper collected next week will yield in the neighborhood of $4,500. Last year the Salvage Committee donated $1,300 to the Red Cross from the sale of salvage materials collected in Boston.

Collections Next Week.

The monthly collection of waste paper and scrap tin will be held in Boston from Monday through Friday of next week as a new drive is launched to provide materials needed for the manufacture of vital war equipment.

Thousands of school children now enrolled in the recently organized Junior Salvage Army will take an active part in the five-day campaign, gathering up waste paper in their homes, bundling it and putting it out for salvage trucks to move away.

Director Hyland expressed the hope that Boston householders will contribute more than a million pounds of paper to the war effort for the third successive month and that the city's housewives will equal or better their fine record of last month in the salvage of tin cans.

He stressed that waste paper is now a No. 1 war essential, declaring that equipment made from old newspapers, magazines, wrapping paper and corrugated cardboard salvaged by Boston residents is being shipped to our fighting forces in all parts of the world.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of saving every possible ounce of paper and every tin can," Hyland declared. "The stock piles at paper mills where war equipment is made are dangerously low.

"It is true that millions of pounds of waste paper have been shipped to war plants in recent months, but the great bulk of it has already been used, and more is needed. We must help to supply it."

Director Hyland expressed great satisfaction with the manner in which the boys and girls in Boston's public and parochial schools have enlisted in the Junior Salvage Army and have pledged themselves to help salvage waste paper and scrap tin.

High Record Expected.

"I am hopeful that the boys and girls who have enrolled in our Salvage Army will help to establish a new high record for the salvage of waste paper which our country needs so badly," Hyland said.

"They can make a real contribution to the prosecution of the war by playing their full part in these salvage drives. They can gather up every old newspaper and magazine, every discarded piece of wrapping paper, cardboard and paper bag and see that they are stored in a convenient place and saved for the salvage collection.

NATIONAL NEGRO HISTORY WEEK PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, On this 135th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln a broad movement is under way, in cities and towns throughout the land, to focus grateful public attention on the substantial and ever increasing contribution made by the American Negro to the life and culture of our land; and

Whereas, The period from Sunday, February 13, to Sunday, February 20, in the present year has been designated "National Negro History Week" in country-wide support of the purpose aforesaid; now, therefore,

I, MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor of the City of Boston, do hereby proclaim and assign the seven days from February 13 to February 20, 1944, to be observed as "National Negro History Week" in the City of Boston, and I call upon all citizens to take suitable note of this occasion.

In particular, I suggest and wish to encourage widespread popular attention to the attractive exhibits showing forth the helpful participation of outstanding Negroes in our nation's development, and their important gifts to art, science and letters, which will be on view during this week in the Boston Public Library, both at the central building in Copley square and at many of the Public Library's branches.

Ever since the Boston Massacre in 1770, when Crispus Attucks, a Negro, was one of the five men killed on that night which "laid the foundation of American Independence," men of Negro blood have taken a prominent part in every patriotic endeavor.

They have fought gallantly for the Stars and Stripes in all the nation's wars. Abraham Lincoln said of their participation in the Civil War: "With silent tongue, and clenched teeth, and steady eye, and well-poised bayonet, they have helped mankind on to this great consummation."

Most recently, in the present conflict as in the First World War, Negro troops are defending the nation with utmost loyalty—as evidenced in a truly superlative way by the brilliant work of the Ninety-Ninth Fighter Squadron, composed exclusively of Negro aviators, whose feats during the current campaign will live forever in history.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Boston to be affixed.

DONE at City Hall, Boston, this twelfth day of February, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-four.

MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, February 7, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—On Saturday, February 5, 1944, due to undetermined causes, the water in both boilers at the Roslindale Municipal Building was lost. This resulted in considerable damage to our boiler plant which required the emergency employment of a heating contractor.

It required four or five hours to allow for the cooling off of the boilers before any test could be made. Joseph F. Dwyer, heating engineer, was called in to determine the damage and the following is the result of the tests made.

One boiler was found to have eleven sections cracked and split or burned out and the remaining thirteen sections so badly burned that they were practically unusable.

The second boiler was then tested and it was found that with the installation of a new check valve and a few minor repairs it could operate. This was done immediately to keep heat on in the building to prevent freezing of piping and equipment.

Because of the impracticability of trying to repair the severely damaged boiler, I feel the proper procedure would be to install a complete new H. B. Smith, Mills Boiler No. 44, 12-section.

Both boilers are required for the normal operation of the building and, time being of the essence in this emergency, I feel that the city's best interests will be served by issuing an order to Joseph F. Dwyer to install said new boiler in a sum in excess of $1,000 and not in excess of $1,950 without the usual form of advertising and I respectfully request your permission to issue such order.

Respectfully yours,

LEO F. POWER,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, February 10, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of September 15, 1943, publicly advertised proposals were opened in this office for the resurfacing of the roadway area of the Sumner Tunnel.

Only one formal bid was received and that was submitted by the contracting firm of Rufo Construction Company, in the amount of $11,687.50. The work provided under the provisions of that contract has been completed, although there is a necessity for effecting additional repairs to the roadway surface of the tunnel, at this time. It is absolutely essential, in the interests of public safety, to keep the tunnel roadway in a safe condition at all times, and, in view of this, I desire to have the tunnel roadway repair work started as soon as possible, in order that the roadway will be in proper condition when the heavy tunnel traffic starts in the spring.

The work performed by the above-referenced contractor has been very satisfactory, and I do not feel that any advantage would be gained if publicly advertised bids were requested for the repair work that will have to be done in the roadway this year. The publicly advertised bid that was submitted by the above-referenced contractor last September 15 was very reasonable, and it is my opinion that a lower bid could not be obtained if we advertised for proposals at this time.

For reasons as stated hereinbefore, therefore, I recommend that a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, be awarded to the Rufo Construction Company of 1 Allen road, Brighton, in the estimated amount of $8,500, for resurfacing the roadway of the Sumner Tunnel at the bid prices submitted by the contractor last year, and under the provisions of the previous contract.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, January 12, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—His Excellency the Governor, under emergency wartime powers, has, under Executive Order No. 27, exempted cities and towns of the Commonwealth from statutory requirements of public advertising in the execution of a written contract and other administrative details incidental to the purchase of fuel.

In addition, under the City Charter and Ordinances your Honor may, for sufficient cause, authorize the Superintendent of Supplies to dispense with public advertising under such conditions as make it inadvisable and impractical to so publicly advertise.

In accordance with your recent expression on the policy, the Supply Department is now endeavoring to furnish a sized bituminous coal, now available in lieu of anthracite coal, in certain city departments which up to this time and under normal conditions had consumed anthracite coal.

Because of an unpredictable procurement picture and because the need for action is immediate, this department proposes to avail itself of authority granted by virtue of the Governor's Executive Order No. 27 and, in addition thereto, your executive approval to dispense with public advertising and executing of a formal contract in so far as the ordering, procurement, delivery or payment for sized bituminous coal furnished to such departments as under normal conditions would utilize anthracite coal.

The Superintendent of Supplies has discussed the administrative phases of the situation with the City Auditor and it is agreed—in order that there be a complete and open record of the matter—that periodically, at such intervals as the auditor may indicate, a schedule of orders placed and deliveries made and the prices charged therefor will be furnished to the auditor.

In no event will the prices paid for the bituminous coal exceed the price operative under a current contract for the delivery of bituminous coal by the White Fuel Company to the City of Boston, except where specially sized household type bituminous is required.

The White Fuel Company has already been approached on the matter of furnishing the additional bituminous requirements but they are reluctant to handle the additional business because of certain operational disadvantages in the handling of small amounts.

Your approval of the foregoing is respectfully requested.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, January 26, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—A short time ago this department was notified by one of the largest automotive dealers in the city that there exists a serious shortage of 40 by 8 and 38 by 7 tires and tubes, production of which has been definitely discontinued for some time to come. This information was relayed to the Fire Department and as its reserve of tires and tubes has been considerably depleted, requisition No. 1856 was forwarded to this office in order that advantage might be taken of the remaining stock in the city.

ADVERTISING.

To confirm the information we received and acting under authority granted by your Honor on January 10, 1944, to dispense with public advertising in the purchase of automobile tires and tubes, informal quotations were requested of five of the largest automotive dealers on the department mailing list. Of these five, but two — the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company and Automotive Distributors, Inc. — submitted bids on our requirements.

Investigation of the bids submitted by these two companies discloses the fact that Automotive Distributors, Inc., is prepared to furnish ten "Pennsylvania" prewar 40 by 8 tires. These tires are of 100 per cent crude rubber and were manufactured and stocked before any Government restrictions were imposed. The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, on the other hand, is prepared to furnish six "Firestone Transport" and eight "Kelly Registered" 40 by 8 pre-synthetic or war regulated crude tires. These tires are designated by the trademarking of "A. E." but, although the best of war tires, are not of absolute prewar manufacture and stock.

Although Automotive's price on "Pennsylvania" tires averages approximately $5.00 more per tire and tube, the purchase of the brand will assure the city of a premium prewar tire, thus adequately reconciling the difference in price. All other items and sizes are awarded to the lowest bidder.

It is our belief that the following would be a fair distribution of award and as no advantage would be gained through publicly advertising for bids, your permission is respectfully requested to award contracts as follows without further advertisement:

To Automotive Distributors, Inc.: 10 "Pennsylvania" prewar 40 by 8 tires at $83.59, $835.90; 10 "Pennsylvania" 40 by 8 tubes at $9, $90; 24 "Pennsylvania" (14 prewar) 38 by 7 tires at $67.66, $1,623.84; 24 "Pennsylvania" 38 by 7 tubes at $6.72, $161.28—$2,711.02.

To Firestone Tire and Rubber Company: 6 "Firestone Transport" 40 by 8 tires at $77.72, $466.32; 6 "Kelly Registered" 40 by 8 tires at $77.72, $621.76; 6 "Firestone Transport" 40 by 8 tubes at $9.74, $58.44; 8 "Kelly Registered" 40 by 8 tubes at $9.74, $77.92—$1,224.44.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, February 7, 1944.

Regular meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President KERRIGAN in the chair and all the members present.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

APPOINTMENT BY THE MAYOR.

Subject to confirmation by the Council the Mayor submitted the following appointment, viz.:
Weigher of Coal: Mrs. Ethel Bloom, 15 Dyer street, Dorchester, Mass.

Laid over a week under the law.

BUDGET FOR 1944.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 7, 1944.
Honorable Council of the City of Boston.
Gentlemen,—Section 3 of the City Charter of the City of Boston, as most recently amended by chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941, provides that all appropriations, other than for school purposes, to be met from taxes, revenue or any source other than loans, shall originate with the Mayor, who, not later than the first Monday in February of each year, shall submit to the City Council the annual budget of the current expenses of the city and county for the current fiscal year. Accordingly I herewith recommend to your Honorable Body the maintenance appropriations for the fiscal year beginning January 1, 1944, and ending December 31, 1944, for the city and county departments. There is submitted, in addition, my allowances for the revenue departments of the city which are self-sustaining, and are not provided for from tax collections but from fees charged for their services.

Obviously, the budget recommendations for 1944 must reflect a continuance of wartime conditions. Expressed in budgetary terms, it means increased cost of getting those services performed which are vitally necessary to the public health and welfare.

The major portion of the increase in the appropriations for personal services as compared with the expenditures or appropriations for 1943 is attributable to several factors.

Higher salary levels in order to avoid impairment of our professional and technical staffs, particularly in relation to our hospitals and institutions, have become mandatory. A substantial addition must be provided in the Election Department for Presidential Primary, State Primary, and also Election. Increased inspection requirements made necessary by the new building laws have required increased technical personnel in the Building Department. A change in budgetary classification of the costs of dental service in the Health Department has resulted in these amounts being included in the Personal Service group, instead of the Contractual Service group.

The largest single increase in the group for Contractual Services is attributable to the increased costs of the contracts for ash and garbage removal and disposal. Approval by the War Labor Board of increases of 20 cents an hour in pay for employees of private contractors engaged in this work has resulted in increased contract prices. Long-deferred maintenance and repair work in our plant and equipment, aggravated by inability to make replacements, account for the remainder.

Wartime priorities have made the acquisition of new equipment unpredictable, with a corresponding reduction in allowances in the C Group.

Prices, in general, having been more or less stabilized, there is relatively slight change in the group requirements for Groups D and E, Supplies and Materials, respectively.

Group F includes pensions, workmen's compensation and various types of public welfare, soldiers' relief, and old age assistance. A substantial decrease in the dependent aid category of relief is practically offset by the overlay requirements of more liberal provision for our old age assistance needs inaugurated during the past year. Ample provision has been made for anticipated needs in each item.

Comparable provision has been made for the continuance of the emergency compensation allotment, and for snow removal.

To the customary Special Appropriation items have been added a substantial appropriation for securing and removing of unsafe buildings, funds for a survey of the school system by the Finance Commission (passed by the City Council January 24, 1944), and also a special appropriation for the establishment of a Reception and Information Centre for Boston War Veterans (passed by the City Council January 24, 1944).

Amended charter provisions limit departmental work programs until passage of the budget. Wartime conditions make it desirable that this procedure be expedited. In order, therefore, to afford the maximum opportunity for unrestricted departmental functioning, permit me to urge prompt consideration of, and action upon, this budget.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

APPROPRIATIONS AND TAX ORDERS FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR 1944.

raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute, gift, trust or special appropriation; by the income of the financial year beginning January 1, 1944; by taxes on the polls and estates in the City of Boston; and by the proceeds of any duly authorized loans.

Coun. FEENEY—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President KERRIGAN—If there are no objections, the gentleman may proceed.

(There were no objections.)

Coun. FEENEY—Mr. President, the budget for city and county departments just submitted to this body represents a proposed increase of $143,000 over that of last year. In a period when thousands of families are staggering under the burden of Federal taxation, we are asked to permit the city government to continue its extravagant conduct of municipal affairs. The average small home owner has not benefited by wartime prosperity. The departure of thousands of our young men for service in the armed forces has meant reduced income for a great many families. And with hundreds of families in difficult circumstances as a result of these unusual conditions, thoughtful citizens have felt for some time that the City of Boston should adopt a policy of strict economy, confining itself to only necessary and justifiable expenditures. Today's message clearly indicates that a policy of economy is not to be adopted in 1944 unless we of the City Council reduce this budget and compel such action. In 1943 Boston had a tax rate of $41—the highest in history. In 1943, with reduced welfare costs, with the Boston Elevated deficit eliminated, and with numerous other factors tending to make economical administration of the city government possible, there was no reduction in the tax rate. During this period, however, more than two thirds of the cities of Massachusetts found ways to reduce local taxes. I anticipate that the modest wartime wage increases given city employees will be cited as one of the reasons for continued high cost in the operations of the various divisions in the city government. If this alibi is offered it will be entirely without foundation in fact. Actually the present incomes of hundreds of city employees are little better than starvation wages. It is not the underpaid city workers whose modest salaries have swelled this budget, but rather the careless and indifferent spendthrifts who hold the reins of office. Certain responsible officials have forgotten the plight of the home owner, the rent payer, and the taxpayer operating on restricted income, while they continue to spend the people's money recklessly and without thought of the future. We are told in this message that this budget "reflects wartime conditions." Are wartime conditions reflected in the recent expenditure by the city government of $980 for a dinner at a Back Bay hotel in honor of a visiting Hollywood movie actor? This $980 represents the equivalent of annual taxes on four average Boston homes. This money was taken from four Boston families and squandered recklessly during a period of "wartime conditions"—a glaring example of municipal extravagance as it now exists. The City Council members are the only officials to whom the tax-burdened people of Boston can look for municipal economy—and, it is our duty to make economy mandatory in 1944 by striking all luxury items from this budget.

The message of the Mayor and the orders were referred to the Committee on Appropriations, when appointed.

APPROPRIATION FOR CEMETERY DIVISION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 7, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In the preparation of the 1944 budget provision was made, as in previous years, that $60,000 of the maintenance expenses of the Cemetery Division of the Park Department should be charged against income of the Cemetery Fund. Before this income can be utilized it is necessary that an appropriation be made.

I accordingly submit herewith, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 117 of the Acts of 1913, an order providing for the appropriation from the income of the Cemetery Fund, in the sum of $60,000, the same to be utilized in meeting maintenance expenses of the Cemetery Division, and respectfully recommend adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, January 31, 1944.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners, you are respectfully requested to issue an order on the City Council that the sum of $60,000 be appropriated from the income of the Cemetery Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioner, for Cemetery Division Maintenance and Improvement. This sum to be appropriated under the provisions of chapter 117 of the Acts of 1913.

When making up the budget estimates for the Cemetery Division for the year 1944, a sum equal to $60,000 was deducted from Item A-1, Permanent Employees, with the understanding that this deduction was to be replaced by the sum of $60,000 taken from the Cemetery Fund.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM F. LONG, Chairman.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 117, Acts of 1913, the sum of $60,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated from the income of the Cemetery Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioner, for Cemetery Division, Maintenance and Improvement.

Referred to Committee on Appropriations, when appointed.

OPINION OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL RE WHITE FUND POWERS.

The following was received:

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Department of the Attorney-General,
February 2, 1944.

The City Council of Boston.

Gentlemen,—The City Clerk has transmitted to me an order passed by the City Council on January 24, which is as follows:

"Ordered, That the Attorney-General be requested to render a ruling as to whether the trustees of the George Robert White Fund have the authority to construct a war memorial."

And also:

"Ordered, That the Attorney-General be requested to render a decision as to the authority of the trustees of the George Robert White Fund to construct a Veterans' Hospital in Boston."

I regret that I am unable to comply with these requests which, under the circumstances, are not within the province of the Department of the Attorney-General.

Article Fourteenth of the will establishing the White Fund provides:

"The business of the Fund shall be transacted through the regular departments of the city, viz.: the Treasurer, Auditor, Corporation Counsel, etc."

I would respectfully suggest that these questions be referred to the Corporation Counsel.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT T. BUSHNELL,
Attorney-General.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I would move that this matter be referred to the Corporation Counsel—or would it be advisable to draw up a new order?

President KERRIGAN—It would be better, in the opinion of the Chair, to draw up a new order. The communication was placed on file.

LICENSING OF OIL-BURNER REPAIRMEN.

The following was received:

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Department of Public Safety,
Division of Fire Prevention,
1010 Commonwealth Ave., Boston,
January 28, 1944.

W. J. Doyle, City Clerk, Boston.

Dear Sir,—This acknowledges receipt of your letter of January 25 accompanied by copy of an order adopted in the City Council at its meeting of January 24 and referring to the subject of licenses for persons and firms engaged in the business of repairing oil burners.

This subject is directly involved with a question which has been under consideration by this division during recent weeks and attributable to the large number of fires which have occurred due to defective installation or maintenance of oil burners, especially those used in kitchen ranges. We shall hope to continue this investigation to arrive at a prompt and satisfactory conclusion which will have an effective result in reducing this common hazard.

It is, however, the immediate opinion of this division that for the Commonwealth to require licenses for either individuals or firms engaged in such work it would necessitate further legislative action. Chapter 148 of the General Laws (Tercentenary Ed.), under which this division operates, contains no provision for such authority. I presume, however, that it would be possible to regulate this matter by local ordinance, should the Council so desire.

Very truly yours,

E. H. WHITTEMORE,
State Fire Marshal.

The communication was placed on file.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

President KERRIGAN called up, under unfinished business, Nos. 1, 2 and 3 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor January 31, 1944, of Joel T. Izzo, to be a Constable, without authority to serve civil process and to serve without bond.

2. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor January 31, 1944, of Joseph F. Murphy, to be a Constable, without authority to serve civil process and to serve without bond.

3. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor January 31, 1944, of Eldon M. Strickland, George S. Lockhart, Clarence W. Norris, to be Weighers of Goods; and Thomas E. McGinty, to be a Weigher of Coal.

The question came on confirmation of the appointments. Committee, Coun. McCormack and Russo. Whole number of ballots 19, yes 19, and the appointments were confirmed.

APPOINTMENT OF MRS. EVA WHITING WHITE.

President KERRIGAN called up, under unfinished business, No. 4 on the calendar, viz.:

4. Ordered, That the appointment by his Honor the Mayor of Mrs. Eva Whiting White to be a member of the Boston Housing Authority for the term expiring January 8, 1948, be, and hereby is, confirmed and approved.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on the passage of the order, and the clerk will call the roll. Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, I move that No. 4 on the calendar be referred to a committee, at your discretion. I make that motion solely for this reason, that, in the matter of this appointment by his Honor the Mayor of Mrs. Eva Whiting White to be a member of the Boston Housing Authority, it is not my pleasure to know the lady. Also, I don't even know whether the lady would accept this appointment or not, or whether she has time enough to serve on this particular body.

I notice here that she is appointed for the term of practically four years. The previous appointment for this position, submitted by his Honor the Mayor, was of a man who, ten minutes before the Council committee expected to hear him and to pass upon his qualifications before confirmation of the appointment, called the City Clerk and said he did not want the position.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order, that the gentleman should speak upon the order and not upon the personality embodied in the order.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, I was in error when I said that the party appointed called the City Clerk. He did not call the City Clerk but the Clerk of Committees, and told the Clerk of Committees that he did not care to be so appointed. In fairness to herself and to the people of my district, whom I have to answer to, and without knowing anything whatsoever against this lady, I do feel that I should have more information before voting to confirm this appointment by his Honor the Mayor. I hope, therefore, that the Council will vote to refer this to a committee, before whom the lady can appear, and no doubt we will then unanimously vote for her confirmation.

The matter was referred to the Executive Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RULES.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Committee on Rules, submitted the following:

The Committee on Rules, to whom was recommended January 31, 1944, the draft of the rules previously reported, respectfully recommends that the rules in existence for the years 1942 and 1943, except Rule 29, relative to smoking, be adopted as the permanent rules for 1944 and 1945.

For the Committee,

CHARLES I. TAYLOR, Chairman.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, the Committee on Rules has recommended that the rules of 1942 and 1943 be adopted for the years 1944 and 1945, with the exception of Rule 29, which prohibits smoking, which we recommend be withdrawn and stricken out from the rules.

The report was accepted.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, might I have explained to me just what this means? I was not present late at last Monday's meeting, and when I left the chamber the matter had not been explained. I understand, however, that some change was proposed to be made. I would simply like to have the thing explained to me.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, the only change was to except Rule 29, with regard to smoking. There have been no changes apart from that in the rules.

The rules as reported were adopted.

INCREASE FOR CITY AND COUNTY EMPLOYEES.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That all city and county employees be given a permanent $300 minimum increase in their salaries and wages.

Coun. FISH—I don't know whether this is in conflict with the ideas of the councilor from Ward 18 (Coun. Feeney) when he says the budget should be pared down to a minimum, but I would like to clarify my views in his mind. I believe the same thing should be done, and I believe it should be done in the proper way. I don't believe it should be done by denying city employees what we feel is just, and what other employers think their employees should receive. I know that this is not going to be easy for the Mayor to accomplish. I enter this order here today with full knowledge of his financial problems and our problems. But, as sponsor of this order, I don't doubt that there will be repercussions from certain sources, because it may add to the already existing high tax rate. But I am prepared, and I stand ready, to face any who feel that this increase, or this order, is without its merits. It is offered in all sincerity. I have every reason to believe that his Honor the Mayor will accept it in the same spirit. Thousands of city and county employees just cannot meet their obligations, their just obligations. The $200 emergency allotment supplementing their pay, granted by the Mayor, I am sure was received with thanks, and it has been of tremendous help. But it is now proving too inadequate and insufficient to meet the multiple and the mounting taxes combined with the higher cost of living. Private industry throughout the entire nation has sought, and they have received, higher salaries, higher wages, some consistent with and many others higher than the Little Steel formula set up by Washington officials. The same gentlemen, mind you, who set up the ceiling prices and who regulate our taxes. And I may add that those ceiling prices and those taxes which we must meet today are not based on wages of five years or even two years ago, but rather on the present high levels. Anyone—and this includes the city employees—who hasn't received a permanent increase should do so. And I have every reason to believe, and I think you will agree with me, that this is not a temporary condition, that there is a permanency to the present cost of living. If there is to be any change it might well go higher. Anybody who has not received increases in wages is in danger of being denied the bare necessities of life. We should not allow that to happen in even one family where the head of that family is a city or county employee. The taxpaying property owner will be called upon on the receipt of that tax bill to meet the cost of this increase. I don't believe that one of us will object to seeing that our city employees receive proper compensation. Surely, if they don't object to what was referred to a few moments ago, $980 spent to banquet a Hollywood star, given by a city which is reputedly broke, I think they will not stand in the way of this. I ask you, Mr. President, and every member of this Body, to join with me today by approving the passage of this order under suspension of the rules, thereby transmitting our desires to his Honor the Mayor who, I feel, will deal with his usual sympathy with this request.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. HURLEY in the chair.

POST-WAR PROGRAM.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:
Ordered, That a special committee, to consist of five members of the Council, be appointed by the President, for the purpose of preparing plans, etc., jointly with the City Planning Board, for a post-war program for the City of Boston.
The order was passed.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:
Ordered, That the President of the City Council be requested to immediately appoint a Committee on Claims.
Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, there are now accumulating before the City Council a number of claims that cannot be acted upon and paid until a Committee on Claims is appointed by the President. Those matters should not be held up any longer than is absolutely necessary. I trust that the Committee on Claims will be appointed by the President as soon as possible, to consider these claims.
The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FOOD FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:
Ordered, That the School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to see to it that sufficient food is provided for the junior high and high schools in Dorchester to meet the needs of the children attending same.
Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, during the last week I have received many calls from parents in all sections of Dorchester complaining about the food served on the lunch counters of the various junior high and high schools in Dorchester. It seems that there are two lunch periods, of twenty-five minutes apiece. The first group has its lunch, and then the alternate comes on for its twenty-five minute period. It seems that the children who don't take their own lunch to the schools, and who are in the first group, are able to get enough to eat, but I understand that when the second group comes in they do not have enough to eat. As the father of five children in the Boston schools, I think it is about time that the School Committee looked into this matter, to see that there is sufficient food provided for the children in both periods. I understand that the Women's Educational and Industrial Union looks after furnishing the food, and it may be that at times they run short, but I also understand that the School Committee when additional food has to be furnished makes up the difference to them. So this is no loss to them. If not enough food is furnished, however, it is a great hardship to the children. A girl or boy, for example, leaves home at eight o'clock in the morning and does not go home until three in the afternoon, and during that period certainly needs food, lunch. Not only that, but if sufficient food is not furnished in the school they are not allowed to go outside the school, to their homes or otherwise, to obtain food. I say it is time that this condition was stopped. It is a condition that the School Committee can easily correct, and it should be corrected immediately. If these children cannot go outside and buy their lunches, the School Committee should at least see that there is enough food provided for them in the schools. Personally, in the case of my own children, I would certainly advise them, under such circumstances, to go outside and get the food they needed, no matter what the rules may be. They should certainly have enough to eat. This is a matter that should be taken care of at once, and it is a condition, I understand, that exists in every high school and junior high school in Dorchester, a condition which seriously affects the girls and boys. If there is not enough for the children to eat in the second lunch period, they should be allowed to go outside or go to their homes. They should have enough to eat, even at extra cost. What is more important than that your children and my children should have enough to eat in their lunches at the school? And any action that looks to this end should be taken at once.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, in view of what the councilor has said, I think the School Committee should instruct the masters of schools, under circumstances when there is not food for the children, to allow the children to go out during the recess, or at an appropriate time, to buy the necessary food for their lunches. Therefore, I would move to amend the order, that the School Committee be requested to instruct those in charge of schools to let the children leave the school under such circumstances in order to obtain the food necessary for their lunches.

Chairman HURLEY—Does Councilor Kelly accept the amendment?

Coun. KELLY—I am just wondering whether a twenty-five minute period would allow the children to go outside and to get their lunch. That might require forty-five minutes or more. But I certainly do think they should be given opportunity to get lunch outside, if it cannot be provided inside the schools. But I would not object to an amendment.

Coun. CAREY—I think it might be read that they be allowed a reasonable time to get their lunch outside.

Chairman HURLEY—The Chair would suggest that Councilor Carey make that as a separate order, a new order.

Coun. KELLY—Well, Mr. President, if the councilor will withdraw the amendment I will supply a new order.

Coun. CAREY withdrew his proposed amendment.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I would like to ask the gentleman from Ward 15 a question. Are these school lunches you mention run by the School Department or by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union?

Coun. KELLY—I think probably they are run by the Women's Union.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—And by the School Department?

Coun. KELLY—I understand that the School Department enters into some arrangement in the matter.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—And not run by anybody else?

Coun. KELLY—I don't know. I understand however, that that information can be easily furnished.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, Councilor Kelly's order covers about everything, but I would like to suggest that the School Committee might be willing to look into the grade of milk supplied in the East Boston schools.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

President KERRIGAN—Are there any objections?

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, I object.

President KERRIGAN—There appears to be objection.

INCREASE TO EMPLOYEES RECEIVING LESS THAN $3,000.

Coun. KEENAN offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to give immediate consideration to the possibility of increasing by $300 per year the salaries of all city employees receiving less than $3,000 per year in order that this large group on fixed incomes may meet to some degree the extraordinary increase in the cost of living.

Coun. KEENAN—Mr. President, I have been requested by a number of city employees, who have come to my home, to try to do something to help meet the cost of living of this group of city employees. We all know that thousands of city employees receive $1,000, $1,500 and $2,000 a year. Many of such employees now in the service for a few years gone by have not only not been able to pay their taxes on their homes, but have been unable to obtain the necessities of life for their families. They certainly are entitled to such an increase in their salaries as is proposed in this order. Therefore, I ask for a suspension of the rule and the passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CORPORATION COUNSEL RULING REQUESTED RE WHITE FUND POWERS.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a ruling on the power of the George Robert White Fund Committee to use the funds of the George Robert White Fund to erect a veterans' hospital in the City of Boston; and be it further Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make a ruling on the power of the George Robert White Fund Committee to use the funds of the George Robert White Fund to erect a war memorial in Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Of course, I think everybody knows the purpose of this order. It was because of the order returned here today by his Honor the Mayor, stating that the Attorney-General had no right to make a ruling as to the George Robert White Fund Trustees. So I have introduced these orders at the suggestion of the Mayor, and ask now that the Corporation Counsel give a ruling, asking him whether the trustees have the power to erect a veterans' hospital and war memorial.

The orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

APPEARANCE OF WHITE FUND TRUSTEES BEFORE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the trustees of the George Robert White Fund to appear before the Executive Committee and enlighten us as to whether they have the power to erect a hospital for veterans in the City of Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, it seems a crying shame that for the past month I have been introducing orders here asking the trustees of the George R. White Fund to erect a hospital within the city limits, without results. At one of the meetings the secretary showed up and told us that in his opinion they had no right to build a hospital with that White Fund money, and in the next breath he told us they have the power to build—well, solariums and health units and also clinics. It seems far-fetched to say they can build these health units and in the next breath to tell us, in his opinion, and he is only the secretary,—they have no right to build a hospital with the White Fund money. The last two orders I introduced two weeks ago asked the Attorney-General to give a ruling as to whether the White Fund Trustees have the right to build a memorial for a million dollars in the Back Bay section of Boston, which they are planning on going ahead and doing, and also asked the Attorney-General for a ruling as to whether they have the right to build a hospital with that fund for veterans of all wars. Now, it seems a sad affair that we have to get up here for the fourth time to talk on these orders, and make a request to the Mayor asking the Corporation Counsel to give that ruling. I have introduced the orders and, personally, I think it is a waste of time. I don't think we need get a ruling from the Corporation Counsel. I would think that the members of the George R. White Fund would have the courage to appear here, just come in before Executive and tell us whether they have permission or not to use those funds to build a hospital for veterans within city limits. We have asked them to come down here—or at least I did. My order was passed unanimously. The secretary left the hearing knowing that we wanted the trustees of the White Fund to appear before us two weeks ago today. When we held the meeting, of course, not one member of the White Fund had the courage to come down here and appear before us. I don't like this set-up. It is something they have been trying to put over on the public for the last twenty-five years. The secretary admitted they were trying to put up a memorial for the last twenty-five years for the veterans. Now is a good time to put this over on the public, because we are all war-minded and war-spirited at the time. And now we discover they are going to spend a million dollars, not even taking the trouble to come in to the members of the Boston City Council and tell us what it is going to be spent for, whether they are going to have recreation rooms there, or auditoriums, or such, and in the next breath the secretary tells us he doesn't think they have got permission or got authority to build a hospital. I think that this matter should be ironed out once and for all. My order here might be out of order, because I am asking the Mayor to request the members of the George R. White Fund to appear before the Executive Committee, and all they have to do is tell us whether they have got the authority or not to build a hospital for the veterans in Boston. This is something which I think I mentioned before that is going to turn out into another of the White Fund scandals, where we found out under one administration that a box of tacks that costs $5 was costing $10 for transportation from City Hall to the Little Building. That came out in the last investigation of the White Fund, and we might run into another of those things before we get through, because for the two years I am up here I am going to keep after the White Fund and find out where every nickel they spend goes, and as to whether or not they are law-abiding and patriotic enough to build a hospital for the veterans of all wars,—not only this war. And God knows we are short-handed enough now. We haven't enough beds for the veterans; we haven't enough beds for the mental cases. There are over nine hundred mental cases already walking the streets of Massachusetts for want of a bed at a hospital, and I think it is about time the White Fund Trustees came out from under that shell where they are taking cover—hiding or afraid of something—because all they have to do is come down here and put in an appearance and tell us whether or not they have the power to use those funds for a hospital or a veterans' war memorial.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

MOTORCYCLE PATROL, SUMNER TUNNEL.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to assign a motorcycle patrol to the Sumner Tunnel during rush hours on week days.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, this request came from some of the employees of the Sumner Tunnel. They claim that for a period of years they have had a small force patrolling the tunnel, and that during the rush hours it is practically impossible to get fire apparatus or a repair truck down in the tunnel proper when there is trouble. Sometimes it is difficult to get within even 200 or 300 feet of the fire. It is important to do something in the way of furnishing suitable equipment, so that as little damage as is possible may be done. If there is a motorcycle patrol during the rush hours of each day it may be possible to use a fire extinguisher and put the fire out. I trust that the Commissioner of Public Works will see fit to furnish a motorcycle patrol in the rush hours on week days, so as to avoid the danger of fire.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

BOYS' CLUB, EAST BOSTON

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with J. Willard Hayden, president of the Hayden Foundation, relative to the necessity for erecting a Boys' Club in the East Boston section with funds of the foundation.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I hope very much that his Honor the Mayor will comply with the request in this order that he confer with J. Willard Hayden, president of the Hayden Foundation, relative to the necessity of erecting a boys' club in the East Boston section with funds of the foundation. The idea, of course, is to have the trustees of the Hayden Foundation consider the advisability of complying with this order to erect a boys' club in my district. I have seen the boys' club in South Boston and it is a very fine thing. I understand that, in addition to being erected, it is maintained by the Hayden Foundation, and it is certainly doing good work. I certainly hope that the Mayor will do something on this matter.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LETTER FROM WOMEN'S CITY CLUB.

The following was received:

Women's City Club of Boston,
40 Beacon Street,

February 4, 1944.

Hon. John Kerrigan and Members of the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The Public Affairs Committee of the Women's City Club has commissioned me to suggest to you the possibility of substituting arrest of violators who throw rubbish and garbage and other litter into the streets, by ticket and fine from the police as is done in case of parking violations.

This would not necessitate court procedure which seems to be impossible to impose at the present time.

Will you please take this up with the Council and see if there is anything in the suggestion. We must do something to make this a cleaner city. It is a scandal at the present time.

Sincerely yours,

EDITH M. BAKER,

(Mrs. Roland M. Baker),

Chairman Public Affairs Committee.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, for several years I have often wondered how these communications come before this Body, and if they are proper and legal.

President KERRIGAN—Any person or organization has the right to petition the City Council. These communications are filed with the City Clerk or with the President of the Council.

The communication was referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

BETTER LIGHTING FACILITIES.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Street Lighting Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the placing of better lighting facilities on the streets of Boston, especially in the residential areas and side streets.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, there are conditions existing in the city streets of Boston that should be remedied, namely, the lighting facilities located in the side streets and residential areas of our city. I know I have received complaints from my district about lighting conditions at night. There is one street I have in mind where my constituents have complained bitterly over the lack of proper lighting facilities, where over fifty young women are employed in war factories at night, and when they return in the late hours of the evening or in the early hours of the morning they are actually afraid to come up this street because it is so dark. There have been a number of assaults on women. Only a few days ago several young girls were accosted as they were returning from war factories around midnight. It is a condition the municipal authorities should remedy. I think possibly it might be an oversight on the part of the lighting department. On the other hand, it may be because of the dimout regulations. But, in the event it is because of the dimout regulations, I think that the city officials could do something on the matter, because they have already authorized the commercial enterprises to pull up their curtains, allow their show windows to be exposed to the light, and have allowed neon signs to blaze once more in full force. Why our side streets in the residential areas should be restricted is beyond me, and I think for the safety of the public the municipal authorities should take immediate action and do everything in their power to correct this situation.

Coun. CAREY—I would like to see this order referred to the Executive Committee, and ask that Public Works Commissioner Hyland be asked to appear before the Council this afternoon. We have all had complaints throughout the city regarding the poor lighting. I have been in touch with the lighting officials here, and have been informed that because of priorities the War Production Board has refused to permit purchase of necessary equipment at this time. I believe the Public Works Commissioner has it as a very important part of his post-war program to have better illumination of the streets of the city. I would like to hear from the Public Works Commissioner for myself and for the committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

RESIGNATIONS OF MARRIED SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Coun. TAYLOR offered the following:

Resolved, That the members of the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, request the Boston School Committee to abrogate the old rule now in existence which compels a woman teacher to automatically resign upon marriage.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, there is an old rule now in existence in the Boston School Committee which was invoked, I think, in 1880, and at that time it was discretionary with the members of the School Committee whether or not the school teachers, women school teachers, who became married, could continue to teach in school. In 1890 this rule was changed so that it became mandatory for them to resign upon marriage. I assume that the reason for this rule was that if a person became married she could not perform the functions at home and at school at the same time, and also that it would give the younger element who were coming up a chance to get positions in the schools. I think that the first result has been obtained, because statistics throughout the country show that those school teachers who became married, women school teachers, usually resign two or three years later after they become married, thus affording an opportunity for younger persons to secure those jobs. Whereas on the other hand, where that rule is invoked the school teacher is thus restrained from getting married. She believes that she will lose her position and, as a result, she does not get married and, consequently, those jobs are not left vacant that ordinarily would be left vacant. I wish to bring out to the members of this Body that there was a young lady by the name of Miss Loneran who was married in December to a private in the United States Army. At that time she was earning $2,300 a year as a school teacher and, under a new ruling of the School Committee, it is permitted that such a teacher may then take a job at a $5 a day basis. In other words, she works on $5 a day instead of receiving $2,300 a year, which is certainly taking advantage of the abilities of the school teacher who formerly earned $2,300 a year while her husband is fighting in the United States Army. That is a sad and serious situation. There is no city in the entire country of the size of Boston that invokes this rule. Teaching is a profession, and just because a woman gets married it does not necessarily mean they should take away her right to continue that profession, any more than to take away that right from a woman lawyer or a woman doctor or a woman architect, or any other profession. It appears to me, Mr. President, that this is an unjust rule and that it is going to create a lot of hardship, and that the net result is going to be bad. We have today a shortage of good teachers, due to the fact that many of them have gone into the service of their country. I think that the mere fact that a woman gets married does not necessarily mean she should no longer be able to devote her attention to both school and home, because for a length of time after she is married there are no children, and she is certainly able to devote herself to the children of the school. From experience and from statistics we know that if she does have children she usually resigns her job and allows somebody else to take the position. To me it is a sad rule and the disadvantages far outweigh the advantages. It is my firm conviction that the School Committee should study this matter very thoroughly and go into the same problems in other cities, and I think they will find that the other method is more of a success than this method now employed by the School Committee of this city. A great many changes are going to take place. You are going to deprive those who want to get married from getting married and the young people from securing jobs that would become vacant after two or three years. I would like to have the School Committee abrogate this rule so that justice will be done to women as well as men.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I hope for one that this resolution does not pass. This rule has been in the School Committee now for a number of years. They have acted upon it repeatedly in the last year and have handed down an honest ruling that once a woman school teacher gets married she is automatically out of a job. We should have that in all city departments, Mr. President. We should follow some of our public utilities in setting the same example, that when a woman gets married she should give up her job. I will say there are certain cases where a woman should be given a little consideration and be allowed to hold on to her job for a period of time, but I don't believe this rule here should be set aside, because we may be going through a period now of good times, and there is a shortage of teachers, but where a depression is going to face us in the future and it is going to be worse than the eleven years we had from 1929 to 1940. If there were more married women that stayed at home, there would be more jobs for single men and women who could handle those jobs just as well. As I say, we have women here in the city pulling down good salaries whose husbands are also earning good salaries. I think we should spread the wealth around and not let it go into the homes of a few who have two earners, especially on the city pay roll, at the same time. I think the School Committee has acted wisely, and I think if it is put into effect in all city departments, that all women be discharged as soon as they get married, it would be a good rule. I hope this does not pass.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, the reference contained in a circular that I got from a young lady this morning who gave her address as Peterborough street, Back Bay, is old stuff to me. I have heard it for years. But I stated publicly in 1940, when I was a candidate for the House of Representatives that I would support at any time any legislation designed to remove from her job any woman in the state, city or town employ upon her marriage. I said that publicly prior to election time, and apparently the people of my town agreed with me that I was right. We spend in this country many billions of dollars to educate children from the age of five and a half to six years up to the average graduation age of twenty to twenty-two years, and then, in a good many hundreds of thousands of instances, after sacrifices—untold sacrifices—on the part of the parents to give them the advantage of a complete education, we find out that they have to turn around and buy a job for them—buy a job for them—after a period of over twelve to fifteen years of schooling. And that, in some respects, is directly traceable to the fact that, having qualified children to hold positions when they reach the estate of man or woman, there are no jobs to be had, because of the selfishness of people such as married school teachers and married clerks, and married this and that, in private and public employment. As a matter of cold logic, here is the expenditure of educational moneys made every year when there are no jobs then for those children to step into, having been qualified and duly educated therefor. I suppose selfishness is the biggest motive there is in it. They make their pile and get out after a couple of years, having lost interest in it, when, as a matter of fact, they should not undertake the state of matrimony unless the husband can supply sufficient support for them both. I don't think there is any justice involved in keeping young girls for years and years on the school teacher list, having gone through the most rigid and rigorous and exacting type of training at Teachers College, because a couple of old ladies who want to hold their jobs will not relinquish them and cannot be made, in some cases, to do so. And as for that rotten practice of compelling them to pay for jobs, there is a young man in my town sporting a scar that will stay with him for the rest of his life because he represented himself as able to purchase a job.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order.

Chairman HURLEY—State your point of order.

Coun. TAYLOR—I don't think my resolution had anything to do with paying for jobs, and I think the gentleman is out of order by discussing a subject not in accordance with the wording of the resolution.

Coun. KINSELLA—Before the ruling is made, I would like to say this: One of the objections of this business of school teachers holding jobs, that is against the abrogation of the rule, is because it compels others to pay for their jobs.

Coun. CHASE—I rise to a point of inquiry.

Chairman HURLEY—State your point.

Coun. CHASE—I would like to know from the councilor from Charlestown (Coun. Kinsella) what he means by women being forced to pay for their jobs. I don't quite understand him.

Chairman HURLEY—The councilor from the Back Bay (Coun. Chase) would like the councilor from Charlestown (Coun. Kinsella) to describe or explain what he means by "being forced to pay for a job."

Coun. KINSELLA—It is really difficult in this enlightened age to think we have a man in politics for six or seven years who is so unsophisticated he does not know that the practice exists.

Coun. CHASE—I still would appreciate any reasons that the gentleman from Charlestown may offer to substantiate his statement that women school teachers in our school system have to pay for their jobs. I would also like to know where he gets this.

Coun. KINSELLA—I didn't say they all do.

Coun. CHASE—Or even some of them.

Chairman HURLEY—The Chair considers this beside the point, and will ask the councilor to proceed.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order.

Chairman HURLEY—State your point of order.

Coun. TAYLOR—I think the gentleman from Charlestown is impugning the honesty and integrity of the gentlemen on the School Committee. Those are very bad charges to make, unless proof is offered and, as I said before, they certainly have no part in this order and I don't know why they are under discussion now.

Coun. KINSELLA—It is one of the reasons. In winding up my remarks I want to say that one young man in my town represented himself as able to get a girl a school teacher's job and took $500 for it, and when he could not produce, her brother slashed him across the throat. That happened several years ago. Were they less sophisticated then than now? I am trying to remove those rotten conditions. Get your married women out and your youngsters will inherit the job.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I trust this resolution won't pass because, in my opinion, the School Committee should not change its rule. If this rule is changed, Mr. President, we might as well close up the Teachers College and other schools which educate our children to become school teachers. The single girls should be given some consideration for the money which their parents have spent in educating them. It is all right to present an order here and to cite one single case, —yes, and even wave the flag of patriotism in trying to have it passed. We are all patriots. That is what it was,—waving the flag of patriotism to have it passed. Personally I am against it, and I am going to ask for a roll call on the order. There is a question in my mind if the order did pass and the School Committee did allow married teachers to teach in schools, whether they would resign after two or three years. Once the rule is in vogue they would continue to teach as long as they could, fifteen to twenty years, and our single girls would not have an opportunity. I trust that it will not pass.

Coun. CHASE—I believe, Mr. President, that since we are elected officials of the City of Boston and hold a very responsible position we should be careful in making charges, either through insinuations or in any other manner, that would reflect on another elective office. The gentleman from Charlestown (Coun. Kinsella) has made some very serious charges in his talk. He has on several occasions in that talk mentioned the fact that women school teachers, or school teachers, have been, or will now be, forced to pay for their jobs. If I understand the gentleman correctly, he apparently has information which would lead one to believe that he knows that school teachers in Boston have paid, and are willing to pay, to secure a position in our public school system. I submit to you, sir, that we have a District Attorney's office, whose sworn duty is to take care of matters such as the gentleman from Charlestown has insinuated occur. I submit, sir, we have a Boston Finance Commission which is supposed to investigate wrongful methods of administration in our municipal government. We have an Attorney-General, the chief law-enforcement officer of the Commonwealth, whose duty it is to check on matters of such maladministration. Now, sir, I am not so unsophisticated that I didn't understand the charges indirectly made by the gentleman from Charlestown; and I believe that unless I should not be one who should cast reflections on another elective body. I believe if any one who has the courage to make indirect charges that the school teachers in our city are forced in one or many instances to pay for positions, then our law-enforcement officers should be enlightened on that information, and that action should be demanded by our law-enforcement agencies to correct the situation. I, for one, sir, am not acquainted with the situation, whether or not school teachers in Boston are forced to pay for their jobs, but I can readily tell you, sir, that if such conditions do exist, then it is a matter for the District Attorney to take immediate jurisdiction over. And if the District Attorney does not care to take that jurisdiction, then it behooves the Attorney-General to take jurisdiction. And I trust, sir, in the future that if anyone has the courage to get on the floor of the Council and insinuate that school teachers in Boston have, or will be, paying for jobs in our school system, if they have that information, and if they have that evidence, the law-enforcement agencies of our government will be given it and will be asked to prosecute.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, on the resolution in question I do hope that it does not prevail, although it might have some merit. I cannot help but remember that just a short time ago one of the judges of our courts reprimanded a woman for neglecting her children because she was employed on defense work. As Councilor Kelly so well stated, we are patriotic, naturally we have a spark of patriotism, but in so far as the married women are concerned I believe that a married woman's most important job is at home, to bear children, if they are so blessed, and to see that those children are brought up right. I think it would be a good gesture if we started right here in our own city and in our own City Hall, although I believe there might be some cases where this might be justifiable. Still, if we didn't allow married women who have husbands who are able to support them to be employed in our City Hall, or in any department of our municipal government, I believe that we would have better opportunities for these boys and girls whose parents have spent much money and deprived themselves in order to give their children proper education. I have in mind a certain woman who is married, a supervisor of our Welfare Department, and I have brought charges in this Council before, who is receiving approximately $3,000. Her husband is also employed by the state, receiving about $3,000. They have no children, and still she is in a position to teach individuals with one or two children who, through no fault of their own, have been compelled to receive welfare, how to live on $8 a week. This is a very serious matter, and before it should be passed, a lot of thought should be given to it. I do hope that this resolution does not prevail.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. Chairman, once before, some two years ago, I made a statement from which I never retreated an inch, and it has been garbled to such an extent that, only for the fact that I took up the true record on it the other day, certain misstatements would continue to be made. Now, I intend immediately to correct any impression without appearing at all to retreat from what I said—the impression that appears to be in the mind of my good friend from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase). For one thing, none of us ought to put on a psalm-singing, hypocritical act,—which is in no way a reflection on Mr. Chase, for whom I have the greatest fondness, believe me,—but I said, and I say it again, that we spend millions of dollars every year to educate children to take the place of those who go before them, and who should retire from those positions when they undertake matrimony, and they should not be obliged to pay for their jobs. In the specific instance I gave of ten to twelve years ago you have everything you want except the name of the person, and you won't receive it from me—please get that straight. I make no accusation against the women in the School Department today, nor the administrators, the committeemen. That is very plain, I hope. Once again, let me echo the remarks made after I first made them. There is absolutely no reason for throwing away good, hard-earned, taxpayers' money, and then not having the jobs readily available when the children are prepared best to get into them, and they or their parents should not be compelled to pay for them. Is that an insinuation? If it is, I will not take it back, because I can at least recognize the truth of things. Let us get away from hypocrisy and call a spade a spade and nothing else. Let us make it unnecessary. But don't charge me next week or the week after with having made a statement that bears no resemblance to what I said today, that I have repeated, and will again reiterate: Do not educate them to hold positions that are rightly theirs on merit, but for which money is extorted from them. Let us make it impossible even to hold out even an offer, let alone the realization of the offer.

Coun. KEENAN—I am very much opposed to this order introduced by Councilor Taylor. The young man who is today judge of the Probate Court, who sat for a great many years in the seat I have the pleasure of now sitting in, made the remark that there are more divorce cases in the Probate Court today on account of married women working. I believe that the married woman's place is in her home. It only simmers down to one thing, that if a married woman is working she must do one of two things, either give up her home and practice birth control, that I am very much against, or turn around and go into a job and not have her home at heart. I am very much opposed to it.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, I move that this resolution be laid on the table.
(The motion was withdrawn.)

Coun. HANNON—I suppose one of the most controversial subjects before us nowadays is the question of married women working. But we here in Boston have not been bothered too much by this question, for Boston holds a singular place in the country and in the world. Boston, as well as being a city of business, as well as being the center of social activity, is also the center of educational activities. Boston has a reputation for its morality, and the question of married women working, besides being a purely social one, is likewise a moral question. I think the reason why it was first adopted by the School Committee years ago was because of the moral side of the question. We nowadays are inclined to think that women who get married get married because they think that two salaries are better than one. In the old days, when they got married, they got married with the intention of making a home and having children. The gravest problem before us today is the problem of juvenile delinquency. In the past I have been appointed to commissions to study this problem; I have read much on it. And one conclusion reached by everybody who has ever studied the question of juvenile delinquency is that delinquency has its first roots in the home, and nine times out of ten the root of that delinquency is the fact that the home is divided. In the old days when a lady got married, she married a man who had a job, and, regardless of what his salary was, he and she determined to make a home and live within that salary. Nowadays it seems that some of them, before they get married, want to inquire how much the old man makes, whether or not she can work too, and if the two salaries make a sufficient amount, O. K., they will agree to get married. But, for God's sake, don't talk about having a home! That is what our delinquency springs from, and instead of trying to foster and encourage those things, we here in Boston should condemn them. We must start somewhere. If we cannot make a positive start, at least we can make a negative start by refusing to lift the barriers that now preclude teachers in schools that get married from continuing to teach. I, too, wish these barriers might be extended. There is altogether too much of it. And when we talk about problems after the war, about getting jobs for the fellows that come home, I feel, honestly, that the big problem, the biggest job we are going to have after the war, is trying to get these girls to give up the jobs and come back into the home. Believe me, you take a girl nowadays who is a welder getting $40 or $50 a week, she isn't going to give up welding later on to make room for the old man. The only reason the married women rule was suspended was because of the shortage of men to take those jobs. The Government almost apologized in asking these women to go in and work at jobs they never had or enjoyed before. The Government has benefited; some have made good on the jobs. But the ones that have benefited primarily are the lawyers who are doing a greater business with divorces now than ever before, and the reason is that when you have two people working in the home they lose the mutual dependency that kept your mother and father and my mother and father together. In the old days, when father had to work and bring home his "dough," he didn't even open his pay envelope, because his job was to work and to provide the money to keep the home going. Mother stayed in the home and kept the home clean and took care of the children. Her job was to meet all the bills with the little "dough" that was contained in father's envelope. They did it, they got along; one depended on the other. But nowadays, when there are two workers, she doesn't mind telling the old man to get out at any time. She is making more money than he is, or at least she can get along without him. We are inclined nowadays to relent on this or that barrier, but let us not do this. We don't want to let down the bars for married women working in any field if possible. The only reason the Government relaxed on this in various fields was because there was a shortage in skilled mechanics, in that particular field. Now, there is no shortage of teachers. Many girls that have been out of school and been out of Teachers College for years cannot get jobs. And while it is very nice to have the gentleman say, "Let them work for a year or two and they will give up the job," you and I know different from that. First, the gentleman from Ward 3 (Coun. Russo) says, "We have married women working in the Welfare Department." And, believe me, some of them are tough, and they don't give up any job after a year or two. If they are fortunate or unfortunate enough to be about to become mothers, they take a leave of absence, and they take time off, and they are back again to work. And they will tell some poor lady coming in how she can keep her house on $8 a week, while they themselves are drawing down $30 a week and married to some man getting $30 more a week, and they can't make both ends meet on $60. Another thing, when you talk about teachers getting married, we might as well be practical. Teachers are pretty practical people; they are pretty well educated; they are above the riffraff, and, believe me, they know their book. And when it comes to getting married, they are not marrying any "guy" in the street. They know pretty well who is who and what is what. It is all right to read about marrying a private in the Army. What of it if he is a private in the Army? Many lawyers are privates in the Army; many dentists start in as privates. There are privates in the Army who could get out in the world and buy and sell you and me. A woman's place is primarily in the home. When they get married, they don't get married just to have somebody else's income to spend. They get married, particularly around here, where religion is supposed to mean a little more to us than to people in other sections,—they get married around here primarily to have a home and raise a family. In order to do that properly they cannot work. You cannot do two jobs and do them both well. The primary job of every woman is maintaining a home. In order to do that she should be home, and when she gets married she should give up her job and make up her mind she is going to stay at home. In the Telephone Company they have to resign as soon as they get married. In most insurance companies they have to resign when they get married, and you try and get that rule waived. It simply can't be done. But are we going to relent here? Are we going to let down the bars? Our problem mainly now is juvenile delinquency. The first step towards inculcating juvenile delinquency in children is breaking up the home; and the first step towards breaking up the home is letting the women work and creating in the home two independent factions. I most sincerely hope this matter will be licked, and licked decisively. We don't want to lay it on the table. There is no question here. I think by an almost unanimous vote this matter should and will be defeated once and for all.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, the backbone of all society, of all nations and all empires is the human family. The human family is made up of father and mother and the children perpetuated from the marriage tie. Whenever any law of nature or any law of man is placed upon the statute books that jeopardizes the security of the home and the family, it jeopardizes the nation or that empire where it is done. The head of the family should always be the father, not in an arrogant or dictatorial meaning, but there must be a head at all times. Love of the family must emanate from the mother. She is the heart; she is the only one that went down into the shadow of death in order to bring forth a child. She is the only one that was with the embryo for all time. She knows the pulsation and she knows the love of that child, and the only way she can express that love is by words and by actions. A man must be physically and mentally equipped to earn a living, not only for himself but for his wife and the children with whom God may bless that marriage. The greatest casualties of this war are not the boys who are destroyed physically throughout the entire world. The greatest casualty of this war is our home. The greatest casualty that can come to America is removing the mothers from the home and placing them out in private or public industry for one reason, in order to procure the wages and salaries for the material benefit of themselves and their husbands. The word "mother" never typified the amount of money she could bring into a home. The word "mother" always typified love, and that is the way it should be. The laws of nature are built upon an unchanging formula, and one of the greatest formulas for the family is matrimony. The councilor from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor) bringing in a resolution of this kind places a price upon each and every one of you. To lay it on the table is circumvention. It demands courage; it demands intestinal fortitude. If you are defeated in public life because you took issue on a principle, you have not lost one thing; you have gained. But if you circumvent an issue by the mechanics of parliamentary procedure, you should be identified as a moron and a fool. The place for the mothers today is in the home. The greatest casualty of this war is because the mothers have been taken out of the homes for the prosecution of the war. It would be far more honorable for our armies and our navies to go down in glorious defeat upon the battlefields of the world and to preserve the home and the family. When you disintegrate and break down the home and the family, victory is nothing. There are too many inroads made into the home and family today. The Austin-Wadsworth bill that was pending in Congress a few short months ago is now raising its ugly head to hold sway so they can conscript labor—labor meaning men and women—and to send those men and women into any part of the country or any part of the world, as they would a soldier, a sailor or a marine. Juvenile delinquency is always a harvest of war, but there has never been a problem without a solution. The solution of juvenile delinquency is in the home. When you disrupt the home you aggravate and create juvenile delinquency. Let us defeat this measure today. Although it means nothing, the principle involved in it means a lot. Let us defeat it and defeat it decisively with a roll call vote. I am opposed to it, and I hope the other members will show their opposition by not leaving the chamber, but by voting. And those outside the chamber, let them come in and be recorded as public officials.

Coun. BAYLEY—Mr. President, it seems to me that this order would have the City Council, which has to deal with municipal problems and has enough duties of its own to carry out, go on record on a subject which is exclusively the province of the School Committee. I do not discuss the merits of the question, whether or not married women should continue to teach in the Boston schools, although I have been very much interested and impressed with the arguments put forward today. But the members of the City Council are elected to do their jobs, and similarly the members of the School Committee are elected to do theirs, to supervise and manage the school system of Boston. This is a question for the members of the School Committee to decide. They have studied this question carefully, and it is their problem, not ours. I think that this is an example of the tendency of many elected bodies of today, to deal with problems which properly belong to another elected body. We spend—I might say "waste"—a great deal of time on orders or resolutions which should not be brought before the City Council. I think that this problem referred to in the order should be left to the School Committee. I hope that such motions will not be brought into this chamber. I am opposed to any halfway method of handing this order. It should not be referred to any committee, but should be thrown out. I hope that this measure will be decisively defeated.

Coun. CAREY—I appreciate the remarks of the councilor from Ward 5 (Coun. Bayley); nevertheless the matter has been brought in here today and it will be, from the tone of the remarks made by those speaking previously, defeated. If we were to give the green light to a resolution of this kind, we would have to act similarly with respect to every position, be it of the professional or laboring class, not only in public, but in private employment today. There has been a lot said about juvenile delinquency, and, of course, we all know to take the mother out of the home, as we would, if we were to sanction the passing of this resolution, would be contributing in a vast way to elements of juvenile delinquency. The molding of a child takes place under two atmospheres,—that of the home and that of the school. There is an old saying that no one is indispensable. That, of course, is true of the school teachers of the City of Boston. If the school teachers, as I know them, are any criterion, and no doubt they are, their work does not end with the ringing of the school bell in the afternoon. Their work confines them night after night in the preparation of study for the following day. It does not take courage to vote against a resolution of this kind. Rather, it took courage to bring it here on the floor of the Council, and I am one of those who will be very glad, when the roll is called, to vote against it.

Coun. BAYLEY in the chair.

Coun. KINSELLA—I would like to record my approval of what Councilor Hannon and what the Chairman said as a proper statement a few moments ago. I would like to give a concrete illustration of fathers and mothers together in employment. Yesterday afternoon at about 5.15 I was on my way from Bunker Hill street. The sun had started its decline, and it was rather cold, as it always is on Bunker Hill street. Around the church I came across two little boys, one about ten and one about eight years old. While I am no expert on the subject, the little fellow eight years old had on what appeared to me to be the pants of a pair of pajamas. They were playing ball, throwing it back and forth, a distance of about ten feet from each other. There was no one else on the street, and the wind was whistling over that hill in such a way as to make people who were properly clothed tremble. As I got abreast of them, I watched them, and I said, "What are you doing up here? You have a park down there, a hundred feet away." And the ten-year-old boy said that he couldn't go home, and when I asked him why he thought he couldn't go home at quarter past five on Sunday afternoon he said that his mother was taking a nap. She had to go to work at 8.30 and she couldn't be disturbed with the children around the house. And I asked where his father was, and he said, "Down at the club." The mother couldn't be disturbed, but the kids could be sent out poorly clad on a sharp, bitter day in February in order that the mother might be given a couple of hours' sleep before going to work at 8.30. You can magnify that condition any number of times, and if you can't go beyond the one instance, in my opinion, if the future of one child is going to be jeopardized by waiving or abrogating the present rule, which I think is a good and fair one, I will not vote for such abrogation or waiver.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I am heartily in accord with most of the sentiments expressed here this afternoon. I introduced a similar order three years ago, and at that time some action was precipitated by selfish women of Boston who wanted to be on the city pay roll and who wanted to be likewise dragging in their husband's "dough" on each pay day. I feel that I might take a dilatory stand in the event the order were worded differently. In the event the order did state "during wartime," there might be some merit to it. But, in view of the fact that the order is worded as it is, and in view of the fact that it directly espouses abrogation of the rule for all time, I am against the order.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. Chairman, I am not going to state the merits of this order, because I am fully in accord with what you have already stated. This matter lies properly in the jurisdiction of the Boston School Committee. The Boston School Committee was elected by the citizens of Boston to handle school business, and we were elected to handle certain municipal undertakings. Our duties are clearly defined in the City Charter, and we are not supposed to be running the school system of Boston. Whether or not married women in the school system, or single young girls, or any other person, should be under any obligation to pay for a job, is something which, to my way of thinking, is not consistent with the supposed plans of our Government. I see no reason why a married person or a single person should be obliged to pay for a job. To make such an allegation, Mr. Chairman, clearly insinuates that something is wrong somewhere; otherwise, that allegation would not be made. It is based on some reason. Now, I am not pretending to be something which I am not. In other words, Mr. Chairman, I am not a hypocrite. If I had evidence, or if I had strong suspicion to believe that people applying for school positions are forced to pay for those jobs they seek, then, sir, I personally would go to the District Attorney. I believe that is the intent of our Government; that is the purpose of our Government in providing for a law-enforcement officer to take care of any matter of administration, and it is our duty if we know of anything wrong, or strongly suspect something is wrong, to call it to the attention of the law-enforcement agency. And I don't approve of making any allegations, casting, directly or indirectly, any reflections upon another elective body, unless I am justified by my suspicions. I personally believe that if people in Boston are forced to pay for jobs, whether or not that person is married or single will not correct the situation, nor will it have any tendency to correct the situation. If people in Boston are forced to pay for jobs, then it is due to corrupt officials and a person being married or single will not remedy the condition. I hope that this matter is defeated. I shall not debate the merits of the bill because I am in whole-hearted agreement with you that it is a matter which does not come within our province. It rightfully belongs to the duly elected school officials of the City of Boston. The public of Boston elected them for the sole purpose of conducting that branch of the government, and I shall vote against the resolution for the reason stated.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, all I want to add is this: There were two statements made here this afternoon,—that this is the business of the School Committee. Then, if it is, I would like to know why this Body appropriated $75,000 to investigate the School Committee two weeks ago.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—To clarify a situation that has come into this issue, which I don't believe had any right in the first place, relative to any one paying for a job in the School Department: First, I believe that five members of the School Committee are Democrats. I believe the gentleman from Ward 2 (Coun. Kinsella) is also a Democrat. He cited a case that happened ten years ago. The gentleman from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase) happens to be a Republican, and if he is acquainted with the appointments and how they are made in the School Department, he will know they are taken, beginning with No. 1, from the list on each and every appointment. There is no such thing as going down the list, and at the present time there is no such thing as anyone paying for a position. And when, as every person taking the examination, that has the intelligence to take and pass the examination, knows, it is a strict rule of the School Committee that they are appointed 1, 2 and 3 down the list, there is positively no jumping.

Coun. FISH—In view of the fact that I heard the expressions of opinion here so unanimously opposed to this and, with the possible fear that somebody might want to send this to the Committee on Rules and Circumvent the whole issue and not give them the opportunity to go further and vote on it, I now move the previous question and ask for a roll call.

The previous question was ordered, and the question came on the passage of the order, and the roll was called. Before the result was announced, Coun. HANLEY said: I rise to a point of information.

Chairman BAYLEY—State your point of information.

Coun. HANLEY—Before the roll call is announced, may I advise you to have the messenger notify the members outside of this Body and inform them as to voting on this particular question?

Chairman BAYLEY—The Chair would like to inform the councilor that he cannot compel the members to come and vote.

Coun. HANLEY—The word was not to "compel," but to "inform."

Chairman BAYLEY—The City Messenger will inform all members.

Coun. SCANNELL—I rise to a point of information.

Chairman BAYLEY—State your point.

Coun. SCANNELL—If there is a quorum present when a meeting of the City Council is in order, doesn't that designate a regular meeting? Chairman BAYLEY—Yes.

Coun. SCANNELL—Then why do we have to wait on the roll call?

Chairman BAYLEY—The Chair has been requested to permit other members of the Council not present to come in and vote on this matter if they so desire. The Chair, having waited a reasonable time, will now announce the vote.

Coun. FISH—In view of the importance of this vote to any member elected to this Council, I think we should allow a little more than three minutes. I now ask you to at least grant three or four more minutes to allow these gentlemen to come in and cast their ballots.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order.

Chairman BAYLEY—State your point.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. Chairman, I have vociferously, against the whole Body, made my vote known as "yes." I have never seen a procedure like this before in the City Council. It is very evident that they are attempting to put certain gentlemen on the spot. I think it is absolutely out of order. The question is now on the vote, and any further delay is surely out of order. The vote should be announced.

Coun. RUSSO—I rise to a point of information.

Chairman BAYLEY—State your point of information.

Coun. RUSSO—Is it not true that the Chair would like to give a reasonable time to all councilors to be present at a roll call? I feel, Mr. Chairman, if I might have been called outside and an important question such as this might come up, that I would like to have the courtesy of waiting a few minutes in order that I might be recorded one way or another. I now shall ask that we recess for five minutes.

Chairman BAYLEY—The motion is out of order.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Isn't it in our rules, even though a member is not present when a roll call is taken and announced, that later on he can ask unanimous consent to have his vote recorded?

Chairman BAYLEY—It is the rule.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I move you now announce the vote.

The order was defeated, yeas 1, nays 17:

Yeas—Coun. Taylor—1.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, Kinsella, McCormack, Russo, Scannell, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan—17.

PURCHASE OF LUNCHEONS OUTSIDE BY CERTAIN STUDENTS.

Coun. KELLY and CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of instructing the masters of junior high and high schools in Dorchester to permit students who are unable to obtain lunch at school to leave the building for such reasonable time as may be necessary to purchase their lunch outside of school.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I would like to include East Boston in that.

On motion of Coun. KELLY, the order was applied to all such schools throughout the city, and as amended was passed.

SUSPENSION OF SCHOOL SURVEY.

Coun. FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Finance Commission postpone its survey of the schools until the recommendations of the presidents of Boston College, Boston University and Harvard University concerning the rating of teachers in Boston is received by the School Committee.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, two days ago I read a small article in one of our Boston publications with reference to invitations to the presidents of Harvard University, Boston College and Boston University making a study or survey of our school system. A week ago this Council, although I opposed it, passed an order, placing in the hands of the Finance Commission $75,000 for purposes of the survey. I ask them now to postpone the expenditure of that money as the survey would be a duplication of what is going to be done free of charge by the most distinguished educators we have in this section of the country. This is simply a duplication, and I suggest that the Finance Commission wait until this other survey is done and the recommendations announced. In that way, I feel that a considerable portion of the $75,000 appropriated to the Finance Commission will be saved, and that the city will benefit to that extent.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

AMBULANCE FOR CARNEY HOSPITAL.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to include in his 1944 budget a sum sufficient to provide for an ambulance for the Carney Hospital.

The order was passed.

RECESS.

The Council, by direction of Coun. HURLEY, took a recess at 4.30 p. m., subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order at 5 p. m. by Chairman HURLEY.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. TAYLOR, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and order appointing Mrs. Eva Whiting White as member of Boston Housing Authority—that same ought to pass.

President KERRIGAN in the chair.

The question came on the acceptance of the report.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, I find myself in the position of having to vote against the confirmation of Mrs. White for the simple reason that I do not know the lady. And, as a City Councilor, during my term of office I have only been asked to vote on one other occasion for a confirmation of an appointment by his Honor the Mayor of this type, and that was the previous appointee to be sent to this Body, one John Breen. At the time of Breen's appointment by the Mayor, before confirmation, the matter was referred to a committee of the Council. As I stated previously, Mr. Breen refused to appear before the Council committee and also sent word that he did not care for the appointment,—he didn't wish it and didn't seek it. I think in fairness, Mr. President, to the people of my district and to myself, before voting for a confirmation of this type, I am at least entitled to meet the lady or meet the appointees sent in by his Honor the Mayor, and at least to ask them one or two questions regarding their attitude on their duties effecting the appointment that he is sending before us. In Executive I asked for a week's delay, and I asked for the lady to appear before us and tell us whether or not she would be in a position to serve in this particular appointment. In view of the fact, sir, that it was brought to my attention in there that she is a member of a great many committees in the city and the state, I think it is the duty of this Council and each and every member in it before voting for a confirmation of this sort, to at least meet the party and find out whether or not they are interested in the position and whether or not they have the time to give to fulfill the position properly. Therefore, not having had that privilege of meeting this lady, and not having had the opportunity of asking her one or two questions, I feel compelled to vote against her confirmation, and I hope the Council will not confirm her until she appears before them and lets them hear and see whether or not she is interested in this position.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, my opinion in this matter, instead of being referred to the Executive Committee, is that it should have been referred to the Committee on Rules, the same committee that the confirmation of the appointment of John Breen was referred to last year. I think that was the proper committee to have this matter referred to. Nevertheless, it was referred to the Executive Committee, as we have yet to have any committees appointed this year. Mr. President, what I am interested in is—I am going to vote against the confirmation of Mrs. White because, although she is a member of a lot of committees, I notice she is one of the directors of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, and that is the Union that services many of the high schools and junior high schools with lunches in Dorchester. I realize many of those children in the last four or five weeks have gone hungry and have not been able to buy the food after having purchased the tickets with which to buy it. I realize that the city contributes a small sum of $10,000 a year to make up the deficit of this Women's Educational and Industrial Union. There is nothing personal in my vote. I am always glad to vote in roll call. I wish every matter that came up in the Boston City Council was voted in roll call. I stand on my vote. I also would like to know—and that is why I asked for a continuance of at least one week—how Mrs. White feels in favoring families outside of the City of Boston. That is, Mr. President, I mean families outside the City of Boston are given preference in our Boston Federal housing units. I realize when the money was appropriated for these Federal housing units in the Boston City Council—and I am very happy to say I voted against it, because I didn't believe in it at the time, and time has shown I was right in my vote—that these houses were for the poor of Boston. Ninety-nine out of every one hundred cases will make application from the City of Boston,—and you know I speak the truth, Mr. President,—and are turned down and the outside resident, outside the City of Boston, is given the preference. Oh, it is all right, Mr. President, for councilors to say in executive session that this is a Federal situation and it is a Federal matter, but the taxpayers of the City of Boston are paying the bills, and what I am interested in is the taxpayers of Boston. I would like to see one member of the Housing Authority that would have the gumption and the guts to take issue with the Federal authorities and to speak their mind and to speak up and let them know that these Federal housing units were intended for the residents of Boston. And as I said before, I don't feel as though this matter should have been referred to the Executive Committee. I feel that it should have been referred to the Committee on Rules. As to referring such matters as this to the Executive Committee,—there is no sense in having any committees. You ought to abolish all committees because anything can be steamrollered through. I believe in giving Mrs. White a chance to come before us. I might be in the position of changing my vote after I listened to the lady but we haven't had the opportunity of even meeting her. I have to judge from what has happened in the past what will happen in the future. I have to judge that these little girls and boys in the Dorchester section were buying lunches—I have to judge by those boys and girls going home hungry to their parents at three o'clock in the afternoon after leaving their homes at 8 or 8.15 in the morning. That is the only method I can have of judging Mrs. White,—that she is a director of this Women's Educational Union. Personally I have no feeling against Mrs. White. I know the vote will be 13 to 5 for confirmation, but I am going to be one of the five opposed. But I say, Mr. President, that on future matters that come before you, if you don't intend to send them into the right committees, then abolish all committees and send everything to Executive. There is no sense in having any committees. The committees are a joke in the Boston City Council, and the councilors are, in turn, the laughing stock of the City of Boston. If we can't have committee meetings and give these people a chance to come before us and be heard, and we have to go behind closed doors, then I say, abolish committees once and for all, and send everything to Executive and rush it through.

Coun. FISH—I believe this is a most moderate request, and I don't think it jeopardizes the chances one bit of those gentlemen who voted in Executive Committee to approve the appointment of Mrs. White. I venture to say that if this matter came up here next Monday, no matter how much we raise our voices, she would still get the vote and would be confirmed. What harm is it going to do to give us the opportunity to meet her. Maybe she would get unanimous approval. I do not say now that I would vote against her if I met her. If I don't meet her, I will, and I would like the opportunity of being convinced that I might be wrong in my vote today. I hope not. I hope that the person, whom I have not seen and therefore cannot pass judgment on,—I hope she won't be one who will follow in the footsteps of the one who has resigned, taking a run-out powder, before I had the opportunity to bring before this Body and the City of Boston the scandalous way in which he administered his duties. I refer to a voter of my own ward, Mr. John Breen, a neighbor. He votes in the same precinct, but devotes his time in other wards to politics. I hope that we are not taking somebody who may follow the same course, and I have no way of knowing unless I am given the opportunity to meet her. Given the opportunity, I may confirm her, but not given that opportunity, I certainly cannot approve of placing anybody that has any power whatsoever over a $40,000,000 proposition at the expense of the Boston taxpayers, and I cannot approve it unless I see her. I don't know how anybody in this Body can accept that person unless they meet and talk with her, get her ideas on the future outlook of housing, and how she will administer that $40,000,000. As I may repeat, it is a moderate request and a request which I am sure will avail me nothing, because one week from now she will receive the majority approval of this board and possibly the unanimous approval.

Coun. CAREY—There is a great deal of merit to what the preceding speakers have said. I voted in Executive for the confirmation of Mrs. White, but I have reflected upon the remarks that some of the councilors have made. In my experience, I have contacted the Housing office time and time again and been told that the approval of applications down there was not had because the Housing Authority did not meet. The Authority has gone some time, for many weeks, without meeting. I feel there is considerable merit to what Councilors Dwyer, Fish and Kelly have said. There has been a vacancy, so to speak, in the Housing Authority, in that Mr. Breen resigned some weeks ago. I don't think there is a great deal of harm in postponing final action on the appointment for another week. I therefore am going to move that the matter lie on the table one week. There have been some arguments raised here that have considerable merit, one of which is the feelings of the possible appointee regarding the use of housing units by those living outside the city. Living in a district where there are two units, I have been faced with considerable opposition by people who are trying to get into the housing units, only to find out that people who do not live within twelve miles of the city have been admitted and they have been denied that admittance. It might be well to know just how Mrs. White feels about that particular matter, although I don't believe she can persuade the housing officials in Washington to change any regulations. I feel that particular regulation, if it is a regulation, was not necessary. We can go through some of these units at different times and see what the situation is. In asking that the matter be tabled I am not inferring that I will change my vote, but I see no harm in tabling it for one week, and I so move at this time.

The roll was called and the motion was lost, yeas 7, nays 12:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Dwyer, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Keenan, Kelly—7.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Hurley, Kerrigan, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—12.

President KERRIGAN—The question now comes on the passage of the order.

Coun. HANLEY—Since June of last year, which approximates seven months, the Boston Housing Authority has had one absentee member, and yet this appointment is being steamrollered through today because they refuse to allow this young lady, or old lady, to come before a functioning committee,—and you, Mr. President, have not appointed your committees as yet. The Appropriation Bill has come before us today because its presentation is required by law. The Mayor would be remiss in his duty as Mayor if he did not submit his Appropriation Bill; and yet you, Mr. President, functioning as the President of this Honorable Body, have not appointed your committees as yet.

Coun. TAYLOR—I rise to a point of order.

President KERRIGAN—State the point of order.

Coun. TAYLOR—I think the councilor is supposed to be speaking on the subject of appointment of somebody on the Housing Authority. I think this is absolutely out of order.

Coun. HANLEY—The point is very well taken, councilor. Every legislative body, in order to function properly, must have committees. The Executive Committee is the greatest mistake that has ever been perpetrated in the City Council. A picayune voice shouts, "I move that it pass." It usually does. Out here, Mr. President, we speak on the merits of the bill. I will criticize, but I will do it openly. Other members are criticizing you, Mr. President, outside, but I will stand up and criticize you openly. His Honor the Mayor has submitted a name—to me it is only a name; qualifications should be the determining factor. On paper she may be the most qualified woman or person whose name he could submit to this Honorable Body. But what are you, rubber stamps, because His Honor the Mayor has asked that she be approved? As Councilor Fish well said, in another week, seven days intervening, she may be approved unanimously. But we are acting under parliamentary procedure. She should come before a functioning committee, which should be the Rules Committee. John Breen refused to come because of the scandal attached to the Boston Housing Authority. A demolition contract is given, but not a contract to build. And in Councilor Hurley's district they have torn down buildings, but there has been no construction. Breaking down—breaking down—the parish of the Holy Cross Cathedral, which at one time was the center of our population. Oh, there may have been slums, there may have been shacks, but there isn't a member of this Body that was brought up in a mansion. There are two contracts given in the Boston Housing Authority, one for demolition, the destruction of homes, and the other for construction. That is where the money is. That is where the boys reap a profit, and that is why the scandal of the Boston Housing Authority will one day scream to heaven for an answer. Some of you members are in the lap of luxury. You have your own little homes now. A few years back you were very fortunate if you had a job in private industry, and yet you are called upon to vote for a member of a $40,000,000 corporation, and I doubt very much if any of the members, and especially the former chairman, could count forty cents when he ran for the City Council in my ward, but he has one of the most luxurious homes in Councilor Fish's district. If he was another man he would be castigated vociferously, verbally and otherwise, as a crook. And yet he has thought so little of you men, that he wouldn't even come before you because it would be engineered anyway, but for six months he has been held up and his Honor the Mayor has been remiss in his duty by not submitting another name. He circumvented the law, and yet we are going to pass upon this woman without even asking her or requesting her to come before the functioning committee, but the pressure is put on, and you have got to vote. You can't do otherwise. Actions speak louder than words, and I challenge any member to show by an affirmative or negative vote his position as to holding it over for another week.

Coun. TAYLOR—Mr. President, as we go through life we have many reverses. Many times we come out on top. Regardless of whether we come out on top or are defeated, I have always considered it well to display good sportsmanship. Don't let defeat rankle in your heart so that at any moment you are willing to criticize. I ran for President of this Body and received eleven votes, one vote short of election. There was a rumor at the time that the only reason I didn't receive the twelfth was because of the certain faith that I belonged to.

Coun. CAREY—I rise to a point of order. I don't think the speaker is speaking on the order or the matter before us.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will remind the speaker to confine his remarks to the question.

Coun. TAYLOR—I got up on the floor of this Council and denied that fact and said that there wasn't any member of this Body that had that thought in mind, and I still say they didn't and I was the first one to congratulate the President that he was elected, and never attempted to hamstring him in the future. Good sportsmanship is a marvelous trait to possess, and I hope I have it until I die. I was one against seventeen in a vote here, but I held nothing against anyone that voted the other way. You have been President of this Body before, Mr. President, and I wish to say you gave a marvelous and fair administration, and the entire city knows it. As far as this question of housing is concerned, I hate to see a man attacked unjustifiably. I owe John Breen nothing. He never gave me anything other than a few favors in trying to get somebody into the Housing Authority from your ward. Why he should be termed a crook—that is the most disgusting thing I ever heard on this floor at any time. It is unjustly accusing a man in public life of doing dishonest acts when they haven't one scintilla of proof to prove it. We ought to cut that kind of stuff out. Let us deliver our arguments pro and con and go out and shake hands like fighters. John Breen has courage enough to tell the Council, "I have served in this Body some period of time. If you don't like me, turn me down. I am not coming down here to be cross-examined by anybody because they have some personal grievances against me." He is an able man, John Breen. He has been a prosperous man in business, and he turned this down. He was still a member of the Housing Authority until he resigned very recently, because the law states, and I think I am right, that he is until a member is appointed in his place, even though his time has expired, and he resigned of his own volition. I wouldn't blame Mrs. White for refusing to come up here, for the Lord knows who will be the first one to point a finger at her and say, "You are a crook." The Mayor has sent in the name of a woman. We had a whole week to think about it and investigate. Nobody here knows anything against her. Why should we act differently than they do in any legislative body? The Governor's Council pass upon an appointment without calling in judges or officials of any department. Why should they be embarrassed? I don't think you would get an appointee to take a job, no matter how much money was in it—and this is an unpaid position—if they had to come up and face a barrage of embarrassing questions. The Mayor has submitted the name. It is our duty to fill that position, and I don't think we ought to take months and months and put it into the Committee on Rules, where it dies, where the Committee on Rules should have reported on it, and it was never done. Would they want it to go back in the Committee on Rules and stay there the same way? I think we ought to vote on it now.

Coun. KELLY and HANLEY addressed the Chair and Coun. Kelly was recognized.

Coun. KELLY—I yield to Councilor Hanley, Mr. President.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, sportsmanship is known in various athletic circles. It is known in politics as hypocrisy. To shake a man's hand symbolizes the olden days, when men used to gather around and have up their sleeve a dagger, but in order to show the man they shook hands with that they had in their hand no dagger they placed out the five fingers. There was one time that Brutus never shook hands with Caesar, because he had his dagger. Now, this is still on personal preference. According to the public record, on January 3 I did receive eleven votes for the presidency of this Honorable Body. My memory is good. I remember the distinguished councilor from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor) received eleven votes for the presidency, and I made a speech that first time, councilor, that I never heard of racial discrimination in this Honorable Body. That is a public record, councilor. It is there for the reading of any of the new councilors. And I congratulated you publicly, councilor. It is in the public records. I congratulated you, councilor, in the lavatory. Do you think, councilor, that this Honorable Body can function with no committees?

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will state for the benefit of the member that he could not appoint any committees until the rules were adopted, and they were only adopted today, and the committees will be appointed today.

Coun. HANLEY—Thank you sincerely, Mr. President, for that honorable answer. I in no wise doubt your honesty. There is no one, Mr. President,—I don't care who he is,—that is going to make me the target at any time. I am merely stating to you, Mr. President, the inarticulate voice of your colleagues. If your memory is correct, I believe that I was the only member of this Council that saw you on one occasion when you came out of the United States Army, honorably discharged. I believe, Mr. President, that I was the only one that told you as a friend to "get into the fight, John. You have all the qualifications required to be a City Councilor. Don't miss the bus, John. You are required in public life." Is that poor sportsmanship, councilor? My name was submitted as President by the greatest friend that I ever had in public or private life. I refer specifically to Thomas J. Hannon, Jr., of the thirteenth district. Poor sportsmanship, councilor? I never asked for a recount, even though I was nearly defeated. I have been defeated. I know what defeat is, and I know what victory is. Sportsmanship? You stood up in this Council one week ago today and talked about majority and minority rule in this Body. I believe I am correct in stating that you no longer belong to the minority clan, but you belong to the majority clan. And yet a few minutes ago, today, you could not even muster a vote except your own. But you have principle, councilor,—you have. As I have always said, you are the most qualified of the group that you represent, and I don't mean racial, religious or political. I mean the group that happen to be associated with you here. You are the only man of that group that can stand and speak and enter into verbal tirade with anyone else. I admire your courage; I admire your vocabulary; and I admire your profession that you belong to, but, please, I am asking you, councilor, do not upset it. Sportsmanship? That is a derivation of sportsman, and it is not a Latin term. I congratulate you, Mr. President, again. I hope that your tenure of office will be replete with happiness and that you, symbolizing the name your father gave you, will never descend into the mire of politics or the things that are associated with it. Other presidents have come before you and other presidents will follow you, but, as one colleague to another, I believe I was the first one to congratulate you, and I am again congratulating you. And if my remarks in any way jeopardize your standing in this Honorable Body, then I apologize publicly, and not outside this room. If I have in any way, Mr. President, jeopardized your name, then I humbly say that I am sorry, and I am capable of expressing my sorrow verbally and in written form. But, please, councilor from Ward 12 please don't say that I am not a sportsman. At least, if you don't like my personality, you must agree with me that I fight in the chamber. I never say anything detrimental to anybody outside of the chamber. I wonder can everyone say the same? I should never throw a stone. I was brought up in a glass house, the same as everybody. But, please, councilor, never say that I am not a sportsman, because in doing so you are treading on dangerous ground. I am a nervous man, even though I may not show it. And, please, confine your remarks to the question, as I try to do. In doing so I did digress, but I merely amplified what other colleagues have done. And for your honesty, I congratulate you, Mr. President. I didn't know, and I humbly apologize.

Coun. KELLY—I am going to be very brief. I know the hour is getting late. I am going to reiterate again, Mr. President, that if this matter was referred to the Committee on Rules, the Committee on Rules this year would not have been a graveyard, because you have the power of appointing that committee. I am sure the members you would appoint on that committee, Mr. President, would not be members that would make it a graveyard. So I am sure if that matter was referred to the Committee on Rules, where it should have been, we would have had a report inside of a week. I have often been on the losing side. Sometimes you can gain dividends by being on the losing side, as long as you always keep your word. That is one thing I can say; in this Council I have always kept my word with my brother councilors, so my conscience doesn't bother me. I believe every member of the Council is sent here by his district and when any matter comes up before the Council the councilor should get up and speak his mind, what he believes the people in his district want to know. Every two years when seeking election or re-election we have to go before the people of the ward, and they make it possible for us to come or not to come here. I can say a lot in the Council. I probably know John Breen better than any member of the Council. I spent four years in school with him. But it isn't John Breen who is being considered today. It is Mrs. White, and I believe there isn't anything wrong in asking her to come before us. I might change my vote when I had a little talk with her. I don't believe there would be any embarrassing questions asked. I have never asked embarrassing questions while a member of the Council. I have always asked questions to the point, and I say again if this matter had been referred to the proper Committee on Rules, that committee you have the power of appointing, I am certain that the Committee on Rules this year would not have been a graveyard, and we would have had a proper report from the committee. I am sorry that the members of the Council should see fit by their vote not to allow us to get certain information from Mrs. White, who will be a member of a 40-million dollar corporation. I am glad, for one, that it is a roll call vote, because some will have something to answer for in the future. I am glad it is not passed under suspension of the rules. I have nothing personal against Mrs. White, but am forced to cast my vote against her.

Coun. CAREY—To clarify the remarks of the councilor from Ward 12 (Coun. Taylor), as chairman of the Committee on Rules last year, I held a meeting at which Mr. Breen was invited to appear. That request was made by another member of the Council, and I thought he was entitled to hear Mr. Breen, as long as he desired it. Later the meeting was held, and Mr. Breen sent word he was not interested in reappointment and, taking Mr. Breen at his word, I thought there was no need of taking any action on his appointment. If he didn't want the place, it was his business, and that is why that died in the committee.

The roll was called, and the appointment was confirmed, yeas 13, nays 6:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Hannon, Hurley, Kerrigan, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—13.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 9.

1. BOARD OF MERIT.

The Board of Merit of the Boston Fire Department, consisting of the Chief of Department and Deputy Chiefs, has considered all meritorious acts referred to it for the year 1943. After careful consideration and study the Board submitted the following recommendations, which are hereby approved by the Fire Commissioner:

Case of Hoseman Arthur I. Bourdo et al., Box 3514, 4.13 p. m. March 13, 1943, 82 Maxwell street, Dorchester:

At 4.13 p. m. March 13, 1943, the department responded to an alarm from Box 3514 for a fire in the dwelling house at 82 Maxwell street, Dorchester. Upon arrival of the apparatus it was found that a woman and her five children were trapped in the building.

Hoseman Arthur I. Bourdo of Engine Company 52 ran a chemical line into the front hall of the building and operated upon the fire, which had extended from the kitchen into the hallway. While working in a prone position he heard a faint cry from the kitchen. He dropped the pipe and crawled about twelve feet into the kitchen where he found an infant in a flaming baby carriage. The baby had been burned and Hoseman Bourdo received burns on the face, ears and hands in taking the infant from the carriage and bringing him into the hallway where he gave the child to Lieut. Michael J. Egan of Ladder Company 29. Hoseman Bourdo then resumed operation of the chemical line and his work allowed a search to be made of the upper floors.

Lieut. Henry H. Dionne of Engine Company 52, Lieut. Michael J. Egan of Ladder Company 29, and Ladderman Thomas R. Lawless, also of Ladder Company 29, proceeded to the upper floors where they found the woman and four children whom they removed to the street. All the rescued persons suffered from burns or inhalation of smoke.

Lieutenants Dionne, Egan and Ladderman Lawless were commended and Hoseman Bourdo highly commended by the Fire Commissioner in General Orders No. 21, Series of 1943, for the rescue work performed by them.

Because of his quick action and the great personal risk to which he exposed himself during this rescue work, the Board recommends that the name of Hoseman Arthur I. Bourdo of Engine Company 52 be placed on the Roll of Merit.

Case of Lieut. William O. Hawkins, Ladder Company 10, Box 2465, 2.31 a. m. October 21, 1943, 104 Call street, Jamaica Plain:

At 2.31 a. m. October 21, 1943, the department responded to an alarm from Box 2465 for a fire in the dwelling house at 104 Call street, Jamaica Plain. Upon arrival of the apparatus, a fire was found on the second floor, involving the kitchen and extending toward a bedroom off the kitchen. Members of the department were informed that some children had been removed from the burning building but that their mother was missing.

Lieut. William O. Hawkins of Ladder Company 10 entered the house and crawled on hands and knees through the hallway, which was heavily involved with heat and smoke, into the kitchen and thence to a living room just off the kitchen, where he found the mother of the children slumped on the floor in an unconscious condition with her head resting upon a chair. Lieutenant Hawkins, still on hands and knees because of flame, heat and dense smoke, dragged the woman to the entrance hall. His action, undoubtedly, saved the woman from being burned to death, and in making the rescue, Lieutenant Hawkins received burns on his hands and right forearm. He was highly commended by the Fire Commissioner in General Orders No. 54, Series of 1943.

Because of his quick action and the extreme personal risk to which he exposed himself during this rescue work, the Board recommends that Lieut. William O. Hawkins of Ladder Company 10 be awarded the Walter Scott Medal for Valor for 1943.

By order of Fire Commissioner WILLIAM ARTHUR REILLY.

WILLIAM F. QUIGLEY,
Acting Chief of Department.

BUILDINGS RAZED.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Building Commissioner to raze the following structures as fire menaces or nuisances:

To raze the building at 3 Battery street and 10 Salutation street, Ward 3, by the Mystic Building Wrecking Company, Inc., 203 Everett avenue, Chelsea.

SEA-GOING DRY DOCKS.

Bigger than a battleship! That's the rough proportion of some of the new Navy floating dry docks which can be towed or self-propelled at speeds sufficient to follow our fleet into action. Indeed, the dry docks are large enough to handle even a mighty battleship when it needs repairs or overhauling.

Never before have floating dry docks been built so large, taken so far. Never before have docks of this character been so mobile. The Navy has spent upward of $300,000,000 on their floating dry dock program and it has been a shrewd investment. Now, instead of damaged warships traveling the thousands of miles from the theaters of action to an American coastal dry dock for repairs, it can be placed in a floating dry dock on the spot in a matter of hours, thus saving precious time.

REPORT OF EDWARD J. ROWSE, COMMERCIAL COORDINATOR, ON ATTENDANCE AT THE NORTHEASTERN REGIONAL CONFERENCE ON DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION, IN NEW YORK CITY, JANUARY 10 TO 13, 1944, INCLUSIVE.

The following is the report of Edward J. Rowse, of School Department, on Conference on Distributive Education at New York, January 10 to 13, 1944:

I attended a conference of State Directors of Distributive Education of the Northeastern Region held in New York from Monday, January 10, to noon of Thursday, January 13. The conference was planned and conducted by Dr. Kenneth Haas, Regional Agent of the Office of Education, Washington, and had in attendance during the entire session Dr. B. Frank Kyker, Chief of Business Education Service, Office of Education, Washington.

State Directors were present from the following states: Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Vermont. Also by invitation supervisors were present from Cleveland, Washington and Baltimore and Coordinators from Washington, Cleveland, New Haven, Bridgeport and Bangor. Bishop Brown, Director of Pittsburgh Research Bureau, and Dr. Paul Lomax, of New York University, were also present at many of the sessions.

It was strictly a conference with no set speeches, but with a long agenda of some fifty-two topics for discussion, all concerned directly with part-time training, evening classes and cooperative part-time training in the field of distribution.

Much time was spent in discussing the training of teachers for this work, keeping them vocationally fit, and supervising their teaching and their methods of coordinating. All were agreed that at least two years of practical experience in Retailing should be required as a qualification to teach in this field and many of the state supervisors believed that every teacher should be required to do some work in retail stores at least every three years. There was also much discussion of current publications which the teachers should be encouraged or almost commanded to read. In training students for store work there is great need of making job-analyses and considerable time was given to the discussion of training teacher-coordinators to make these job analyses.

The organization and operation of cooperative programs received a great deal of attention. Methods of promoting this work with merchants, with school authorities, and with students were discussed. Standards set up by State Departments of Education and conditions of reimbursement were given full consideration. The curriculum of pre-vocational and vocational training and the general up-grading of the teaching in these fields were carefully examined. Cooperation with outside agencies such as Chambers of Commerce, Retail Trade Boards, and various other trade associations was extensively discussed. Experiences were exchanged as to how the emergency needs of retailers during the Christmas season were met.

One entire session was given to the consideration of post-war planning. All were agreed that in order to maintain full employment, much attention will have to be given to selling both capital and consumer goods. The sales force of manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers is badly depleted and many returning soldiers and reallocated civilians will find training in salesmanship an absolute necessity. Doctor Kyker told the group that he had been consulted by a national association of salesmanagers and by several trade associations in the hope that the Office of Education would encourage supervisors of Distributive Education to prepare their teachers to meet this need.

The discussions on this point also indicated that the group believed that evening courses in Advertising, Display, Store Management, Credits and Collections, Food Merchandising, and selling specific merchandise will again be demanded when the pressure of civilian activities made necessary by the war is less urgent. Soldiers and civilians will return to peacetime employment with a new outlook on training. They have seen the results of training in the Army and in industry and they will be definitely "training-minded." But the training will have to be better than formerly and time-wasting projects will have to be eliminated. The work will have to be strictly vocational and practical.

The Wartime Training Program for Store Supervisors and Department Heads was thoroughly considered. The manual prepared by the Office of Education was discussed and the techniques of teaching the course were examined. Experiences were exchanged as to carrying out this program in connection with retailers, restaurants, hotels and other service organizations. Executives in all these lines are eager for this training, and in every case the results have been most satisfactory. On Wednesday afternoon we had a joint meeting with the Personnel Group of the National Retail Dry Goods Association and this phase of the training was mentioned more frequently than any other part of the training program.

The conference as a whole was very stimulating and I returned with many helpful ideas as the result of the exchange of experiences.

Commercial Coordinator.

CONTRACT AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon February 11 the Mayor approved a contract with the H. B. Church Service Company for transportation of books between the main and branch libraries. A communication from the trustees of the Public Library was as follows:

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, December 7, 1943.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Your permission is respectfully requested to award without public advertising a contract for the transportation of books and other library materials between the Central Library and the branch libraries for the period of January 1, 1944, to December 31, 1944, inclusive, to the H. B. Church Truck Service Company, 26 Reading street, Roxbury, Mass.

It has not proved possible to obtain by public advertising competitive bids for the performance of this work on a contractual basis. In September, 1943, it was necessary to negotiate a contract with the H. B. Church Truck Service Company, a company of reputation and standing in the community, for this work. The service given by this company has been most satisfactory.

The trustees of the Public Library therefore voted at their meeting on December 3, 1943, "that there be awarded to the H. B. Church Truck Service Company, 26 Reading street, Roxbury, Mass., a contract for the transportation of books and other materials between the Central Library and the branch libraries for the period of January 1 to December 31, 1944, at the rate of ninety-five dollars ($95) per truck for two (2) trucks, and for a third (3rd) or more additional truck as required by the day or hour at a schedule of rates set forth in the contract itself." It is proposed to use two trucks on a weekly basis plus an additional truck by the day or hour only when and as needed.

Your approval is respectfully requested for this contract.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON,

F. W. BUXTON,
Trustee.

V. PROCEDURE CONCERNING PHOTOGRAPHS IN ACCIDENT CASES.

When accidents have occurred involving department apparatus it has been the custom of the department in the past to stand by, maintaining the position resulting from the accident until such time as a photographer representing the Law Department arrives at the scene to make a picture and protect the city's interests.

The extent of time required in waiting for a photographer to arrive at the scene of such accidents has been found in many cases to work an unnecessary hardship on traffic in the immediate vicinity of the accident.

After a consultation with the Corporation Counsel the following procedure in such cases is to be pursued henceforth, bearing in mind that such an order cannot cover in every detail the specific conduct of a member of the Fire Department to be followed in every kind of case resulting from an accident.

The test to be applied in each particular situation resulting from an accident is:

A. What is the reasonable thing to do under the circumstances? If it appears to the officer in charge of the company using the apparatus that the photographer will arrive in a short time and that only slight inconvenience will be suffered by travelers on the highway during the time the apparatus remains unmoved, then he may permit the apparatus to remain in its position until the photographer arrives.

B. On the other hand, if it appears that there will be a long delay before the photographer can get to the scene (or if a long time has elapsed since the call for the photographer was put in), and great inconvenience to the public and heavy traffic congestion is resulting, the apparatus should be drawn a minimum distance to one side or another and the city's interests protected by measurements being made as to the movement of the vehicles involved in an accident from the point of collision to the place of rest thereafter. Likewise, the names of eyewitnesses to the accident should be secured in all cases.

Officers of the department henceforth may use their best judgment as to what procedure to follow in such cases. The Law Department photographer should be summoned in every instance, however, as previously.

VI. A. D. T. ASSIGNMENT.

The following is to be added to the running cards of the A. D. T. books in this department:

Ordered, That the Statistics Department be authorized, under the direction of the Committee on Rules, to prepare and have printed the Municipal Register for the current year; and that the Clerk of Committees be authorized to prepare and have printed a pocket edition of the Organization of the City Government; the expense of said Register and Organization to be charged to the appropriation for City Documents.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

RECLASSIFICATION OF WELFARE DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor confer with the Civil Service Commission relative to the recent reclassification of all Welfare Employees of the City of Boston in an effort to bring about a more satisfactory adjustment for those affected.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, it has been brought to my attention, and I believe to the attention of each and every councilor by this time, that some of our employees in the Welfare Department, particularly the clerks, have been reclassified by the Civil Service Commissioner. Some who were employed as clerks, as I understand, have been reclassified, some as junior clerks and some as senior clerks. I believe that when these employees received their positions they were told that they were being employed as clerks, and now those who have been reclassified as junior clerks find that they are not given the opportunity which they had in mind when they started to compete in examinations that might come up in the future. I also understand that some of these clerks took an examination some time ago for social worker and that many of them find that in the past six months they are not being given an opportunity to accept the positions as social workers. Through this reclassification many of them are not being given the opportunities to receive positions that they had reason to believe originally would be open to them. Therefore, I hope that his Honor the Mayor will immediately confer with the Civil Service Department to see if the conditions that they had every reason to believe would exist when they originally went into the service are now rendered available to them. These clerks were given to understand that they would have an opportunity to take the various examinations. I know that my colleagues, Councilor James Bayley and Councilor Chase, have similar orders that they wish to present. I would, therefore, move that the matter be referred to the Executive Committee, so that an opportunity may be given to the employees to come before the committee and express themselves.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I move that the Council do now adjourn. (After a pause.) Mr. President, I will change my motion, as some of the members do not wish to adjourn at this time, moving that we go into Executive Committee, subject to the call of the Chair.

PAYMENT OF CADET NURSES' CORPS.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately pay the United States Cadet Nurses' Corps, now engaged at the Boston City Hospital as trainees.

Coun. RUSSO—Some time ago I presented a similar order, and it was brought to my attention that at the City Hospital we have, or rather had, approximately one hundred young girls who were taken in on this Cadet Nurses' Corps, and up to that time they had not received any money for their services. I have been informed, however, that after the order I presented the girls have been given $45 as a part payment towards their salaries. I am kind of confused and I cannot understand why, up to the present time, they have not received all the moneys that should be due to them. At that time, when they first joined this corps, it was understood by them that they were going to receive all the tuition expenses, expenses for their books and whatever paraphernalia they needed, yet, up to this time, they have not been paid. I understand that in various hospitals where they have this nursing cadet corps they have received everything that was coming to them, and yet here in the City Hospital they have not received the money they were supposed to receive. I am given also to understand that out of one hundred that originally joined in this corps there are now left only about forty-eight or fifty, from which I am given to understand that if these conditions are not changed, and changed immediately, we are going to lose all these girls; and the Lord only knows if we ever needed a nursing cadet corps at all now is the time we need them. I say we ought to be proud in the City of Boston, and especially in the City Hospital, to have these young girls who are interested in taking up nursing and, where we are short of nurses today, I think something ought to be done, and done immediately. I hope that his Honor the Mayor will bring this to the attention of the trustees to see that they are given the money, because most of these girls aren't millionaires, as we all know, and I hope this order will pass under suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted to take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair, at 2.28 p. m. The members reassembled and were called to order by President KERRIGAN at 4.08 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. HANLEY, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

Report on order (referred today) that the Mayor confer with Civil Service Commission relative to recent reclassification of all Welfare employees—recommending reference to Committee on Public Welfare.

The report was accepted and the question came on the reference of the order to the Committee on Public Welfare.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, I am not opposed to having this order referred to the Committee on Public Welfare. If that is the desire of the Council, I am willing to go along with them, but I do believe, regardless of any hearing we may have, we won't have any better hearing than what we had in the Executive today, having so many young ladies in there, vitally interested in this question, that work in the Welfare Department coming and expressing all their views on this matter. I don't know that we are going to get anywhere by referring this to the Committee on Public Welfare. However, if that is the intent of the Council I am very glad to go along with them, as I understand Councilors Chase, Bayley and myself will present a resolution.

Coun. TAYLOR—As I said in executive session, Mr. President, I hope this motion will prevail and that the chairman of the Committee on Public Welfare will be successful in obtaining the presence of some member of the Civil Service Commission. This is one more asinine act of a man who, in my opinion, was never qualified to hold a position as Civil Service Director. From the very moment he took office he always indicated to me by his actions and his decisions that he was unqualified. He was always far from being right in most all of the cases. Here is an instance now where he determines that he is going to reclassify all the girls in the Welfare Department in the City of Boston, and in order to determine that reclassification he has forwarded to them all applications to fill out. The girls who are perhaps more proficient than others, and perhaps write a better hand than others, who are able to put down in good English their qualifications are evidently those who will receive the best treatment from the Civil Service Commission; and those girls who are perhaps too modest in answering questions on the period of time they worked and the type of work they did, those girls, regardless of service in the City of Boston, find themselves now rated as junior clerks. As Mr. Murphy stated in executive chamber, there was an agreement between Mr. O'Hare and Civil Service Commissioner Lupien that there would be no such rating as "junior clerk," but once again the Civil Service Commissioner has violated his promise and has sent down a junior clerk rating. The most welcome news the city has received was the resignation of Mr. Lupien in September. It is too bad he didn't make it effective at once, because never in the history of Massachusetts have we had so many civil service problems as we have had in the state during the past years. It is an unfair method of handing out a rating. I say that the Civil Service Commissioners should be ashamed of themselves. The Public Welfare Department didn't want to do it this way, and didn't want to sanction its being done, but the Federal Government supervisor compelled them to make these classifications. If they want new classifications, for goodness sake do it in a fair and equitable manner, and don't compel girls who have been in the service perhaps fifteen years to be now admitted as junior clerks. I don't know what the future salary of these girls is going to be. They were given the promise when they took the job they would be paid starting at $900 up to $1,600, and receive a step-rate of $100 until their maximum of $1,600 was arrived at. I hope the Civil Service Commissioner does not think now he can violate the civil service rules and reduce that maximum salary. It is an injustice and is characteristic of the man who holds that position. And I hope, in fairness to these girls and women in the Welfare Department, the Civil Service Commissioner will either come down personally or send somebody down to represent him that knows what is going to take place. We didn't learn very much in executive session today.

Coun. KEENAN—As chairman of the Welfare Committee, I state that there will be a public hearing on Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Will you please see that everything is furnished for that?

President KERRIGAN—Yes.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I am in hearty accord with what the girls from the Welfare Department seek to obtain this afternoon. I don't want to see any injustice done to them, and I think probably some injustice has been done, according to the rates accorded them. I hope there will be a judge to see no injustice is done to anybody. I likewise wish to state that the Civil Service Director has been made the subject of controversy here this afternoon. There is a moral obligation in my own heart because of my dealings with him on one or two occasions, and I want to state that I have found him to be a man of high integrity, honest, and endeavoring to do everything according to the law, and I cannot help but pay tribute to Mr. Lupien this afternoon, although I realize it is definitely unpopular.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, this afternoon we had the great honor and distinction of listening to the cream of the Welfare Department, the young ladies who have taken competitive examinations for the purpose of procuring remuneration commensurate with the type of work they are compelled to do. Through discrimination, whether on the part of the Civil Service Commissioner or not, the future of these young girls is being jeopardized, as far as procuring remuneration through competitive examinations for promotion is concerned. As Councilor Taylor well said in executive session, this man, Mr. Lupien, has utilized his position as a dictator since the time of taking over the duty of Civil Service Commissioner. He has set up various rules that sometimes are arbitrary, and sometimes they bring bad results to those to whom they are applied. Today we listened to dissension among the ranks of those young girls who have control over certain reimbursements to our public welfare recipients, and I believe in a public hearing that these girls can attend on Thursday and the press can be invited. I am in favor of Councilor Coffey's original recommendation that this be given to the Public Welfare Committee.

The order was referred to the Public Welfare Committee.

CLASSIFICATION OF WELFARE DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES.

Coun. CHASE, BAYLEY and RUSSO offered the following:

Whereas, The Civil Service Commission is in the process of reclassifying the civil service ratings of Boston Welfare Department employees; and

Whereas, It is rumored that this reclassification will seriously interfere with the present rights and opportunities offered to these employees under their present civil service ratings; and

Whereas, The employees in the Boston Welfare Department have originally entered into a contract with the City of Boston which assured them of civil service protection as to their ratings, maximum salaries and opportunities for transfer; and

Whereas, The threatened change in the civil service classifications of Boston Welfare Department employees is not for their well-being and has caused serious concern and alarm as to their future opportunities; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in regular meeting assembled, hereby records itself as protesting any change by the Civil Service Commission which will unfairly and inequitably affect the present civil service salaries and opportunities which the employees of the Welfare Department at present enjoy; and be it further

Resolved, That his Honor the Mayor be requested by the City Council to immediately confer with the Civil Service Commission with a view to preserving the full rights enjoyed at the present time by the employees of the Welfare Department; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to his Honor the Mayor.

Coun. CAREY—I would like to amend that resolution, if possible, in the latter part, asking the Mayor to confer with the Civil Service Director, and have it read "together with a committee of these young ladies from the Welfare office." I don't think there is anybody who is any better qualified to come to the Civil Service Director and present their case than these young ladies who have appeared here today and aired their grievances. They might tell the Council or Mayor what to say and do to and with Mr. Lupien. I don't think anybody can present their case better than these young ladies, and I so move, that the resolution be amended to read, "together with a committee of employees" to confer with Mr. Lupien.

The amendment was adopted and the resolution as amended was passed.

Coun. CHASE, BAYLEY and RUSSO offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council hereby records itself as urging the Civil Service Commission to take every possible step to preserve all the rights enjoyed at the present time by the employees of the Boston Welfare Department; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Massachusetts Civil Service Commission.

The resolution was adopted.

INTEREST RATE ON JUDGMENT DEBT OF JAMES M. CURLEY.

Coun. HURLEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston favors any appropriate action which can be taken to adjust the interest rate on the judgment debt of James M. Curley to the City of Boston, so that that rate shall not be in excess of what the City of Boston is required to pay as an interest charge on current debt.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, this resolution is merely an expression of opinion and does not in any way attempt to go into the merits of the city's case against James M. Curley. You will recall that some few years back a judgment was obtained against that gentleman. Because of financial reverses, the gentleman, up to this point, has been unable to pay that judgment in full. Unfortunately, to add to his difficulties in this respect, interest at the rate of six per cent has been running against this judgment. I am informed that were it possible to reduce the accumulated interest charges, Mr. Curley would be better able to wipe out this debt. Now, I am not a spokesman for Mr. Curley, and I do not wish to argue as to whether or not the judgment obtained against him was a fair one, although I am sure that many people hold to the belief that this judgment was obtained under rather unusual circumstances. However, I believe that even Mr. Curley's most violent enemies will agree that the City of Boston is not desirous of making money at his expense; that the city is not a "Shylock"; and that the city should be satisfied if it obtains the amount of the judgment without any interest charges whatsoever. I understand that Mr. Curley is willing to pay a reasonable charge for interest, that is, the same interest we pay on a city when we float a loan, which is a good deal less than the six per cent Mr. Curley is charged with on the judgment debt. I am not sure just what can be done legally in this matter, but I am sure that we should do all in our power to have this matter wiped off the books, without undue hardship on the debtor.

Coun. MUCHNICK—It seems to me, particularly in view of the last statement made by Councilor Hurley, that this matter should be referred to the Executive or some other committee so that we can get an opinion from the Law Department or some committee to see what can be done.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, I heartily agree with what the councilor from Ward 8 (Coun. Hurley) has stated. However, I cannot see at this time how we can go along on this order when I have in mind that thousands of property owners in the City of Boston, who are paying taxes, if they don't pay their taxes in due time, are immediately charged six per cent, and in some cases they have charged them as high as eight per cent. Perhaps some individual who has been fortunate enough has been charged four per cent. I feel this order should be sent into a committee, to the Finance Committee I believe, where more study can be made of it, and I feel that no injustices should be done to any individuals while something is being rectified for others.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, this matter has been passed on by our duly constituted court and, if I understand it correctly, the court has decided the interest rate involved in this matter. Personally, I don't think it devolves upon the City Council to interfere with any judgment passed on by a court of justice. Our duly constituted courts have already made a decision on the matter, and for us to attempt to interfere or to make any recommendations which are contrary to the findings of a court, to my way of thinking is wrong. We were not elected for the purpose of interfering with the court's judgment, or endeavoring to recommend to the courts what their findings should be. A court of justice, a court which was created for the purpose of meting out justice, has already passed on this matter after duly considering all the evidence submitted. I personally do not want to be a party in any way to anything which would interfere with the judgment of the court. I personally will oppose this order.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, as a resident of Mr. Curley's Congressional district, and as one whose memory of Mr. Curley goes back to my early childhood, because I do have a retentive memory, I would like to be recorded here now in favor of any means by which, at the age of seventy, the plight in which he finds himself could be ameliorated. I won't attempt to speak for the councilor from Ward 4 (Coun. Chase), but I have to keep in mind the statements fresh in my mind that the councilor from Ward 4 has made. I was not prepared to speak in defense of Curley today, because I was not privy to the plan of the councilor from Ward 8 (Coun. Hurley), but, with the possible exception of the gentleman from Ward 4 and any other councilor who wants to be added to the exception and can so state his position, we are constantly attempting to circumvent and obstruct justice in the interest of some unfortunate. If this is an obstruction of justice or a circumvention of justice, I am all for it. It is a fair commentary that a man can put fifty years of his life into public service and find himself in the twilight years of his life badgered and ambushed and sniped at for the last farthing. It is all very well for the court to say arbitrarily that, in the opinion of the court, the defendant must pay back the principal plus the accumulated interest, and continue to pay interest until the very last cent is discharged. I am greatly in favor of the terms in the resolution, and I am perfectly certain that the councilor who produced the resolution had every hope and intention of winning some support for an expression of charitable concern over an old war horse that, even though Boston was good to him in his day, has been good in his day to Boston. And I take exception to cutting out a path from which there is no deviation when it applies to an old man who finds himself now so low in his finances that he has to auction off a home that was the home of himself and his first wife, and in which several of his children were born. I am borrowing upon memory which in some respects is faulty, but, regardless of all that, Boston is not a loan shark; Boston does not require—or should not, to put it more properly, require—that the man work his last days out when at any moment he may be called before his Maker, for no other purpose than to discharge an obligation imposed upon him ten years ago because of some digression from the straight and narrow path. I am not going into the question of the wisdom of the court's decision in its general finding of guilty. I do say that the court in the person of the judge never intended to work a hardship at the age of seventy on a man who found himself stripped of almost every material possession in life. I am not making this speech to curry favor with Curley's friends or supporters. It is the kind of treatment I might be asking for at the hands of generous Bostonians thirty years from now, when I reached the age of seventy, if I do, if I find myself in similar circumstances. It may be that there is nothing we can do, but if we can't better his position by any official act of ours, let us not get up in here and say that in spite of that you wouldn't be for it, anyway. I want to repeat again that 90 per cent of our existence is the obstruction and the circumvention of justice. I want to say that I am all for it in cases of this kind. I shall not ever take that statement back.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I have never been identified with the Curley political fortunes. I come from a district that never accords Mr. Curley a plurality in any contest, but I am heartily in accord with the subject matter of this order. My own sympathetic tendencies are such that when a man reaches the age of seventy and has not the money to pay his debts, I sympathize with him. My own feeling, from an economic standpoint, is this, that when the interest rate was assessed against Mr. Curley, the interest rates generally, in the banks and investment houses, were much higher than they are today. At the time the interest rate was assessed on the Curley debt to the city six per cent was not an exorbitant rate of interest; but six per cent today is more than you will get on any investment, except possibly the Boston Elevated stock. So I feel I would like to, and will, go along with this order, not because of any political devotion to the principal involved nor long-time allegiance to his cause, but I think human sympathy is inclined that way today. I think the six per cent rate of interest is absolutely exorbitant, and I am heartily in favor of this order.

Coun. HURLEY—I did not intend to talk any more on this order. I did not think any man in this chamber would say one single, solitary word against this resolution, and I really feel happy and thankful to the councilor from Ward 2 (Coun. Kinsella) who, with his magnificent speech and voice got up to help me. He probably is, I admit, a far more eloquent man than I will ever be. I was born in Ward 8 in Roxbury, and I was born and brought up, yes, under the influence probably of the Tammany Club, the Curley Club, and I will admit to the people of my district it was good at that time. Curley has done more for the people, starting with his political career, for the people of my district, than any man I know. I followed him all the way up, and was with him in every contest until the last contest for Mayor. I came in here not a bit friendly towards the present Mayor of Boston, which was probably selfish. I was coming in here to embarrass him, but, knowing the man downstairs as I do, I could not be against him. I found him an honorable, conscientious Bostonian, a real Mayor, Mayor Tobin. That is why in the last contest I was with Mayor Tobin. I think no one understands my position in the last contest any better than the former Mayor of Boston, our former Governor and now Congressman. Curley, like any of us, probably has made mistakes, but Curley has done so much good for the people, especially the poor of Boston, that any mistake Curley has made, his good will surely offset. Curley didn't ask me to do this. I have been watching him and reading about him and hearing about him, and, after what has been so ably stated by two councilors as to his present financial plight, I don't think you would care to think of your father or I of my father—God rest him—at the age of seventy in that position. Here is a man who has devoted his life to the good of this city, and certain individuals are putting him at the jail door. Yes, he is destitute, he is broke, and it amazes me to think of any human being standing up and saying that this Body should not try to help him in this late day. I am rather disappointed that people should use that talk against Curley today. Mr. President, why don't we suspend the rules? Let the legal department of the City of Boston, if it is possible, adjust this matter. I have asked the suspension of the rules and passage of this resolution, Mr. President.

Coun. COFFEY—in my opening remarks I will say that persons of the press can sit back and save their lead. Nothing that Coffey says appears in the papers, from now on. Hearts and flowers, that should be my opening remark. It was never so disgusted with anything that ever took place since I have been a member of this Body as I was to hear some of the members get up here. You would think that Curley was already being laid out, that he was going to be buried within a week or so. I don't think Curley is a sick man; I don't think he is finished. For forty years now, and I passed my forty-fifth birthday just a few days ago, I have been hearing that Curley is all washed up, and Curley is going to jail. I will be damned if he didn't come back and almost win the mayoralty of the city in the last contest, and in the year after that he comes back and spends about $15 and is elected to Congress. I don't think Curley needs any defense here. I don't think there is any necessity for this order. The city has seen fit in the past to make settlements with people that owe money to the city. They have done it on Young's Hotel building. If the city wants to make a settlement with Curley for moneys that he owes, they can go to the court and make a recommendation that he pay $2 a week, the same as Santosuosso is ordered to pay. And, if I am not mistaken, Santosuosso was a party to the same thing Curley was found guilty of, and that is what the judge saw fit to impose on Santosuosso. As far as Curley's home is concerned, we know he is selling it, and I think everybody within the hearing of my voice knows that Curley has not lived in the home for several years. He has lived on the Cape with the time when he went down to Washington to become a Congressman. But some people are going to make political talk out of this if they can. They say that Curley is all washed up. I say he is like hell. He will be hounded and Congressmen again, and, to prove it, why are they making him a delegate? Why pick Curley as one of twelve men in this state if he is going to be found guilty on evidence in a Washington suit and is going to be sent to jail, as talked around Boston? I have seen it too often around here, when they get up with hearts and flowers and make those speeches, and all the time capitalizing on the fact they might do some good on the following left in the Congressional district and that they might step into Curley's shoes. They will have to step into a pretty big pair of shoes to step into Curley's, whether Governor, Mayor or Congressman. As I stated in my opening remarks, I was never so disgusted in my life as I am now, when an order comes in here such as this. What can we do for Curley as members of the Boston City Council? We can't even summons a department head to appear before us. We can't summons the White Fund Trustees to appear before us. We tried to do it, and could not summons the members of the Finance Commission to come over here and appear before us, and they practically told us to go to hell, that they wouldn't come, in very plain English. And they never have come over, and there is nothing we could do about it. Now, what are we supposed to do? Go on record as stating that Curley is dead broke, that Curley is up against it, that Curley is a dying man who will be buried within the next few months? I have even heard people say he is on the verge of going insane. That is how low they have stooped. I have heard that remark around Boston, that he is completely washed up. I have heard the same thing about Coakley for the last ten years, and he always ends up somehow or other better than before. Coakley always comes out on top. Even though they impeach and prosecute him, they have never had the courage to take Coakley to court and fight it out with him. They have always quit. They have always condemned Coakley for the same reason that they have condemned Curley. You have heard talk that they have stolen this and that. But they still did good, if they have; they have shared about 90 per cent of every $100 with the poor of Boston. We know that to be an honest fact. We know they made work when work was hard to get. I know my salvation was due to the fact that I was friendly to Dan Coakley, and I got hundreds of people jobs when I was holding office—and those people have stuck by me, and after ten years out of office have made it possible for me to come back and win four out of the five last contests—only because I thought I could go to people like Coakley and Curley. I don't know what we can do on this. We can pass it or we can send it to some committee, and then what can we do? Send it down to the Law Department? They don't need any advice from us. If Curley is broke, they can go to the court and make a recommendation he pay so much a week, the same as Santosuosso. They say they can't attach his house, that it is so heavily mortgaged that by the time they get through the city will be money out. I don't know how the hell this thing came up, but I think it is disgusting we should have anything like this brought before this Body.

Coun. FISH—Mr. President, I am wondering if there isn't quite a bit of political propaganda in this particular resolution. We are trying to help a man and we know we haven't any power to do it. I am wondering if this isn't something put out before the people of Boston in the event that this man comes back again as often as he has, and for fear he might come back again they want to get out to the people of Boston that he is dead, flat broke, and wouldn't have a chance to come back financially to conduct another campaign. I wonder if that is the motive, to put Curley down farther than he is, rather than to help him. I doubt if they will succeed in that, because if the man is without one penny in his pocket he has left so many friends that if he comes before the public he won't need money. His friends, as they always have, will rally to his support. I am wondering if this propaganda is detrimental to Curley and put in for that reason, rather than to help a seventy-year-old man.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, this is a matter which the Massachusetts courts have already made a decision on, and it is not a matter which comes within the province of the City Council. It is a matter which has been adjudicated and which is entirely up to the Law Department and the courts to handle. I see no reason why the Boston City Council should take part in recommending one way or another or interfering in one way or another in a matter of this kind. It is true this matter affects a former Mayor of the City of Boston, a former Governor of the Commonwealth, but I submit to you, sir, that merely because he was a former Mayor of Boston and a former Governor of the Commonwealth the City of Boston should not be any more lenient to that gentleman than they should to any other person whom they hold a judgment against. There are hundreds and hundreds of cases that the City of Boston receives judgment on, and why should the City of Boston be lenient with Curley any more than any one else? Why should the Boston City Council come to the defense of Curley any more than they would to any other person who has done something the law calls for judgment against? I can't conceive of any reason why we should interfere. I have no brief against Curley. The gentleman is contrary to my political beliefs. I don't approve of what he has done in the past. I am not going to condemn the man, however. Nevertheless, I still think it is not a matter within our province. We should not interfere with a judgment rendered by the court, a judgment found on evidence, a judgment which the court has given every consideration and weight to. That is the reason why the courts are in existence, to render judgments, to render justice. We are not the authority for persons to come to ask for justice. The courts are constituted for that, and they have made a judgment founded on evidence, which to my way of thinking indicates that James Michael Curley must have done something which is wrong, because, if that was not so, why was the judgment issued against the gentleman? Now, sir, we will assume that this judgment applied to some ordinary citizen who committed a wrong against the City of Boston, so much so that the courts rendered a judgment in favor of the City of Boston. Would we as members of the City Council come to the defense of some stranger? Isn't it entirely out of our jurisdiction to be meddling with affairs such as this? The mere fact that it is former Mayor Curley should not cause us to vote favorably on this order. To my way of thinking this matter should be laid on the table, or it should be defeated, because it is entirely outside of our jurisdiction. We were not elected for the purpose of telling the Law Department to enter into negotiations with the courts on a matter such as this. I see no reason, if some person committed a tort against the city and a judgment was rendered against that person, why the City Council should interfere. I see no reason why we should interfere in this present matter because the gentleman is the former Mayor of Boston. He is in no better category than any other person who owes a judgment to the City of Boston. If he has committed a wrong, and apparently he has because the courts have so found, then, sir, he should accept the penalty and we, the members of the Boston City Council, should not, indirectly or directly, attempt to interfere with the court's judgment.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, that is why I spoke on this matter when I first got up. As one of the constituents of Mr. Curley, and as one who has contributed to his welfare politically, I still feel that we should not take any steps in order to favor one and leave all the others out. I am not going to interfere, in so far as the courts have found, although I believe that the Corporation Counsel has the power to make any adjustment on any bill which is owed to the City of Boston by presenting the case to the courts, if they haven't got that power. But I cannot help but be reminded of many of my constituents who are taxpayers of the City of Boston, and many of them are seventy years of age or even older, and still they have been unable to meet their obligations in so far as taxes are concerned, and interest has been added upon those taxes and nothing could be done about those cases. That is why I say this matter should be referred to a committee where a study can be made to see if something can be done, not only on Mr. Curley's case, but on all cases of the people of the City of Boston that owe money to the city. I hope, Mr. President, that you will send this order to some proper committee.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, I don't want to be contentious about this, but I find myself put in a peculiar position because of certain statements made here today, and I would like to straighten the matter out, in all honesty and sincerity, with those who have a doubt. Now, it was freely stated here at the outset, both in the reading of the resolution and in Councilor Hurley's remarks and my subsequent remarks, that we could do nothing outside of a simple expression of opinion. Boston ought to try to do something. I have it on excellent authority that the only thing that can be done is for his attorney to go into a court of competent jurisdiction to deal with his present circumstances, which, of course, will be scrutinized very closely, and ask for setback on the interest due on the principal. As I understand, Mr. Curley is fully competent and able to pay at this moment a sum sufficient to meet the original judgment, of something like $30,000, but the accumulated interest over ten years' time—I did discuss this with an official that I will afterwards identify—over a period of time has run it up to $55,000. Now, obviously that is a lot of money for a man who has been in trouble and hot water all his life and has just gone through borrowing for his last contest in three major campaigns, each of which resulted in the loss to him not only of the office but of certain things that accrued to him—if you know what I mean. If Mr. Curley, as Mr. Chase suggested, should be properly punished, I am in complete accord with that theory, but let me give you a parallel instance that even Mr. Chase might accept. We have laws on the books of the Commonwealth so that a man found guilty of, for instance, second degree murder shall be sentenced to a period of life, but after a period of fifteen, eighteen or twenty years in many instances, with long years ahead of him, the balance of the time is abated to him. That is what we are asking by comparison, an abatement—an abatement of the punishment imposed on him for having taken a certain specified amount of money, $30,000—no one says he should not pay it in whole or in part, but people do feel inclined to feel that to go along and almost double that amount by interest charges is putting an unbearable burden on the gentleman. As far as Curley, the former Mayor, Governor or present Congressman is concerned, never in my life have I voted for him, and I had an intense dislike of James M. Curley that dated back to something when I was only fourteen years old, that appeared in the headlines and, believe it or not, gentlemen, for all of those years I have been rabidly anti-Curley. Only in this last mayoralty contest he called me to his office in the Park Square Building. If you recall, I was a candidate for the office I now hold, and he said, "If you will go along with me, we will make a lot of money," and I said, "I can't do that because Mr. Tobin has just given me a couple of raises for people in the hospital service, and I would be an ingrate to turn against him, and I am not going in on your coat tails." And he said, "By God, I wish some of these people had talked to me like that thirty years ago; I would be better off today." He shook hands with me, and I walked out. I didn't vote for him for Governor. I have no ax to grind, or no hearts and flowers, but I have been anticipating the day when an expression of concern on the part of the Boston City Council, everyone of us beholden to the people of Boston for what we hold politically, might be the very thing that would help me in the fashion in which I expect an expression of sympathy here today to help the gentleman in question. One further word and I am done, and it concerns the statement of Councilor Fish that very likely his friends, if he were really as badly off as some implications make it appear, would come to his rescue. I am stunned that any man with the experience in political life that Councilor Fish has would believe that you hold to you after you are out the people that were with you while you were in. There is no question about it. Thousands in this city are immeasurably better off because of the contact with James M. Curley, direct or through some one who had influence with him. Undoubtedly big business houses of today profited at his hands. Contractors today are still doing city business that they got through the start under Curley. In all deadly seriousness, could you get fifty to contribute $1,000 apiece—could you get $1,000 from fifty people in Boston to lay down in the treasurer's office and say, "That liquidates your claim against James M. Curley"? There isn't a sensible man in this Body that will say that Curley, wonder man and miracle worker that he was always called, can command that type of affection now that he cannot produce for them.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, the gentleman from Charlestown said that even criminals with time running against them have had it abated even though judgment has been running against them. I submit to you, sir, that any abatement of time for a criminal is granted through the jurisdiction of the Parole Board, a duly constituted board for that purpose. Again I reiterate that it is not within the province of the Boston City Council to be passing on judgments of the court and urging that those judgments should be reduced as a matter of fairness to the defendant. That is not our business, Mr. President. I hope, sir, that the members of your Body before voting on this matter will cast aside the thought that this involves a former Mayor of the City of Boston or a former Governor of the State of Massachusetts, one James M. Curley, and look at it with neutral eyes, look at it in the same respect they would have if it were a fellow by the name of Rothchild or a man by the name of Murphy, or Henderson, or some other stranger who did some wrong to the city and was now being called on by the court to make reparation. Look at it with neutral eyes and forget it involves James M. Curley. And I say to you, sir, if you do, you will see my argument more clearly. It is not a function which we are supposed to interfere with, Mr. President. It is something which is entirely out of our jurisdiction, but I hope, sir, that members of this Council will fully appreciate when they cast their vote on this matter that this is something which the courts of Massachusetts have already adjudicated. They have felt that the former Mayor of Boston has done a wrong to the citizens and that he should now be called on to pay for it, and we are not the ones to urge otherwise, because we have not had the evidence before us. I trust, sir, you will kill the order.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I might say that it gets worse as it goes along because it is getting more publicity. I have been in the opposite position from the councilor from Ward 2 (Coun. Kinsella). I have always been with James M. Curley. On the last contest he called me in, but he didn't tell me we were going to make a lot of money together. He told me the City of Boston was dead, was broke. He didn't indicate in any way we were going to make two cents. I think I was the only elected officeholder that was at the ball at the time, and I announced his candidacy and he said nothing to me at the time he was going to be candidate for Mayor. I don't think Mr. Curley wants any sympathy from the members of the Boston City Council, and I so move now, that the order be tabled.

The question came on the motion to table the order, and the Chair being in doubt asked for a show of hands.

Coun. COFFEY—I ask for a roll call.

President KERRIGAN—The question comes on the motion to lay on the table.

The roll was called, and the motion to lay on the table was defeated, yeas 5, nays 11:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Muchnick, Russo—5.

Nays—Coun. Feeney, Fish, Hannon, Hurley, Keenan, Kerrigan, McCormack, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—11.

Coun. COFFEY—I move that the order be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. MUCHNICK—I think there is a pending motion that it be referred to the Executive Committee.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on reference to the Committee on Rules. The Chair doubts the vote and will call for a roll call.

The roll was called on the motion to refer to the Committee on Rules, which was lost, yeas 9, nays 9:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Coffey, Fish, Hannon, Keenan, Muchnick, Russo—9.

Nays—Coun. Feeney, Hurley, Kerrigan, Kinsella, McCormack, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—9.

Coun. COFFEY—I now move that this order be referred to the Committee on Bags and Baggage.

President KERRIGAN—The motion is out of order.

Coun. MUCHNICK—I move the matter be referred to the next Executive Committee.

President KERRIGAN—All those in favor say aye.

Coun. MUCHNICK—I ask for a roll call. The roll was called, and the motion to refer to the Executive Committee was lost, yeas 8, nays 10:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Feeney, Fish, Keenan, Muchnick, Russo—8.

Nays—Coun. Coffey, Hannon, Hurley, Kerrigan, Kinsella, McCormack, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—10.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on the adoption of the resolution.

The roll was called, and the resolution was passed, yeas 15, nays 3:

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Feeney, Fish, Hannon, Hurley, Keenan, Kerrigan, Kinsella, McCormack, Russo, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—15.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Muchnick—3.

CURTAILMENT OF RAILROAD SERVICE IN DORCHESTER.

Coun. HANNON, KELLY and FEENEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston, in meeting assembled, hereby records itself as strenuously opposed to any curtailment of service on the Dorchester Branch of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

Coun. HANNON—The paper here carries the news that on February 23 there is to be a public hearing on the question of abandonment of passenger service on the Dorchester Branch of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. This is merely an order that the Council record itself as opposed to any curtailment of service at the present time.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SALARIES IN POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. HANNON, KELLY and FISH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor direct the Police Commissioner and the Fire Commissioner to provide that in the future new members of their respective departments shall reach their maximum salary within three years, said maximum salary to be at least twenty-five hundred ($2,500) dollars per year.

Coun. HANNON—For the last couple of years there have been rumors around of more or less strength that the police and firemen were going to be provided ample compensation. As yet this has not been brought about. There is no doubt about it, the men of the armed forces or the men of the city's armed forces, the men in uniform of policemen or firemen, are underpaid when we compare their salaries with salaries of men doing like work in other municipalities. Furthermore, when we called men to the job of policeman or fireman we asked them to start in at a paltry $1,800 a year, and it is five years before a man reaches his maximum. He can go out on other jobs, like the Elevated Railway, and inside of a year make $50 or $60 a week. I think it is about time we paid our uniformed employees of the city adequate compensation. I move suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

Coun. FISH—I would just like to add one thought to that, that I think within even six months' time, or we could even put it as high as possibly two years, the policemen and the firemen reach their maximum of efficiency. And I think, seeing that they get their maximum pay within three years, that is allowing ample time.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—May we have the clerk read the order again?

(The order was read again.)

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I believe that the councilors are referring to all members of both departments and not just new members coming in, as the order was worded.

Coun. HANNON—I think my brother, with his knowledge of English and his knowledge of city departments, will comprehend fully that if the new men got $2,500 the old will get just as much.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I think the gentleman from Dorchester should so word the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SALE OF SCRAP METAL BY NAVY DEPARTMENT.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following: Resolved, That the Boston City Council is opposed to the sale of scrap metals by the Navy Department, for profit to anyone, of scrap metals donated by the public.

Coun. KINSELLA—I just want to be brief, because I do think some of the boys won't accept this as city business. It is only an expression of opinion, and is inspired by a circular I received of the sale at public auction at the Navy Yard at ten o'clock this morning—of the sale of scrap metal that everybody in Boston went to some pains to donate. I have with this the opinion of a man engaged in the scrap salvage work for a good many years, and he says, in part: "This material is reclaimed, and sorted, and prepared for public sale by sealed bids and public auctions." Do you all remember two years ago last summer, just prior to the general state elections, when you couldn't get down School street any time in the morning or afternoon because the old broken-down conveyances were carrying old scrap metal, much of it of great value and use to people who went through their homes to donate it. We find now they have such a surplus of it that they can afford to advertise the sale of some of that metal. I want to say in conjunction with my opposition, my personal opposition, to this sort of procedure, that a parallel instance in my experience has been the payment of administrative expenses out of community fund. I wanted every dime to go to institutions for which it was intended. I took the same stand in this matter. Here is stuff here that any one of you might recognize as having come from your own home, beds and bed springs, old automobile parts, pipe, copper wire, and so forth, and now they are going to sell it off, if I know anything about the way they operate, at little or nothing to concerns in the scrap metal business that, in many cases, have some member of that company in the salvage corps. You can well imagine how much the company is going to pay, dealing now with a Navy officer who holds the rank of salvage officer, dealing with a company from which he sprung. It is just another one of the stupid and unforgivable requests they have made of the people over the course of these war years. Perhaps you won't accept it as city business, but it will enlighten you a little bit as to just what use is made of your sacrifices. Thank you.

Coun. CAREY—I ask that the order be read again.

(The order was read again.) Coun. CAREY—I personally feel that this is definitely city business, because we are not able to get our streets clean nowadays because, not only is the equipment in the Public Works Department being used, but I believe in the Park Department all the men as well as being used to collect all salvage materials, scrap metals, paper, or whatever might go to further the war effort. Of course this is city business. I think the councilor from Ward 2 (Coun. Kinsella) is to be congratulated, and I would like to amend the resolution by asking that copies of it be sent post haste to every member of Congress from the State of Massachusetts and to the two Senators down there. If we are going to permit the sale of scrap metals at a time when we are being exhorted to still save them, it is about time we found out what is going on, and what is rotten in Denmark.

Coun. KINSELLA—Just a word to clarify Councilor Carey's good intention. I won't withhold any information, but on a piece of paper in the possession of the stenographer there is something about what is known as battle damage, as I understand, thrown in with this accumulated scrap, processed, and sorted for grade and material, and then sent off, after public sale,—sent off to the processing mills. It is obvious when that comes back again the Government has paid through the nose a thousand times over for the junk that they could sell direct to the mill and eliminate the immense profit of the middleman. I believe the first sheet of my statement, or that statement sent to me, contains something to that effect.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Jones in reimbursement for amount of execution issued against him on account of his acts as operator of a motor vehicle belonging to the Police Department, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

The reports were accepted and the orders were passed.

BURIAL PLOT IN EAST BOSTON FOR DECEASED VETERANS.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following: Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a burial plot about 100 feet by 100 feet in or adjacent to the cemetery now owned by the City of Boston on Bennington street, East Boston, between Harmony and Curtis streets, for the purpose of burying deceased veterans who are residents of the district and who are so unfortunate as to be left without any near kin to look after their welfare.

Coun. COFFEY—I have a letter here from the East Boston Veterans Council that I would like to have incorporated in the record.

The letter submitted was as follows:

East Boston Veterans Council,
East Boston,

February 14, 1944.

Councilor James S. Coffey, Council Chamber, City Hall, Boston.

Dear Councilor and Comrade,—At a regular meeting held by the East Boston Veterans Council on Thursday evening, February 10, 1944, a motion was introduced by Delegate Thomas E. Barry and unanimously carried to petition the City of Boston, through its City Council, James S. Coffey, for a burial plot 100 feet by 100 feet to be laid out in or adjacent to the cemetery owned by the City of Boston located on Bennington street, between Harmony and Curtis streets, for the purpose of burying deceased veterans who are residents of the district and who are so unfortunate as to be left without any near of kin to look after their welfare.

The veterans of the district are cognizant of the fact that the City of Boston now does provide for the burial of these veterans at Mount Hope Cemetery, but it is their desire that in some specific cases wherein the veteran has been a resident of the district and has rendered valuable service both to the armed forces and to the district that said veteran will be honored by the local veteran organizations who will assume the responsibility of burying him in the local plot in such cases where there are no near to kin.

Yours in Comradeship,
JOHN L. MCCARTHY, Commander.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EXTENSION OF TENEAN BEACH.

Coun. FISH offered the following: Ordered, That the City Planning Board be directed, through his Honor the Mayor, to include in their planning and consideration of post-war projects the extension of Tenean Beach northward along the waterfront to the Tenean Creek outlet at Freeport street, the major portion of property involved being the property of the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all parcels of property adjacent to and in the immediate vicinity of Tenean Beach now in the possession of our Real Estate Department or any other department of the City of Boston be transferred to the Park Department for the purpose of enlarging Tenean Beach.

Coun. FISH—That is just a long way of saying that I am going to oppose the exploiting of the people of Dorchester by certain promoters who are trying to grab a piece of the land owned by the City of Boston at Tenean Beach for private gain. If there is anybody going to gain by that land, the people of Dorchester are all going to gain by it by the expansion of the beach. This is just a warning to certain individuals who are not far from this floor that they might as well drop the idea of making a land grab at Tenean Beach, whether it be for an amusement place, dance hall, or whether they seek a liquor license, or whatever they seek, because we in Dorchester are just going to rise up in arms to prevent the sale of that land for any private gain.

The orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

The order laid over at the meeting of Jan. 17, 1944, amending Section 80. of the rules, relative to requirements for certain certificates of qualification, was taken up and passed.

COMMENDATION OF TWO SCHOOLBOYS FOR HEROISM

Mr. Ward: In these days when there is a great deal of talk, and I don't deny that much of it is justifiable, about Juvenile Delinquency, it is refreshing to have called to our attention an instance whereby two of our Boston school children proved themselves to be outstanding American citizens.

I refer to one Robert Gomes, 13 years of age, of 15 Rose Street, an eighth grade pupil in the Abraham Lincoln School, and his friend, George Sylvestro, also 13 years old, of 365 Athens Street, South Boston, a pupil in the Bigelow School. These boys risked their own lives in saving the life of a fellow human being early last summer, and I had the pleasure of awarding a plaque of meritorious commendation from the Massachusetts Humane Society to one of these boys, Robert Gomes, at an assembly in the Abraham Lincoln School. I understand a similar award has been made to George Sylvestro. The record of the accomplishment of these boys is, in my opinion, worthy of being spread upon the records of the Boston School Committee. I quote from a letter from the Police Department to Mr. Cunningham, the Principal of the Abraham Lincoln School:

The rescue took place July 1, 1943, in the South Bay Channel near the Dover Street Bridge when one Gregor McDonald, 41 years of age, fell asleep on the underpinning of the bridge structure and rolled off into the water. He, being unable to swim, immediately cried for help. Police and many civilians rushed to the bridge and an officer threw a rope which the victim grabbed and clung to, but due to the shock he was rapidly losing his strength. At this time the two boys, who had been playing on a home-made raft on the further side of the channel and had heard the victim's cry for help, paddled towards the man. Seeing his weakened condition, they both dove from their raft into the water, seized the man, pushed him towards the raft and after some difficulty succeeded in getting the man up onto the raft, where they held him until the harbor police boat arrived on the scene and completed the rescue. The man revived at the City Hospital after treatment. Both boys immediately went their way after the police boat took over the situation.

The officers and the civilians present spoke in the highest praise of the cool and persistent efforts of these two boys who effected this rescue with utter disregard to any danger to themselves.

Mr. Ward continuing: I think, gentlemen, you will concur in evaluating this instance as an outstanding example of bravery. Here are two boys of whom we should be proud. I move that a transcript of what happened on that day last July be spread upon the records, and that copies of the same be sent to the boys' parents.

The motion passed.

PROPOSED NAMING OF SCHOOL IN MEMORY OF JOSEPH P. MANNING

Mr. Norton: Within the last week we have lost an outstanding Bostonian, the late Joseph P. Manning, for sixty-seven years a business man in Boston, rather an unprecedented record. He was a man who gave much time to public service in Boston. On any scale of measurement he was an outstanding citizen.

I would respectfully request that the Board of Superintendents consider the advisability at some time of naming a school for Mr. Manning.

Chairman: I am sure the Board of Superintendents will deal with the request of Mr. Norton.

Mr. Ward: I concur in what Mr. Norton says. I have known Mr. Manning since I was a young boy, and I know he was one of Boston's outstanding citizens.

However, the responsibility for naming a building is that of the School Committee rather than the Board of Superintendents, and I would respectfully suggest that the Board of Superintendents report to the School Committee what schools would be available to be known as the Joseph P. Manning School.

Mr. Norton: In the past our Committee, out of kindness of heart, has named schools for distinguished citizens and on at least one occasion has had to reverse its action. Therefore, I am asking that this be done right and that the Board of Superintendents come in with a recommendation.

The matter was thereupon referred to the Board of Superintendents.

FUNDS FOR HOT LUNCHES AND MILK

Mr. Norton: With reference to the matter of hot lunches and milk, I am informed that there is a Federal official by the name of Mr. John Sullivan, in Room 404, Park Square Building, whose agency may be in a position to help us on these matters. I would suggest that the Superintendent have somebody contact Mr. Sullivan and report back to this Committee on both the milk and the hot lunches. I am not sure just what this Federal agency has to offer, but I understand under certain conditions they might be able to help us.

Chairman: Will you comply with that, Mr. Superintendent?

Mr. Norton: On that matter, we might have considered the suggestion brought in some weeks ago by a member of this Board having to do with the work of Dr. Dura-Louise Cockrell, Assistant Regional Supervisor, War Public Services.

Superintendent: I started on that some time ago and have been in touch with Dr. Cockrell. Her clerk called me up today saying that she would not be in this week.

At the time this was brought to our attention there was a possibility of aid from this source. The office force has informed me, however, that thus far they have not undertaken any food project of the kind that we have in mind. The moneys that they have disbursed under the Lanham Act have been for children whose mothers were employed. We have been told that there might be a possibility of further Federal money.

Dr. Cockrell will get in touch with me as soon as she returns.

Mr. Norton: If the Federal Government has money to expend for the benefit of our children we should know about it and, if possible, accept it.

Superintendent: This same lady has given us what will amount to a reduction in the cost of our child care centers. At first they were established on a 50-50 basis and now they are on a 60-40 basis and there is some prospect of further help.

NEWS LETTER FOR TEACHERS IN MILITARY SERVICE

Mr. White: Is there any progress to report on the news letter that was proposed at a recent conference?

Superintendent: I have had a talk with Mr. Heffernan today and I gave him a brief description of the suggestion that was made and have asked him to bring in a proposed plan and an estimate of the cost. They are working on that.

PUPIL ATTENDANCE AT COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Mr. Norton: For the purpose of the record, I would like to state that Robert Kelson, a student at Boston Latin School, has been the guest of the Committee this evening, and we invite other young folks in the system to come up to our meetings. Our school system is the children's school system and they may be able to help us to make it a better system.

At the suggestion of the Chair, the gavel was turned over to the young man for a few minutes.

Mr. Norton: Robert Kelson is a newsboy at Park Street and he will be up here again at the next meeting.

The Committee adjourned.

Attest:

LOUISE KANE,
Secretary.

BUILDINGS RAZED.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Building Commissioner to raze the following structures as fire menaces or nuisances:

To vacate the building at 615 and 617 Columbia road, Ward 7, as the building is not provided with exits satisfactory to the commissioner.

To vacate the building at 91 Oak street, Ward 3, as the said building is in an unsafe and dangerous condition.

Due to the structurally unsafe condition of the building at 213 West Second street, Ward 6, owned by one John White, to enter the premises and remove the building.

Due to the structurally unsafe condition of the building at 9 Fellows street, Ward 8, to enter the premises and remove the building.

Due to the structurally unsafe condition of the building at 1 Noanet street, Ward 3, to enter the premises and remove the building.

Due to the structurally unsafe condition of the building at 63 Forest street, Ward 8, to enter the premises and remove the building.

On December 10, 1943, a supervisor of construction visited the site of the demolition operations at 7 and 9 Yeoman street, 11 Yeoman street, 11 Yeoman street, rear, Ward 8, and found work was being performed in an unsafe and dangerous manner, the wrecker having removed the walls of third story with roof still in place. Stop orders were served on the owner and wrecker with instructions that razing operations could not be resumed by the wrecker employed by the owner as his work procedure was not in accordance with Building Department regulations established under the Boston Building Code, and methods used by him showed conclusively that he was not qualified to perform such work within the provisions of special license granted to him by the Board of Examiners.

To provide for the safety of the public, the New England Building Wrecking Company, 31 State street, Boston, was ordered to enter the premises and remove the buildings.

Work has been completed in accordance with the regulations of the Boston Building Department and a bill in the amount of $775, submitted for work performed has been approved.

On January 25, 1944, the district building inspector reported that the building at 221 Saratoga street, Ward 1, was in such an unsafe condition as to constitute a menace, and that the interior of the building was torn apart by trespassers to such an extent as to warrant emergency action by this department.

Therefore, for the safety of the public, the New England Building Wrecking Company, 31 State street, Boston, was ordered to enter the premises and remove the building.

Demolition operations have been completed in accordance with the regulations of the Boston Building Department, and a bill, in the amount of $200, submitted to this department for work performed has been approved.

On January 25, 1944, the district building inspector reported that the rear piazza of 219 Saratoga street, Ward 1, had been partly removed, leaving the third floor and roof of piazza hanging without support and in danger of falling to the yard. He further reported that the main building was in an unsafe condition and that the interior of the structure had been torn apart by trespassers.

MERCHANT SHIP PRODUCTION.

Merchant vessels built in the United States in 1943 numbered 1,896 with a total deadweight tonnage of 19,239,626, according to a report by Admiral Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission and administrator of the War Shipping Administration. Of these, 208, aggregating 2,044,238 deadweight tons, were completed in December. Of the 1943 production, 1,238 vessels were Liberty ships; 70 C-1 cargo ships, 53 C-2 cargo ships; 39 C-3 cargo ships; 5 C-4 cargo ships; 167 tankers; 28 coastal tankers; 57 Liberty tankers; 3 passenger-cargo vessels; 33 coastal cargo ships, including two concrete ships; 16 ore carriers; 27 concrete barges; 46 seagoing tugs; 114 military types, not transports; 53 special types and a considerable number of smaller types, including tugs, barges, etc. Late in 1943, Admiral Land said 2,900 ships were under control of the War Shipping Administration, operated by some 76 general agents of the W. S. A.

PORT STORAGE IMPORT ORDER.

The Office of Defense Transportation, in an amendment to its general order No. 16, has instituted a permit system for acceptance by railroads or truckers of shipments of domestic or import freight to specified port areas for storage for the account of a government agency in a public warehouse in such area. Growing volume of imports, due to decline in ship losses, the O. D. T. said, was putting added strain on port storage facilities, thus making the institution of a permit system necessary.

The application for the port storage forwarding permit the order says, must be made by the government agency for whose account the freight is to be stored, in accordance with procedures prescribed by the director of the division of storage of the O. D. T., in an administrative order.

The following port areas were named in the order: Baltimore, Bellingham, Wash., Boston, Camden, Everett, Wash., Galveston, Houston, Jacksonville, Los Angeles, Mobile, New Orleans, Newport News, New York, Norfolk, Oakland, Cal., Olympia, Wash., Pensacola, Philadelphia, Portland Ore., Portsmouth, Va., Richmond, Cal., San Francisco, Savannah, Seattle, Tacoma, Tampa, Vancouver.

SHIPBUILDING IN 1943.

In 1943 the privately operated shipyards of America came up with another miracle, shattering all world records, producing merchant shipping of approximately 19,000,000 deadweight tons, a volume equal to one fifth of total world shipping at the outbreak of the war and about two and a half times the tonnage built in 1942. Private shipyards also built about 90 per cent of all of the new U. S. Navy ships built during the year. If the man-hours utilized in building naval ships could be translated into merchant ships, the combined volume would be in excess of 40,000,000 deadweight tons. Privately operated ship repair yards repaired and made seaworthy about 23,000 ships in all classes during the year. Total employment generated by the industry is approximately 3,000,000. Private yard and Navy yard 1943 pay rolls, at the prevailing wage rates, are more than $4,300,000,000 paid to labor and shared by almost every state.

TRANSPORTATION STATISTICS.

A recent analysis of surface transportation by John A. Beeler, transit engineer and consultant, reveals noteworthy performance by trolley coaches in comparison to other public transportation vehicles. Comparison of results of operation of trolley coaches with those of street cars on four different lines in as many different cities, shows, according to Beeler, that trolley coaches are eight times as good.

The analysis shows that in 1942, 25,449 street cars carried 5,171,000,000 revenue passengers; 3,363 trolley coaches carried 765,000,000 and 42,458 motor coaches carried 5,427,000,000 revenue passengers; the average fare being 6.66 cents, 6.89 cents and 6.72 cents, respectively; and the revenues being $344,600,000, $52,700,000 and $365,000,000, respectively. Average revenue passengers per street car was 203,191; per trolley coach 227,475; and per motor coach 127,820.

MONEY IN CIRCULATION.

Money in circulation in the United States reached a new national high of $19,250,000,000 in October, 1943. This new peak for money in circulation represents an increase of $410,000,000 over September, 1943, the previous high.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

BOARD OF REAL ESTATE COMMISSIONERS.

BOSTON, February 29, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Your permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without advertising, to the Rugo Construction Company of Boston, Mass., for the approximate sum of $14,878.81.

This contract is for the alterations, repairs and additions to an area known as No. 451 to No. 496, inclusive, containing approximately 10,000 square feet, on the fourth floor of the National War Agencies Building (formerly the Houghton and Dutton building) on Beacon, Tremont and Somerset streets, Boston. This area will be used to house the Boston Veterans' Reception and Information Centre.

It would be for the best interest of the city that your permission for this request be granted, for the following reasons:

(1) Time is of the essence because, daily, hundreds of men are being discharged from the armed services who will be aided by the establishment of the new bureau. Any unnecessary delay would deny many World War II veterans of this greatly needed convenience.

(2) Economically, it is for the best interests of the city because Rugo Construction Company will use the same unit prices submitted in March, 1943, which, in my opinion, would be hard to duplicate because of increased costs during the past year.

Also, inasmuch as this contractor is still on the premises and the new work is similar to the work already performed, it would greatly expedite matters by allowing Rugo Construction Company to do this additional work.

Very truly yours,

DANIEL M. DRISCOLL,
Chairman.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, February 1, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—At various intervals throughout the year it becomes necessary to purchase repair parts on an emergency basis for the American La France fire apparatus in use by the Fire Department, and on many occasions such repair parts—when the central maintenance system of the Fire Department is anticipating major repairs on several pieces of apparatus—exceed the sum of $1,000 and are subject to publicly advertising for bids and the subsequent public opening, awarding and drawing up of formal contracts.

Since these parts are of special manufacture and can be obtained only from the American LaFrance Foamite Corporation and since they are usually purchased on an emergency basis, we have found that the formality of publicly advertising for bids serves no purpose in so far as competitive prices are concerned and results only in a delay in obtaining the equipment with the inevitable slackening of efficiency of the fire apparatus in question.

Your permission is respectfully requested, therefore, to obtain these parts as they are requisitioned for by the Fire Department, dispensing with public advertisement and formal contracts for the year ending December 31, 1944.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, February 1, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without public advertisement, for bids to the George H. Parker Grain Company for furnishing the following to Deer Island during the month of December, 1943:

Twenty tons Beacon Broiler Ration at $79.80 per ton; five tons Beacon Scratch Feed at $65.90 per ton; two tons Beacon Complete Starter Ration at $87.40 per ton.

At the time bids were publicly advertised for December requirements, Deer Island believed that there was on hand sufficient poultry feed for its December requirements. However, this supply was exhausted during the middle of the month and the George H. Parker Grain Company, the lowest bidder on this item for January requirements, agreed to deliver the poultry feed needed at January prices.

The approximate amount of the contract will be $2,106.30, less a cash discount of $42, making a net total of $2,052.30.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, February 21, 1944.

Regular meeting of the City Council in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President KERRIGAN in the chair. Absent, Coun. Scannell.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

ENLARGEMENT OF TENEAN BEACH.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 15, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith, without my signature and disapproved, the order of the City Council of February 14, 1944, reading as follows: "Ordered, That all parcels of property adjacent to and in the immediate vicinity of Tenean Beach now in the possession of our Real Estate Department or any other department of the City of Boston be transferred to the Park Department for the purpose of enlarging Tenean Beach."

Whatever merit there may be in the proposal to extend Tenean Beach, it is obvious that an order purporting to transfer to the Park Department all land of the city adjacent to, and in the immediate vicinity of Tenean Beach is so indefinite in its terms as not to warrant serious consideration.

Any order dealing with the custody of city land should carry with it a description sufficiently detailed to identify it without ambiguity.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

APPROPRIATION FOR PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, February 18, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The inclosed communication from the chairman of the Park Commission is submitted in answer to your order of January 17 requesting an appropriation of $500,000 for playground equipment.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, February 16, 1944.
W. J. Doyle,
City Clerk.

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of an order from the City Council that his Honor the Mayor be requested to submit to the City Council the sum of five hundred thousand dollars to be expended under the direction of the Park Commission for playground equipment.

An order of this kind requires a considerable amount of thought.

Since the start of the war, material requiring metals have required high priorities. As a result, recreational equipment has been manufactured solely for the use of the armed forces, and this department has been unable to obtain any equipment, not even for school frames.

I regret to inform you that an appropriation for equipment at this time would serve no useful purpose. Therefore, I respectfully suggest that consideration of the appropriation for such extensive equipment be deferred until the termination of the war, or at least until such time as there is an easing of priorities.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

FREE TRANSPORTATION ON ELEVATED FOR MEN IN ARMED FORCES.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the Boston Elevated Railway Company for the purpose of bringing about free transportation on the Elevated lines for uniformed service men.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, I want to acknowledge that this order that is before the Body has been presented by members of the Body before. Of course, no action was taken by the Boston Elevated. I was urged to do this today by a sight I witnessed on the Harvard Bridge on my way in town today. I am not prepared to speak at length on this, but I did see a group of young soldiers standing there at the car stop and thumbing a ride into Boston. I thought it was disgraceful that uniformed men should have to use that means of acquiring transportation, when we are supposed to be doing everything to make their life as easy as possible. It has been said recently that the Elevated has made huge profits this last year, and I suggest that if the Mayor uses his good offices with the trustees it may well be that instead of the provision of the Acts of 1918 they can provide, if not free transportation just on the wearing of the uniform, that tokens of some description be distributed to them which will pass as fare. I don't think this order ought to appear again before this Council, unless everyone of us wants to go out on the street and witness the humiliation and degradation of men in the United States uniform thumbing rides when they should not have to. I think the public transportation lines ought to give them free transportation, and I hope the order will be passed.

Coun. CHASE—I think the order is a very good one. We have on several other occasions passed orders of this nature. As a matter of fact, the Legislature entertained last year one of my bills, whereby I sought to secure legislation which would permit transportation companies throughout the state to give free or reduced rate transportation to the men in the armed service, men and women. The Massachusetts House of Representatives saw fit to pass this bill by a vote approximately two to one, but it was killed in the Senate for some unknown reason. If I recall correctly, when this matter was first introduced in the City Council, Mr. Dana originally said, in answer to the order, that his company would be unable to comply with the request or suggestion, due to the fact that the present law prevented his company from giving either free or reduced rate transportation to the members of the armed services. Frankly, I feel, Mr. President, that the Boston Elevated and other large transportation companies who are making millions of dollars simply because we are at war should do something. I know that private transportation companies in Chicago have been, and are today, giving free transportation to the men and women in the armed services. And I submit to you if large companies in Chicago can do it, private companies, surely the Boston Elevated Railway Company, which in reality is nothing but a sub-agent of the state, a sub-division, can do it also. The Boston Elevated is part of the government, so to speak. It is organized under the charter given to it by the state, and it is subsidized by the state. The state guarantees the stockholders' dividends, regardless of what profit or loss may be incurred. They are guaranteed, regardless of profit or loss, a good, juicy dividend. I see no reason why the transportation cannot be had if we see fit to fight for this legislation, which I proposed last year. That was merely a permissive piece of legislation. If they didn't see fit to give transportation to the men in the armed services, there was no way we could compel them to do so, but the Boston Elevated in the person of Mr. Downey, I believe, chief counsel, with a score or more other chief counsel for the various transportation companies, saw fit to get up before the Committee on Transportation, and most forcibly oppose this legislation, this permissive legislation. I hope, Mr. President, that something can be done, although I doubt very much if the Boston Elevated will now do it. They haven't entertained any willingness to do it. They threw an alibi to us on the first occasion when we saw fit to propose this free ride suggestion. They said the state would not permit it, and I doubt very much if they will give us any other answer to this order, although I think the order is a very good one; and I hope, if the Boston Elevated sees fit to refuse us, that later next year we can again propose this permissive legislation. I am sure the public, who are being called upon to pay these stockholders' dividends by the Boston Elevated, approve of the Boston Elevated giving free service to the men in the armed services.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, may we kindly have the order read again?

(The clerk read the order again.)
